

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Calling cards—popular styles in cards and type—at the Gazette office.

Rev. G. H. Feese will preach both morning and evening at the M. E. church. Morning subject: "Dancing to the Devil's Music;" evening, "What Present Day Citizens and the Christian Church owe to Methodism."

Ray Cady, who of late has been in Heppner, Eastern Oregon, where he held a position with the steam laundry, arrived home, Wednesday, for a visit of a month or such a matter while he nurses a felon on one of his fingers.

J. C. Mayo, formerly connected with the C. & E. railroad and quartered in this city, now general passenger agent for the Columbia & Astoria, visited Corvallis, Wednesday, for the first time in many years. Jack has grown some since he was last here.

Tuesday, S. N. Wilkins brought to this office a raspberry branch that was of last spring's growth. There is nothing remarkable in this, but there is more to come. The branch was heavily laden with berries, both green and ripe—is this November, and Oregon? or do we dream? These berries grew within a block of this office.

Mr. Russ, a gentleman who came to Corvallis several months ago from Ashland, Southern Oregon, has decided to go into business in this city and has rented the building formerly occupied by E. P. Greffoz. Mr. Russ went to Portland, Wednesday morning, to arrange certain matters of business. We are informed that he will deal wholly in gent's furnishing goods and calculates to open for business about December 1st.

The barbers of this city are all enthusiastic supporters of the game of football and their enthusiasm impelled them to issue a challenge, Wednesday, to the barbers of Albany to play a game of football in Corvallis on Thanksgiving Day. If the challenge is accepted we shall see the game of the season, no doubt. Should the game come off a small admission fee will be charged to expend on a banquet for both football teams in the evening after the struggle.

Those in charge of the special excursion to be run from Corvallis to Eugene on November 11, report great success. Mgr. Stimson of the OAC team is organizing a party of nearly six hundred supporters of the farmer team. The Corvallis eleven comes full of confidence and in the best of condition. They will be accompanied by the OAC cadet band and expect to take Eugene by storm. Preparations are being made to receive the Corvallis people in most approved football style.—Eugene Register.

Next Monday night the New York Empire Theatre Company begins a three-night engagement at the Opera House in a "Broken Heart." The play is a western drama, full of heart interest, and is said to be one of the most successful plays now on the road. The price for the play will be 15, 25 and 35 cents and the fact that the management offers to cheerfully return your money if you are dissatisfied with the entertainment is a pretty safe assurance that the play is all right and that the players will make good.

Maro, the magician proved himself a good entertainer at the Opera House, Monday evening. The house was crowded to the limit and we are told some extra seats were required, so large was the audience. The performances of the magician were all very interesting and were of a refined order that was pleasing in the extreme to those present. The quartette of saxophones was a pleasing feature of the entertainment. Perhaps the most unique work done by Maro was in what he terms shadowgraph. This is an act wherein he makes pictures of the shadows cast by his hands placed between a light and the canvas used for a background. In this line he is unusually clever.

Wednesday evening the second meet of the series of games of the tournament of duplicate whist was played at the home of Prof. and Mrs. McKellips. E. R. Bryson is captain of the team composed of book players, and is styled by those of the tourney a Hamiltonian, while Robert Johnson, captain of those who play on the rough-and-ready plan, is called a "rough-neck." On this occasion the "rough-necks" were victorious, as they were in the series of last week. Dr. Lester, chosen to play on the Hamiltonian side, failed to qualify and Mayor A. J. Johnson has taken his place. The tournament interest increases. Next Tuesday evening is the date set for the next meeting and it is to be held at the home of Mayor Johnson.

Wednesday, George Brown shipped a train of sixty carloads of sheep to Portland. All told, there were about 1,700 sheep on the sixteen cars. This is thought to be the largest single shipment of sheep ever made from this city.

C. A. Gerhard put in Tuesday moving his stationary store from the stand he has occupied for so long a period to the corner just north of the Occidental Hotel. He has everything well straightened around in his new quarters by now.

Word reached us to the effect that J. C. Irwin, formerly deputy clerk of Benton county, and Miss Adelaide Horton were united in marriage at Waterville, Wash., on Wednesday, November 1. Both are Corvallis people and are highly esteemed by numerous friends in this city.

Wednesday, Cal Thrasher departed for a trip through Lane and Lincoln counties in the interest of the Oregon Fire Relief Association. Saturday he returned from Lincoln county, where he had been for the purpose of appointing an agent for his company. Hon. B. F. Jones was the gentleman who secured the agency.

Quite an accident befell the 7-year old son of Albert Mercer last Tuesday at the home near Bell-fountain. The child was following a narrow in the field and in some way got a foot caught in the implement. The result was that the boy's limb was badly lacerated and bruised, but no serious results are anticipated.

Wednesday, the managers of U. of O. and OAC's football teams decided on officials to act during the game tomorrow. Those chosen are W. Lair Thompson, of Albany, and F. J. Lonergan, of Portland. The special train which is to bear supporters of the orange to Eugene will leave Corvallis at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. An immense crowd will go up.

The officers of the cadet battalion of the OAC, are already making arrangements for their Thanksgiving dance to be held in the Armory. This is an annual affair with the cadets. During the school year the battalion officers are allowed to give five dances and this will be the first one this year. The dance will occur on Friday night, November 24.

The Elsworth W. R. C., assisted by the G. A. R. post, gave a reception in honor of the department inspector, Mrs. Rosina Fout. After words of welcome, to which she responded, a splendid banquet was served. After the repast those present sang grand old army songs and Mrs. Young auctioned off five cakes. All had a very pleasant evening and expressed their desire to again meet the inspector in the near future. Mrs. Effie Cale, Press Correspondent.

Brady Burnett arrived home from his Southern Oregon mines, Wednesday morning, and will be here for a week or two. He came home to visit relatives, await the arrival of water on the claims and see the Corvallis-Eugene football game tomorrow. Brady has a record, both as a football player and a foot racer and takes a keen interest in sports. He is mining in the southwestern corner of Douglas county and brought home with him some choice specimens of ore.

Wednesday, at the home of the bride in Albany, occurred the wedding of Miss Maud Gleason and Floyd Lane, of this city. The parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lane, and Floyd's sister, Mrs. Clara Woodcock, went to Albany to attend the wedding. Immediately after their wedding the newly married couple went to Portland to spend a few days of their honeymoon. The groom is engaged in the truck and dray business in this city, while the bride formerly resided here, where both have many friends.

Tuesday, ex-representative Marjion Hayden and Robt. Miers passed through Corvallis on their return to their Alsea homes after a business trip to Polk county. They are both engaged in the goat business and, like many others in Alsea, are doing everything possible to improve their flocks. While in Polk, Mr. Hayden purchased a very fine young Billy from Mr. Riddies flock, and Mr. Miers selected a Billy from the heard of Mr. Stump. The Alsea gentlemen undoubtedly took home with them two very fine kids, as the flocks of Messrs. Riddle and Stump are noted far and near.

Osteopathy.
Dr. Ramsey, of Albany, will be in Corvallis, Friday, Nov. 10. If you are ill and wish to learn what osteopathy will do for your case, you are invited to call and consult the doctor at Mrs. J. Mason's, corner 3rd and Monroe. The doctor has had five years practice in Albany and an extensive experience in the care of women and children. 92f

THINGS CONSIDERED.

Citizens' League Holds Important Session.

The Benton County Citizens' League met in regular monthly session Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, at the City Hall. The attendance was unusually good and much interest manifested in the various matters that came up for the attention of that body.

In respect to the matter of telephone, telegraph and electric light poles, their removal from Main street and placed in the alleys, also that they be painted, etc., it was the sentiment of those present at the meeting that it would be wise to confer with the companies owning said poles before taking definite action.

The matter of having all trees cut down and removed from Main street was considered.

It was the sentiment of the league that all wooden or other kind of awnings that are supported by posts extending to the street or sidewalk be condemned and removed, as well as such other awnings as may be unsightly.

In the matter of signs it was advocated that they be regulated by city ordinance that when they extend over sidewalks they be limited in size, etc.

In relation to the cement walk ordinance there was considerable discussion. It was advocated that the limits be considerably extended, both north and south along Main street and to some distance west of the present limits.

Old, useless and unsightly buildings along Main street were discussed and it was the sense of the meeting that they be condemned and torn down.

The matter of a uniform street grade, the extension of the present fire limits, the swinging of gates over public walks were subjects for discussion.

When it came to consideration of the plan of the National Good Roads Association in regard to widening the space or lawn on the outside of each sidewalk so as to make the traveled part of the streets narrower and beautify their borders, there was general approval of the plan and it will be heartily supported by the league members if active steps along this line come about in the future.

There were numerous other matters before the meeting and all received attention. The work prosecuted occupied the league until about 11 o'clock, and from this it is but natural to figure that there was something doing.

The matter of receiving and entertaining the body of business men of Portland on their arrival in this city was discussed and steps taken to that end. This delegation from Portland will be here on the 17th inst., arriving at noon and only remaining for an hour.

The various matters discussed and passed upon by the league as deserving of endorsement will be put in proper form before the city council for the action of that body. Such matters as are approved by the "city dads" will be supported by ordinances and will then become laws.

"A Broken Heart."

All are interested in witnessing the production of a play that deals with Western life, because it is so well understood here, and so often misrepresented by dramatists and writers; so a combination of scenes faithfully presented and enacted causes "A Broken Heart" to be popular wherever it is seen.

Miss Esther Rujaero, who wrote the play, made an especial study of the scenes and the people whom she wove into the plot of her story, so there is not the least exaggeration in the entire play. Much can be expected in its presentation and nowhere has anyone been disappointed. It will be seen at the opera house next Monday night.

Dr. Pernot, assisted by Dr. Cathey, performed a surgical operation on Mrs. Ollie Alkire, Tuesday. The operation was necessitated by trouble of the nature of an abscess. At the time of going to press yesterday afternoon the patient was getting along as nicely as could be expected. Mrs. Alkire is the daughter of A. M. Witham.
