A GLEAM OF HOPE.

The race problem in the South threatens, from time to time, to become an element of national disturbance. The Southern States are settling, or endeavoring to settle it on lines satisfactory to themselves, but will their settlement be acceptable to the nation?

In quite all the former slave-holding states the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution have been studiously circumvented, and the negro has been disenfranchised by laws skillfully and especially devised for that purpose. He is given to understand he must submit to this, or the rope, the bludgeon, the shotgun will destroy him. He is thus absolutely shut out from all participation in the government and denied a voice in framing the laws under which he must live, or of indicating his preference for men who shall frame and enact such laws. In his own country, on his native heath, he is but an alien denizen.

This is bad enough, and full of injustice, but it might be patiently borne, as it doubtless would be, not only by the negro himself, but by the people of the North.

While the laws give his life and property scant protection and afford him little encouragement to put forth efforts for his own betterment, yet deeper wrongs are inflicted upon him.

There is no question that the negro, especially in the cotton-growing states, is being ruthlessly, mercilessly forced into an industrial condition little if any different from that of absolute peonage. Industrial equality with the whites is as far beyond his reach as either political or social equality. He is an unrequited menial whom every white man may wrong and oppress. He finds no legal redress, no public sentiment to which he may appeal for aid or even sympathy. His condition is hopeless.

We may speculate upon the ultimate consequences of this treatment, not only as they effect the negro, but the white man as well.

Driven to desperation, he may revolt and rise in insurrection. He will not do this, assuredly not by general and simultaneous action. He may turn upon his oppressors in some localities, but if he should he would be quickly destroyed. As a race, the negro is too ignorant, too timid, too weak, to wage a prolonged and bitter fight for any purpose.

Individually he will be pauperized or become a criminal. But the whites cannot endure this, for it would become too burdensome upon them to support large numbers of paupers and to apprehend and exterminate equal numbers of desperate criminals. This consideration may change or modify the treatment of the negroes, but it will come tardily, for the moral sentiment of the best men of the South is blunted and that of the masses consumed by the fires of a most bitter race hatred. So long as this spirit of hatred dominates the South the negro will find no redress for his wrongs, no amelioration of his condition.

We have ever held that negro suffrage was wrong—a wrong to both races. We believed the southern whites best understood the negro, and that his treatment might be safely left to them. We yet believe it should have been. The southern people are generous and humane, but easily aroused to vindictive feeling and action.

We of the North hoped the negro would be accorded equality before the law and industrial freedom, as with us. We are disappointed. We have expected too much, both of the whites and the negro. For more than two centuries the former had regarded the latter as menials, as indeed they were. For the same length of time the latter looked upon the former as of a masterful race, as they are. The effects of this long continued relation of master and menial could not be obliterated in a generation under the most favoring conditions, and the conditions were made most unfavorable.

But now the moral sense of the nation is being done violence. It will assert itself presently, in the South as well as in the North. When this asserts itself, as it surely will, it will give the negro equality before the law and industrial freedom. All else he must win and should win for himself. Let the negro and his friends appeal to this sense, and the race problem will ultimately reach a solution.

The Kay bill, which provides for the following salaries for state officers, beginning with January 1, 1905, is likely to become a law: Governor, $5,000; treasurer, $5,000; secretary of state, $5,000; attorney-general, $3,000; chief justice of the supreme court, $4,500; associate justices, $4,000. Inasmuch as the three supreme judges are each elected for six years and it is the custom for them to alternate in the chief justiceship, each will have the advantage for two years of the advanced compensation. The salaries of the governor and other state officers are in lieu of any fees or perquisites whatever. Fees payable to the secretary and treasurer are to be received as at present, but are to be converted into the treasury. The salaries named are several thousand dollars in excess of those provided for these officers by the constitution, and it remains to be seen how nearly fees and perquisites will make up the additional amount which will in future come direct from the taxpayer.

The ballot for United States Senator in the Oregon Legislature, yesterday, stood Fulton 32, Geer 27. Since last Monday Mr. Geer's forces have been augmented by ten votes from the Multnomah delegation, and one from the support of Mr. Fulton. The latter, Paulson of Clackamas, has never known where he stood, from the beginning. The action of the Multnomah men is understood by all, even the supporters of Mr. Geer, to be a move to hold together for the present the 16 votes that have been cast for the ex-governor for the past month, and finally to deliver them to a candidate to be named by Jonathan Borne. The first object has been attained. Today will determine whether the bargain will be fully consummated. All present indications are that Mr. Fulton's support will remain with him to the last. If it does, his election is assured.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me, that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.

Notice for Publication.

United States Land Office,
Oregon City, Oregon,
Dec. 3, 1902.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Samuel C. Dixon, of Philomath, county of Benton, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 5990, for the purchase of the E ½ of SW 1-4 and Lot 4 of Section No. 6 in Township No. 13 S, Range No. 6 W, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before Victor P. Moses, Clerk of Benton county, Oregon, at Corvallis, Oregon, on Monday, the 16th day of February, 1903.

He names as witnesses:

John W. Hyde, Ed Hawkins, Frank M. Spencer, and Mahlon W. Worthington, all of Philomath, Ore.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 16th day of Feb., 1903.
