Philomath Bear Story.

Last Tuesday Guy Friuk, while out on Woods Creek west of Philomath, came upon a huge bear track. He followed the track for some distance, but having no dogs returned to Philomath. Word was sent over to Jess Brown, of Inavale who has several fine hunting hounds. Wednesday morning, about 3 o'clock, Jess and about a dozen citizens of Philomath began the chase. The track was found, but was found to be so cold the dogs could not follow it. The bear evidently had wandered over to this side of the Peak in search of food. After tracking him for several hours, it was found he had gone westward with probably two days start and the chase was given up. The hunters were greatly chagrined and returned home deeply disappointed and very tired.

Broke His Circuit.

The shades of the goose and the turkey were discussing the circumstances which had attended their respective takings off. "Did you offer any objection when first the cruel farmer laid hands on you?" sympathetically inquired the Gobbler. "Yes," replied his goosehip; "I cried out: 'Hello, what's this?'" "What did you say next?" inquired the now thoroughly interested fowl. "Oh," the goose replied, "I did not say anything more; just then I was wrung off."—Michigan Lyre.

Approval.

"It seems to me that there is a great literary awakening in this country." "Yes," answered the matter-of-fact citizen. "I observe it with great approval." "Then you are fond of books." "No. I am in the stationery business. I sell pens, ink and paper."—Washington Star.

Scheme That Failed. Doctor—Did you follow my advice and count until you fell asleep? Patient—Counted up to 18,000. Doctor—And then you fell asleep? Patient—No; then it was time to get up.—Baltimore World.

The Last of 'Rastus. Upon the roost he saw the bird. And straightway tried to pluck him; The spring-gun went off as he stirred, And he never knew what struck him. Judge.

WILLIE WAS WISE.

Caller—Your sister expects me to stay to supper, doesn't she, Willie? Willie—Sure; and she said if you stayed as long as you did last night, she thought she would ask you to stay to breakfast.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Both Henpecked.

"So they were divorced. What was the cause?" "He was infatuated with gardening and she insisted on keeping chickens."—Judge.

Qualified for the Honor.

Mr. Woodby—Is he a society man? Miss Freshly—I guess so; I never heard of his doing anything.—Town Topics.

Seeking for the Right Term.

"A Massachusetts woman has eloped with a man half her age." "I thought they called that abduction."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Quite a Question.

"Contentment is better than riches." "But how is a fellow going to be contented unless he is rich?"—Brooklyn Life.

NORMAL SCHOOL, EUGENE, OREGON This school will open June 27 and continue for a term of six weeks to August 5. The object of the school is to furnish teachers—and those preparing to teach—an opportunity to study methods and to raise their grade of scholarship. Mr. Dixon has devoted many years to the study of the needs of the grades. He has conducted three summer schools in Wisconsin and is well prepared to help teachers in just what they need in their daily work. Mr. Haroun is president of the Eugene Business College. His work there during the past year has been highly successful. Two other men have been employed to help in the work. Write to F. S. Maroun, Eugene, or W. W. Dixon, Albany, Or., for a circular. Board and tuition reasonable.
