

THE CORVALLIS GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1902.

To cover the cost of setting and distributing the type in such matters, a charge of fifty cents will be made for each "Card of Thanks," and five cents per line for each set of "Resolutions of Condolence" appearing in these columns.

LOCAL NEWS.

Ray Goodrich, of Eugene, visited Corvallis a few days ago.

Just arrived—new designs of wall paper, at Barnhart's. See them.

Prof. F. M. McElfresh came up from Salem, Friday, to remain until after commencement.

It is stated that spring sown grain is looking pretty well, and fall grain about average.

Miss Vaneh Dickinson, of Independence, arrived in this city, Friday, to visit with friends.

Strawberries are on the market now and sell at 5 cents per box. Ripe cherries are also on the market.

During the recent fine weather farmers have commenced hauling wood to town. About the next thing in order now is the buzz of the woodsaw.

Byron Taylor and Homer and Carol Cecil started for Burns, Or., last Saturday. This is the home of the latter and Byron will visit with them during the summer.

R. W. Schmeer, cashier of the Ainsworth First National Bank, Portland, arrived in Corvallis Friday and remained until Sunday. He is a cousin of J. H. Gibson.

Jesse Spencer went to Portland, Friday to attend the meeting of the Supreme lodge, A. O. U. W. While he was away Charley Wheeler ruled the destinies of Tammany.

Mr. M. M. Bridges and wife of Portland, arrived in Corvallis, Saturday, to remain until after commencement, and visit with their son, Forrest, who will graduate at O. A. C. this year.

Dr. Withycombe and Professors Lake and Kent expect to start for Eastern Oregon next Thursday. They will be absent several weeks in the interest of the O. A. C. They intend holding institutes in the various towns on their route.

Gerald Tuttle, who has attended college here for the past two or three years, departed, Sunday, for his home in Union county. "Tut" has made many friends during his attendance at college and they will be glad to receive him back next fall.

Walter Keady arrived in Corvallis, Thursday, from Howard, where he spent several months, the guest of his uncle, W. P. Keady. Walter was out in that section on account of his health, which at present is much improved. He returned to Prineville Sunday.

Miss Edith Gibson arrived home, Thursday, from Boston, where she attended the New England Conservatory of Music during the past two years. She intends remaining during the summer, but expects to return to the conservatory and pursue her studies in the fall.

The Corvallis Improvement Society held their regular monthly meeting on the college grounds on Monday evening. A very pleasant and profitable time was spent in the study of shade trees, under direction of Prof. Coote. The next meeting will be held October 6th.

Early Saturday morning vehicles of all descriptions could be seen starting for Monroe to attend the picnic. The day was ideal and the attendance was exceedingly large. As a day of recreation nothing more than was furnished could be desired. The O. A. C. band was in attendance and made music for all.

About two weeks ago Miss Bertha Thrasher left San Francisco, where she had been in a hospital for an operation on her leg that was broken nearly two years ago, and went to Santa Barbara, Calif. She is at present visiting relatives in that city. She has discarded her crutches and is able to get about with the assistance of a cane. She will soon start for home.

The spiritualists of this vicinity have formed an organization to be known as "First Spiritual Union of Corvallis." Barrett Lyceum is to be used by the association Next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., will be held the first public meeting of the Union. All friends cordially invited.

J. R. Brown exhibited some magnificent samples of Cotswold wool in this office Saturday. The strands were 18 inches in length and of excellent quality. Mr. Brown's band of 44 Cotswolds yielded an average clip of 12 1/3 pounds of wool, besides bringing him 37 lambs. A fine record.

W. E. Blake, who has attended a dental college in Chicago during the past two years, arrived at his home, north of this city a few miles, last Friday. He is well pleased with his progress and will take his degree in another year. He is practicing with another dentist in Chicago. He will return East in about six weeks.

Mrs. Walter Reed, who captivated lovers of vocal music by her efforts here during the May Festival, has been engaged to sing at the commencement exercises of the Agricultural College, tomorrow morning. Mrs. Reed will sing three of Carrie Jacobs-Bond's songs, "Shadows," "Just a Wearyin' For You," and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. L. G. Altman is recovering nicely from a severe operation which she underwent last week at the North Pacific Sanitarium, in Portland. Dr. Altman was with her. During his stay in Portland he attended the annual meeting of the Homeopathic Medical Society of Oregon. That body elected Dr. Altman for its president to serve for the ensuing year.

With this issue the translations made by Dr. C. McLean of Homer's Iliad will come to a close. That the articles have attracted attention far and near and have received favorable mention from scholars old and young goes without saying. After the vacation season is over the GAZETTE hopes to offer its readers other translations of masterpieces by the doctor.

J. K. Berry holds the championship for wheel-selling in Corvallis for this year. He has sold 55 wheels during this season, with prospects of selling a good many more. The majority of the wheels sold by Mr. Berry have been Ramblers with a few Ideals and Mitchells. He is also agent for the world-wide known Tribune, the wheel that holds the world's record for speed.

The festivities of commencement time were auspiciously opened by the Junior hop, given in honor of the senior class, at the O. A. C. armory, Friday evening. The armory was tastefully decorated with ferns and potted plants. Over the stage were the words "Class of 1902," while long, pink streamers reached from the four corners to the large central light. The Albany orchestra furnished the music and gave excellent satisfaction. Many attended from Portland, Albany, Salem and Eugene, and the affair was the most successful society event of the season.

There is a very bright future for the Oregon hop growers if one may judge by the prices named in the contracts now being made for the coming crop. In several instances 12 1/2 and 13 1/2 cents have been the figures and, no doubt, they will be exceeded before many weeks. For a portion of the remainder of the 1901 crop 16 and 17 cents have been paid—one holder refusing the latter price, saying that he must have 20 cents before he will part with his output. It is claimed that there is now 557 bales only in the Oregon grower's hands.—Pacific Homestead.

The baccalaureate exercises attracted a large audience. Either the novelty of these exercises has worn off and the public taste has been satiated, or Sunday's program was not up to the standard set in past years. Their chief merit was their brevity. Rev. John H. Coleman, D. D., president of Willamette university, delivered the sermon. His theme was "The United States in the World's Conflict," although his remarks were confined chiefly to a discussion of "Yankee Character." There was a gem of advice here and there, but the address lacked continuity and partook more of the nature of a Fourth of July oration, than a baccalaureate sermon.

Johnson-Hislop.

The marriage of Marion R. Johnson and Miss Clara Hislop, last Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hislop, in Portland, was one of the swellest events of the kind that has occurred in many a day. The ceremony was performed at high noon by Rev. W. S. Gilbert, formerly of Philomath. The double parlor was handsomely decorated with flowers and evergreens of all description. The blinds were all drawn and the house illuminated with red-shaded lights. Everything that a fertile mind could suggest to make the scene attractive was accomplished. The bride was dressed in white organdie and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. The young couple were united in the presence of about thirty-five invited guests and were the recipients of numerous and costly presents. Shortly after the nuptial knot was tied the young people departed for the Sound to spend their honeymoon.

Marion R. Johnson is a brother of B. W. Johnson and was raised in this city, where many friends wish him good luck in all his undertakings. He is at present in the employ of the United Typewriter and Supply Co., of Portland. Everybody who has the acquaintance of the bride speaks in highest praise of her charming personality and estimable character.

Mimic Warfare.

The final military exercises of the present college year attracted a large crowd to the campus Friday afternoon. The bugle sounded at 5 p. m., and the cadets assembled at the armory immediately. Here they formed in companies and headed by the band, marched to the parade grounds. The members of the battery arrived at double quick and took charge of the two field pieces. By the time these were unlimbered and ready for action, the infantry had deployed in a skirmish line a quarter of a mile in length.

The cannon were placed in an advantageous position and began shelling an imaginary foe. The infantry advanced by short rushes, lying down to fire. After half an hour of advancing and retreating, during which time the cannon, splendidly served, boomed at short intervals and the rattle of musketry was almost incessant, Major Edwards ordered a charge. At its completion, the troops were reformed and marched back to the armory. Major Edwards has accomplished much in the military department of the college. The cadets execute all evolutions with precision, and they have reached a high state of proficiency in the manual of arms.

Philomath College Items.

The thirty-fifth commencement of Philomath College was Wednesday, June 11th. The occasion was one of special interest. Flowers and bright faces were in evidence on every hand. Music rendered was in good taste and the orations by Mr. Geo. McDonald and Miss Teresa McDonald, who completed the classical course were of a high order. Five diplomas in all were granted. Besides the two above named, Mr. Ed. L. Bryan was granted a diploma for having completed the Normal course, Miss Bronta Coffelt the Commercial, and Miss Livia Bond the Music course.

In the evening the Alumni held its annual banquet. Miss Julia Taylor of the Ashland Public schools, president of the association, presided. The members present and guests were highly entertained by the excellent music provided for the occasion, and toasts and social chat and reminiscences or school days were the order until a late hour. The ice cream and cake deserves special mention as is shown by the amount consumed. Long live Philomath College.

City Council.

The city council met in regular session, June 9th, with the president of the council, P. Avery, in the chair. There were present Councilmen Avery, Allen, Rose, Crees, Heckart, Underwood, Hodes, Wilbanks and Henkle. Warrants were ordered drawn on the general fund in the sum of $1,478.76; and on the street fund for $68.56. The bill of H. C. Mangas was referred to the finance committee.

A bill was passed prohibiting certain animals running at large within the corporate limits of the City of Corvallis. It related directly to chickens and on this occasion received its third reading and was passed. The mayor or signed the bill and it became a law.

The reports of the various committees appointed to appraise and assess costs in the matter of the various sewers under course of construction within the city limits were read and duly passed upon. All of the reports were accepted and the bills declared passed.

The remonstrance against sewer through block 5, County Addition was laid on the table.

The petition of the various property owners for a sewer through blocks 6 and 7, County Addition, was granted, as was also the petition of Geo. Taylor for a sewer through block 19 and into block 18, Dixon's Addition.

The Fourth of July Committee were granted $60 to appropriate for horse races, etc.

The council elected a night watchman. The names of J. J. Flett and Dave Osburn were balloted on and the former elected by a majority of one vote, Mr. Flett receiving five votes and Mr. Osburn four.

The claim of B. F. Hyland for damages against the city was referred to the finance committee.

W. E. Yates was selected to fill the position of City attorney.

The following standing committees were appointed: Lee Henkle, W. Crees, W. J. Wilbanks, street committee; E. Allen, P. Avery, A. Hodes, finance committee; P. Avery, D. C. Rose, A. Hodes, Corvallis Fire Department; W. O. Heckart, W. J. Wilbanks, J. L. Underwood, health committee; E. Allen, D. C. Rose, W. O. Heckart, sewer committee.

The bonds of E. P. Grefloz, as police judge, with S. N. Lilly, F. P. Sheasgreen and S. W. Jackson as sureties, and A. B. Alexander, as chief of police, with S. N. Lilly and E. W. Strong as sureties, were approved.

"Ingomar" Tonight.

The classical play, "Ingomar," will be presented by members of the senior class of the Agricultural College at the Opera House, this evening.

The play has been in rehearsal under the direction of Prof. Helen Crawford, for the past two months. The drama is exceedingly difficult, the parts of Ingomar, Polydor and Parthenia, making especial demands, but they are in capable hands and a finished performance is expected. The costumeing is a pleasing feature, and the play has literary merit of a high order.

Following is the cast of characters: The Tinnark of Massilia.....Fred Steiwer Palydor, a merchant.....A. McGillivray Myron, an armorer.....W. E. Hanley Noodles.....E. Tulley Elphenor.....C. Laughlin Lykon, a fisherman.....T. Bilyew Ingomar, The Barbarian.....H. V. Tartar Alastor.....L. G. Mattley Triobantes.....L. R. Howard Amhivar.....Wm. Van Groos Navio.....C. Laughlin Same.....B. Billings Actea, Myron's wife.....Miss Ewing Parthenia, her daughter, Miss Thompson Theona, a neighbor.....Miss Belknap Tickets are on sale at Graham & Wortham's. Prices of admission are 25 and 35 cents.

The Gymnastic Exhibition.

The physical department of the college gave its fourth gymnastic exhibition at the armory Saturday evening. The program consisted of a review of the classes, body building dum bell drill, artistic club swinging, flying rings and chair pyramids, tumbling, high dive, high jump, club-swinging drill, long dive, a club-swinging specialty, and a double trapeze act.

Swann won the high dive with a jump of 5 feet, 9 inches. Burnough cleared the bar at 5 feet, 5 inches in the high jump, and carried off the honors.

Gilbert, of P. U., and Carnahan, of O. A. C., went after the world's record of 15 feet and 3 inches in the long dive. Gilbert made a new record by diving 15 feet, 9 inches and Carnahan cleared 15 feet, 1 inch.

The features of the evening were the tumbling and trapeze acts by Gilbert and Sewell, of Pacific University.

The Amicitias Won.

The final debate for the President's cup occurred in the college chapel Friday afternoon. The question was, "Resolved, That the Adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States has not Been Justified." Messrs. Tartar, Steiwer, and Mayfield represented the Amicitia society, and upheld the affirmative, while Messrs. Bilyew, Howard and McGillivray, of the Philadelphian society, championed the negative.

The question is one that is receiving the earnest consideration of our leading statesmen, and the disfranchisement of the Negro may yet become a political issue. This fact added interest to the discussion.

Mr. Howard did the best work for the negative. The arguments were all delivered without manuscript and the honors for delivery were about equally divided. The argument of the affirmative followed in proper sequence and was more logically massed, and the judges, Professors Berchtold and Skelton and attorney E. R. Bryson, awarded the decision to this side.

President Gatch made a neat speech in presenting the cup, which was received for himself and colleagues by Mr. Tartar. A recitation by Clay Darby and a song by the Amicitia quartette completed the program, which highly pleased all present.

Young Men's Clothes

Young men are apt to be very particular about their clothes; even a little fussy; cranky. It's all right; a good appearance means a lot to a young fellow sometimes; may even be his chief asset; it pays to look well.

We make a specialty of young men's clothes; styles that have snap and "go" in them; the ultra-fashions sought for by thousands of young men who cannot or will not pay the exclusive tailor's prices, and are smart enough to see that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are next best.

Go to almost any college town, where young men gather; where they are their own severest clothes-critics; you'll find Hart Schaffner & Marx "Varsity" and other young men's styles the ruling favorites. A better test of clothes-popularity is impossible.

Good clothes everywhere sell these goods; they're so good clothes as they look. The label H. S. & M. is a sign of genuineness. A small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes sold only by S. L. KLINE
