

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Preaching at the Witham school house at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, by H. A. Deck.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of one Edmund Baker, supposed to be in Benton county, will confer a favor by communicating with the county clerk of Benton county.

Reports from the east side of the river, in Linn county, is that the water is rising very high and the roads are over-flooded in several places. Fences are down in all directions.

Mr. O. P. Hoff, he recently appointed Commissioner of Labor, made us a pleasant call on Wednesday. He is looking up statistics and information for his bureau, and making himself acquainted with the resources of our county.

The party given by the Ladies Coffee Club was held on Wednesday evening, at the City Hall, and was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The members of the Pullman football team were special guests. The hall was crowded, and dancing continued till a late hour.

The Baptist Sunday School observed Bible Day by a special entertainment in the church last Sunday evening. A well selected and entertaining program was given by the scholars, consisting of music, recitations, etc. A collection was taken for the purpose of purchasing bibles. The church was finely decorated, and a large crowd was in attendance.

O. A. C. Cleanings.

[BY BERT VATES]

During the heavy gale of Wednesday morning the top was blown off the water-tower at the power house.

Mr. Sewall, a student of O. A. C., secured a fine negative of the double line-up of the contesting teams at the recent football game.

Mr. Wallace, a football enthusiast and a very potential influence in the Albany team, watched the game between Pullman and Corvallis.

President Gatch says Frank Ward, when telephoned at Salem that O. A. C. had beaten W. A. C., answered "Whoopie" exultantly.

A pretty incident occurred in chapel, Tuesday, when "nine rabs" were given in honor of some of the Pullman boys who were visiting the school.

Ira Allen, editor Pullman Herald, spent Wednesday in Corvallis to witness the great inter-collegiate and interstate game of football and to visit his old-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Emery.

Prof. T. H. Crawford reports that the class in Literary Commerce is the largest in numbers since the class was established. His class in Commercial Law have just completed the subject of Contracts.

Claud Hale, of Brownsville, who graduated from the literary-commercial course last year, spent several days in Corvallis this week. Because of ill health he recently resigned a good position as stenographer with an incubator firm in Eugene.

The College Glee Club entertained the students and faculty with a well rendered selection, Wednesday morning. The Club consists of about twenty members, and under the direction of Prof. Herse, promises to become one of the best organizations of its kind in the state.

Severe Wind Storm

The storm of the last few days worked itself up into comparative fury on Tuesday night, when the howling wind kept people awake most of the night. Fences were blown down in all directions, both in town and through the country. The large lumber shed of the Benton County Lumber Co., north of the Southern Pacific Depot, was blown down, doing considerable damage. Out in Wilkins Addition, a windmill belonging to Prof. Pritchard, formerly one of the professors in the agricultural department of the O. A. C., was completely wrecked. A skylight was blown off the roof of the Occidental Hotel, and minor accidents all over town.

Around the college grounds, casualties were numerous. The top was blown off the water tank, and one of the chimneys of the armory blown down. A window was broken in the administration building. A barn belonging to Professor McKellup had the roof taken off. On the whole, it may be reckoned one of the most severe storms that has visited this town for years.

Card of Thanks.

The relatives of William Groves do most heartily express their sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness afforded them during their late bereavement. A true friend is best known by his deeds, and friendship shown on an occasion of this kind will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Wm. Groves and Family.

THE PARENTS' MEETING.

Supt. Denman's Efforts Make Meeting a Big Success.

In accord with arrangements previously made, the first parents' meeting to be held in Mouroe occurred last Saturday. At the appointed hour a good-sized audience was present to participate in the day's work. Supt. Denman led in the 15 minutes singing exercise.

Prof. Mathews began the regular program by opening the discussion of question, "Duty of Teachers"; (b) "On the Play-Ground." He advanced the following points: 1 Be on grounds early; 2 Have them in order; 3 Keep them in order; 4 Encourage pupils in sports; See that pupils act properly; Know what pupils are doing.

M. E. Gragg continued discussion and said: 1 See that games are for the benefit of school; 2 Teacher has the best opportunity to correct pupils.

The subject, "Duty of Teachers;" (c) "In the Home" was nicely handled in a well written paper by Ellen Dunlap. She said: "Have a smile and kind word for every child; join in social life of district and have heart to heart talks with parents."

D. B. Farley said in discussion of "Directors to Teacher:" 1 Directors should visit oftener; 2 better to have one month of good school than two of bad; 3 better pay good, reasonable salary and get a better teacher; 4 pupils notice it quickly when you do not support teacher; 5 board must stand by teacher on all reasonable questions.

"Duty of Teacher in School Room" was taken up at beginning of afternoon session by Miss Julia du Molion in a paper full of sound, practical suggestions and good common-sense ideas. She said, "Maintain order at all hazards; be kind and firm in all punishments; make every written recitation a writing lesson."

Mrs. E. H. Belknap continued the subject. Her remarks were full of sound advice. Her intense interest in her subjects aroused all present.

Robt. Kyle in discussing the subject, "Duty of Directors to Pupil and Parents," said: "Secure the best teacher possible; fence the school grounds; owe pupils best efforts; should provide indigent pupils with books."

W. C. Belknap read a good paper on "Duty of Clerk." He thought this officer should seek information about school; in visiting homes discuss subjects of school with parents. Mrs. Melissa Howard continued the discussion.

Prof. Horner instead of delivering his address told what Supt. Denman was trying to do in the publication of Benton County School Journal. He asked for voluntary subscriptions and succeeded in securing twenty subscribers.

"Why Some Teachers Fail," was discussed by Supt. Denman in a short talk. During the day some excellent recitations were rendered as follows:

"Guilty or Not Guilty," Elsie Dameill. "Mother's Fool," Carire Pouts. "Sweet Old Maids," Myrtle Cartwright. "How Sockry Set the Hen," John Cole. "Our Little Ones," Eva Martin.

"Maud Muller," Edith Coffee. "Down at Grandma's," Clanton Persinger. "Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud," Belle Edwards.

A vocal selection was also furnished by W. C. Belknap. During noon every one did justice to a fine basket dinner. There was quality and quantity to be had without money or price.

OREGON DOWNS WASHINGTON

Home Team's New Line-up Proves a Winner.

In the fastest and by far the best game played on the home grounds this season the local college team bested the Washington Agricultural College yesterday afternoon to the tune of 6 to 0.

The local team presented an entirely different line-up and each man played his position to perfection.

The Washington team, while putting up good ball, was clearly outclassed by the Farmers, who, with a grim determination to use every possible precaution against defeat and with a record of not a single touchdown in four games starting them in the face, not only put up the best game they knew how, but the headwork and judgment that was used by them helped much toward scoring a victory.

The first half was nearly all played between O. A. C.'s 25 and 50 yard line, and it was here that Capt. Pilkington used fine judgment in punting on the first formation, while Pullman bucked the line for two downs, with small or no gains and then were forced to punt.

After O. A. C. scored her touchdown she started toward the opponent's goal with a vim, but Williams fumbled, which gave Pullman the ball and during the remainder the game was played between Oregon's 25 and 50-yard line.

Pullman worked a quarterback kick in good shape until Corvallis neatly blocked a few of them, which compelled Washington to abandon that particular play.

Corvallis fumbled once and Pullman twice, and the latter's biggest gain was a 20 yard end run by Lobaugh.

Each man on the Pullman team played his best, but they made no sensational plays, as compared with the home team. Among the spectacular player for the local collegians, Captain Pilkington was, as usual, the star player and his spectacular fake punt and his 40-yard run was a feature.

Walker played an unusually good game and his tackling brought him many cheers from the grand stand.

Little Rumbaugh, who took Cupper's place, did some great work and his securing a fumbled ball and making a good gain with it won him much praise.

But Root was the real hero of the day. Securing the ball in the latter part of the last half he cleverly passed a half dozed Pullman men and after a 15-yard run made the only touchdown for O. A. C. this season. He fiercely fought his way to the center of the goal, thus making it easier for "Pilk" to make the kick.

Vonderhellen, Bowers, Bundy, Abraham, Spagle, Cooper and Williams all played a steady game and each one deserves much credit for their excellent showing.

The game was full of punting and it was here that O. A. C. simply put Pullman in the shade although the Washingtonians made some good punts.

As a whole the game was one of the prettiest and most sensational ever played on the local gridiron. The home team with its new line-up adopted entirely different tactics and their continual punting saved them much line bucking and they came out of the game much fresher than their opponents.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Cupper was right there "with the goods" until he was laid out. Oh, why didn't we have the present line-up when we played Albany.

Rumbaugh showed his hitting ability when a Pullman man fouled him. Rumbaugh was justified in doing as he did.

We notice a decided improvement in the band since its first appearance. The College is justly proud of its musical organization.

The home team changed suits between halves, which was a great help, but Washington played both halves without a change.

From his superb punting in Wednesday's game Captain Pilkington's nick-name should be changed from "Pilk" to "Punting Pilk."

The GAZETTE reporter felt like a thirty-cent piece with a hole in it when he found out that O. A. C. could play ball, and winning ball at that. We'll be good after this.

If O. A. C. plays such ball against Eugene as they did with Pullman, the U. of O. team will find themselves up against a team that know how to play ball, if Albany did beat us.

We wonder who wrote that piece in the GAZETTE saying that O. A. C. would not win a game and probably would not score. He should be ashamed of himself and certainly deserves the limit.
