And now comes something new and in which Benton sheep and goat men will take keen interest and probably win not a little glory. Benton county has some of the finest flocks of sheep and goats in the Northwest and she will begiven an opportunity to display her wool and mohair products at the Lewis and Clark Fair. H. L. French who has been so tireless in his efforts on behalf of the county exhibit, has made arrangements with S. L. Kline to receive exhibits from all those interested along the above lines. It is not too early to begin preparation for the securing of handsome fleeces. There are many things in the care and handling of the flock that go toward enhancing the length, fineness and glossiness of the fleece. It is not too early also to surmise that an exhibit of this kind from Benton county will be equal to any other produced.

After a brief visit with Jas Ireland, of Beaver Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ireland returned to their home in Santa Clara county, Calif. on Monday last.

Notice—The cider factory will not buy any more apples but will do custom work only. Those who want cider made will bring their apples to the factory on Saturdays only. This action has become necessary owing to lack of space to put cider.

The three-year-old son of Henry L. Horton, of Glenbrook, who was injured about three weeks ago by being bitten in the face by a savage dog, is recovering and will not lose the sight of his eye as was thought at first. The wounded eye is healing nicely but it will probably be defective.

Have you a pair of pants, a suit of clothes, a dress or any article of wearing apparel that looks shabby? Don't throw it away, but take it to Jack and Bob, they will clean and dye it and make it as good as new. Special rates from now on until Thanksgiving.

Notice to Subscribers—Those who have subscribed for the GAZETTE and are entitled to the Mt. Hood and Roosevelt premiums will bear with us patiently. We are sending them out by mail as rapidly as they can be mounted and they will reach their destination within a few days. We desire to call the attention of those who are not subscribers to the immense popularity of these handsome premiums. Since we first began to advertise them we have given away more than 300 and our orders will considerably increase that number.

Sample of apples, pears and prunes in both natural and dried state for the Lewis and Clark Fair are desired by the committee in charge for Benton county. Suitable jars have been provided for all who desire them and all green fruit must be put therein for preservation by chemical process. Dried fruit must be put in small boxes containing two layers. An award of 50 cents each will be offered for the best display. It is the plan of the committee to have the display on exhibition at the time of the excursion to Corvallis of the National Grange and if possible to have a committee of the delegates act as judges for selecting the best samples. Samples may be left at the real estate office of Ambler & Watters, where they will be prepared and placed on exhibition.

The first Quarterly Meeting for the M. E. Church, South, will be held at Corvallis church, Saturday and Sunday, November 12 and 13. Rev. C. L. McCaustland, the new presiding elder, will officiate. Services morning and evening. All welcome.

Attorney W. E. Yates went to Salem yesterday with A. W. Fischer to try a case in the circuit court of Marion county involving the charter rights of the town of Silverton. Mr. Fischer owns a large mill at Silverton and the question involved concerns a switch about to be constructed from the S. P. railroad to his mill.

C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, who is known to many of the readers of the GAZETTE gives some most timely and sensible "Advice to Aspiring Young Journalists," in The Pacific Monthly for November which should be read and heeded by every young person who would engage in writing for publication. Good, terse, simple English is enough expressive for all purposes and young writers should study to use it.

When local option goes into effect in Benton county January 1, there will be no saloon across the river in Linn county as some anticipated and the reason is this, that Orleans precinct just across the river in Linn county is "dry." Of the 30 precincts in that county, ten went "dry" and though the proposition to make that a prohibition county was defeated, the precincts casting a majority for prohibition will be as "dry" as though the entire county had declared for that side of the question. The precincts going "dry" are Crawfordsville, Halsey, Lacombe, South Lebanon, Orleans, Price, Shedd, Sodaville, Sweet Home and Tangent.

A number of players and football enthusiasts will go to Eugene tomorrow to witness the big game between Seattle and U. of O. The Seattle people claim that their team has been greatly strengthened recently and should they meet the OAC boys again the score would be reversed. Eugene on the other hand is pursuing her old tactics by seeking to throw her opponents off guard by the publication of articles that would lead people to believe that her team was on the verge of collapse and then at the critical moment show up in prime condition and win a great victory. For instance, "the college eleven scored one against the varsity in the scrimmage Tuesday afternoon. In the line up the second team stopped the varsity for yardage and made repeated gains through the line. Coach Smith is not so much encouraged as he was last week. Numerous small injuries have kept the team in poor condition and delayed the development of the team and are a source of great annoyance to the coach. The team is otherwise in good condition and ready for the big game Saturday." The above is a fair sample of what has been appearing from time to time since the U. of O. returned from their California trip. The condition of the team may be as represented and that both Seattle and OAC will score victories against her.
