

THE CORVALLIS GAZETTE.

To cover the cost of setting and distributing the type in such matters, a charge of fifty cents will be made for each "Card of Thanks," and five cents per line for each set of "Resolutions of Condolence" appearing in these columns.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

This is typical weather for ducks and footballists.

B. Veal and C. C. Cameron, of Albany, were in Corvallis this week.

Eggs have reached 30 cents at J. E. Henkle's Cash Store, Philomath. Born, Saturday, October 31, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Moore, a daughter.

Mrs. A. J. Casteel, of Yaquina, is the guest of Mrs. Sarah Canthorn, of this city.

Mrs. Erma Weatherford is visiting Mrs. Frankie McIntyre at Athena, Oregon.

Mrs. B. W. Wilson left yesterday for a week's visit with Mrs. Grace Humphrey at Eugene.

J. M. Stokes, of Lebanon, was in Corvallis the first of the week looking after business interests.

The night school meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

We are informed that William Groves, who was stricken with paralysis last Saturday, is not improving, and is now unable to speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Horning left yesterday for a month's visit, with relatives and friends in Portland, Tacoma and Ellensburg, Wash.

H. M. Cooper, of Independence, is in Corvallis, having brought some samples of rock with him which he is having tested at the College.

A. J. Metzger, the jeweler, has improved the interior of his store by adding a new upright show case, which adds materially to the looks of the shop, and also economizes on space.

Dents dress gloves for men $2 per pair. S. L. Kline, agent.

W. T. and Chas. Small, have purchased the two buildings adjoining their confectionery store and occupied by Spencer's barber shop and Chipman's restaurant. Consideration $1800.

More new clothing for men this week at Kline's.

The Hotel Corvallis has put in a training table for the benefit of the football player and other athletes who are in training. This will limit the boys to a certain diet and should prove a great help to them while preparing for all athletic contests.

Our stock of footwear is full and complete of reliable makes. If it's style you want, we have it; if it's quality here you will find everything the best of its kind. Our prices are right. Nolan & Callahan.

The Holy Roller leader, Creffield, after given warning to leave town on last Sunday, which he did, returned to Corvallis after absents himself for a few days. He is now located again among his followers. What the termination of his second visit will be, time will tell.

A large number of friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chipman gave them a pleasant surprise last evening, the occasion being their crystal wedding anniversary, they having been wedded 15 years. We are unable to give the above social gathering a detailed write up, as we went to press several hours previous.

Try a 5c loaf of that fine white bread at the D. & T. store.

William Mackay, on old Benton resident, was in Corvallis this week, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. S. E. Owen, of Independence. They went to the bay on Saturday, returning Tuesday. Mr. Mackay has been in Alaska for about two years, and expects to return in the spring.

Attend the night school in the Corvallis Business College.

Tuesday's Telegram contains a picture of the popular athlete, Floyd Williams, a Polk county boy, who is attending O. A. C. and playing on this year's football team. Floyd is one of the crack sprinters of the state and also has an enviable reputation as a footballist. His father, who resides at Astoria, is justly proud of his son and never fails to attend any athletic sport when Floyd competes for honors.

New goods all the time at Nolan & Callahan's.

W. F. Nichols and Lee Kennedy returned Tuesday from Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Nichols, who is recognized as one of the best canoeists in the state, has been offered a position in the crack band at the Vancouver barracks, but, as yet, is undecided whether or not he will accept. There has been some talk of organizing a band in Corvallis, with Mr. Nichols as leader, and we still have hopes of the project being carried out. This city could have a good band, and with such a master as Mr. Nichols at the head, its success would be assured. Boys, let's have a band.

For Crouse & Brandegee, fine suits and overcoats for good dressers, see Nolan & Callahan.

Graham & Wells have accepted the exclusive agency for the famous Pama Tablets. For nervous debility, loss of sleep, etc.

Home comforts, blankets, white and colored Indian blankets for cosy corners, quilts, lace curtains, draperies, porchies and rugs, all these things are to be found at Nolan & Callahan's.

F. M. McMaines, better known as "Happy Hooligan" left yesterday for Portland, where he will be examined for entrance into the U. S. Army. Look out, girls, when "Happy" dons a uniform.

The Buckeye folding vapor bath cabinet is endorsed by 30,000 physicians. The only perfect cabinet made for the scientific application of heat and steam in curing and preventing disease. Graham & Wells, druggists of Corvallis, are sole agents. Call and see it or write for particulars.

Dr. Farra was called to the Wren schoolhouse on Wednesday to set a fractured collar bone for the 16 year old daughter of Wm. Bryant. The young lady was riding a merry-go-round, which the children had constructed at the schoolhouse, and, losing her balance, fell off, with the above result.

The 42nd volume of Reports of the Supreme Court of Oregon is just received in Corvallis. In addition to the report of cases decided, there is a list of attorneys permanently admitted to practice by the supreme court of Oregon from January 1, 1896 to July 1, 1903. In the list are the following from Benton county: E. H. Belknap, E. L. Bryan, E. R. Bryson, Roscoe Bryson, Brady Burnett, C. W. Davis, C. E. Dentler, W. C. Fischer, J. H. Gibson, J. Hoffman, J. N. McFadden. According to the list published 529 attorneys have been admitted in that time.

Apples for Sale.

I have 200 bushels of Newton Pippin apples for sale at 25 cents per bushel at my place one mile west of Corvallis. JOHN MEERKE.

THE NEW ABERDEEN

From a Corvallis Boy in the State of Washington.

ASHES OF ABERDEEN.

Like a Phoenix from the flame Aberdeen will rise again, Not in wood and chaff alone But in iron, brick and stone.

Proud on Wishkah's banks she'll stand Harboring ships from every land Sending cargoes far and wide Floating out on every tide.

Here by waters deep and blue Float the flags of every hue, Ships that speed to every clime Bearing timbers true and prime.

Loaded down from beam to keel With lumber straight and strong as steel Trees the finest ever seen Float to mills at Aberdeen.

Stricken twice her men of nerve From their purpose never swerve, Never falter or complain Rouse themselves and start again.

None the less her women brave Confidence and courage have That like a Phoenix from the flame Aberdeen shall rise again.

Situated nearly midway on the Pacific coast line of the State of Washington, is a three cornered indenture of salt water known as Grays Harbor; upon the shores of which—and its tributary streams—are situated the towns of Hoquiam, Aberdeen, Cosmopolis and Montesano; having a combined population of perhaps 20,000.

Aberdeen with, say 7,000 souls—and a few other people—occupies a central position in the group; located on either bank of the Wishkah river which here at its mouth forms a deep and secure inner harbor; cutting through the little city much as the Chicago river does through the great metropolis.

The large milling industries of "The Harbor" will number a score, lumber, shingle, cooperage, etc. The attendant shipping interests and surrounding logging camps add no small quota to the trade and revenue of the vicinity.

As yet but little of the adjacent fertile lands have been prepared for crops, or even cleared, and croakers are wont to say that this country depending entirely upon the timber, will go to rack when the forests disappear. Not so! A fair minded person needs only to ride among the magnificent farms about the older towns of La Conner and Mt. Vernon, rich lands reclaimed from the sea or wrested from the forests giants, to see that the same or even improved conditions will come to the shores of Grays Harbor, to draw aside the veil of the future and enjoy a vision of broad acres, green meadows and golden harvest, orchards laden with ripe fruit beside limpid waters. With the blue sea in front and the evergreen hills with their hoary crowns behind. The setting sun will scarcely shine upon a fairer land than this, half a hundred years to come.

The daily press has told the world the news—two disastrous fires within a fortnight—many of the losers by the first, were harder hit by the second fire, yet the remnants of stock are being gathered together from churches, dwellings, stables and shops into temporary buildings raised in a day, and in the same hour are plans being made for permanent buildings of stone, steel and brick. The new Aberdeen will, like the new Seattle and the new Spokane, be a magnificent city, and a credit to the state.

C. LINCOLN BENNET

Educational Exhibit.

The department of Public Instruction, Salem, has issued a circular calling attention to the forthcoming educational exhibit at the next World's Fair.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is to be held in St. Louis in 1904, and for the first time in the history of enterprises of this kind, the Department of Education has been assigned first place and a separate building has been provided for the educational exhibit and a comparative display from all the leading nations of the world.

It is earnestly desired by this department that Oregon shall take its proper place as a leading exhibitor in this department. The great interest heretofore manifested by the people of Oregon in all matters pertaining to education, justify the expectation of hearty cooperation in the preparation of an educational display that will intelligently and effectively illustrate Oregon's school system and the results achieved in all lines of work.

All inquiries and communications should be addressed to Supt. H. S. Lyman, 208 Vine street, Portland, Oregon.

Study bookkeeping in the Corvallis Business College, day and night schools.

[BY BERT YATES]

Ross Wimer and Worth Heiby returned Tuesday to their homes near Salem.

Glen Goodman, Sam Damon and Guy Walker spent Sunday in Independence.

The ground all about the Agricultural Hall has been plowed, leveled down and sown with grass seed.

The second team has a football game scheduled with U. of O's second team, the game to be played on the home grounds a week from tomorrow.

Floyd E. Bogue, a former O. A. C. student, is spending the winter at Lava, Crook county, and in a recent letter to a friend in this city, stated that he is having a fine time.

A very neat map of the City of Corvallis has been drawn and placed by Professor Skelton in the registrar's room for the convenience of new students seeking to get properly located.

Everybody about the College is imbued with the football spirit. The Seniors and Faculty have eleven; the Freshmen have organized and elected a temporary captain, and there is also some talk among the Sophomores of organizing a team.

An impromptu football rally was held during chapel exercises on Wednesday morning. Rousing speeches were made by Dr. Withcombe, Professors Shaw, Cordley, and Hardin, Coach McFadden and Captain Pilkington. The team is in fine shape for the game with Pacific University, which occurs this afternoon at 8 o'clock.

The construction of the new power house is well under way, the walls already being about six feet high. The east wall of the heating plant was torn away in order to combine under one roof the steam heating apparatus and power plant. The building when completed will be about 75 feet wide by 40 feet long, giving ample room for the boilers and dynamos, as the blacksmith shop is to be left in its present quarters.

Just west of Agricultural Hall workmen may be seen busily engaged in preparation for the installation of the third gas plant on the college premises. A circular hole eight feet in diameter and eight feet in depth has been dug, and from this is a ditch leading to and under the west wall of the building. This excavation, which is 30 feet from the building (insurance distance), is to contain a huge gasoline tank, six feet by six, and capacity of six or seven hundred gallons of gasoline. This tank will probably have to be filled only once or twice a year. About half way between the tank and the building is to be buried an apparatus called a mixer, which is a small tank about two feet in diameter and one foot thick. Just inside the Agricultural Hall is a large cylindrical affair somewhat resembling an engine boiler. This is the generator, from which the gas is carried by pipes to all parts of the building. The piping and plumbing were placed in the building during its construction. The gas-jets are to be used in the chemical and botanical departments, dairy rooms, etc.

Big Game Tomorrow

The two hoodooed football teams of the state, namely, the Pacific University, of Forest Grove and the O. A. C. will come together tomorrow at 3 o'clock on the local field. Pacific has won one game this season while O. A. C. has met defeat each time, and in the last game had to play against both players and officials, the latter being an obliging lot of fellows O. A. C. favored them. Come out this afternoon and help shake off the hoodoo.
