THE NEXT CONSIDERATION.

That the bluff recently made by Germany in the matter of tariffs will occupy a prominent place among the various items that will come before the next congress goes without saying. Without we miss our guess the two all-absorbing topics will be Germany's attitude toward the United States as regards a schedule of export and import duties and the matter of railway rate regulation.

The cry that has been raised during the past for tariff revision has to some extent died out. That there may have been a few minor discrepancies in the schedule under the Dingley tariff law, may not be denied. But in this connection it may be stated that these discrepancies relate mainly to localities, not the country as a whole.

The talk, threat, or bluff of Germany to force us to upset our schedule has caused revisionists to loose ground, and the "stand-patters" have the best of it at present. It is noticeable that in the schedule Germany proposes to force upon us the articles necessary to her own welfare are placed on the free list, while on products of her own growth or manufacture she has placed a tariff on it so high that this country, or any other, could not pay it.

And this is the sort of reciprocal proposition that she is trying to club us into ratifying. Well, well! It is patent on the face of it that those items on Germany's free list that she has submitted to this country are products that her people must have. They are necessary for the maintenance of that people. On the other hand, there is not one thing that we purchase of Germany that is a matter of life and death with us. Moreover, if there should be certain items that were necessities with us, things we have been depending upon Germany in the past to provide, and she should refuse to do this in the future, we will do for ourselves, will manufacture these articles at home and be the better for so doing.

Let our feutonic cousins snake their tariff club until they are weary, but do not budge an inch is the way out of the matter. We produce much that is vitally necessary to the Germany people, while not one thing does she send us that we cannot very well do without.

Do not revise the tariff for any people aside from our own is the policy to pursue. We must look out for ourselves, our own people. During President Roosevelt's western trip, in the speeches he made at various places, he made no allusions to tariff revision. And he had been charged with having a leaning in that direction.

But at present there seems, on account of Germany's recent attitude, great need for "standing pat" on the Dingley tariff law as it is, allowing "revision" to scream itself to death. Then, too, the matter of railway regulation is of great importance—of greatest importance. This is a matter that President Roosevelt does not loose sight of for an instant. But can he do anything? Can he win in what he has undertaken? If he does not win he will have "started the ball rolling," will have set an example, and one, too, that is bound to have an influence in the future.

The Baptist church will be closed on Sunday, but reopened June 4, beautifully renovated. All the usual services will be held. And all welcomed.

COZAD'S GREAT SHOW.

Wonderful Aggregation of Dogs, Ponies, Monkeys and Goats to Exhibit Here Soon.

Several years have now passed since a complete Dog and Pony Circus has exhibited in this state. Since the Norris and Rowe Shows have been turned into a large circus organization, we have had no entertainment of this kind, however, the present season will mark a change, for the field has been entered by Cozad's California Dog, Pony, Monkey and Goat Circus. The show will be given on a large scale as the aggregation travels in its own special train and carries immense waterproof circus tents, reserved seats etc., and every care will be taken of the large number of ladies and children who are always interested in an entertainment of this nature. A special feature is the arrangement by the management to allow the little folks to ride the ponies free of charge after the exhibition is over. An entertainment devoted exclusively to canines, equines and simians has always proven extremely popular and a source of unlimited pleasure to all classes of amusement lovers and no better illustration of what kindness, gentleness, patience and love can accomplish with miniature brutes could be shown than in the way the dogs, ponies, monkeys, and goats of the Cozad show express their delight and appreciation of the fun they are enjoying when going through their stunts. There will be pony drills, May-pole dance by children on pretty prancing Shetlands, high jumping, hurdleracing, hippodrome contests of speed by the little ponies, innumerable tricks by well trained dogs and absurdly laughable antics by grotesque monkeys. Popular prices will prevail during the engagement of Cozad's show here.

A Large Drove.

A heard of about 900 head of 1 and 2-year old cattle left this city, Tuesday, for North Yakima, Wash. Milt Barnett and Sam Ferguson gathered the herd together for "Pleas" Bounds, a well-known stock buyer.

Messrs. Barnett and Ferguson started gathering in the vicinity of Monroe and Junction City and came to this city with about 600 head last Monday. A gentleman by the name of Cogswell reached here the same evening with about 200 head that had been gathered in Linn county. William Gelletly also brought quite a number here at the same time that had been gathered to the west of Corvallis.

All told about 900 left here Tuesday morning to be driven on the West Side to Portland. It was calculated that about 100 head could be gathered between Corvallis and Portland making altogether 1,000 head. At Portland Mr. Bounds is to meet the party and on his acceptance the stock will be turned over to him. From Portland the animals are to be shipped by rail to North Yakima.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep house without Thedford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhoea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.
