

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Matt Wilhelm and wife, of Monroeville, were in town yesterday.

J. W. Crawford, of this city, was attending business in Albany, Wednesday.

There will be services at Plymouth, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Attorney W. E. Yates went to Brownsville, Wednesday, to deliver the principal address at the pioneers' picnic.

Mrs. J. C. Johnson returned to Salem last Monday after a visit with the family of her son, Mayor A. J. Johnson, of this city.

The new members recently elected to the city council of Corvallis took the oath of office at the council meeting last Monday night.

Great preparations are in progress for the senior play, "An Interrupted Honey-moon," to be given at the Opera House next Tuesday evening.

With one or two exceptions every business house in Corvallis will close its doors on June 15, "Corvallis Day" at the Lewis and Clark Fair. This will be made a holiday.

Tomorrow will see something doing at Salem, the occasion being the inter-collegiate field meet. Let others figure as they will, we have faith in our boys and expect them to win.

Remember that a splendid literary and musical treat is promised those who attend the entertainment to be given at the Opera House this evening by the pupils of Miss Helen Crawford.

Mrs. Sarah Moore arrived home from Portland, Wednesday evening. She and Miss Eda Jacobs were down from this city as delegates to the Grand Lodge of the Rebekahs.

A committee is already busily engaged at the task of studying up designs for decorations on "Corvallis Day." That they will be great goes without saying. Be sure to go and swell the crowd.

The Ladies Chorus will sing at the Opera House in connection with Miss Crawford's Elocutionary Entertainment, and also at the Baccalaureate exercises on Sunday morning, and on commencement day.

Miss Carrie Danneman left her home in Clem, Eastern Oregon, for this city last Tuesday. She will visit friends enroute but will be here in season for commencement. Miss Danneman is an alumnus of OAC.

Guy Moore arrived home Wednesday from Chicago, where he spent the last year at school work. It was understood that he went to Chicago to take a course in elocution, but we are informed that he also gave considerable time to the study of medicine.

Mrs. L. L. Porter, Mrs. Linwood Jones and Miss Anna Sanuels, of Oregon City, came up yesterday noon, and went to Corvallis to attend the commencement exercises at the Agricultural College. The three ladies are graduates of the college.—Albany Herald.

A. W. Moses and family arrived in Corvallis, Tuesday, from Owyhee, Nev., and expect to remain about a month. Mr. Moses is a son of Rev. P. A. Moses of this city. For the past few years he has held a position in the Indian Training School at Owyhee, to which place he will return at the termination of his visit here.

During the fore part of July R. L. Whitehead and wife, who have charge of Cauthorn Hall, OAC, intend going East for a visit of six weeks or two months. They will visit relatives in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Mr. Whitehead says that it is thirteen years since he saw any of his people.

Adam Assell was brought out from Newport, Wednesday, with a broken ankle. It appears that he fell through a trap-door in the ceiling of a building over there. For a man of Mr. Assell's age this is a very severe misfortune. However, he has many friends here who will see that he wants for nothing. He is at the home of John Scott.

There will be no service on Sunday morning at the Congregational church, the congregation will worship with the college in the Armory. In the evening the service will be at 8 o'clock and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. House of Portland. The following musical numbers will be given: Anthem, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah," by Mrs. Barthold, Misses Allen and von der Hellen, Messrs. Knapp and Hughes; male quartette, "Onward and Upward," Messrs. Knapp, Hill, Hughes and Ingle; duet, "The Guiding Star," Mrs. C. E. Peterson, Miss Edna Allen; Anthem by the full choir, solo by Mrs. F. Barthold.

Mrs. Conrad Meyer, of Albany, was the guest of friends in this city last Tuesday.

J. E. Winegar went to Portland last Saturday on pleasure and business combined. He was down there for several days.

Mrs. M. S. Bush, whose attack of appendicitis was mentioned last issue, is greatly improved and is said to be out of danger.

Last Monday, Mayor A. J. Johnson appointed Mrs. B. F. Irvine hostess from this city during "Corvallis Day" at the Lewis and Clark Fair.

On June 6 the State Board of Education granted papers to Miss Mary Thurston Jones along with a number of other applicants. Miss Jones is a Corvallis girl.

Mrs. C. A. Warner and Miss Alda Young, of Scio, a sister and niece respectively of Mrs. A. J. Johnson, are guests in this city at the home of the latter.

E. J. Garrow, who has been at Gazelle, California, since the first of the year, will be in attendance of commencement exercises at OAC this year on account of the graduation of his son, Theodore, from this institution.

Last week, Mrs. Wm. Carver, a daughter of S. N. Lilly, arrived in this city from her home in Minnesota. She will be joined by her husband next month and they intend remaining here for two or three months.

Stanley Herbert arrived Tuesday from Oakland, Calif., where he holds a position as bookkeeper with a stone and lumber company. He is an alumnus of OAC and visits his parents at an opportune time to attend commencement at the college. He will be here for about a month.

A journal devoted almost wholly to school matters recently reached this city from the East and much prominence is given James W. Storms, who is now principal of the Webb City (Kansas) high school. Prof. Storms will be recalled by many former students at OAC, as he is a graduate of that institution, taking his degree in 1892. Of his success in life there is no doubt.

Local Spiritualists are pleased to note that President Harrison D. Barrett, head of the Spiritualistic Association of the United States and Canada, expects to arrive in Oregon in June and during his sojourn in this state will visit Corvallis. The gentleman is a personal friend of Mrs. L. V. Flint of this city and during his visit here she will give a reception in his honor.

Something like three months ago Milton P. Morgan, of this city, planted some mushroom spawn in a bed which he had fixed under the basement of his house. Lately each morning has seen a new supply of mushrooms in evidence. A couple of days ago he fixed up a box of spawn and contributed it to the Benton county exhibit at the Exposition. This will be quite a feature at the Fair and will no doubt afford some hungry attendant a feed of mushrooms.

The following students will take part in the program to be given by the vocal department, June 12, at 8 p. m., in the college chapel: Solos by the Misses Carrie Buchanan, Gertrude McBee, Mabelle Keady, Agnes von der Hellen, Edna Allen, Una Stewart, Mrs. F. L. Miller and Mr. E. R. Hughes; duets by Misses Minzette Phillips and McBee, Messrs. J. C. Knapp and C. A. Ingle, Misses Margaret Herron and Mabelle Keady; quartette, Misses Cooper, Allen, Stewart and McBee.

Services at the Christian church next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school 10 a. m. The 11 o'clock service will be adjourned and pastor and people attend the baccalaureate sermon at the college. In the evening at 8 p. m. Children's Day will be observed with an appropriate program by the children, entitled, "Lighting the World." The pastor will preach a 10-minute sermon to the children on "The Boy that Helped Jesus." We wish to have a large attendance.—Frank E. Jones, pastor.

The Knights of the Maccabees of Corvallis have started a vigorous campaign for new members. District Commander Jno. B. Gentry, of Albany, is with them and will superintend the campaign. The Maccabees are recognized as the foremost beneficiary order in the world. They are the only order that absolutely guarantees a man his policy on a stated payment. You know just how much you have to pay year in and year out. They also have the finest sick and accident protection of any society. It is the intention of the order here to take in 50 members in the next three weeks and by the way they are coming in they will have more than that number. The first big meeting will occur on Wednesday evening, June 14, when there will be something doing.

Frank Lucas.

In a souvenir edition just issued of the Independence Westside, by the way most excellent, we find the following write-up of Bandmaster Lucas, who at present has charge of OAC's band:

Frank Lucas was born in Polk county and since attaining his majority has been prominently identified with all matters of public interest. In 1897 he was appointed postmaster and under his efficient management the office was advanced to the third class. He has just received the appointment for another four years. Mr. Lucas is a cornetist and director of unusual ability, and it is this ability, combined with untiring energy and great tact in controlling men, that has developed the excellent band that he has in charge. He has had charge of the band and orchestral work in the Normal for a number of years and the excellent instrumental music has caused much favorable comment from visitors from other parts of the state.

Mr. Lucas has played many important engagements, among these being two seasons at the State Fair. He has also filled many engagements with other organizations and has met with much success. Mr. Lucas has always taken an active part in public entertainments having for their purpose the advancement of community interests, and is a valuable man in his home town.

Graduate Recital.

The graduation piano recital by Miss Louise Smith Glanville, a pupil of Gerard Taillandier, of the Oregon Agricultural College, will occur in college chapel, Saturday, June 10, at which time she will play the following program:

- Sonata, Op. 31, No. 1.....Beethoven
- If I Were a Bird.....Henselt
- Etude, Op. No. 5.....Chopin
- Nocturne, Op. 15, No. 2.....Chopin
- Valse, Op. 70, No. 1.....Liszt
- Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 6.....Liszt
- Concerto in A-Minor.....Hummel

The orchestral part will be played on a second piano by Prof. Taillandier.

Sub-Depots Established.

The county court has undertaken the establishment of a number of stations or depots where articles for exhibit at the Fair may be left. Any article may be left with the following named parties at the places opposite their names:

- Marion Hayden.....Alsea
- Mat Wilhelm.....Monroe
- J. H. Edwards.....Bellfountain
- Mrs. M. J. Whitby.....Willamette
- H. Ambler.....Philomath
- Geo. Bayne, Sr.....Wren
- W. A. Gellatly.....Blodgett
- W. S. Alcorn.....Kings Valley
- T. Ranney.....Summit
- V. A. Carter.....Soap Creek
- Lewis Wentz.....Fairmount

Ladies Coffee Club is to be asked to contribute cut roses during each week of the Exposition in order that Benton's exhibit may always present an attractive appearance.

A sub-station of the Portland postoffice has been established on the grounds of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, near the main entrance for the accommodation of visitors at the Fair. The station is equipped completely, and visitors may receive their mail there, purchase money orders and stamps, and mail letters.

H. A. Wicks, living in the Henry Kirch house at No. 724 Baker street, yesterday captured the first prize for the best cabbage furnished for the Linn county exhibit at the Fair. The prize is a round trip ticket to Portland and an exposition ticket. The cabbage was planted in December and Mr. Wicks has cut single heads weighing 10½ pounds.—Albany Herald.

Yesterday Smith & Baulden had on exhibition at their place of business a calf that dressed 189 pounds. The animal lacked one day of being two months old and those posted declare it to have been of remarkable size for its age. There was an extraordinary amount of "sweet bread" in the veal. The calf was raised by George McLaughlin and he received 5 cents per pound for the animal, or $9.45. This is pretty good for a two month calf.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church held a delightful missionary tea at the home of Mrs. George Smith, Wednesday afternoon. A reading by Miss Francis Belknap, vocal duet by Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Holmes and a vocal solo by Mrs. Harold Strong were the literary features of the program. A very interesting talk was made by Mrs. Lum, a resident of India for a number of years. Particular reference was made to the condition of women in India. About thirty ladies were present to enjoy a dainty lunch.
