

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see as well as ever."—SUSAN A. HARRISON, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keep the promise.

New Danger in Submarines.

The recent explosion on the submarine boat Le Francois has revealed a new danger in this type of craft. The accident established the fact that in stormy weather oxygen gas escapes from the electric accumulators.

Slow.

Wabash—How long did it take you to do that picture?
French Artist (proudly)—I am on my way out for sex months!

Wabash—Just as I thought. You're dead slow over here. Why, I've seen fellows in Chicago turnin' them things out while ye wait.

The Largest Serpent

The largest serpent ever measured was a Mexican anaconda, found to be 37 feet in length. It was measured by Dr. Gardner.

Food and Paper.

Articles of food that are damp or juicy should never be left in paper. Paper is simply a compound of rags, glue, lime and similar substances, with acids and chemicals mixed, and when damp is unfit to touch things that are to be eaten.

His Opening.

Chumley—How much have you got in your bank, Johnny?
Johnny—I'll have just a dollar when you give me a quarter.—New York Sun.

For Sleeplessness.

A Canadian doctor, when called to prescribe for insomnia, always advises before drugs are employed a hop pillow instead of feathers. It is made of a thin muslin slip stuffed with hops and hop leaves and sprayed fresh with alcohol every night before the patient goes to bed.

Patience Rewarded.

Smith—I hear Short, the coal man, has come into a large fortune.
Jones—Well, he's entitled to it.
Smith—Oh, he is, eh?
Jones—Yes. He's been lying in wait for a good many years.

Want Lawyers to Wear Gowns.

British county court judges have received a circular from the incorporated law society approving of solicitors being desired to wear gowns in court.

Charity of the Fair Sex.

He—Mrs. Powderleigh certainly has a lovely complexion.
She—Yes, indeed, and she ought to be very grateful to her husband.
He—Because why?
She—Because he buys her everything she wants.

'Twas Ever Thus.

He—There are times when every man likes to refer to himself as an idiot.
She—Yes, but it always makes him mad if any one else agrees with him.

RHEUMATISM

An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer.

Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciatic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications.

Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and, as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomforts and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any Potash or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young.

Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable aid and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

The Barred Road.

"There is only one road to success in life," said the man who had made his money and retired.
"And how shall I know the road?" inquired the budding young man.
"Well," replied the man with the money, "you go right along this path of adversity until you reach the first turn to the right."
"Yes, yes."
"And you'll find a road barred off with a gate and a sign that says, 'No Trespassing.' Well, that's it."

Her Own Idea.

"Your daughter," said Mrs. Oldgate after being conducted through the newly finished wing of the magnificent palace occupied by the Bullingtons, "has such a splendid vocabulary!"
"Do you think so?" her hostess replied. "Josiah wanted to get her one of them escorialos, but I made up my mind right at the start that a vocabulary would lock better in a room far more like hers is even if it didn't cost quite as much."

A Master Craftsman.

Ulericus (fervently)—Do not despair my young Christian friend. Remember there is no word like hope.
Poeticus (disdainfully)—Is that so? What's the matter with soap and suds? Why, in dialect I could ring in most any word you have a mind to name.—New York Sun.

THE THREE GIANTS.

The largest financial institutions in the world are the three great life insurance companies of New York, often called "The Three Giants." During 1912 the combined increase in amount of insurance in force in Oregon in these three companies was $26,163.00.
During the same time the Penn Mutual of Philadelphia, made an increase of $1,225,250.00.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Reason.

Little Rollo—Pa, why does popcorn pop?
Mr. Hennypeck—Because, my son, popcorn, like men, doesn't know any better.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 10, 1903.

After being terribly crippled for three years with Rheumatism, and having tried well known remedies I could get no relief. And having read of the wonderful effects of S. S. S., I concluded to try it, and am happy to say that I was entirely cured, and am able to work as well as I ever did.
I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to all sufferers of this terrible disease, and will say that if they will continue the treatment, as per directions, they will find a permanent cure.

OLD FAVORITES

A Dutch Lullaby.

Wyken, Blynken, and Nod one night Sailed off in wooden shoes,
Sailed on river of crystal light Into a sea of dew;
"Where are you going, and what do you wish?"
The old moon asked the three.
"We have come to fish for the herring-fish."
That live in this beautiful sea;
Nets of silver and gold have we,"
Said Wyken, Blynken, and Nod.

The old moon laughed and sang a song. As they rocked in the wooden shoes,
And the wind that sped them all night long Ruffled the waves of dew;
The little stars were the herring-fish That lived in that beautiful sea;
"Now cast your nets wherever you wish—
But never afraid are we,"
So cried the stars to the fishermen three—
Wyken, Blynken, and Nod.

All night long their nets they threw For the fish in the twinkling foam—
Then down from the sky came the wooden shoe Bringing the fishermen home.
'Twas all so pretty a sail, it seemed As if it could not be,
And some folks thought 'twas a dream They'd dreamed

Of sailing that beautiful sea; But I shall name you the fishermen three—
Wyken, Blynken, and Nod.
Wyken and Blynken are two little eyes, And Nod is the little head,
And the wooden shoe that sailed the skies Is a wee one's trundle bed;
So shut your eyes while mother sings Of wonderful sights that be,
And you shall see the beautiful things As you rock on the misty sea,
Where the old shoe rocked the fishermen three—
Wyken, Blynken, and Nod.
—Eugene Field.

Let Erin Remember.

Let Erin remember the days of old,
Ere her faithless sons betray'd her;
When Malachi wore the collar of gold,
Which he won from her proud invaders;
When her kings with standard of green unfurled,
Led the Red Branch Knights to danger;
Ere the emerald gem of the western world
Was set in the crown of a stranger.

On Lough Neagh's bank as the fisherman strays,
When the clear cold eve's declining,
He sees the round towers of other days
In the wave beneath him shining;
Thus shall memory often, in dreams sublime,
Catch a glimpse of the days that are over,
Thus, sighing, look through the waves of time
For the long-faded glories they cover!
—Thomas Moore.

A MINISTER'S SNAKE STORY.

Few Laymen Could Produce a Better Article in That Line.
Dr. Watkins, the veteran missionary, who has just returned from a four months' evangelical trip through the outlying States, tells a strange story of a wonderful snake which he killed in an old, abandoned shaft of a mine down in the State of Guerrero:
"My attention was attracted one day," says Mr. Watkins, "by the horrified cries of an Indian miner who came running toward me, his face ghastly with fright and the perspiration dripping like raindrops from his brow. The man rushed up and cast himself at my feet, where he lay trembling and gasping. As soon as he was able to get his breath he told me that he had been seized by a horrible monster which had suddenly sprung upon him from one of the hidden recesses of the mine, and that he had narrowly escaped being drawn down in its embrace."
"My curiosity was aroused and I proceeded to the mouth of the shaft with the man as soon as I could induce him to return. We looked down, but in the dense obscurity could see nothing. Drawing my revolver, I made the man go down into the shaft a way, assuring him that no harm would befall him, as I would follow with my cocked revolver ready for use."
"The miner did as I commanded and had gone down for a number of feet, when suddenly from the dense blackness I saw a huge and indistinguishable hideous head with wide open mouth shoot up. The jaws of the creature were wide open, showing its sharp-fanged teeth, its mouth looking large enough easily to take a man down at one gulp."
"The miner screamed with terror and I feared he would lose his hold and fall, but he clung desperately to the ladder while I thrust the barrel of the revolver full into the creature's mouth and fired. With a tremendous hiss it dropped its head, and then we saw it was a huge serpent, like unto nothing I had ever heard of before."
"As its struggling body came into my view I fired again, and the snake, slipping from the ledge on which it had stretched itself, fell with a squishy thud to the bottom of the shaft, where we could hear it thrashing about in struggles which momentarily grew weaker and finally ceased altogether. Then we went below, fastened a rope about the body of the reptile, and hoisted it to the surface."
"There was then unfolded before our eyes the most hideous creature man could ever dream of. Its head was like the huge stone head of a frightfully carved Chinese dragon. Its body about the middle was as large as a man's thigh and its length was so great that I dare not say how many feet it measured. I very much regretted being unable to preserve the skin and bring it back for the study of scientists, but I was compelled to leave it behind."—Mexican Herald.

Fibroid Tumors Cured

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine.
"Some time ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and today I am a well woman.
"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now."
"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 255 Dudley St. (Roxbury) Boston. Mass.—$3.00 for six bottles of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.
Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration; falling and displacement of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt in the minds of fair people.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Three Big Grizzlies Frightened Off by a Trivial Thing.
A writer in Ousting says that the grizzly bear, like other ferocious and resourceful beasts, has its superstitious side, which inclines him at times to cowardice, and it was an accidental play upon this weakness which enabled a hunter, James B. Holmes, of Pasadena, Cal., to live to tell the following story:
In August, 1896, Mr. Holmes was chatting with a guide up among the Coast Range Mountains, in San Joaquin Valley, California. As they talked they heard a crackling of twigs behind them.
"I believe it's deer," said Mr. Holmes.
"No," said the guide; but he changed his mind a moment later, when the crackling became louder.
"They're deer, sure. Look out!" said Holmes, softly.
Both men were then on their feet watching the thicket above them, whence the crackling sound came. As they looked, the gray nose of a grizzly was protruded through the foliage, and the men stepped backward. Mr. Holmes is a crack shot, but he had never had experience with grizzlies. However, the nose of the bear made a fine mark, and he raised his rifle to blaze away. He was nearly twenty yards from the bear. Just as he was about to fire there was more crackling of brush, and two other and larger grizzlies thrust their heads through the thicket toward the men. The guide turned pale.
"Don't shoot," he called.
"Mr. Holmes lowered his rifle.
"Run for the hill! Run for your life!" yelled the guide.
Mr. Holmes did not catch the instructions to go for the hill, but he ran. Near the crest of the hill was a clump of trees, and he made for them, hoping to find shelter or a hiding place. The bears, with frightful bellowings, went bounding over stones and chaparral after him.
The old male grizzly was nearest. Just as Mr. Holmes felt the hot breath of this beast, he resolved to do something desperate. He wheeled round quickly, made a last effort to get his gun into position, and fired. Then he was knocked down.
The bear buried his teeth in Mr. Holmes' right leg just below the hip, tearing open the flesh. The pain was well-nigh killing. The female then came up and made a vicious snap at his ribs, but succeeded only in driving her teeth through a pasteboard matchbox, which ignited the matches. She gave an angry roar, shook her head and snapped at his face, and he gave his head a feeble jerk. It was just in time. He heard the teeth snap in his face with a sound like the closing of a steel trap. Then he swooned. When he recovered consciousness and, rising, recomputed the situation, he saw the larger bears, with the cub at their heels, disappearing in the brush. Peeping over the brow of the hill, he perceived the guide, who rushed toward him, saying:
"Thank God, sir, you're alive! It's the narrowest squeeze I ever saw; there was one chance in a million for you to escape alive from three grizzlies. The box of burning matches scared them off."
