MANY ENGLISH IN MEXICO.

Increasing Use of Language in Southern Republic Makes Conversation Easier.

The increasing use and knowledge of the English language in Mexico must not be considered by foreigners who propose to do business in Mexico as relieving them from a necessity of knowing Spanish. For those who come in direct contact with the masses in any way the native language is still very essential, and will always be.

And another, whose husband is one of the richest men in the world, actually wept before a Fifth avenue dressmaker in her pleadings for a reduction of $15 on the price of a certain garment that she simply had to have but could not afford, she declared, out of the small allowance made her by her husband.

When summer warmth has awakened the maternal instincts of the insect world, the mud-dauber wasp may be seen gathering mortar at the margin of stream, pool or puddle, writes C. H. McCook, in Harper's Magazine. Filling her mandibles, which serve as both spade and hod, she bears the load of mud to some rough surface, rock or wall, or board or beam.

SOME RICH ARE SLOW PAY

Notorious Fact Declares Writer That Many in Society Haggle Over Their Bills.

It is notorious that the rich are often scandalously slow in paying their bills. I recall one instance where the wife of a multi-millionaire (she was afterward divorced), took no notice, month after month, of a bill amounting to over $20,000 for her daughter's wedding trousseau, and this bill was not paid for more than a year after the ceremony, and only then because a resourceful collector "held up" the multimillionaire himself in the street one day, and finally got his check, declares Cleveland Moffett, in Success.

I have been told of several rich women in the smart set, two of them very rich, who are wont to haggle over prices in the shops as if they were in genteel poverty. One of these ladies, whose showy Newport fetes are widely proclaimed, tried on a certain occasion, to "beat down" an estimate for candle shades, favors, etc., that she wanted in a hurry for a dinner dance, and, having failed in her effort, she finally exclaimed: "Why, you oughtn't to charge me a cent for these things! Think of the advertising you can get out of it! If you treat me right I'll see that your place is mentioned by all the reporters!"

When I was in Newport last summer people were laughing at the latest petty economy of this same husband, who is certainly one of the "closest" of our idle millionaires. He had heard of a new aluminum paint, warranted to keep shiny without much rubbing, and he had forthwith given orders that the brasses on his beautiful yacht be smeared over with this paint so that it might reduce his pay roll by the wages of two sailors previously needed to clean these brasses! This gentleman's income must be at least $4,000,000!

Our Blessings.

A few days ago A. C. White, of this city received a letter from an old friend, Perry S. Carter, who resides in Des Moines, Iowa, telling something of conditions in that part of the world. To digress a trifle, we may state incidentally, that few of us who have our abode in Oregon realize to any considerable degree the blessings in the way of climate that have come unto us in our daily pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

Of course we have some rain, but we could not do without it. Many of us are lulled to slumber on the long winter nights by the sound of one raindrop after another sliding off our roofs and plunking onto the porches. But by way of recalling our blessings, we must again refer to an excerpt from Mr. Carter's letter. The writer believes in brevity and is terse in dealing with facts. He says:

"I was down to the Indianola Fair last week. Lightning struck a tent and killed five people—injured eight others. The Fair stopped right off. I don't want any more of that kind of fireworks."

In Memoriam.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Senior Class at OAO September 23, 1905.

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst an esteemed classmate, Louise Gilbert, and Whereas, The life of the departed friend was one of helpfulness and good cheer, and

Whereas, In recognition of the loss sustained by us and that deeper loss borne by the family of the deceased, be it

Resolved, That the heart felt sympathy of this class be extended to the parents and other members of the family, for whom we desire the comfort of Him "who doeth all things well," and be it

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be given the family, and also that they be published in the columns of our local papers.

Home Made

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome. Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare. Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.
