HIGH-CLASS SPRINTING.

O. A. C. Won From Columbia in Saturday's Track Meet.— Kelly Couldn't Kut'er.

Although the total score of 87 to 17 in favor of the home aggregation shows a very one-sided contest in the track meet between OAC, and Columbia University, occurring here Saturday, much interest throughout the afternoon was maintained. It was conceded in advance that the general result would favor OAC, but an ever-present fear possessed the partisans of OAC that Kelley, the plucky and capable athlete of Columbia, might begin at any time to do some wonderful things; and there was among the visitors a tenacious hope that he would. Kelly had been heralded as a wonderful sprinter and all-round athlete, and his performance in the recent indoor meet at Portland was such that all were compelled to acquiesce in the possibility of the powers claimed for him. Kelly is, indeed, a young man of varied athletic qualifications, and it is not to his discredit that he failed to take first place in any of the sprinting events last Saturday. The truth is that he was up against as hard a proposition in the runs as could be selected on the coast. The first event called was the 50-yard dash. Three OAC men and two Columbians went to the scratch. The throng of spectators vainly endeavored to ascertain which one of the boys in white was Kelley. It finally became known that the leader of the visitors was not entered, and there was evident relief. To the home people it seemed likely that the stars of their favorites would not in this event suffer a total eclipse. At the report of the starter's pistols the boys were off, and they flew down half the course in "close formation." When they began to separate, it could be seen, to the surprise of all, that the three collegians led the University boys, and so it was at the finish, Williams first, Smithson second, Graham third, and the locals received all that was coming to them in an ovation. Time .05 2-5, a remarkable record.

Next came the half-mile run, and still Kelley did not come to the starting line. This event held unusual interest. Greenhaw, (OAC) took the race in 2.07 2-5. Walsh, (C) second and Van Cleve, (OAC) third.

There was an excited murmur when the 100-yard dash was called. In this event the Columbia favorite was to appear and it was known that there would surely be something doing, between Smithson, Williams and Kelly. Between them it was a close race, and it was a toss-up who should win until within a few feet of the outcome when Smithson took a slight lead of Kelly, with Williams a close third. The wild scenes which followed gave evidence that somebody was exuberantly satisfied, the result having shown that Kelly was not invincible. It was a great race and from the standpoint of the athlete it was the best, under the circumstances, which ever occurred on the coast, being run as it was over an ascending track and against a strong wind in 10 seconds flat. Incidentally it may be stated that on Saturday last in an all-California tryout at Berkeley to select men for the Lewis and Clark Exposition games the best time made in the sprints bear a close similarity to that made here. Parsons, of the University of Southern California at Los Angeles, in the tryout won the 100-yard dash in just the time made here by Smithson, 10 flat.

Another great race on the local field was the 220-yard dash in which two from each of the teams contested. This race was run under the same adverse conditions as was the 100-yard run, and it was won by Williams, Smithson second and Kelly third. Time .22 2-5, also the winning time made in a similar event by Parsons in the California tryout. This is the coast record, and upon the local field was the result of probably the most exciting run which has ever occurred here, although Kelly was so hopelessly beaten near the outcome that he gave up.

Other events of the day and results are as follows:

Mile run—Davolt, Steiwer, Leonard, all O A C; time, 5:11.

Hammer-throw—Walker and Shepard (O A C), Kelly (Columbia); distance, 107 feet 2 inches.

440-yard run—Williams, Beach and Schroeder, all O A C; time, 0:55 3-5.

Discus—Stout and Wilkins (O A C), Rowe (Columbia); distance, 105 feet 10 inches.

High jump—Moore (O A C), Kelly (Columbia), Smithson (O A C); height, 5 feet 5 inches.

Shot-put—Walker, Bowers and Finn, all O A C; distance, 35 feet 11 inches.

Broad jump—Kelly (Col'bia), Moore and Graham (O A C); distance, 22 feet 2 inches.

Half-mile relay—Won by O A C in 1:35 3-5.

The Recital.

The piano lecture-recital given by Prof. Taillander in college chapel Friday evening for the benefit of the Village Improvement Society was a success. The attendance was good and appreciation of every number was apparent.

The professor was assisted by his pupils, Miss Louise Smith, Adah McDonald and Irene Sprout, and they all did very nicely. In the brief lecture that preceded the musical numbers good judgment was evidenced in the selection of subject matter and the remarks pertaining thereto.

In the lecture only such matters as could readily be understood by the average person were touched upon. While to a well-informed musician there was nothing new in what was said, it was of a nature to instruct and interest a class of people, who though fond of music have never made it the subject of especial research.

During the course of the recital Prof. Taillander made explanatory remarks before each number. Of the work at the piano one can only comment favorably of the pupils. Save the D minor concerto by Mozart the program was made up of numbers, which, while of minor importance were nevertheless instructive and pleasing. The solo part of this concerto was rendered by Prof. Taillander. Taken as a whole, it was unusually well executed, and is a repertoire number any pianist may be proud to possess. Miss Glanville took the orchestral part on the second piano and her work was good; she really did excellently.

When one considers the limitations of the piano of Mozart's time it is marvelous the number of gems he bequeathed to future pianists. Works that he left at this day, and will be for all time, worthy of the closest study; deserving the high place they have gained, and commanding alike the attention of professional and amateur musicians.

Prof. Taillander closed the program with the concerto, a splendid number, well done, and he may content himself that the evening's work was good—creditable to all.

Mrs. B. Woldson and daughter, Otto and Miss Minnie, departed yesterday for Portland, where they will join their husband and father and make their home.

JAPANESE WOMEN.

Norris and Rowe's Greater Circus Secure the Sugimoto Japanese Women Troupe.

One of the most exciting and thrilling of the many arenic features with the Norris and Rowe Greater Circus is the act of the Sugimoto Japanese lady acrobats. These lithe, sinewy, graceful daughters of the Mikado are expert swordswomen and fencers in addition to being excellent gymnasts.

No other circus traveling has a troupe of Japanese women. They are very hard to induce to come to this country and it took Norris and Rowe's Yokohama agent nearly a year to persuade them to make the trip across the Pacific. The appearance of the Sugimoto troupe is a very pleasing one. These demure, pretty Japanese maidens are attired in picturesque kimonos, pure silk with beautifully wrought figures that seem to stand out with life like fidelity.

Quickly discarding these garments, their beautiful figures are revealed in red trunks and white tights. Then begins a most bewildering display of strength and agility in the expert exercises of the sword and rapier. As there are six of the young women engaged at once in these exercises, the effect can be imagined. At the conclusion of this portion of the entertainment, the young women go through acrobatic feats, posturing, juggling and contortion.

The Sugimoto Japanese maidens will be seen in the street parade and grand entree in their native jinrikshaws drawn by Japanese coolies. They are so quaintly attired, so picturesquely pretty and doll like as to almost seem as if they had stepped from the pages of an illustrated book of Japanese legends. This is but one of the innumerable happy surprises the Norris and Rowe Greater circus has prepared for their patrons when they appear at Corvallis, Wednesday, May 10 at 2 and 8 p. m.

Albany Won.

Our school boys played the Albany High School chaps a game of baseball in that city last Friday and were defeated after a pretty good struggle. The Herald gives the following account of the game:

The Corvallis high school baseball team came over yesterday afternoon and met defeat at the hands of the Albany high school boys by a score of 11 to 9, in an interesting game at Rambler park. The two teams lined up at 3:30 o'clock and in the first inning each made three runs. In the second Corvallis again had three runs while Albany only scored one and the friends of the local team became alarmed. For a time Corvallis had an easy time of it, but after a few innings the Albany players got a line on the Corvallis pitcher and after that it was Albany's game with ease. "Slats" Taylor umpired the game. The following were the players:

Albany—Reed, c; Schultz, p; Nelson, 1st b; Crews, 2d b; Dooley, 3d b; Landers, r f; Coates, l f; Simpson, c f; Lewis, s s.

Corvallis—J. Ruper, p; Groves, c; Wetmore, 1st b; Swann, 2d b; Emley, 3d b; H. Ruper, l f; McFarland, r f; Horton, c f; Jones, s s.

Bright Willamette.

Ever onward is my motto,
Gliding on from day to day,
'Neath the shadows of the forest
Bright Willamette glides away;
Sometimes crowding through the narrows,

Other times at sportive play,
Winding on through grassy meadows,
Placid as a Summer's day.

All my course is strewn with grandeur,
Banks bedecked with moss galore,
Rivulets that come a gushing

Pour their contents at my door,
And the mount, with lofty summit,
Snowcapped here, evermore,
Held to keep my limpid waters
Pressing on to ocean shore.

Gliding through the shady forest,
Out to brighter shade of blue,
There to revel in the sunshine,
'Neath a sky of azure hue;

Oh! the beauties of such sporting
As my waters ebb away,
Bouncing on and on forever,
Blitheome, happy all the way.

Thus my course is ever onward,
Moving gently to the sea,
There to rest from all my troubles,
Free from care I hope to be;

There to rest upon the billows
Of a tireless, restless sea,
And to revel in the pleasures
That her waters hold for me.
