ter player in Oregon for his position than he.

Walker fought like a Trojan, and it is hoped that he will not have to suffer long on account of his sprained hand.

The detailed statement of the plays above shows that Root, Williams, Nash, Rinehart, Rumbough and Bowers are entitled to praise for the success of preventing a big score by the old and strong team against whom they contended. Every inch was fiercely contested for by our boys.

Had Bert Pilkington been able to be in the battle it would at least have been a tie game, and probably a victory for us. Look out for Pilkington and Bundy next time.

Coach McFadden is the best trainer the O. A. C. has ever secured.

Rinehart, the little demon at quarter was hit on the head and for several minutes did not know which one of the boys he was, and several times gave the wrong signals, which caused considerable amusement among the spectators.

If loyalty to the home team could have won, the O. A. C. boys would have certainly been a winner. In the latter part of the second half with sure defeat staring them in the face, the air fairly resounded with yells of encouragement.

HOME TEAM DEFEATED

In the Fastest Game Ever Played on Local Gridiron

Two thousand spectators witnessed the hardest-fought game ever played on the Oregon Agricultural College campus last Saturday, when the University of Washington defeated the local team by the small score of 5 to 0. It was a battle royal from start to finish, both teams fighting stubbornly for their small gains. There is only one version of the game and it is told in a few words: The home boys were outplayed. They lacked the experience of the old-time players of the opposing team. Besides this they were outweighed four or five pounds to the man, which in a contest where only one touchdown is made, it must be admitted that at the critical moment, it was the largest and strongest team that won. The story of the game is as follows:

FIRST HALF.

Seattle won toss up for choice of goals and selected north goal. U. of W. kicked to O. A. C's. 20 yard line. Washington obtained ball on downs and carried it dangerously near O. A. C's. goal, but were brought back 15 yards on account of a forward pass. After a series of about 8 plays, the Seattle lost the ball on downs to Corvallis. The O. A. C's. then made several good plays and gains, one being a brilliant 35 yard run by Williams, but finally failed to make the necessary 3 1/2 yards on 3rd down and the ball was given to Seattle.

Washington made gains on O. A. C. by means of heavy line bucking of 3 to 8 yards for a few plays, but were then held by the resolute boys fighting for the reputation of the Oregon team. Seattle then tried the experiment fake punt, undertaking to send the ball around Corvallis's right end, but the nifty Rumbough was there and temporarily stopped its further progress by tackling the Seattle runner.

Spiedell, U. of W., then attempted one of his place kicks for which he has rendered famous the Seattle team in times past, but Bert Bowers neatly blocked the little play by quickly springing through the line of the enemy and striking the pigskin as it started on its parabolic flight, knocking it to the ground, where it was captured by Corvallis. Root and Williams were handed the ball and made several good gains, but the ball was at last to the visitors on downs.

Seattle now made a few slight advances into the territory of Corvallis but soon lost the ball by failing to make sufficient yardage, the line of the Agrics. standing like a stone wall.

Corvallis then attempted a fake punt and in the general mix-up that followed, did not make the required yardage. Washington made no gains and on the next play fumbled the ball, but it was recaptured by a U. of W. man. Again the visitors failed to make their yardage and possession of the ball was given to the home team.

The redoubtable Nash punted the ball to the U. of W. and the ball was aggressively worked back by them by several good plays on their part one being a ten-yard run by one of their men. Little Rumbough was injured but was soon on his feet and ready for the fray. At this stage, Walker, O. A. C's. grand guard injured his hand and upon the advice of Doctors Farra and Altman was forced to retire, his place being taken by Abrams. Washington attempted a punt, but the ball was thrown back over Spiedell's head, causing Seattle to lose their yardage.

SECOND HALF.

O. A. C. kicks off to Washington's 2nd yard line and ball is advanced only 5 yards. Seattle attempted a "right tackle over" play and gained nothing, but in the next plays they made yardage, one play netting them 10 yards. At this time Rumbough is again injured.

When play is resumed, the U. of W. lose ball on downs. Home team made five yards then lost slightly and on third down had 4 1/2 to go. Root was given the ball, but did not make the required gain.

The U. of W. made good gains and were given 20 yards because of offside play by the Farmers, but the O. A. C. team took a brace and held them for downs. After two plays with only slight gains, Nash made a magnificent punt and advanced the ball ten yards. On these two plays Seattle made 5 and 3 yards, when O. A. C. was given 20 yards for an offside play by Washington. This made the first down with 25 yards to go which Seattle failed to make, forcing them to punt.

At this time one of the prettiest plays of the game was made, Williams hurdling the line for 7 yards. Washington takes ball on downs and carries it nearly to the goal. The next play netted them a goal which Spiedell fails to kick.

After a kick off, O. A. C. captures the ball on a fumble, and after slight gains, Washington punts well into the enemy's territory. After several plays Seattle made a twenty-yard run behind splendid interference, but Rinehart, playing safety full, brings them to a stop by a brilliant tackle.

For several plays Seattle makes only slight gains, but then they make a 15-yard and a 3-yard line play, and from this on slowly but steadily carried the ball to O. A. C's. 15-yard line, when time was called.

OREGON BOYS PRAISED.

In speaking of the O. A. C. team, Coach Knight of the U. of W. said: "The O. A. C. team is the gamiest, best-coached team we have met in two years, and with a little more experience and practice, the Oregon Agricultural College will have the best team in Oregon, and need fear none of them."

"Regarding the treatment we have received during our visit, I wish to say for hospitality and fair treatment Corvallis ranks first. In all our experience as a football team, we have never received such a square deal as given us by your O. A. C. boys, and it is to be hoped that we shall be able to again entertain them in Seattle."

DEFEATED BUT NOT DISCOURAGED

"I am indeed surprised at the defensive work done by my team. The O. A. C. boys gave them the hardest fight they knew how, but we were outplayed," said Coach McFadden to a GAZETTE reporter. "At the last moment I was compelled to go on the ground as referee, consequently was powerless to give my men any needed instructions."

"The advantage the opposing team had over us was that they had more experienced men and they outweighed us from four to five pounds to the man."

"Hereafter, we will have the mighty Pilkington, and with the rest of the season's games the results will be much different."

"The hardest man we found on the Seattle team was McDonald, their right tackle, who played the star game on their side. He weighs 190 pounds, and is a player to be feared."

"The Seattle team are as gentlemanly a lot of players as I have ever met and we ever hope to meet. The game was devoid of wrangling and the best of spirits prevailed on both sides."

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Where everyone did well, it is hard to mention one player especially, without doing injustice to others, but Abraham showed great powers as a football player in Saturdays game. He was one of the invincibles, always in the roughest of the battle doing valiant service for home team.

Spagle was right along with the best, and there is not a better player in the state.
