

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Wilbur Starr left Wednesday to take in the sights at the fair.

A number of young people are planning to dance in Fisher's Hall tonight.

Prof. Mordant Goodnough arrived home from Portland, Tuesday evening.

Prof. Taillandier, of OAC, went to Portland, Wednesday, on business. He expected to return home yesterday.

Grant Elgin and wife went to Portland Wednesday, and will spend a week or longer sight-seeing at the Fair.

Gene Simpson took a spin down the creek Tuesday for the express purpose, we are informed, of having a look at the pen of pheasants at the Fair.

Tuesday, Miss Mary Thompson returned home from the coast, where she had passed the last two months. She intends returning to the bay again in a very short time.

A. S. Buchanan and wife are expected to arrive in Corvallis, Saturday from New York for a visit with relatives. Mr. Buchanan is a brother of County Treasurer Buchanan.

Mrs. E. F. Green, teacher of voice in the OAC, will return from Seattle on Monday, and will meet her pupils on Tuesday morning. Anyone who wishes to make arrangements on Monday can do so with Miss Edna Allen, who will be in the chapel to meet pupils.

Sherman Chappell reached Corvallis Tuesday evening after having spent a week in the Yachats country with a number of friends on a hunting and fishing trip. The party secured nothing in the way of game, but they caught about 500 pounds of very fine salmon.

The Gazette for the past few days has been feasting from about 14 pounds of jerked venison generously furnished by Dr. Cathey, who, in company with his son, Collie, and Mike Bauer, returned last Saturday from a week's hunting trip in the vicinity of Cascadia. It is well to have friends.

Sunday September 17, 1905, Congregational Church—Sunday school at 10:00; Worship and sermon at 11:00; Christian Endeavor 6:30; Worship and sermon at 7:30. The pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. G. H. Feese, has very kindly consented to conduct the services both morning and evening and to preach at each service. Please observe the changed time of the evening meetings.

A few days ago Charlie Small purchased of W. O. Trine a fancy bred two-year-old filly. She is a Broad Heart and won first prize at the state fair a year ago over all coast horses. Her sire is Coer d'Alene and her dam Queen Alene. Mr. Trine brought her to this city when he accepted a position at the college and at the same time he possessed many other fancy-bred horses. They are all for sale now at very low figures.

The Rev. E. T. Simpson, who was for many years Rector of All Saints Church, Portland, Oregon, has accepted a call to the Rectorship of the Good Samaritan church of this city for the ensuing year. The family will occupy the rectory, taking possession on Friday, the 15th inst. The Rev. Simpson is a most eloquent speaker, and thoroughly devoted to his work. Services will be held every Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. A most cordial invitation is extended to all.

Miss Florence James, a niece of Mrs. E. F. Green, who has been visiting here, received a telegram calling her back to Pittsburg, where she has been elected to fill a fine position as pianist. Miss James has made many friends during her stay here, and it is much regretted that her departure came so early. She left Wednesday for Chicago, then Pittsburg. Rev. and Mrs. Green accompanied her as far as Portland on their way to Seattle. Mrs. James will remain some time longer with Mrs. Green.

It is not an uncommon thing to hear people who have been to the Fair to say that they possessed this or that thing that was better than they saw at the Exposition. This may all be true, but why are not these "best" things at the Fair? Take our own county booth—just now vegetables are greatly desired by the management. Such things as fine table beets, cabbage, turnip, and the like, also fine apples. Any person having an extra lot of any vegetables above mentioned, or apples are earnestly requested to let Judge Watters know it. They will not be asked to do anything farther, as a team will be sent for all things worthy a place in the exhibit. Now, if you've got anything you're proud of, hold up your hand.

Mrs. J. Fred Yates returned Wednesday from a week's visit with friends at Crawfordville.

Mrs. Frank Porter, nee Della Blakeslee, arrived Monday from Portland for a few weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blakeslee.

All friends and members of the First Methodist church are urged to attend the services both morning and evening, Sunday, to be held at the Congregational church, by Rev. Feese. This is the last Sunday before Conference and everyone interested in the church should attend. There will be special music. The public is invited.

Freddie, the youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Feese, who for six weeks has been suffering with typhoid fever, is now convalescent. Harold, the eldest child, who is also down with the same ailment, is getting along as well as could be expected and is not thought to be in a very serious condition. Much sympathy is felt for Rev. and Mrs. Feese in their trouble.

Sheriff Burnett announces that taxes will be delinquent after the first Monday in October. This refers to the last half of the taxes, one-half being already paid. If the last half is not paid in by the date named a ten per cent penalty is added and interest at 12 per cent from the first of last April. Under such conditions it behoves taxpayers to get a "move on."

Arson W. Thompson, a traveling man of Los Angeles, and son of Dr. E. J. Thompson, the well known minister, formerly of Corvallis, was in Corvallis, Wednesday. Mr. Thompson, whose wife was formerly Miss Mollie Fisher, of this city, reports his family as well and himself as busy and prosperous. Many old friends were pleased to shake hands with Mr. Thompson during his brief visit. He was also looking after business interests while here.

Alex Donaldson shipped from Corvallis yesterday as handsome a lot of Cotswold rams as has been seen hereabouts in a long time. Their destination is Sheridan, Wyoming, where they will be resold to various stockmen who desire fine specimens of Cotswolds for the renewing of their flocks. The rams shipped yesterday by Mr. Donaldson came from the following well-known ranches of Benton: J. M. Porter, 17; Henry Dunn, 5; George Brown, 12; S. K. Brown, 7; Peter Whitaker, 10.

Picking was completed in the Ireland hop yard, Wednesday. The yield was heavier than was at first anticipated, the first part picked yielding a ton per acre. The Ireland crew began yesterday in the Johnson Porter yard, and the product will be dried at the Ireland hop house. In the James Osburn hop yard picking was completed Monday. The quality is said to have been excellent and the quantity about the same as in former years. In the S. N. Lilly field the crop is said to be the best ever had from the yard.

Bishop H. C. Morrison, of New Orleans, one of the most noted divines in the United States, is to preach at the South Methodist church in Corvallis next Monday evening at 7:30. Rev. Morrison is on his way to attend the annual conference of his church which meets at Grants Pass on the 28th. He will remain in Corvallis several days visiting friends. The address Monday evening will be well worth hearing and everyone is invited to attend.

John Howard, a graduate of OAC, was in town a day or two during the first of the week from his home near Prineville. He brought his sister, Mrs. James Zurcher and husband, who had been visiting at the Crook county home, across the mountains, and they continued their journey down the East Side to Portland. Mr. Zurcher will have employment with an electrical company of Portland during the winter. Joe Howard, a brother of John, followed the party later and quite likely is already here to begin his studies at OAC. His mother will follow later and take up her residence for the winter in this city.

The congregation of the First Methodist church will worship with the Congregational people at their church both morning and evening next Sunday. Rev. G. H. Feese will preach, having for his subject in the morning, "The Ideal of Human Relation reached in Christian Fellowship." In the evening he will preach on the subject, "The taking of Jericho; or How the Walls of Jericho fell down." This will be the last services held by this pastor before the convening of his conference next week and closes up the year. The Epworth Leagues and Sunday School will meet in the lecture room of the church at the usual time.

Clyde Starr arrived home Wednesday from Portland and the exposition.

James Horning and family returned Wednesday evening from a visit at the Fair.

Miss Ella Johnson left yesterday for Eugene, to be at the bedside of a cousin, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. Hannah Gilbert left Wednesday for her home in Washington, after a visit with Benton relatives.

Henry Price and family and Miss Edna Gillette are spending a week at the Fair. They left Tuesday.

Dr. B. A. Cathey was in Kings Valley, Wednesday to attend Ralph Caves, who is suffering with typhoid fever.

Mrs. R. C. Franklin, of Anacortes, Wash., and Miss Etnei Blakeslee left Tuesday for the Independence hop yards.

Mrs. Ruth Clark left Thursday for Pendleton, after a week's visit at Newport and with Corvallis relatives and friends.

Rev. C. T. Hurd has been attending the Christian Endeavor Institute which has been in session during the week in Portland.

E. B. Horning went to Portland, Sunday, returning Wednesday. He was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, of Payette, Idaho, who will remain for a visit.

A new delivery wagon is to go into service in Corvallis on the 15th. It will be owned by Mr. Burrelle, but young Butolf will be the driver.

Monday, J. D. Wells disposed of his place of two and one-half acres to Isaac Jackson for $1,450. The place is nicely improved and is situated a mile or so west of Corvallis.

Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Green left Wednesday for Seattle, where they are to attend the sessions of the American Board, the oldest missionary society in the United States. They will be absent about a week.

The usual services next Sunday at the United Evangelical church. On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the pastor will speak upon the work of the Christian Endeavor and its relation and benefit to the church. All are cordially invited.

Rev. Corrington Belknap departed Wednesday for his home in California, after a visit with relatives and friends in this section. Rev. Belknap is an Oregon pioneer of '47, and a member of the well-known Belknap family of the vicinity of Bellefontaine.

Richard Scott and wife arrived in Corvallis, Tuesday, from a point near the Coer d'Alene District in Idaho. Mr. Scott is a brother of Mrs. Lefe Stewart, of this city, and Wilson Scott of Plymouth. It is nearly twenty five years since Dick left Corvallis and since he left both his father and mother have died. The gentleman and his wife are here for a short visit.

E. W. Strong sent a force of eight rivermen to Peoria, Wednesday, after a drive of logs. There are about 400,000 feet in the drive and it will take about ten days to reach this city with it. There are some hardwood logs, but the majority are fir. Mr. Strong will have several months sawing for his mill before all orders are filled and the outlook is favorable for a steady run for a much longer period.

Hop-picking became a thing of the past in the James Osburn yard Tuesday. The pickers were immediately paid off and went their separate ways. Mr. Osburn says that he had fully as many hops this year as last and that every one is of a A 1 quality, not a particle of mold being in evidence in his yard at any stage of the game.

Word reached Corvallis Wednesday morning to the effect that Mrs. Elizabeth Mayer had just died at her home in Portland. The lady was the grandmother of Mrs. J. F. Allen, of this city, and the latter had gone to the bedside of her aged relative some days before her death. Mr. Allen went to Portland to remain until after the funeral, which is supposed to occur today. Mrs. Mayer was aged about 65 years.

We desire to call attention to our supplement wherein will be found the ad. of J. M. Nolan & Son. The goods they are offering, quality and price considered, are such that no house in Portland can beat. High rents in large cities play havoc with retailers and give their country town competitors the better of it. Our local firm asks only for an investigation along this line and promise to save you money. That they can do so we fully believe. Give them a trial anyway and see if it is not true. Patronize home people and your money may return to you at some future day.
