When N. S. Lilly went to Portland, Tuesday, in company with four or five Chinamen, his friends nudged one another and said, "Norm has started to China." Indeed, it did look as though there was truth in the assertion. But, as a matter of fact, he accompanied the Mongolians to Portland to assist them in getting their passports and return papers properly made out.

Last Tuesday evening when Rev. Noble and family were almost sitting down to supper, a loud rap came on the door, and on his opening it, a large number of Sunday school scholars and juniors marched in. The oldest boy of this class laid a big turkey in the pastor's arms, as a present from the whole class, while everyone was laden with some good thing. After a short season of enjoyment together, they left, wishing their pastor many happy returns of the day, and rejoicing that they had given him such a delightful surprise.

Many of our citizens were beginning to think that turkeys were onto their job this year and were roosting high, just as they appeared in the markets. Many have been shipped to Portland within the last day or two. The price is fairly good and the birds find a ready sale. The custom of turkey shooting matches, such as is found in all new countries, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past with sportsmen in this part of the world. We must have outgrown the custom—there can be no other reason, for it used to be rare sport for a fellow of good eye and steady arm. About Thanksgiving and Christmas time was when these matters occurred, and "first blood" took the turkey.

Miss Lulu Spangler, of this city, who holds a position in the state normal school at Weston, Eastern Oregon, has just returned to Weston after a week or longer spent at La Grande. She was in La Grande attending the sessions of an association of teachers. Miss Spangler is getting along nicely with her work in Weston.

Gerald Tuttle, a favorite student at the O A C last year, arrived in town Wednesday for a few days' visit with old friends and to participate in the students dance. "Tut" now holds a position in a drug establishment in Portland and is studying nights in hopes of securing his degree. He is the same jolly fellow as of yore.

During the week, County Surveyor Jones, assisted by Johnny Wells and Tommy Cameron, complied with the order of the court commanding him to survey the line of the county road along College Hill, just north of the O A C. This was done in order to locate the line, so that it could be determined whether the residents of that suburb were encroaching on the public highway with a sidewalk they were laying. Mr. Jones, we are informed, found that the residents of College Hill were in the road with their walk from six to ten feet.

Taylor Porter, who has just returned from a trip to Ohio, informs us that the country has not changed as much as one would expect during the forty-six years that he has been away from there. In the section that he visited old log cabins which were built from forty to sixty years ago are still standing and some of them are occupied by families. In most instances they have had new roofs put on them and other repairs have been made. Once in a while there is a farm containing 100 acres, but in most instances about forty acres is the size of the farms. The people as a rule seem satisfied with the country and their lot in life and few have roamed to distant climes. A dinner was given in honor of Mr. Porter during his visit and of sixty-three guests present all were related except four. Everyone did his utmost to make Mr. Porter welcome and he had a splendid time during his visit.

The usual services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. next Sabbath at the M. E. church. All are invited.

Ed Crawford, who was at the home of his parents in this city, for a couple of weeks, on the sick list, went to Salem, Sunday, in response to a telephone message. The result was that he resigned a position he held in Eugene and accepted a situation with his old employers in Salem. During his sojourn at home his health was much benefited.

It was rumored on the streets yesterday that J. D. Irvine had purchased a third interest in the Benton County Lumber Co. and that the price paid was $6,000. It is understood that the company will begin at once to construct a lumber flume from the mill to Philomath. This will have the effect of placing the mill practically on the railroad.

Thursday, Frank Lilly left for La Grande, where he has accepted a position in a hardware establishment. Tuesday evening, many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lilly called on them at their residence and tendered their good wishes. It was an impromptu affair, but a most pleasant evening was passed. Mrs. Lilly and daughter will remain here for the present.

At the recent session of the circuit court confirmation was made of the sale of the Hotel Corvallis to Samuel Swanson. M. W. Wilkins still has four months in which to redeem the property, but as there is no likelihood of his doing so, the present holder will proceed in the early spring to complete the improvements he has begun, and secure occupants for this fine property.

Master Paul Conover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conover formerly of this city, arrived on Thursday morning's boat from Salem for a short visit with relatives and friends in this city. His parents reside in Butte, Montana, where Mr. Conover is traveling salesman for the Passmore Paper Company. Paul has been visiting for the past two months with relatives in Salem, and will spend the winter in that city.

Henry Ambler, the real estate dealer of Philomath, reports having negotiated the sale of the house and two lots of C. Gregory, in that city, to Thos. Chandler, recently from Alsea. The price paid for the property was $800. Mr. Ambler also reports having sold the 320-acre farm of William Scott, about six miles southwest of Philomath, to J. C. Pritchett, of North Yamhill, Or. The price paid was $3,500 and Mr. Pritchett is given possession next fall.

Albany has accepted the challenge of Manager Johnson, of the O A C football team, for a game on Albany College campus, Dec 6th, between eleven from these institutions. Each team will pay its own expenses, and no admission fee will be charged. Arrangements are being made in this city to run an excursion train to Albany on the afternoon of the game. Three hundred tickets will be placed on sale, and it will be first come, first served.

EASY FOR THE FARMERS.

P. U. is Defeated by 31 to 0 on a Very Slippery Field.

Although Pacific University's gritty little eleven played ball every minute of yesterday's game, the farmers easily scored six touch downs, while their opponents had to content themselves with a goose egg.

The rawness of the weather did not prevent the several hundred spectators from enjoying every feature of the game, and they distributed their applause without partiality. And the P. U. boys deserved all the encouragement they got, for they played gamely, with such defeat staring them in the face as the farmers cared to pile up against them.

Gault, Laughlin and Nash, first team stars, did not enter the game at all, and Pilkington's place was taken by Thorp in the last half.

O. A. C. kicked off, with P. U. defending the north goal. The visitors started off with a rush and carried the ball 16 yards, when they punted to the farmers' 20-yard line. O. A. C. quickly carried the ball, by line backs and surprisingly long end runs considering the condition of the field, to P. U.'s 20-yard line, where she fumbled. The visitors failed to make their yardage, and Root circled the end for a brilliant run and touchdown.

After the next kickoff the ball was carried rapidly down the field, and Bundy was sent over. Before time was called, Bowers had crossed for the third touchdown. All tries for goal failed. Score, O. A. C., 16; P. U., 0.

Gelattly ran the kickoff in 25 yards. Pacific held for downs on her 20-yard line, but soon lost the ball, and Abraham went through for five points. Thorp kicked goal.

The sensational play of the day was Thorp's pick-up of a fumble, and 40-yard run for a touchdown, assisted by Williams.

Abraham carried the ball over for the last touch down. Thorp ran the kick-off in 50 yards and time was called with the pigskin in the center of the field. Final score, O. A. C., 31; P. U., 0.

Features of the game were the end runs of Root and Williams, and the plunges of Abraham, Thorp and Bowers. For the visitors, Day was the star. Gelattly used excellent judgment in running the team.

Photographing Color.

If the statements in an article in Wednesday's Oregonian prove true—and that paper gives them serious endorsement—Dr. Leckenby, head of the branch experimental station of the Oregon Agricultural College, at Union, has coaxed from Nature a secret which she has refused to divulge to scientists and chemists who have sought to beguile her ever since old Louis Jacques Mande Daguerre himself made his first photographic reproduction and Joseph Niepce discovered the first sensitive plate.

Photographs have always been untrue as regards color. The violet and purple shades show on the finished print as though they were white, the yellows and reds as decidedly black. It has been the goal of photographers to secure, if possible some sort of a plate that will receive and register light rays as they are sent off from an object, in all the beauty of their natural color. After many experiments, Dr. H. W. Vogel, of Berlin, observed that some of his plates were more susceptible to certain colors than others, and finally he produced an orthochromatic film or plate. These plates simply register the several depths of shade of color, and do not make any attempt to get the color itself, but even this advance was a great step in the art.

But with Dr. Leckenby it is different. His method, which has not yet been made public, will produce a photograph with every color showing, resembling for all the world a painted picture. A photograph of a bunch of flowers by his method will show the roses red, the violets their real color and the buttercups their golden-yellow tinge. If the plan is practicable and inexpensive, the whole photographic world will be revolutionized.

Dr. Leckenby's discovery is all the result of accident. While working in his laboratory he was either struck with the new idea which makes color photography possible or he accidentally ran across his new compound. He quickly put his idea into shape, and with the result that he has several photographs of flowers, all beautiful in their natural hues.

He has made these photographs by the use of the ordinary camera and apparatus and some special chemicals of his own, and has exhibited some of the prints in Portland.

Dr. Leckenby will not patent his discovery to make money out of it, but will give it to the world.

School Visitation

District No. 21 visited November 18. Teacher, Olive Broomfield; board, Hugh Cleek, Wm. Newman, J. G. Winkle; clerk, John Whitaker. No. enrolled 11, present, 6. The grounds can be nicely improved by a little work which would add much to the appearance of the property.

Miss Frances Bellnap is employed in district No. 50. This district has added much to the appearance of the house and grounds by painting and improving the house and out-houses. This district can now boast of as good a house as any district in the county. The addition of a neat fence would also add greatly to the improvements that have already been made. Board, W. D. Barclay, James Herron, Casper Zieroff; clerk, Ross Barclay. No. pupils present, 9. Date of visit Nov. 18.

District No. 27 has been closed during past week on account of diphtheria.

District No. 96 was visited Nov. 19. Mr. Wm. Duulap is teaching his first term here. Pupils enrolled, 16; present, 13. Board, Robert-Kyle, Chas. Campbell, E. L. Tozier; Clerk, J. L. Canton. Excellent improvements in the way of painting the inside and outside of the house have been made recently. This adds much to the looks of the house. The school is well supplied with apparatus and school appliances. The addition of a library would be a valuable addition to the school.
