FOUND GUILTY.

No man is above the law in reality, and no man should be allowed to think himself superior to a power which governs his fellows. The same law must govern the high and the low born. There can be no two sets of laws relating to the same offense—one for the patrician and one for the plebeian.

To the honor of Oregon this is proved true in the case of United States Senator John H. Mitchell. For more than 30 years Mitchell was the power behind the throne in Oregon—in political circles his word was law; he had but to will and obedience followed. Despite all he has been in this state, in the United States, in fact, twelve men of Oregon have found him guilty. Aside from Burton, of Kansas, Senator Mitchell's case is an isolated one. During recent years half a dozen senators have been indicted, but aside from these two there has resulted no convictions.

On many sides comes the expression, "Too bad!" etc. Yes, too bad! But the pity of it all is that a man so high in public life should prove guilty. Of his guilt there is small question in the minds of most men.

How the mighty has fallen! Strange that a man of his standing, and years of experience, his great reputation and many notable qualities and attributes, should, in the declining years of his life, commit an act that will place a blight on his name, a name for many years honored by people of every walk in life.

THAT LOVING CUP.

When Mayor Williams of Portland, retired from office the councilmen of that city presented him with their respects and good wishes and in addition a Loving Cup. It may not be saying too much to assert the opinion that the mayor most prized the latter gift. He accepted it with every sign of appreciation.

Shortly thereafter a bill was presented the city dads of Portland that they might pay for the gift to the mayor. Then came to light the astonishing fact that various members of the council had planned for the City of Portland to pay for the gift they had presented the mayor. The mayor keenly felt his position and frankly acknowledged that the situation was unique, in fact, beyond him, and that he knew not what to do.

When confronted with the matter the councilmen declared that they would be only too glad to make up the price of the cup. However, up to a day or two ago the councilmen are reported to have failed to have produced the coin for the cup.

Judge Greffoz Missing.

For several days there has been great anxiety felt regarding the whereabouts of E. P. Greffoz, police judge of this city. He was supposed to have gone to Portland but inquiry failed to show a trace of him in that city. Where he is at present seems a matter calculated to worry his many friends. The Oregonian of yesterday contains the following notice:

E. P. Greffoz, a jeweler and police judge of Corvallis, is giving his friends and relatives anxiety because he has not been seen or heard from since Friday night. He has been suffering from severe headaches, and fears are expressed that some danger has befallen him.

Later, Mr. Greffoz has been located alive and well up on the C. & E.

EXPOSITION ITEMS.

Of Interest to Benton County People by Special Correspondent.

The attendance at the Fair, notwithstanding the large amount of unfavorable weather, has been up to the anticipation of the directors, and on Saturday of last week reached over 17,000. If this average keeps up, the Exposition will be a grand success. July 4th the attendance reached 53,708, breaking the record by 15,000.

The Fourth was a gala day for the small boy in Portland, as every child accompanied by an older person was admitted free of charge to the Fair grounds and youthful pastimes ran high. Pantomimism reigned throughout the day. At night a most gorgeous display of fireworks was enjoyed by the many F. r. visitors.

The Woman Suffragist convention recently in session in Portland was a center of attraction. It being a national convention many of the most notable women of the country connected with this issue were in attendance. Perhaps the best known of the lot is Susan F. Anthony, who has been prominent in the cause of woman's suffrage during the largest part of two half centuries this and the last. Susan will tell anything but her age, and leaves you to guess at that. She says that the only painful recollection of her childhood was the scandal connecting her brother, Marc, with Cleopatra. But Susan is a grand old lady, and we honor her for her principles, and hope that she will live long and prosper.

Corvallis visitors have been rare the past week. Judge Watters paid a flying visit, and called to see how the exhibit was prospering.

Prof. Penot and family were making a careful examination of all the best things in the different buildings and expressed themselves highly pleased with the Fair.

E. R. Lake registered at the Masonic Cottage and when last seen was pointed toward the Trail.

Con Gerhard was an interested spectator and professed to be interested only in machinery and agriculture; but when he spoke of Venetian Carnivals, jumping Elks and Hannibal Oastle as agricultural exhibits we were forced to believe that he had been nearer the Bridge of Nations than he owned up to.

Summit Celebrated.

Perhaps the liveliest and most enjoyable day in the history of that village was fourth of July, at Summit. Never has a larger crowd gathered there than was present at the celebration Tuesday and everything passed off in a highly satisfactory manner. The day was ideal and for miles around came families to participate in the affair, and show by their presence that they were loyal subjects of Uncle Sam. The exercises began at 9:30 when the parade started. Following this there was music by the band, singing of "America" by the crowd; prayer, T. T. Vincent; vocal duet, Miss Strouts, Misses Pettit; reading Declaration of Independence, Fred Hill; "Star Spangled Banner," audience; oration, T. T. Vincent; music, band; dinner. The subject of Mr. Vincent's oration was, "Our National Heritage,"—a good theme that was well handled by the speaker. The effort is said to be a most eloquent one, and that it met with hearty applause from the audience need hardly be stated.

The afternoon program, which began at 1:30, consisted of a drill by the school children; several well rendered recitations, vocal solos and band selections, all of which were much enjoyed. The celebration was, in fact, a decided success, and one that will ever be a pleasant memory for those who attended.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROCHELLE, GA., Jan. 30, 1902. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent me the medicine and now they are getting so fine. They are looking 20 per cent better.
