Comments and Criticisms Based Upon cal and News Notes. Self-indulgence is the secret of indigence. It is folly to boast of your frills before you have built your foundation.

Manchuria and Korea gone and more broken China to be picked up be the other doctors gasp, but which they fore long.

to football this season. The hunting our mountain and plains Indians, who record beats that all to pieces.

son of a rich man. One is inclined to sive virility and force all their lives. feel sometimes that Mr. Carnegle ex- On the other hand, the natives of the aggerates the joys of poverty.

A Philadelphia horse put his foot this be a terrible warning to you. One of the questions that agitates the man in the street is whether annexation of Panama would bring down the price of his next summer's hat. A New York preacher became the father of triplets a few days ago. If he's a wonder. "Killed. 8.554; wounded, 45,477." This is not the report of a great battle, but the report of the United States the fiscal year ended June 30 last. Appendicular surgery is passing into history. Nearly everybody who can afford to have the malady has paid the bill and the rest of mankind get along observance of the laws of digestion. W. K. Vanderbilt thinks the salaries of preachers should be reduced. Mr. Vanderbilt seems to be rather ungrateful. A preacher did him quite a favor when he wanted to get married perfectly confident that the showing awhile ago and the laws of the Church

To fish is to prevaricate. The rule is invariable. If Izaak Walton presents an apparent exception it must be remembered that he was in reality but little of a fisherman despite the clamor of the fraternity which would push him forward as its chiefest exemplar.

of England almost thwarted him.

A partially demented man in Maine has had his head completely cleared by a sounding thump on the skull. This case ought to be thoroughly investigated, for if such treatment is of universal applicability, then every city in the land should proceed at once to elect or have appointed an official

Seventeen thousand new words, or new meanings of old words, appear in the revised edition of a dictionary of the English language. These were selected from half a million words and definitions that had come into use since the dictionary was first printed, only ten years ago. The language, in spite of its antiquity, does not seem to be threatened with senile decay.

Events have not justified the prophecy of those who said a few years ago that bicycle riding was merely a fad, and would soon lose its popularity. It was the fad of a few, to be sure, but the blevele has proved itself so useful that it has been adopted as a business vehicle in the city as well as in the country. Last year more than six hundred thousand bicycles were sold in the United States; and in France more than twice as many bicycles were ridden as in 1898.

Along with the expressions of alarm over the terribly high percentage of murders in America, increasing promincace is given to the danger coming from the promiscuous carrying of concealed weapons. It is asserted that Washington 248,282 we are becoming "a nation of gun carriers." The majority of cowardly rufflans have little temptation to engage in a quarrel if no weapon is within reach, while shallow headed fellows. who have received considerable of their education from "dime novels" and "nickel libraries," are not only persuaded that a weapon is necessary to their safety, but they are anxious for an excuse to "flash a gun." Peace officers should have authority to suppress the carrying of weapons by irresponsible parties, even if a legal precedent had to be established, such, for instance as would allow them to arrest at sight all suspicious characters in order to search for weapons. Where such were found, heavy sentences would do considerable to discourage the practice. It is better to take herolc measures rather than to have homicide statistics which are a national disgrace.

Of some 9,000 members of religious orders expelled from France, it is estimated that 6,100 have settled in England, 1.100 have gone to Canada and 1.800 have entered the United States. The number of men and women who have settled in England is about equal; of those who have gone to Canada the women are in the majority, while those who have settled in the United States are nearly all men. It is estimated that nearly $22,-000,000 has been taken into England by these religions, while the sum of $10,000,000 has come to the United States and Canada. A New York doctor gives a formula for a paste that dissolves the hair on a man's face and gives him a shave without a razor. Some fear is felt that it may take the face, too, but what does a man care for that who has It is time to quit believing tried to shave with an old razor that would draw tears from a face of Competent American girls are in deman in the Philippines. A business man who lately returned from Manila says that the supply of well-trained stenographers and typewriters is not beating her chaperon out of a job.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES. nearly equal to the demand, although wages are considerably higher than A CHOICE SELECTION OF INTER- in the United States. Women of many nationalities are constantly arriving in Manila, but American girls are scarce. Englishwomen outnumber them four the Happenings of the Day-Histori- to one, and now hold the best positions, although nearly all the "want ads" end with, "American girl preferred."

The theory of Dr. J. D. Robertson, expressed before a Chicago medical society, to the effect that the bathing habit is injurious and as he said a "dirty habit," an opinion which made could not scientifically refute, reminds an observant man of many things There were only nineteen deaths due that seem queer. He is reminded that never bathe except by accident, are rarely ill and, barring war or accident, Mr. Carnegie says that he pities the live to good old age, displaying aggresdistricts ran back by degrees into the high, airy, cleanly residence regions above and to the west of Central Park. They then took a hygienic or disease census by district lines, would be of appalling prevalence of zymotic and probably other disease in the slum districts as compared with the others. When the returns were all in and tabulated the zealous workers for the soap and water habit were appalled indeed, but it was by the fact that the figures showed by far the lowest disease and death rate in the

> on good common sense. WIVES WANTED OUT WEST.

of frequent or infrequent bathing like

Thousands of Women Can Find Hus bands in Western States.

A traveler in Arizona reports that section he says:

"Thousands of cattle are standing knee deep in alfalfa, the land is rich and the young men are thrifty and prosperous. But they can't get wives. There are not women enough to go around. Arizona wants several car loads of women just as soon as she can get them."

Census statistics support this view of the case, not only as to Arizona, but as to a number of other Western States and territories. Here are a few significant figures showing that not every Jack has his Jill:

Arizona 57,027

Kansas 593,965

On the other hand, look a verse of the picture in certs of the effete East:	in States
Male.	Female.
Maryland 455,285	565,430
Massachusetts1,097,581	1,169,467
New Hampshire 168,483	169,410
New Jersey 739,224	741,274
New York2,877,822	2,923,860
South Carolina 465,022	477,380

160,155

reverse direction.

Mexico.

the meat or of dropping the same.

FISHES THAT FLY FOR LIFE.

Interesting Scenes While Voyaging in the Gulf of Mexico.

of Mexico is one of the favorite pastimes of persons who make the voyage

across the Gulf for the first time," said an observant man, "and the habit is not an uninteresting one, for there is much to be learned, much that is new and attractive to the stranger. There is something particularly fascinating about the flying fish in the Gulf of

"During the trip recently we ran into great schools of them between here and Vera Cruz and it was difficult not to believe at times that they were simply making sport of the big vessel that was plowing through the blue waters of the Gulf. They would dart across the bow of the ship, scamper this way and that, and seemed to be in a playful mood all the while.

They looked like animated sprays, mere flashes and splashes of water:

now taking this form, now that, now shooting along with the course of the ship; now bounding out from the vessel's side, and all the while apparently conscious of the fact that men and women were watching them. They seemed to take somewhat of pleasure

"Watching the flying fish in the Gulf

Virginia 679,440 685,061 It Is Time to Quit. It is time to quit the grumbling, Time to take a hopeful view, Time to drop the foolish notion That the world is all askew; There are lots of blessings yet That the world is booked to get, And the good Lord in his mercy's saving some of them for you.

It is time to guit the sighing. Time to look up with a smile For the good old world's revolving In the same old steady style; Wicked people day by day Close their eyes and pass away, And there won't be any left here but the righteous, after awhile.

It is time to quit the fretting Over trifles that go wrong; Think of all the joys you're getting, All the blessings, right along; Don't sit down disheartened, sad, Over small rebuffs you've had. Fortune tries our spirits often, just to make them good and strong.

It is time to quit believing That there's nothing left to do For the ones who'd be achieving; Every day brings something new. Don't give up the hope to rise, Fair ahead the future lies, And to-morrow may be bringing just the needed chance for you. It is time to quit the grieving For the good old happy days; Men are sunk in sinful ways: Still the morning may be bright, Still sweet dreams may come at night. Fate has favors for the cheerful, but Woman's Home Companion. Don't marry a girl for the sake of our grumbling never pays.

Opinions of Great Papers on Important Subjects.

Nervous Prosperity Is a Disease.

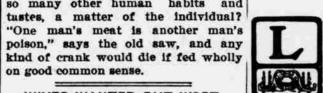

ERELY being prosperous makes many persons nervous. Women, having duties which, if not fewer, are less compulsory, than those of men are peculiarly subject to this complaint. Their physical strength is less, their nervous systems are more complicated. Secretary Root regrets the decrease of country life on the ground that

Pacific islands, who are half their cities make a nervous race, different from the cool old time or more in the water, are weak, stock which has been the basis of our civilization. Mr. effeminate, disease inclined and short Root thinks that nearness to the soil is a necessary coninto his mouth and it took a crowd lived. He will recall, also, that in dition of strong nerves. The American climate, in the of veterinaries to untangle him. Let civilization the children who from any Northern States, is exciting. Many who cannot sleep in cause, either poverty or inclination, the United States are less troubled with insomnia abroad wallow in the dirt in city, town and When cable cars, with gongs and crowds, railways over country are generally vigorous, while head, packed streets, automobiles, telephones, telegrams the pampered children, rich or poor, messenger boys, and the general machinery of haste are who are scrubbed to shining are the added, nervous tension becomes extreme. Sometimes it reverse. Their vitality seems to shriv- takes the form of a passion for late hours, and might be el up like the skin of a washerwoman's called Somnophobia. The Somnophobiac is so keyed up hands. He may recall, also, a curious that he shrinks from the relaxation of sleep, or any other New York experience. Some years ago quietness. The love of excitement is often as disintehe can go on preaching peace on earth the authorities, desiring to convince grating as the love of drink. "Be not hurried away by now it will have to be admitted that the slum dwellers of the hygienic value excitement," says Epictetus, "but say, 'Semblance, wait for of bathing and cleanliness in general me a little. Let me see what you are and what you repreand the disease-breeding powers of sent." Many of our occupations would hardly stand the filth, divided the city into districts, so test of Epictetus. Emerson made the same point as Mr. adjusted as to contrast as sharply as Root, when he said that Nature's comment is, "Why so possible the districts where overcrowd- hot, little man?" As women are more responsible, just interstate commerce commission on the ing and dirt prevailed with those now, than men, for increasing nervosity, one of our probinjuries inflicted by our railroads for wherein the people bathed frequently lems is to make natural activities attractive to them-not and wore clean clothes. One district work enough to exhaust them, but enough to keep them included the territory east of Broad- from being as restless as a fly under an exhausted reway, south of Fourteenth street, where ceiver. Pleasures, diversions, are never sufficient to form a where else in the country and quite laughing at the strivings of Werther, had his heroine, at as grimy. Another was the adjacent the end of the poem, go on cutting bread and butter. very well with ordinary prudence in and less odorous but still fusty re- Candide, after examining all possible worlds, decided that gion west of Broadway, and then the the real thing was to cultivate a garden.—Collier's Weekly.

Physical Training in the Schools.

BOUT the best thing that has yet been hit upon n connection with the public schools is the care that is being bestowed on the physical condition of the children. In the larger cities of the United States and to some extent in Canada children are being examined for physical defects, and appropriate measures are being taken to remedy these as far as possible. If nothing more was done than to promote the habit of deep breathing that would be a hygienic reform of the first importance. We doubt if anything could be done by public authority that would contribute more to the health and happiness of the crowded district east of Broadway community. Until human beings are placed in full possesand south of Fourteenth, where they sion of their physical faculties and in full enjoyment of rate grew, through all the other divis- place the world is. With more of genuine good health in ions, until it rose to really alarming the world, more of something approaching physical perheight in the breezy regions of up. fection, there would be less craving for artificial enjoytown. The east side was never held ments and probably less craving for wealth. If the schools up to itself as an object lesson. The will, in addition to making the children practice deep reformers took the whole matter un. breathing, cultivate their speaking voices and teach them der advisement and pigeon-holed the to walk well, the effect in a few years will be marvelous. census. After all, is not this matter Montreal Star.

ACK of work does turn men into tramps, but it does not keep them tramps. The man and the job cannot always keep apart unless the longer. And these men did not owe their es-

A HANDY CORKSCREW FORK.

The accompanying illustration looks as much like a corkscrew as it does a fork, but the combination makes a very excellent arrangement for kitchen service. It is particularly designed for turning and lifting large pieces of meat during the process of cooking. The fork consists of the usual handle, with a tube or sleeve fitted therein, the times mounted on the outer end of the tube, and a rod passing through the tube and handle and carrying at one end the spiral screw, and the other end secured by a and the handle is then turned to cause the spiral screw to engage or twist into the meat, giving a firm and reliable connection between the fork and the meat. To remove the fork, release the screw by turning the handle in the or a fowl of any size can be handled with great ease without fear of tearing

In operation the tines are driven into the meat to the proper distance,

The advantages of the fork are apparent, for with it a piece of meat while.

za-Nagye.

from the enjoyment of the human be- the three noted Italian guides, J. Peti-ings. But, of course, they were busy gax, C. Savole and L. Petigax, climbed with other problems. It was not a steadily until long after daylight, and pleasant business either. It was a at 7 a. m. this indomitable American

They were being pursued by their ene- peak of the day, 21,770 feet high.

matter of life and death with them. woman climber stood on top of her first did for them. They owed it entirely to themselves. Taking his life through, the average tramp is such be cause he wishes to be-because he falls into the delusion the young men of the West are bache- that it is easier to beg and steal than to work. One of lors not from choice, but from neces- those economic lulls known as hard times" may have set remain a tramp unless he wished to.

The individual human life, like the electric current, Christian Guardian.

nut to cause the screw to revolve with the handle.

seeks the line of least resistance. All men are prone to take the line in life on which they can travel with least effort. Man, like other animals, is naturally averse to exertion not compelled by immediate necessity. In other words, man is naturally lazy unless his foresight teaches him and his will impels him to be industrious. The habitual tramp is such because he lacks the will to be otherwise. Sentimental philanthropists may be challenged to produce a single tramp who, if his story were truly known, could not be proved to have thrown away, because it required of him harder work than he was willing to do, opportunity after opportunity to escape from his

Civilization does not produce the habitual tramp or sturdy beggar. He exists in civilization because it is too falsely humane to compel him to work or starve, as savagery does. And it is a perversion of philanthropy to hold that the tramp, or any other human being, is entitled to any place in civilization other than what his will to work can achieve. Work is the law of life.—Chicago Inter Ocean

Evolution of Industrial Methods.

E believe that industry among human beings s destined to pass through three phases—the phases of competition, of organization, of emu-Civilization has spent thousands of years in the competitive system. Out of a hundred business men ninety-nine have failed—one hundred business enterprises have landed ninety-nine men with broken hearts, broken hopes, and one man with money in his pocket and a broken digestion.

Competition encouraged the merchant to sell adulterated goods, bogus goods, worthless goods. It encouraged him the population is denser than any-life. Responsibility is necessary to freedom. Thackeray, to pay his employes as little as he could in order to compete with others who hired employes, and to charge his customers as much as he could. The competitive system is now dying a slow death. Already the system of organization has arrived, and the rusts represent this system.

It is crude and selfish, it takes for a few big organized pirates the enormous sums that used to be distributed among a great many little competitive pirates.

But organization, even under trust management, is a step in the right direction. The trust that is combining the nation's industries into a few companies paves the way certainly and surely for national ownership. When one man, or half a dozen men, shall own all the railroads, there will be an interference by the people sooner or later. When one man, or a few men, shall own all the steel mills, all the coal mines and all the oil wells, all the street car lines—there will be interference by the people sooner or later.

When it is clearly proved that one man, or a few men can run the business of the nation, that the much vaunted had expected the highest, and that the their natural functions, they do not know how good a competition is not the life of trade but an indication of savagery, then the people will say to the one man, or the few men, "We, the people, will own the business of the people, and not you, an individual."-New York Journal.

Anglo-American Arbitration.

anning the same

not follow when the flying fish spread their wings and soared in the air for a

"It is remarkable what distances these delicate members can go on their poorly trained wings. I have seen them fly as far as two city blocks. They are interesting little fellows, and they always draw the attention of the tourist

A WOMAN'S LOFTY CLIMB.

How Mrs. Workman Got to the Top

Mrs. Fanny Bullock Workman,

of a 22,56s-Foot Peak.

daughter of former Gov. Andrew D.

Bullock, of Massachusetts, is known as the world's greatest mountain climber and explorer. Word comes from India that she has broken her first high record of 21,000 feet twice in one day during her explorations this season of the

These giant mountains climbed by her are two snow peaks looming high bordering the distant province of Hun-

Starting at 8 a. m., August 12, by moonlight, from the highest camp, at 19,355 feet, and ascending over the sharpest of snow slants, the party, consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Workman and and the stranger in Gulf waters."

SOME of the United States newspapers suggest the desirability of an arbitration treaty between Britain and that country, similar to that recently made between Britain and France Everything that looks in the direction of lessening the danger of war, and establishing the pacific plan of settling international disputes by fair argumentation before a competent and impartial triman so wishes. The proof is the fact that thou- bunal, instead of by "the stern arbitrament of the sword," sands of men have been tramps and are no should have the support of all right-thinking men. The tendency shown among the nations to discuss such peacecape from tramphood to anything that anybody ful methods, and in some cases to adopt them, is a sign of the times for which we ought to be thankful. It is an evidence of the development of the Christian consciousness which, when it reaches its full development, will tolerate war no more. It may seem a far cry yet to the day when "the kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law," but sity. Of the dearth of women in that him to tramping. But, when this lull was over he did not it is coming. By all means the two great English-speaking nations should show a good lead in this direction.-The arete, ascended a still higher peak which lay beyond, and at 10 a. m. in > scored her greatest record, and stood at 22,568 feet above sea level. The heights of these mountains have been computed with the utmost scientific accuracy. On the day of the ascent hypsometric and mercurial barometer readings were taken on the summits themselves, and also by a government official at the lower station of cloudless weather, Mrs. Workman

The climbing of these Himalayan mountains was not accomplished by camping on grass or rocks to 19,000 feet, as in the Andes, but by continued difficult snow bivouacs, made at 16,000 18,400 and 19,355 feet.

Two nights were passed at this latter immense altitude, where two-thirds of the eighteen coolies, who carried the high camp equipment, were prostrated by mountain sickness. Dr. and Mrs. Workman and guides, although they slept little and suffered somewhat from mountain lassitude, were not ill, and were able to carry out their fifteen hours' climb the next day with complete success.

These were the most notable climbs of the expedition in 1903, but besides these, three large glaciers have been explored and surveyed and four first ascents and traverses of snow passes from 18,000 to 19,000 feet in height accomplished. This season's work, added to that of 1902, when many peaks and the great Chogo Loongma glacier were first ascended, combine to make the two greatest high climbing expeditions yet carried out in the Himalayas. leigh of late. Several hundred magnificent photographs were taken during the summer. -Boston Herald.

One Woman Obeys, He (after the wedding)-Um-my love, these bills are piling up at a fearful rate; but, of course, my angel, with your large income, you are willing and at the pedal extremity. "It's a thing men shouting in the street. I hastened no doubt anxious to help me pay them? what you chop meat with." She-I? Why, my dear, I haven't a above the Chogo Loongma glacier and cent. "Wha-"On my second marriage all my money went to my late husband's relatives."

> "You particularly requested me never to mention my late husband-in your presence."

Couldn't Fool Him. "My ledger shows that I did a business of more than $20,000 last year," said the grocer who was trying to sell mies. The only way they could escape After half an hour's halt for scien-"Yes," rejoined the prospective purwas by leaving the water for a while. tific observations and photography the trick of flying, and consequently sould distance, and traversing a long snow book show?"

Nonnegotiable. "Dis is a fine paper," said Meandering Mike; "it says dat de difficulty is not so much in perducin' value as in gittin' it to de best market." "What's dat to you?" said Plodding

"It describes my trouble percisely. I've got an appetite dat some o' dese pocket. rich folks would give a million dollars fur. An' what good is it?"-

Washington Star.

"Alas! the mystery of poor mamma's disappearance is now explained."

Very Appropriate. Some kind friends were going to erect a column of marble over the deceased lokesmith.

"Here is a fine piece," said the deal-"Why, that's a funny column," replied the friend, gazing at the peculiar "Well, didn't you say he was a joke-smith?"

Proof at Hand. "Mister," said the seedy hobo, addressing a prosperous-looking citizen, would you kindly favor a worthy but unfortunate fellow-man with a few pennies?"

"What is your occupation?" asked the other, as he put his hand in his

"Sir," replied the victim of hard luck, as he held up a tattered coat-sleeve and smiled grimly, "I've been collecting rents for some time past."

The Old, Old Story. "Have you ever sent any of your poems to the magazines?" asked the sentimental maid. "Yes," answered the long-haired verse carpenter, "but merely as a guaranty of good faith and not necessarily for publication."

Ravages of Time. "Remember, my boy," said the good old deacon, "that even the hairs of our eads are numbered."

"Well, uncle," rejoined the irreverent nephew, "in your case the count doesn't take up much of the enumerating angel's time."

One Man's Wisdom. Smith-Gotrox was worth over a million when he died, but he didn't leave a will. Jones-I wonder why? Smith-Oh, I guess he wanted his heirs to get the benefit of his wealth instead of the lawyers.

CONSOLATION.

Widow Ketchum-My husband left me quite a good deal when he died. Mr. Oldbatch-Well, you ought to be used to that; you know he did the same thing when he was living.

"They're accusing you now," said the friend of the political boss, "of putting money into politics."

"Huh," snorted the boss. "There's no pleasin' 'em at all. Before I made my pile they accused me of takin' money out o' politics."-Philadelphia Relipsed. "We can excel you in everything," boasted the American.

"I don't think you can," responded the Englishman. "How about our get-rich-quick concerns? Have you any to equal them?" "Sure! How about our noblemen that marry American girls?" "Weigh of the Transgressor."

Missed a sale,

"I can especially recommend this tailor-made gown for service," said the genial manager of the ready-to-wear department.

"Sir," answered the young lady customer, with a look that was calculated to freeze the mercury in a thermometer, "I'm not going out to service."

Strange Fancy. Patient-After taking that medicine had some very mysterious dreams. Doctor-Well, I told you it would cause you to dream of the impossible. Patient-I guess you are right, doctor. I dreamed I was settling your Another War Rumer. Priscilla-Lieutenant Huggins seems to be rather attentive to Miss Elder-Melicent-Yes; and she is evidently skirmishing around trying to precipitate an engagement. "Who can tell what a meter is?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class. "I can," promptly replied the urchin

Another Boarder Perhaps. "go," said the guest at the wedding of Richman's daughter, "your house loses a daughter to-day."

"I don't know yet," replied the old "Eh? Wha-why didn't you say man, "whether the house loses a daughter or merely gains a son-in-law." -Philadelphia Press.

Cold Comfort. Your charming daughter tells me that | could tell what. she is an excellent cook and house-

Old Lady (calmly)—Yes, I have had a retinue of servants.

The Main Thing. Mr. Nervey-Miss Roxley, I adore you. Will you not be my wife?

Miss Roxley (haughtily)-The idea of your proposing to a girl in my station! You should know better. Mr. Nervey-I do know better, but no richer.-Philadelphia Press.

Fully Described.

Ascum-My wife telephoned to me to go to Woodley's and get a tabaret. Lemme see, a tabaret's one of those wide low things like a table, only-Outlate-Yes; it's a low thing with corners all over it that stands about shin high in the dark-Philadelphia Press.

Envy. Gritty George-Yes, little boy, I am always taking my meals among stran-

Ostend-Oh, how lucky you are! Why, you can take two pieces of pie. Another Matter. Messenger-Your wife says you boy. De house has burned down. "Oh, well, that's all right. It didn't belong to me." "But the furniture was destroyed should come home at once, Mr. Easy-

"Um-um! Belonged to the installment house." "And de coal in de cellar is burn-

"What! Get out of the way, I paid for that coal yesterday!" Funny Creature.

"Oh. mamma!" exclaimed small Bobby after seeing a dachshund for the first time. "I saw such a funny dog this morning. He was two dogs long and only half a dog high."-Chicago News.

How to Please All. Agitator-What this country needs is compulsory arbitration.

Teacher-And compulsory education. Preacher-And compulsory religion. Old Maid-Yes, and compulsory love.

Between the Courses.

"The recent 'twenty-minute' revolution in Panama," said an American lady who has just returned from a visit to the isthmus, "reminds me of a revolution I witnessed there one morning while we were at breakfast. "We were at Colon. One day we had hardly taken our seats at a table when I heard a tramping of feet and to the window and saw a half dozen barefooted and bareheaded men in greasy, ragged shirts running toward the plaza. They were waving machetes and muskets. "'What is the matter?' I asked, in great alarm, of our host, Raimundo Gabriele Cabreza y Guiterrez. "He hurriedly came to the window and looked at the band of ragamuffins who were brandishing their rifles and Mr. Slimpurse (feeling his way) shouting 'viva' this and 'viva' that, I

> "'Why, I am afraid this is a revolution!' said he.

"'Raimundo Gabriele,' called the her carefully taught, for I have always smooth, unruffled tones of his senora. held that no lady who does not under- who was still sitting at the breakfast The enemy has not learned this little party descended this mountain a short chaser, "but what does your pocket stand housekeeping can properly direct table, 'did I put enough sugar in your coffee?"