

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Eggs 30c.

Turkeys 14½c live weight.

Wheat 80c; oats 45c.

Sam Damon and Ray Walker, OAC students, spent Thanksgiving with their parents in Independence.

J. K. Berry handles a fine line of guns and ammunition.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, was in town Friday and Saturday, engaged in a case before the circuit court.

Full line of high grade groceries, crockery, etc., at P. M. Zierolls'.

Miss Maud Hurt is again at her home in south Corvallis, having recovered, it is hoped, from her recent serious illness in Salem.

Special rates to hotels and families at Corvallis Steam Laundry.

"Maccabee" Bill arrived from Coburg Tuesday, and after visiting with relatives and friends returned yesterday.

Guns and ammunition at J. K. Berry's.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leese returned home Tuesday from a visit to Toledo. They were accompanied by Miss Lottie Krogstad.

Patronize home industry—Corvallis Steam Laundry.

Miss Lillith McKenney, who is teaching school at Hoskins, spent Thanksgiving at her home in this city. She returned to her school Saturday.

Send your lace curtains to Corvallis Steam Laundry.

W. E. Coman, G. P. A. of the S. P. R. R. and A. L. Craig, G. P. A. of the O. R. & N., from Portland, were in town on business last week.

Silk and woolen goods a specialty at Corvallis Steam Laundry.

Mrs. E. F. Pernot, who recently underwent a surgical operation in Portland is expected to be far enough recovered to return to her home in this city in about two weeks.

Get your school books and school supplies at Graham & Wells.

In Eugene on Thanksgiving Day a 9½ pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bryson. Mr. Bryson is a brother of Attorney Bryson of this city, and is also a former resident of Corvallis.

See those elegant parlor sets and library tables at Hollenberg & Cady's.

The new Simpson Chapel M. E. church in the Bellfountain settlement, 2½ miles south of Bellfountain will be dedicated on the 4th of December. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

You can get the birds down with the ammunition that J. K. Berry handles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Henkle are visiting at the home of Jacob Henkle, a brother of Jackson, of Philomath. Mr. Henkle has been away from Corvallis for the past 16 years, residing in Washington. They stopped off in Corvallis and took dinner with Mrs. Mary King.

Fishing tackle, hunters' supplies and sporting goods at Hodes' Pioneer Gun Store.

Miss Louise Gilbert entertained a number of friends in a very pleasant manner at her home in this city, Friday evening. Among the guests were Misses Fay Wisecarver and Merle Grissman, of McMinnville, and Mr. Elvin Crutchfield, of Albany.

Fishing tackle, hunters' supplies and sporting goods at Hodes' Pioneer Gun Store.

Miss Ethel Higdon, of Colorado, but who has been for three months in Newberg, is visiting with her uncle, C. L. Heckert in this city. Miss Higdon will leave shortly for Eugene, where she will visit at the home of W. O. Heckert. She may return and enter OAC.

Oregon's first and largest poultry show at the Opera House December 8-9-10.

One notices with interest a pamphlet by Prof. J. B. Horner, of the OAC, in the nature of a tribute to Major J. B. Kellogg, of Union county. Major Kellogg faithfully performed a large part in the development of that section, and was a man of pioneer virtues to be fondly held in remembrance. Prof. Horner's word is therefore one fitly spoken and places in permanent form much that should not be forgotten of the life of Major Kellogg. —Albany Herald.

Ladies, our stock of Dress Goods, Trimmings, Furs, Cloaks, Jackets, Rain Coats, Separate Skirts and Fine Shoes are up-to-date in all respects. Nolan Callahan.

Mrs. Flett is confined to her bed with a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Logan Hays spent Sunday in Portland.

The meetings at the United Evangelical church came to a close Sunday evening.

Now that the football season is the College basket-ball teams are devoting considerable time to practice. There was a practice game in the Armory Saturday afternoon.

Miss Fay Wisecarver was a visitor over Thanksgiving with friends and relatives in this city. She returned to her home in McMinnville, Sunday.

Now, now, now, don't throw your old dingy dresses away. Let Jack and Bob make them new and attractive by coloring them any shade you desire. The cost is trifling and special rates from now until Thanksgiving.

Nolan & Callahan are now in their new store, building and are rapidly getting their large stock placed to best advantage. They have about one-third more floor space in their new quarters, and the light is much better, also. The new store is one of the largest and neatest in the city.

St. John, the flourishing suburb of Portland, down on the peninsula has a new paper, the St. John's Review, presided over by John C. Crome, who has made himself known to every printer in the Northwest through many years connection with the type founding business. John is a rustler, and we wish him abundant success.

Lamps, bedroom lamps, student's lamps, glass lamps of all kinds, at Zierolls'.

Sheriff Burnett has received warning to be on the lookout for W. E. Scott, alias J. W. Scott, who has been passing bogus checks in Jacksonville. It is thought Scott is headed north and may attempt to defraud Benton county citizens. Scott is six feet in height weighs 240 pounds, has a small dark mustache, florid complexion. Look out for him.

Fresh home-made candies at Mrs. Hammersley's, opposite Mrs. J. Mason's.

News of Raymond Henkle is to the effect that he has met with great success in his chosen profession. Mr. Henkle with a partner is operating a drug store in San Jose, Calif., which has the patronage of a large hospital in that city, besides a good share of the local trade. Mr. Henkle is a native of Benton county and son of George Henkle of this city.

Fresh home-made candies at Mrs. Hammersley's, opposite Mrs. J. Mason's.

R. J. Hendricks, the genial and go-ahead manager of the Salem Statesman, was in the city on Friday. He has made his paper, the Daily Statesman one of the successes of the west coast. Another paper of his, the Pacific Homestead, has also been pushed to a phenomenal circulation, and is today the representative agricultural paper of the state.

A new phone has been put in by the Bell company for Jack and Bob the up-to-date cleaners and dyers. The number is 531.

There'll be turkeys, pigeons, golden pheasants, and all the fancy varieties of poultry at the big show, December 8-9-10. Men of practical business experience well-known integrity and absolute fairness have this show in charge, and if you have a few fancy birds send them in. Judge Hinds, of Alameda, Calif., will be the judge, and this fact is assured that the best birds will win, and the superintendent will see that they are properly taken care of. Remember the entries close December 6, 1904.

Have that rusty old suit of yours made new again. Jack and Bob will dye it for you and it will last for years. Don't throw it away. Special rates from now until Thanksgiving.

Simpson Chapel is to be dedicated next Sunday, Dec. 4. The erection of the church was begun some time last summer and is now completed, save a few finishing touches on the interior. The structure has cost over $2000 and is one of the finest of its kind in Benton county. Dr. Rader will preach the dedicatory sermon and noted ministers from all over the state will assist in the service. A fact that is most creditable to those who undertook the building of the church is that it is entirely free from debt.

Wait until December 16 to buy your Christmas presents, for on that date the Congregational ladies will hold their annual fair, and will have a lot of useful and ornamental articles on sale. Particulars later.

C. L. Lerwill, of Monroe, was in the city Sunday.

George M. Brown, an attorney from Roseburg is in the city attending the session of the circuit court.

College and public schools reopened Monday morning after the Thanksgiving vacation.

Geo. H. Harris, of Wren, is in town this week, and is staying at the Hotel Corvallis.

The steamer Roscoe, which is making regular trips between Newport and Coos Bay, was delayed by rough weather last week, and was 57 hours in making the trip.

Capt. Robinson negotiated the sale of four lots adjoining Mr. Proxwell's place this week. The consideration $200. E. E. Wilson was the purchaser, and the lots were bought of Henry Kleck. It is said that a new residence will soon be built upon one of the lots.

Something of a rarity in this country is on exhibition at Ambler & Watters' real estate office. It is a large basketful of nice large persimmons, as nice as are grown anywhere in the East, and demonstrates the fact that anything can be raised in fertile Oregon.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will give a Missionary Tea and praise service at the home of Mrs. Minnie E. Lee on Wednesday afternoon, November 30, at 2:30. An invitation is extended to all ladies to attend.

Have your rusty clothing made good as new by having Jack and Bob color it again. Special rates from now on until Thanksgiving. Ladies' and children's clothing a specialty.

Messrs. Newton, Ingle, Henkle and Rowe, and Mrs. W. H. Dilley and daughter Lucia, drove over to Albany last Saturday afternoon to participate in initiation ceremonies of the order of Lions. After the work of the evening a fine banquet was served.

A telegram has just been received at the cleaning and dyeing parlors of Jack and Bob, announcing that now is the time for ladies and gentlemen to get their rusty and dingy clothing colored and made new again. Call around and see what they can do.

In the Thanksgiving football game played in Portland between Multnomah and University of Oregon, the score was 7 to 0 in favor of Multnomah. There was no score made in the first half, but a touchdown and a touchback was made in the second half.

J. K. Berry is making a fine little gasoline launch out of a boat he purchased of Fred Blumhart. He is putting a two-horse power gasoline engine in and the boat will be screw propeller. The engine is an upright, which Mr. Berry thinks will be better for the purpose than a regular marine engine.

Ambler & Watters have one of the finest lots of samples of Benton county fruits and vegetables that we have ever seen. Among them were several potatoes that were brought in last Saturday which will each measure not less than ten inches in length, and any one of which would make a meal for a large-sized family. An acre of such potatoes would bring quite a neat little sum of money this year.

Sportsmen are taking advantage of the privilege of killing China pheasants for market during the last 15 days of November, and these birds are being slaughtered in large numbers all over the country. The sound of shooting is heard all around our city and at the present rate of slaughter it seems that everyone supplied with the pheasant. They sell in the market for from 30 cents to 50 cents each.

"Come, let us reason together." Do you know that Christmas is near and you haven't ready that present you intended giving? Don't you worry, for the Presbyterian ladies will have just what you want, and at a price that will be sure to suit, on the afternoon and evening of December 20. Everything in stock will be suitable for a Christmas present and will be sold regardless of cost. They will also serve a chicken pie supper commencing at 5 o'clock. Remember the date.

A change in the leaving time of the Corvallis R. F. D. routes is to take effect December 1. Instead of the carriers leaving the postoffice at about 12:30 p. m. they will leave at 9:30 a. m., in order that their routes may be covered during daylight. This will be much better than the former method, as patrons will now get their mail about three hours earlier than before, because the most of the Eastern and Southern mail arrives by stage and train from Albany in the evening and morning.

KLINE'S

Christmas Announcement

will appear

in full in this space

next issue.

Look out for it!

