

DEMOCRACY ON TRUSTS.

The late platform of the Democratic party involved in the late presidential election contained the following peculiar and inconsistent declaration: We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint products of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to permanent business prosperity. The actions and omissions of the Democratic party when in power is somewhat different from these expressions and distinctly show the contrary and as certainly point to the fact that the Democratic party when it can is the one which fosters and promotes the great trusts. In proof of this fact the New York World the leading Democratic paper of the United States in its editorial columns of March 16, 1904, contained interesting and instructive comment on this subject so important to the American people. A subject about which the Democratic party continuously uses its every effort to mislead the people. The following is the editorial of the World:

"1. The Anti-Trust law was framed by a Republican, was passed by a Republican house and a Republican senate, was signed by a Republican president.

"2. The law remained a dead letter on the statute books during the entire second term of Grover Cleveland, a Democratic president. Through these four years of Democratic administration all appeals and all efforts of the World to have the law enforced were met with sneers, jeers and open contempt from a Democratic attorney-general Richard Olney, who pretended that the law was unconstitutional, and would do nothing toward prosecuting violators of it.

"3. The first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican president. The first attorney-general to vigorously prosecute offenders and to test the law was a Republican attorney-general, Philander C. Knox.

"4. The decision of the supreme court of the United States, given as perfectly constitutional and absolutely impregnable in every respect, as the World for twelve years insisted, was due to five judges, everyone of whom was a Republican.

"5. The dissenting minority of the court included every Democratic judge of that tribunal, to wit: Chief Justice Fuller, of Illinois, Mr. Justice White, of Louisiana, and Mr. Justice Peckham of New York. All these distinguished Democrats not only voted against the constitutionality of the law but pronounced it as a danger to the Republic.

"6. Under these circumstances it does not seem probable that the Democrats can make great capital in seeking to monopolize the anti-trust issue and charging the Republican party with the crime of being owned body and soul by the trusts.

"It is just as well to record some plain truths, however unpleasant or surprising."

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall, of Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles cured her. Guaranteed by Allen & Woodward, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

GAME WILL BE PLAYED

Between OAC and Multnomah in Portland, Monday, Dec. 26,

As mentioned in our last issue it was almost an assured fact that a game would be arranged between the OAC and MAAC football teams to be played during the Christmas holidays. Last Thursday afternoon all arrangements were finally completed by Manager Stimson of OAC, and Manager Watkins of Multnomah. As Christmas falls on Sunday this year, the Monday following will be a legal holiday and the game is set for this day. Everybody is glad that arrangements have been completed for this game, as there has been much speculation as to the supremacy of these two teams. Active preparations are going on in football circles at the College, and the boys are putting in some hard practice as they all realize that they are going up against the hardest team they have met this season.

The Oregonian says one of the most important concessions made to OAC by Multnomah is that Coach Steckle be allowed to play with the college team. He will occupy a tackle position. Since Capt. Pilkington, Root, and Bundy were out of the Eugene game played here before Thanksgiving, will be in the line-up against Multnomah, OAC will have a much stronger team than when they lost the champion to Eugene. It is believed by all that OAC boys will give Multnomah the hardest game she has had this season.

Negotiations are on for an excursion train from Corvallis to Portland on the day of the game as it is known that a large number of students besides many business men of this city wish to see the game.

O. A. C. Cadets to Hold Encampment in 1905.

Preparations are being made for the OAC cadet battalion to have a ten days encampment next June after Commencement. It is planned to hold the encampment on the grounds of the Lewis and Clark Fair. The battalion to receive transportation and maintenance at the cost of Uncle Sam. Permission for the men to go has already been secured from the War Department.

The Washington Agricultural College cadets will also hold an encampment at the Fair, and it is understood that the OAC cadets will not go into camp until after the OAC encampment, so that the two college battalions can use the same tents, cots and other camp utensils.

It has formerly been the custom of the OAC to hold a short encampment about once in two years, and as next year is the regular encampment year it will come in just right to hold it at the Fair, and will give the cadets an excellent opportunity of seeing the Exposition.

In all there are 400 men belonging to OAC's military force, divided into six companies of infantry, one of cavalry, two detachments of artillery, signal corps, hospital corps, engineer corps and an excellent band of 24 pieces. The encampment will be an excellent feature of the Fair.

Attention.

Owing to our inability to get a location on the street, we have opened our store in room 12 over First National Bank, until permanent quarters can be obtained. We have a nice stock of gold jewelry which we shall be pleased to show you and at prices below anything you have seen.

We do all kinds of watch and jewelry repairing.

Come and see us before buying your Christmas presents, and be convinced of the truth.

D. E. Matthews, Room 12 over First National Bank.

The new gasolene launch built and owned by Jim Berry, the bicycle man, was launched yesterday morning at the river docks, and moved off gracefully and successfully. It is probably the fastest gasolene launch on the upper river; although it is driven by an ordinary upright engine which Jim has been using in his shop.

COLLEGE JOTTINGS.

Items of Interest in and Around the O. A. C.

The basket ball girls did not go to Roseburg Friday. The game had to be postponed on account of the Roseburg girls not being able to procure a hall for last Saturday.

President Bruinbach, of the McMinnville College was a visitor at chapel on Friday last.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are the exams.

Prof. Tillandier has changed his pupils piano recital to Wednesday night instead of Friday night as was first announced. Students should not forget the evening as it promises to be very interesting.

Prof. Nolan who is to take the pictures of the Agriculturists and buildings will be here the second week after the holidays. These pictures are to be exhibited at the Lewis and Clark Fair.

The boys basket ball team certainly won many laurels for themselves last Friday evening when they defeated the Y. M. C. A. team of Salem by a score of 44 to 10. All the boys played good ball and displayed excellent team work. When Swann would get the ball the crowd would begin to cheer for they knew that they were sure of another basket.

Carl Abrams, a graduate '00, is lying dangerously ill at the home of his parents, at Lincoln Pelk county. He is city editor of the Salem Statesman.

Captain C. E. Dentler, formerly commandant at OAC, has been transferred from Fort Mobera, Nebraska, to Fort D. A. Russell in Wyoming.

Buff Orpingtons in a Pie.

One of the pleasantest incidents connected with the Poultry Association's exhibit in this city, was the elegant dinner given by Supt. F. L. Miller to the officers of the Association, the distinguished visitors and the press, on Friday evening of last week. The affair came off at the Miller residence, and was one of the events of the season. While the guests were warm in their praise of Mr. Miller's generous hospitality, the unstinted approval of Mrs. Miller's excellent cookery could not be suppressed. The chicken pie made from some first-prize Buff Orpingtons was never excelled in this county. After the feast President Johnson took charge of affairs, and the guests talked chicken as well as they ate it. The following were present: C. G. Hinds, of Alameda, Cal.; C. D. Minton, of Salem; E. H. Bauer, of Portland; G. O. Miller, of Portland; F. L. Miller; J. M. Porter; The Johnson twins, Bert and Bob; Seymour Chipman; Dr. Bowen Lester; Gene Simpson; B. F. Irvine, of the Times; O.A. Dearing, of the Gazette.

A Play Worth Seeing.

The Columbia, under the efficient management of Mr. Ballard, shows promise of continued improvement. The play, this week, is the famous five-act melodrama, "The Prodigal Daughter," which made its first run of two years in London, at the Drury Lane, and for seven months at the American Theatre in New York. The great scene of the play is the race scene in the fourth act, in which five race horses participate. This race is second only to the wonderful "Ben Hur" chariot race. The play is replete with thrilling situations, beautiful and artistic scenic effects and fine acting and the story of the play is characterized as the "sweetest, saddest story ever told." On the whole any of our readers who are in Portland this week will find a play worth seeing and one that they will remember. The public are to be congratulated on the fact that the new manager, A. H. Ballard is the man for the place, and that the Columbia will continue to hold its present proud position at the head of all the Portland theatres.

A Costly Mistake.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Headache, Liver or Bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c. at Allen & Woodward's Drug Store.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a fair in the parlor of the church on Friday, afternoon and evening of this week. Articles both useful and ornamental will be sold. Come and see what the articles on exhibition are before purchasing your Christmas presents. Don't forget the date, Dec. 16.

A number of students who cannot spend the holidays at home will avail themselves of the special rates and spend vacation at Newport by the sea, where fishing, hunting, scenery, Japan current and high tide are always at their best. Furnished houses can be rented so that the expense of going will be cheaper than to stay at home. Remember, the special rates include everybody.

Last Saturday J. W. Winegar purchased the harness factory of J. M. Cameron. Mr. Cameron intends to go into business at one of two or three Oregon towns he has in view, though at this time he does not know how soon he will leave Corvallis. He has resided in this city for many years and has many friends who regret to lose him as a citizen of Benton county.

Of Interest to Mothers.

Thousands of little ones die every year of croup. Most of them could have been saved by a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar, and every family with children should keep it in the house. It contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Mrs. George H. Picket, San Francisco, Calif., writes: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup and we thought she would choke to death, but one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved her at once after other remedies had failed. We are never a minute without it in the house." Sold by Graham & Wortham.

No. Case of Pneumonia on Record.
We do not know of a single instance in all our experience where a cough or cold resulted in pneumonia or consumption when Foley's Honey & Tar had been taken. It cures coughs and colds perfectly, so do not take chances with some unknown preparation which may contain opiates, which cause constipation, a condition that retards recovery from a cold. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. You can get it at Graham & Wortham's.
