THE RIGHTS OF MAN.

It is the privilege of any man if his employment does not suit him to abandon it. No one will question this statement, nor is there anywhere a disposition to force a man to do that to which he objects, without he be employed at convict labor.

No employer denies the privilege of quitting to an employe. But as the employer pays the bill, it is natural that he should claim the privilege of setting the price on the labor performed. He knows what it is worth to him. He also knows what his business will permit him to pay for men whom he may employ.

There is scarcely ever a time when in some large business center of the United States there is not a labor strike on tapis. This is the results of unions more than from any other cause. The unions have bosses and "walking delegates" and these breeders of trouble have to raise the mischief now and again to prove their importance to the various members of the union which they are supposed to furnish brains for.

A great strike is now on in Chicago and as usual, the strikers resort to brute force in enforcing their demands. Force has never proved anything to be right. An unjust principle, policy, condition, or administration may be "forced" upon a people, but it may be a great wrong just the same.

The price of labor like everything else marketable, is governed by that well-known law "supply and demand." It may work in one of two ways, or in both. The wage scale is made out in accordance with the number of men required and available, capable of performing a certain duty. The second factor in regulating the scale of wages is the demand for the product of this labor.

The hardest feature connected with striking unions is the fact that those who quit their job act as though they still owned it, or had a right to it. After they have vacated, they play "doggie in the manger." It was not a good enough position for them, but no other shall accept it though he need it ever so badly. Should a fellow dare accept a position thrown up by a unionist on a strike, his life may be the forfeit.

This is damnable! This is unworthy free America! Let a man quit if he wants to do so, but let another man accept what the first man scorns. For all the damage done to business, to individuals, the general public, the violence and crime enacted, for the loss of life itself, there is rarely anything like a just accounting on the part of any of a gang of rioters, rebellious strikers.

It is a matter of fact that the majority of strikes occur during prosperous times. During "panicky" periods men cannot afford to strike. If any sympathize with the average striking mob let them ponder on the inhumanity of a strike carried to such length as compels a husband to ride on a hearse with a rifle in his hands while going to the cemetery to bury his wife. And yet this has happened, and in Chicago, too. Do you think the world is getting better fast?

Capital is organized and labor has the same privileges. This is no denial of the right of organized labor to strike, but is against the violence that usually attends such proceedings, as other poor men, not the rich, are the sufferers.

Sons of Veterans.

The organization known by the above title is composed, as the name indicates, of sons and lineal descendants of the veterans of the war of 1861-5. It is composed at the present time of about 30,000 loyal members, and it should be a million strong. The organization is entirely unselfish, the members have nothing to gain personally, as they are organized to assist the veterans in any way possible in their declining years; to assist in properly celebrating Memorial day, and to teach patriotism by their acts. In these times when people are searching records to trace themselves back to the revolutionary war, it would be well for the sons and lineal male descendants of Union soldiers of the rebellion to organize camps of sons of veterans in every community in the land. They have the grandest heritage of all, and they should appreciate it.

A renewal of interest in this organization seems to have taken place all over the United States and it is hoped that our state and our city will not be behind others and that a camp will be organized here.

An Open River.

Some time ago the Benton County Citizen's League and sister leagues in Independence, Salem and Albany took up the matter of improvements on the Upper Willamette river. In the endeavor to accomplish this the assistance of the Portland Chamber of Commerce was enlisted. The O. C. T. Company gave valuable assistance in the work.

Yesterday morning word reached this city to the effect that the United States dredger, the Mathloma, has been ordered by Major Langfitt to proceed to Coavallis this week and prepare for active operations. Formerly it was the intention to begin below and work up stream, but upon representations made and the able assistance given the matter at the recent convention of the Oregon Development League in Portland it was concluded to begin at this city and work down.

This is splendid and our people have occasion to feel thankful, as they are now practically assured an open river the year around.

Citizens of this city have a right to be proud of the evidences of improvements on every hand. Such an era of building was never known before in this city. There is no boom about it, everything is moving along quietly and without any unusual excitement attending the matter.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Backlen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at Allen & Woodward's drug store.

The Richest Man in the World.

The richest man in the world can not have his kidneys replaced nor live without them, so it is important to neglect these organs. If Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at the first sign of danger, the symptoms will disappear and your health will be restored, as it strengthens and builds up these organs as nothing else will. Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life." For sale by Graham & Wortham.

Cleared for Action.

When the body is cleared for action, by Dr. King's New Life Pills, you can tell it by the bloom of health on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the flesh and muscles; the buoyancy of the mind. Try them. At Allen & Woodward's drug store, 25 cents.

Dragging Pains

2325 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
