A Father at 82.
The Marquis of Denegal, who, although he has been married three times, has hitherto been childless, has become a father at the age of 82. He married his third wife, a daughter of Henry Twining, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, at the beginning of the year. She is 22 years of age. The child, who is a boy, will inherit the title, but comparatively little else, past generations of the family having squandered the estate.

Most Probably an American.
A woman went into a chemist's in London recently and asked for some article which is generally to be procured at a shop of this kind.

The man of mixtures, replying to the woman's inquiries, said: "Madam, I do not possess what you require. I am a chemist pure and simple."

"I don't know anything about your purity," but there's no doubt about your simplicity," replied the disappointed woman as she retired from the counter.

For bronchial troubles try Pilo's Cure for Consumption. It is a good cough medicine. At druggists, price 25 cents.

In Worldly Goods.
"It isn't every man that knows when he is well off."
"No; but lots of us know that we are not."—Brooklyn Life.

Preaching and Practice.
Spellbinder—Yes, my friends, eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Be on your guard. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Voice (from the audience)—Then you must take us for gold darn fools! You have been talking for an hour and a half.

An Instance of Growth.
It is a pleasure, in this day of great industrial combinations, to note an instance where an independent concern has attained to mammoth proportions, and has grown steadily but surely for years from a small beginning into the fullness of the present time. Such an institution is cited in the seed business of D. M. Ferry & Co., who for nearly half a century have gone forward each year, constantly adding new customers and retaining all its old ones, until it is today the source of seed supply from which the great crops of this country spring. Seed houses have come and gone—some survived and flourished for years, but finally succumbed for one reason or another—while Ferry's kept growing all the time. Thousands of farmers, gardeners and flower growers look to them year after year for the seeds from which the prosperity of their fields and gardens is to grow, and the fact that they are never disappointed in Ferry's seeds is the secret of the wonderful expansion of this popular firm. You can buy their seeds in every city, town or hamlet of this land, and you are always certain that they are fresh, true to name and sure to grow. Their 1904 Seed Annual, a valuable guide in the selection of the proper seeds to plant, will be sent free to all readers of this paper who apply to D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Mich.

Too Much Argument.
Dar's a good deal in argument, but it can also be overdone. As long as Uncle Moses believed in sulphur and brimstone he let my cabbage strictly alone. When I had argued him into believing 'dat no sich place existed he cleaned out my truck patch in one night.

Eudoxus.
Eudoxus, born 406 B. C., was the first man known to history to explain planetary motion and to make a map of the heavens with the planets and fixed stars marked.

Death to Convicts.
Since 1852 more than 26,000 convicts have been sent to French Guiana, of whom 84 per cent died of disease, hardship and insufficient food.

British Emergency Rations.
Every soldier in the British army carries in his haversack what is known as the "emergency ration." This consists of a small tin cylinder, similar to a pocket spirit flask, divided into compartments. One of these is filled with four ounces of cocoa paste, and the other contains a similar quantity of concentrated beef (pemmican). As its title implies, the ration is not to be used except in the case of the direst necessity, and if consumed in small quantities it will maintain strength for 36 hours.

Long Hair

"About a year ago my hair was coming out very fast, so I bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stopped the falling and made my hair grow very rapidly, until now it is 45 inches in length." A. Boydston, Atchison, Kans.

There's another hunger than that of the stomach. Hair hunger, for instance. Hungry hair needs food, needs hair vigor—Ayer's. This is why we say that Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color, and makes the hair grow long and heavy. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

FLASHES OF FUN

"Does your daughter's husband love her as devotedly as ever?" "He does when I'm around," replied her daughter's husband's mother-in-law, grimly.—Houston Post.

Fond Mother.—My darling, it is bedtime. All the little chickens have gone to bed. Little Philosopher—Yes, mamma, and so has the old hen.—Woman's Home Companion.

"Dis world ain't square," growled little Mickey. "Why not?" asked Jimmy. "Cause the only ones dat get free peanuts are elephants and policemen."—Chicago News.

Anxious Mother.—Willie, dear, do you ever have any trouble with the other little boys at school? Willie—Now! I lick one of 'em every once in a while, but that ain't the least bit of trouble.—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. A.—Your husband smoking again! Why, I thought you insisted that he should give it up. Mrs. Z.—I did, dear, but then I found such a pretty smoking-jacket at a bargain sale.—Chicago Daily News.

Helping His Wife.—Wife—I have been thinking I ought to give you a birthday present, Howard. Husband—Oh, very well. Just write down what it shall be, and I'll buy it on my way uptown.—Town Topics.

Friends.—Now that you have made millions, what will you do? Old Bullion—I shall retire, and amuse myself telling people what a burden wealth is, and how happy I was when I was poor.—New York Weekly.

After the Wedding.—"But they told me you had money." "And they bunched me into thinking you were rich." "Well, what's to be done about it?" "Let's fall in love just for spite."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Do you believe that the American people like to be humbugged?" "No, sir," answered the sturdy patriot, "but when they find anyone smart enough to do it they can't help taking off their hats to him."—Washington Star.

Beyond Expectation.—Mr. Jones—See here! This horse you sold me runs up on the sidewalk every time he sees an auto. Horse Dealer—Well, you don't expect a fifty-dollar horse to run up a telephone pole or climb a tree, do you?—Judge.

Girl in the Grand Stand.—Isn't that a cruel game? Do you think it's fair for a dozen men to pile themselves on top of the new fellow that has the ball? Her Escort—Now, there oughtn't to be more than eleven of them, anyway.—Chicago Tribune.

Information.—"Hello," said the neighborly bore, "what are you building? The new chicken house for?" "Why," replied Nettles, "for a flock of pink carnations, of course. You didn't suppose I'd put chickens in it, did you?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Weren't you nervous at the wedding? asked the sympathetic chap, "with all those people looking at you?" "I nervous?" repeated the recent benedict. "Why should I be nervous? Nobody looked at me; I was only the groom, you know."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

In Kentucky. Ascum—I don't know whether your head over the article about Colonel Lushman's death was printed the way you intended, but it was a good one. City Editor—Let me see. What was it? Ascum—Has fought his last battle.—Philadelphia Press.

Clitman.—What's the matter with all you Lonesomehunters? Newcomb's a decent sort of a fellow, and yet you all appear to hate him. Suburbs—No wonder! He went and bought his wife a sealakin coat last week, and our homes are no longer peaceful.—Philadelphia Press.

"Mamma, what is Topsy's other name?" "Topsy in the play? I don't know, dear; just Topsy, that's all." "Oh, she has another name. I heard papa speak it yesterday," but I can't think of it now. Oh, yes, I remember—It's Topsy Turvey!—Kansas City Journal.

"How did you like Dr. Fourthly last Sunday morning?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle; "don't you think he indulged rather freely in mixed metaphor?" "Goodness! I didn't notice. Did he have it right there in the pulpit? This will be a terrible blow to Josiah. He thinks so much of the doctor."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Rule of Three.—"One week from to-day, Uncle John, I will be a married man. Yes, in seven short days I will be initiated into the mysteries of matrimony." "No mysteries about it, my boy. It is just the plain, simple rule of three." "Rule of three? Eh, what three?" "Wife, mother-in-law, and hired girl."—Kansas City Journal.

"How's your mother?" asked the neighbor. "Worried to death," answered the boy, who was swinging on the front gate; "father's hunting in the Adirondacks, brother Bill's gone to a political convention, brother Jack's joined a football team, and the dress-maker has just told mother that she'd look a fright in mourning."—Washington Star.

His Qualification. Senator—This friend that you want me to get a government position for—you can recommend him as a man of good ability and capable of filling the place, I suppose? Constituent—Why, no, Senator, I can't do that. It's because he can't make a living at anything else that I want you to get a government job for him.—Chicago Tribune.

Lucky.
Cumso—Well, young Frisbie will make his way in the medical profession.
Clawker—Has he got a good start?
Cumso—I should say he had. He was such a prime favorite in the college that they made him surgeon to the football team.—Detroit Free Press.

His Trip.
Owenlotts (coughing forcibly)—I've been advised that a trip abroad would be greatly to my benefit.
Sharpun—Who advised you, your lawyer or doctor?—Town and Country.

So Nice and Sympathetic.
A gentleman whose one glass eye has served him for years had the misfortune to drop it. It smashed to atoms. This happened when he was far away in the country. He inquired of a friend where was the nearest place for him to go and get refitted.
"Why don't you call upon the girl you were flirting with all last night?" his friend inquired. "She has a first class reputation for making eyes."—Punch.

Prayer of the Convert.
A south sea island at the close of a religious meeting offered the following prayer: "O, God, we are about to go to our respective homes. Let not the words we have heard be like the fine clothes we wear—soon to be taken off and folded up in a box till another Sabbath comes around. Rather, let thy truth be like the tattoo on our bodies—ineffaceable till death."

Complimentary.
Irate Daddy (suddenly coming upon a highly emotional love scene in a cozy corner)—What! Kissing my daughter! Is this the way you reward my confidence and respect for you in admitting you to my home?
Young Man (calmly)—It strikes me that I am paying you the highest compliment possible.

ODDITIES OF EXPORTING.
What We Send Abroad and Some of the Things We Get.
We send Dakota seed to Russia, from which she raises wheat to compete with our own product in the markets of the world. To plant, cultivate, reap and harvest her own crops we send to Russia nearly one-half our total exports of agricultural machinery. In 1903 we shipped some 80,000 tons of these implements to the land of the Czar. In former years all this passed through the ports of New York and Philadelphia, but a fractional increase in freight rates between the lakes and the East has diverted the trade to Southern ports, while experiments are being made in direct shipments from Chicago by way of the lakes, the St. Lawrence River and the Atlantic Ocean.

The cotton plant first came to America from Asia; now the greater part of the Central Asian crop is grown from American cottonseed. American cultivators till the soil which is watered by an American irrigation system. Yankee gins clean the fiber, American compounds press the cotton into bales wrapped with American bands, and finally the cotton finds its way to Moscow over a railroad built with American capital, and is turned into cloth by second-hand machinery from an American cotton factory, to compete abroad with American prints.

Another regular article of export to Central Asia is the Ohio grapevine cutting. The vineyards of Central Asia are all cuttings from American vines, and the fruit is prized above all others in Russia proper for its delicacy and flavor. Twenty to thirty tons of American grapes to the acre is a common yield in Central Asia, and as the American vine is free from parasites, it is being introduced everywhere the world over, from South Africa to northern China and Japan. We will export to tobacco plants to Russian Asia, so that the Russian tobacco, grape, cotton and wheat crops are all American, once removed.

No oriental fable is stranger than the accomplishments of the up-to-date Yankee drummer. In Baghdad, the home of Aladin, he offers the new American lamps that burn either Russian or Ohio oil, for the old bronze tallow burners of the Baghdad housewife, and as these time-worn oriental lamps find a ready sale in New York, the enterprising drummer who introduced the American lamp to Baghdad was well repaid for his trouble. Now, however, American lamps are becoming a drug in the Baghdad market, and the supply of old lamps is rapidly giving out as our lamp trade with Turkey increases.

A Connecticut firm manufactures sacred scarabs for the Egyptian tourist trade. The little charms are carved and even chipped by machinery, colored in blue to stimulate age and shipped in casks to the Moslem dealers in Cairo. The Arabian guides are the chief buyers, many of them being adepts at "sailing" the sands at the base of the pyramids, or about the sacred temples, where they artfully discover these scarabs before the very eyes of the Yankee tourist and sell him for an American dollar an article manufactured at a cost of less than a cent per piece within a stone's throw of his own home. For enterprise it beats wooden nutmegs.—Collier's Weekly.

KRUGER IN EXILE

He Says He Has Not Yet Abandoned Hope.
President Kruger, as it seems natural to call him, is a lonely and pathetic figure in his declining years. He lives in retirement on the French Riviera, near the Italian frontier, a beautiful country, but not as attractive to the old Boer's eyes as the monotonous veldt. Darwin, in his "Voyage of the Beagle," says that the country which haunted him most and exercised the pleasantest sentimental interest upon him was the sterile and uninhabitable Patagonian wilderness, a land of sweeping plain and billowy upland, arid, tireless and melancholy. If such a wild spot, with no landscape charm, could fascinate a chance traveler, how passionate must be the attachment of the exiled Boer to the land of his birth! Mr. Kruger lives in seclusion, denying himself to all but intimate friends. To the visiting journalist he is "not at home." He passes his time in reading his own treasured book, the Bible, and keeping up with his correspondence with the Boers who have founded colonies in South Africa, Chili and Holland, some of which are prosperous.

M. Massard, of La Patrie, obtained admittance to Mr. Kruger's presence the other day to present an allegorical figure in bronze entitled by the donor "Sursum Corda." The Frenchman, of course, read a little address full of complimentary references to the former President and his heroic people. Mr. Kruger in reply said he had not abandoned hope, for his faith in divine justice was unwavering. His last handshake was sad, said the emotional Frenchman, "and a mist seemed to come over his eyes. I myself could not suppress a tear." No doubt a genuine tear, as became the director of La Patrie charged with such a sensational mission. When Mr. Kruger said he had not abandoned hope he must have had in mind the building of a Dutch South Africa on the ashes of the ravaged republics, the scheme of the rehabilitated Bond and the dream of veterans like De Wet, Delarey and Louis Botha.—New York Evening Sun.

Substitute for Diamond Drills.
The price of black diamonds, used for core rock drills, having risen in forty years from three dollars to fifty dollars per carat, a substitute for them has long been sought, says the Youth's Companion. One such substitute is furnished by the shot drill, invented by Mr. Davis, an Australian. In this machine the place of the diamond-cutters is taken by chilled steel shot, fed through a hollow rod in the drill, which wear away the rock by a crushing or grinding action. A machine, recently tested in New York, easily cut through a mass of brick and cement, and even through embedded plates of cast iron, making smooth cores of four feet in length.

It is said that Texas alone markets $50,000,000 worth of cattle annually. Hot weather is no more dangerous to fat people than to lean.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY ENDORSES PE-RU-NA

Pe-ru-na Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen "I can cheerfully say that Mrs. Schley has taken Pe-ru-na and I believe with good effect."—W. S. SCHLEY, Washington, D. C.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY, one of the foremost notable heroes of the nineteenth century. A name that startles terror in the heart of every Spaniard. A man of steady nerve, clear head, undaunted courage and prompt decision.

Approached by a friend recently, his opinion was asked as to the efficacy of Peru-na, the national catarrh remedy. Without the slightest hesitation he gave this remedy his endorsement. It appeared on later conversation that Peru-na has been used in his family, where it is a favorite remedy.

Such endorsements serve to indicate the wonderful hold that Peru-na has upon the minds of the American people. It is out of the question that so great and famous a man as Admiral Schley could have any other reason for giving his endorsement to Peru-na than his positive conviction that the remedy is all that he says it is.

The fact is that Peru-na has overcome all opposition and has won its way to the hearts of the people. The natural timidity which so many people have felt about giving endorsement to any remedy is giving way. Gratitude and a desire to help others has inspired thousands of people to give public testimonials for Peru-na who heretofore would not have consented to such publicity.

Never before in the annals of medicine has it happened that so many men of national and international reputation have been willing to give unqualified and public endorsements to a proprietary remedy. No amount of advertising could have accomplished such a result. Peru-na has won on its own merits. Peru-na cures catarrh of whatever phase or location in the human body. That is why it receives so many notable and unique endorsements.

Address The Peru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, for free literature on catarrh.

SURE INDICATIONS OF BAD BLOOD

OLD SORES, ULCERS, ABSCESSSES

The best evidence of a bad condition of the blood and unhealthy state of the system, is an old festering sore, running ulcer, or abscess. They show the bodily impurities are not passing out through the proper channels, but are left in the system to clog and poison the blood. So thoroughly does the poison permeate the system that every little scratch, cut or bruise inflames and festers. Everything about an old sore or ulcer suggests disease. They affect the general health, they require constant attention, and are a source of anxiety and trouble all the time, and in some cases highly offensive. There is danger, too, of these places becoming cancerous if not treated promptly and in the right way. Washes, salves and ointments are good for external use, but they can't stop the discharge or change the condition of the blood, and for this reason the sore never heals permanently.

Not until the blood is purged of impurities and the system cleansed of all harmful substances should the ulcer heal, or the effect upon the system might prove disastrous. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and searches out and removes the cause of the old sore and invigorates and builds up the polluted, sluggish blood again, and as the poisonous matter is driven from the system the sore begins to heal, new flesh forms and the place is soon covered over with fresh skin and the sore is gone for all time. Where the constitution is debilitated from the effects of chronic sores, ulcers, abscesses, carbuncles, boils or other severe skin eruptions, S. S. S. will build it up again and stimulate and strengthen all parts of the system. S. S. S. contains no strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. It is unequalled as a Blood Purifier and invigorating tonic. Do not depend upon local remedies alone. Get your blood right, and as it forces out the poison the sore must heal, because nothing is left in the system for it to feed upon. Write us should you desire medical advice, which is given without charge.

FROM CALF OF THE LEG TO ANKLE A SOLID SORE.

New Castle, Pa., July 29, 1903.

Three years ago a common boil appeared on the calf of my limb. Not yielding to simple home remedies, I consulted a physician, who prescribed a poultice, flax seed, suppositories. By some fearful mistake I was given corrosive sublimate, and after having it on for a few minutes I could endure the pain no longer, so I took off the application and found that my limb from the calf to the ankle was in an awful condition. I immediately sent for another physician, who told me I had been poisoned. My limb from the calf to the ankle was one solid inflamed sore. I was advised to begin S. S. S., and improved rapidly under its use, but about this time I had an attack of typhoid fever, and this settled in the original sore. This, of course, caused a break set, but having confidence in the ability of S. S. S., I began it again as soon as I was over the fever, and to my surprise the sore healed. Two years have elapsed, and I have never had a return of the trouble. S. S. S. 214 W. Washington St.
