

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Sunday, A. N. Harlan arrived home from a visit at the Fair.

James Howard left for Okla-homa, Saturday, and will likely be gone for a month.

Alpha Murray, formerly of this city, but now of Portland, came up a few days ago to attend to some business matters.

County Assessor Davis returned home Friday, from Eugene, where he had passed a few days combining business and pleasure.

From the amount of rain that fell during the past week the supposition is that the ground will be wet enough now to make plowing easy.

W. P. Miner is erecting another residence in Corvallis. The dwelling is being built on a lot just south of the Lee Henkle residence on Main street.

Mrs. Ira Griggs, of this city, departed several days ago for Port Townsend, Washington, where she is visiting relatives. May be absent for a month.

Miss Verna Kerker, formerly a student of O. A. C. and who studied violin with Ruthyn Turney, is now a member of the State University orchestra, of Illinois.

Friday morning, County Clerk Moses went to Portland to see the Fair. He was expected to return home on the late train last evening.

Last night after we had gone to press bids were to have been opened for the purchase of Corvallis water bonds. How many bids have been received we are not advised.

James Chambers was over from Kings Valley a few days ago and while here reported that his brother, Chester, who has suffered an attack of typhoid fever, is rapidly recovering.

Prof. O. R. Patzward, of Albany College, was in Corvallis a few days ago on business and pleasure bent. The gentleman is professor of modern languages in the above mentioned institution of learning.

H. Hodés appeared at this office a few evenings ago with a box of peaches and divided with us. The fruit was fine and set one wondering why there are not more peach trees in town, as these were city-bred peaches.

Saturday, George Ranney arrived in Corvallis for a visit with relatives, after an absence of many years. Recently he suffered a severe attack of typhoid fever while at his home in Paisley, Southeastern Oregon. He will be here about a month.

The Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will convene in Portland today and continue in session for three days. Robt. Johnson and B. W. Johnson are delegates. Tomorrow is Knights of Pythias day at the Fair and great preparations are on for a memorable time.

Saturday, Chas. Kohn, wife and daughter, Miss Florence, arrived in this city for a visit of a few days at the Jacobs home. Two years ago Saturday Mr. Kohn and family left for Europe. They arrived back in Portland, Friday evening, and came on up to Corvallis the following day.

James Blakely, sheriff of Wallowa county, arrived in Corvallis, Friday, and departed the following day. He had been visiting the Fair and came on up in company with some students from his region for the O. A. C. This was his first visit to this section and he was well pleased with what he saw while here.

The Oregonian has been compiling the hop yield of Oregon, as obtained from its correspondents, sufficiently correct to show the general result of the crop of the state for season. The yield of the state is given as 98,005 bales against 87,550 bales for the preceding year.

Marion county leads with 37,000, then Polk with 20,000, Yamhill 10,000, Lane 8,000, Clackamas 8,000, Washington 7,500, Linn 2,495, Josephine 2,100, Benton 2,410, Douglas 800, Multnomah 340, Columbia 150, Clatsop 100 and Coos 100.

F. P. Sheasgreen and wife, and daughter, Miss Loretto, went to Portland, Sunday. The latter held a position as compositor in this office for several years, but has entered upon a two-years' course at St. Vincent's hospital with a view of fitting herself to meet the responsibilities thrust upon a trained nurse. The company of which Mr. Sheasgreen has become a member held a meeting Sunday afternoon for the purpose of effecting new organization and discussing certain business matters of importance. Mr. and Mrs. Sheasgreen will likely return home tomorrow, as they desired to visit the Fair a couple of days before returning.

Henry Ambler and wife go to Portland today to see the great poultry exhibit.

The dance given by the Coffee Club, Saturday evening, was a very enjoyable affair. Turney's orchestra played.

Mrs. Stenetta, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Morgan, of this city, is here from Nebraska for a visit with her parents. She will remain about a month.

Many things are better missed, but you cannot afford to forego a single entertainment of the lecture course. First one of the series at Opera House tonight.

All of last week at the Empire Theatre in Portland with crowded houses. This is the record of "On the Bridge at Midnight" company, appearing in Corvallis on tomorrow evening. It's the same company, same play, same scenery.

Did you read what the Oregonian and Journal said last week about "On the Bridge at Midnight"? The company were in Portland all last week, and every day these two papers had words of praise for the attraction.

Joseph Speidel and wife, after a visit at the Fair, arrived in this city Friday and are guests at the home of J. A. Spangler. Mrs. Speidel is a sister of Mrs. Spangler. The home of the visitors is Buena Park, California.

Miss Isabelle Whitby departed yesterday for Portland and after a brief visit there will go to Prineville, where she will remain indefinitely in the hope of benefiting her rheumatism. On late, she has suffering considerably and this is her first visit out in some time.

The management of the Opera House say that "On the Bridge at Midnight" is a play that is worthy of your patronage. But don't take their word for it. Hunt up any issue of the Oregonian or Journal of last week and read what those papers have to say about the production.

Superintendent Denman announces that there is need of a few more teachers in this county at present. Here is an opportunity for someone of learning and scientific knowledge relative to the proper way to wield the birch.

The Parland-Newhall company, Male Quartette and Hand Bell Ringers this evening at 8 o'clock. Reserved seat tickets, for this attraction alone, are on sale at Graham & Wortham's Drug Store. Tickets 50 cents each. Come at once and get a good seat.

Louis Hollenberg and wife went to Portland Sunday. Their nieces, the Misses Heins, who came a number of weeks ago for a visit, returned to their home in Iowa and were accompanied as far as Portland by their relatives. The young ladies are reported to be greatly pleased with this country. They will visit the Fair until tomorrow and will then start East. Mr. and Mrs. Hollenberg will be home tomorrow evening.

Eli Spencer and wife arrived in Corvallis, Friday, from Chehalis, Wash. They will remain here for about a week. Mr. Spencer speaks well of Chehalis. He says there is a world of business there; laborers are scarce and wages good. There is a pay roll there of nearly $20,000 per month. Two of his sons, and son-in-law, Art Henkle, have employment in a box factory.

Saturday, at the court house, in the presence of about a dozen friends Joseph E. Tyler, of Baker City, and Miss Josie Robinson, of Wren this county, were united in wedlock, Recorder Vincent officiating. The bride is a daughter of the late well-known citizen, James Robinson. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple took the train for Portland, and after seeing the Fair for a few days will proceed on to Baker City, where they will make their home.

Corvallis made an excellent showing at the Lewis and Clark Poultry show. When one stopped to consider and realize that our fanciers came into competition with the entire United States the outcome was better than could reasonably have been hoped for. Dr. Lester took fourth on a White Wyandotte hen and fifth on a pullet; J. M. Porter had second and fifth Silver Penciled Wyandottes; W. A. Bates took second on a Rhode Island Red cockerel; F. L. Miller & Son, with Buff Orpingtons, took first cockerel, first pullet, first hen and second pen; they also had first and second cockerels among the single Comb Buff Leghorns.

O. A. C. VS. CHEMAWA.

Siwashes Unable to Pierce Farmers' Line.

On a muddy field, before a large crowd of enthusiastic rooters, the Oregon Agricultural College defeated the Indians from Chemawa by the score of 18 to 0, Saturday afternoon. At no time during the game was the farmers' goal in danger and three times the big fellows planted the pigskin behind the stakes of the red men.

While it was O A C's game from the kick-off, Chemawa put up a splendid game and must be given credit for giving a good exhibition of football. Saunders, their big tackle, did good punting, Green, Moon, and Payne appeared in fine form behind the line and occasionally rounded the ends for short gains.

The game played by O A C was even better than the spectators had anticipated. Their defense was perfect and the offensive plays were executed with such force and speed that the Siwashes were hurled in every direction. Dolan and Lawrence, the big tackles, made yardage whenever called upon to do so, while the backs were alternately sent through, around and over the Indians for long gains.

At 3:30 the game began. O A C kicked off to Chemawa's twenty-yard line. The Indians fumbled the first down and O A C took the ball. Root plunged through the line for a long gain; Dolan made good yardage around the end. The farmers advanced the ball by continually hammering the line and before five minutes of the first half had passed, Abraham plowed through the line for the initial touchdown. Cooper demonstrated that O A C has a good picker by sending the ball between the posts.

Root kicked off to Chemawa's 30-yard line. The Siwashes made a short gain around the end, but after two unsuccessful attempts at backing the line, Saunders plowed to Williams, who brought the ball back several yards. Dolan went around left end for five yards; O A C's backs were sent through the line for short gains. Williams hurdled the line and made good yardage.

O A C fumbled, Chemawa took the ball on their own 15 yard line. They could not make yardage and again punted. Rhinehart received the ball on Chemawa's 45-yard line. O A C now started for the second touch down. At every down they made large gains. The Indians' line was broken repeatedly; the crowd along the side lines gave vent to their enthusiasm and the college yells grew louder as the ball neared the opposite goal. At last Dolan was sent around left end for the second in the series of touchdowns. Cooper kicked the goal.

After receiving the kickoff the Siwashes took a brace and for a short time made things interesting for O A C's defense. Walker now showed up in his old-time defensive form and spoiled things for the Indians. Chemawa punted and the first half closed with O A C's ball on Chemawa's 40-yard line.

The second half Rumbough and McKinnon went in the game; Harding soon succeeded Emily; O A C was not weakened. The ends were well taken care of and McKinnon, the big guard from the sage brush portion of the state, showed up splendidly. The second half was different from the first. Capt. Root, being sure of the game, tried several new men. The most interesting feature of this part of the game was the march for the third touch down. It was an exhibition of real line playing. Root would smash through for a few yards, Williams would hurdle the bunch for an additional gain, and Abraham, "the piledriver," would climb through for some more. The interference was superb and with little difficulty Abraham was forced over the line for the third touchdown. Root kicked the goal. Several new men went in for O A C, and the game closed with O A C's ball in Chemawa's end of the field.

Those who witnessed the game are highly elated over the football outlook. The ease with which Captain Root and Cooper kicked the goals, shows that O A C is strong in the place where she was weak last season. It is clear that no game will be lost this year by inability to kick goals. The strong line, supported by the speedy backs, make a combination that are able to carry out the orders of quarterback Rhinehart.

The following was the order of lineup:

O A C	Chemawa
Cooper	REL	Sortoi
Dolan	RTL	James
