EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The special session of congress called to consider the Cuban reciprocity treaty, met on Tuesday, November 10, and notified the President that it was ready for business. President Roosevelt immediately sent his message which was read in both houses, and referred to the proper committees, after which both bodies adjourned. The message is a plain, straightforward presentation of the situation, and as such met the approval of the republican members, who received it with applause. The treaty will, no doubt, be soon approved.

Governor Chamberlain is making a grand stand play in demanding pledges of the legislators before calling a special session to remedy the deficiencies of the tax law. The legislature is the governing body and it is the business of the governor to execute the laws they pass. He is starting in early to make political capital for the uext gubernatorial election. Perhaps his greatest fear is that some of his own pet measures may be interfered with. It may be that the portage railroad is the nigger in meet the terms. Mr. Porter, act the woodpile. Eh, George?

A rather malodorous state of affairs has developed in the state of Wyoming caused by the arrest and conviction of one Tom Horn, indicted for murder in Iron county, and sentenced to be hung on the 20th of this month. Numerous petitions have been presented to have the sentence commuted to life imprisonment. The trouble seems to be that he has many friends who are afraid that if he is to hang, he will make the state of t them in many cold-blooded murders that he has committed. That the vast cattle syndicates hired murderers there can be no doubt and that scores of murders of settlers or small men on the range was due to the enmity of the cattie barons was a well established fact. These facts seem to be well known and authenticated. Our neighbor of the Roseburg Plaindealer pronounces Horn a hired assassin. It is now up to the state government to proceed with the hanging of Mr. Tom Horn, but before that little act of justice is completed to obtain from him the necessary confession that will cause the conviction of the ringleaders, the men who caused the murders to be committed. Then it more hangings do not follow foul shame will rest upon the reputation of the state of Wyoming.

The Street Lighting Contract.

The proposition for lighting the streets of Corvallis, which has been pending before the city council for several weeks, came up for action on Monday evening NOTARY. of this week. The bill had passed its second reading, and the committee were ready to report, when unexpectedly a proposition Practice in all State and Federal Court, was submitted by B. F. Jones, as agent or attorney for some outside company. This offer was considerably lower than the local company's bid.

In order to give the proposition the necessary consideration, an adjourned meeting was ordered for Tuesday evening. At this meeting the bid of the new company was presented, and the local company was asked if they would ing for the local company, presented a new schedule, which the committee received.
