

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Johnson Porter made a trip to Salem, Friday, on business.

Chas. M. Kline arrived home, Friday, from a visit of four or five days in Portland.

Calling cards—popular styles in cards and type—at the Gazette office. 80c

Mrs. Ella Rosenberg arrived in this city, Friday, from Seattle, for a few days' visit at the M. Jacobs home.

Moses Kline, brother of S. L. Kline, of this city, came up from Portland last week for a short visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Savage arrived in this city from Salem, Tuesday, and are the guests of relatives. Mr. Savage is a brother-in-law of M. S. Woodcock.

J. D. Mann, who was formerly in the furniture business in this city, but who at present resides near Salem, arrived in Corvallis, Thursday, on business that required a few days in our city.

Dr. E. J. Thompson, now of Independence, passed through Corvallis, Saturday, with the contingent of football enthusiasts from his section to witness the game at Eugene between U of O and OAC.

Joseph Garrow arrived in Corvallis, Wednesday, from Salem. He recently returned to Oregon from California and is making his home in Salem. He came to Corvallis for a visit with relatives.

R. N. Adams was awarded the contract a few days ago to construct a house for Mrs. Jennie B. Adams on the lot which she recently acquired of Elsworth Irwin. The contractor has the building well along now.

Walter Wells, who at present holds a position in the drug store of W. S. Love, Portland, came up Friday to visit home relatives and friends and to go up to Eugene with the Corvallis contingent to see the game of football.

G. H. Umbau, who for the past two or three years has been employed in the Leader office, of Toledo, Lincoln county, passed through Corvallis, Saturday, enroute to Rainier, where he hopes to secure a position.

J. A. Glatly, formerly recorder of this county, but who is now auditor of Chelan county, Washington, recently sent us a copy of the Wenatchee Advance. From the appearance of the paper and some of the facts set forth in its columns regarding the resources of that part of the country, we are inclined to believe that our former townsmen is well located.

Commenting on the Corvallis Poultry Show to be held in this city November 30, and December 1 and 2, the Eugene Register says: It's a cold raw day when Gene Simpson and his associate poultry fanciers, of Corvallis, can't make an editor spend half a column of valuable space in saying something nice about their annual poultry show. The Register editor has been elected an honorary member of the Corvallis Poultry Association and is entitled to all the yellow-legged chickens and Spanish omelettes he can eat at one sitting.

A communication recently received from Miss Alice Wicklund, who graduated from OAC, last June, bears the intelligence that she is now giving a series of dramatic recitals in various Utah cities and is doing nicely. The Richfield Reaper says: Her recital was grand, but there is something more which impresses every acquaintance of the young lady. Her soul not only feels every detail of the stage art, but her whole being craves improvement. She is working onward to a goal which will radiate beams of satisfaction upon every citizen of this country. We need not wait for this pleasure, for we believe Miss Wicklund has few peers and no superiors of her age in the West.

A pedestrian on our street, at the right time, Friday morning would have seen a sight unusual in city life. A "mud hen" a sort of a mongrel water fowl, was roaming Main street with the appearance of the utmost unconcern. Gene Simpson had the mud hen presented to him by the party who caught it, with the suggestion that he place it among his pheasants until the Corvallis poultry show, at which time he could place it on exhibition. Gene did not take kindly to this proposition and telephoned Prof. Shaw at OAC, hoping that the professor would take the bird in hand, chloroform and mount it. Some person while coming to town Friday morning captured the mud hen south of Corvallis a short distance and brought it in, turning it loose in Dilley & Arnold's bicycle shop. Here it made itself so familiar that the proprietors kicked it out into the street.

Use Spencer's Hair Grower and you'll never need a shampoo. 94

Richards and Pringles' famous Georgia minstrels are to appear in the Corvallis Opera House next Saturday night.

F. P. Sheasgreen came home Saturday evening from Portland, where he is at present employed at the task of getting his mill in readiness for operation by the first of the year.

Lysle E. Yockey, accompanied by his mother, came over from Albany, Sunday, and passed the day with Miss Helen Yockey, sister and daughter respectively.

During the past few days Harry Holgate has been visiting relatives in this city. He has severed his connection with the government after a period of several years' service and we understand is to establish himself in the practice of law.

There is always remorse when men insist on betting. Unless the game is draw, somebody loses. The Corvallis supporters have one consolation which is rather cheering—they couldn't find takers for all their money.—Eugene Register.

W. T. Small arrived home Saturday from a visit to his old home in Indiana. He also visited in a number of other states during his absence. He considers the six weeks spent on his trip a good investment from the standpoint of either time or money.

The story of "A Broken Heart" (at the Opera House Monday night) is a tale of mining life in the Rocky Mountains in Colorado. It is of special interest since it is full of Western spirit, and interests all alike, for human nature is the same the world over.

The Corvallis restaurant changed hands Thursday, Manfred Seits retiring and James Law assuming the proprietorship. By the transfer Mr. Seits acquires a property near Newport, in Lincoln county. Mr. Law is a comparative stranger in this section and is originally from Michigan. We hope his business success.

Coach Steckle is quoted as follows on Saturday's game: We are perfectly satisfied with the result. It was a hard fought game and the honors were even, but the University team had a golden chance to win and grasped it successfully. Both elevens played hard clean ball. Shorts has a good team and his men play hard clean ball. Dolan played a fine game for the Agricultural College, as did Williams and Rhinehart. We are naturally disappointed, but have no complaint to make.

Speaking of Saturday's game of football, Coach Shorts, of the U. of O., said: The game was very evenly matched. Corvallis made more yardage than Oregon did on straight plunges, but Oregon would have made more had not our runners fumbled repeatedly. It was not luck that won the game—it was football. Moores, who is always alert, saw a chance to win the game, grasped it, and the result was a victory for the University. Latourette displayed great generalship in running his team, and George Hug put up a fine game at center. I never saw such a display of college enthusiasm as the University rooters furnished during the game and afterward. It was a fine spirit for a small university. The Corvallis people are game losers, the University is a sportsmanlike winner.

A gentleman, whose name we could not ascertain, came into town early yesterday morning in a manner that reminds one of John Gilpin's famous ride, save that our "citizen of credit and renown" came in on a hayrack to which was attached two horses. The horses in some way got beyond the driver's control and ran for a mile or two. While the man stuck to his post, he could not stop the animals and they ran clear to Vidito Bros. livery stable, where the boys ran out and checked them. The driver of the team was about exhausted as the result of tugging at the team and during his early and hasty flight had lost his hat and whip—the latter at the time he did not need. No damage was done.

Quite a serious runaway accident occurred Sunday morning near Oakville, in Linn county. Hardin McCallister, his wife, and a gentleman friend were driving along the road and for some reason the team took fright and ran away. Mr. McCallister, who is nearly 80 years of age, was driving and was unable to control the team. All parties were thrown out and the vehicle somewhat damaged. Mr. McCallister was the only person hurt, but his injuries were quite serious; one shoulder was broken, the other dislocated, and some of his ribs were smashed in. Dr. Pernot, of this city was hastily summoned and went to the scene and rendered all possible assistance to the wounded man.

Popular Prices.

Beginning last night, the Empire Theatre Co., opened a three nights' engagement in Corvallis with the play, "A Broken Heart."

This is the first attraction presented to Corvallis theatre goers at popular prices. The play the first night is said to be considerably ahead of the ordinary melodrama so far as plot and construction is concerned. The story is an interesting one, and it possesses just sufficient of comedy features to brighten it and prove entertaining. It does not lack for thrilling scenes nor opportunities for theatrical red fire, but its features are softened, its action smooth and graceful and the impossible situations of the average melodrama eliminated.

For Tuesday and Wednesday evening, the plays though differing in character, are represented to be equally good. Tickets are now on sale at Graham & Wortham's drug store. Reserved seats, 35 cents; general admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

Real Estate Transfers.

Abstract for week ending Nov. 11, 1905:

Albany College to C. M. Giddings et al, 480 acres near Blodgett; $960.

J. B. Horner and wife to Chas. McHenry, 2 lots Wilkins addition to Corvallis; $140.

J. W. Simpson and wife to L. V. Flint, block "B" Jobs addition to Corvallis; $300.

Oswald West and wife to Chas. Brown, land near Corvallis; $1.

Ida Vanhoosen et al to Harriet E. Vanhoosen, q c d property near Corvallis; $1.

G. Barchard to Etna Barchard, 320 acres near Summit; $1.

United States to F. A. Landingham, patent to 160 acres west of Bellfountain.

S. H. Moore and wife to Virgil E. Watters, lot 12, block 6, Corvallis; $1.

W. A. Wells and wife to M. E. Brown, 2 lots in Corvallis; $400.

R. D. Thornton and husband to Corvallis Creamery Co., 2 lots in Corvallis; $1.

W. A. Buchanan to Mary Miller, 3 lots County addition to Corvallis; $1.

W. B. Kiger and wife to A. Hope and wife, 100 acres northwest of Corvallis, $1,500.

Thomas Leese and wife to E. W. Strong, q c d 200 acres west of Bellfountain; $1.

Kasper Kropp and wife to E. Glenn, 20 acres near Albany; $10.

E. Jones and wife to R. B. Mason, q c d land and lots in and near Philomath; $1.

Forging Ahead.

It is quite probable that never in the history of Corvallis has there been so much building in progress at any one time as at the present. About every man in this city who can hammer a nail "home" is engaged in assisting in the construction of some building.

A few of our contractors have called a halt in the matter of accepting any more work, saying that they cannot fulfill the contracts if the buildings are to be completed within the near future.

That all will be busy until after the dawning of 1906 goes without saying. The buildings are mostly in the nature of residences and are scattered about in various sections of the city. There is no boom about the proposition, just a healthy growth. Now, that you've get tired of keeping your optics on other places, watch Corvallis grow.

The Reason Why.

Why will there be no Tariff legislation and why do "those opposed to Tariff revision have the upperhand for the present?" Simply because the people do not want the Tariff revised; and simply because they are not, as the revisionists have claimed, clamoring for a cutting down of schedules; simply because present conditions are very satisfactory, and the people are not such fools as to permit a dangerous change at the behest of a few selfish politicians.

As a matter of fact, those who oppose Tariff legislation are the people themselves; and since the Dingley law was enacted and its benefits to American business and industry made apparent, the people—the business men, the merchants, the heads of great commercial concerns, and the wage earners—have been its champions. They have the upper hand and they intend to keep it.—Burlington "Hawkeye."

Additional Local.

See Blackledge for Linoleum, etc. 26

Prof. Goodnough, who is teaching both in this city and Portland, will be piano soloist today for the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Portland.

Black edge, leading wall paper dealer. 30c

Mrs. L. L. Porter was expected to arrive in Corvallis yesterday from Oregon City to be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Spangler, for a week or two.

Art squares and art rugs at Blackledges. 30c

Wanted—1,500 turkeys delivered here from 15 to 28 November. Smith & Boulder. 92-6

Misses Sylva and Winifred Munkers returned to their home in Scio yesterday having visited in this city a few days during which time they were the guests of Mrs. Riley Shelton.

Country school district teachers can be supplied with monthly report cards by the Gazette. Write your wants. 81c

Wood Choppers Wanted—1000 cords to cut and wood to sell in stump. Anyone wanting to take contract come; do not write. P. A. Kline's line phone No. 1. P. A. Kline. 82c Manfred Seits returned to Corvallis yesterday from a trip to Newport. He will move his family to that place about December 1.

Small now makes a specialty of having his cinnamon rolls ready for you every afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everything else in the line of a first-class bakery. 94c

The death of A. R. Hartley occurred in Eugene last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The remains arrived in this city yesterday and the funeral services are to be held today in the Presbyterian church. The deceased was a son of J. H. Hartley.

Every man owes it to himself and his family to master a trade or profession. Read the display advertisement of the Six Morse Schools of Telegraphy, in this issue and learn how easily a young man or lady may learn telegraphy and be assured a position. 67c

Highest cash price paid for all kinds of hides, pelts, beeswax and tallow. Junk wanted. Jacob Blumberg. 91-4

The special services which have been conducted in the Evangelical church will be continued for another week.

To destroy dandruff use Spencer's Hair Grower. 94

A few days ago J. M. Nolan and Robert Johnson circulated a petition among our business men to secure signers against the proposition to number rural free delivery boxes. Everybody signed, as it was considered too much in the way of benefiting the great mail-order houses of the East to have boxes numbered and gives concern to great an advantage over our local merchants. The signatures received the other day as a result of the canvass will be sent to the postal department in Washington.

Largest line of matting in country at Blackledge. 30c

M. Mekerje came up from Portland, Sunday, to remain during the week in order to perfect arrangements for an entertainment in College chapel next Friday night. A noted Hindu violinist will be present on this occasion and render the airs of his country. Indian magic will also be a prominent feature—such acts as raising a man from a basket, producing a tree from nothing, etc. It will be worth while beyond a doubt. Watch for something later.

Young men over 18 wanted to prepare for railway mail clerks in Oregon, good salary, permanent civil service positions. Write at once, E. O. Heynen, 12 Breeden Bldg., Portland, Oregon. 93c

For Sale.

Choice oat, Vetch and cheat seed, to be had at reasonable prices either at the Corvallis or Benton Flouring Mills.

A. W. FISCHER, Man. 80c

Style and Quality

When you buy clothes here you may be sure of getting what you want.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are noted for style and quality—all-wool; no "mercerized" nor any other cotton.

We've priced them right; the label is in them, a small thing to look for a big thing to find.

Sole agents for Corvallis.

Copyright 1905 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

S. L. KLINE,

ESTABLISHED 1864. The People's Store, Corvallis, Ore.

1905 Fall Goods Ready 1906

Just received—a large assortment of fall and winter dress goods. This shipment includes broad cloths, henrietas, eloenes, cravenettes, waisting and fancy mixtures; wool plaids for ladies waists and childrens dresses.

Palmer Garments

Our first shipment of ladies and misses raincoats and childrens jackets has arrived. Ladies and misses Empire coats in transit. Style, fit and quality are the essentials in womens garments. The Palmer Garment excels in these three points and more than that, it gives you the money value. Style, fit and quality that are right. You are invited to inspect this line.

F. L. Miller, Corvallis, Oregon

A BROKEN FACE

disqualifies a watch for work as well as a man. If your watch has a fractured case-nance

BRING IT HERE FOR REPAIRS

In fact, if it has anything the matter with it, externally or internally, we can make it all right again. We repair the finest watches or the simplest clocks. Don't throw either away until you have our judgment on it.

Albert J. Metzger

JEWELER

Occidental Building, Corvallis

Printing is an Art

We have given the printing trade very close attention—have made it a business to keep right up in the front rank. It took years of hard work to learn what we know about this art, and we expect to learn more every day. We know how to turn out a down-to-date job. If you doubt it, we can "show you" any day. Bring your copy and we'll demonstrate our ability. We are experts in our line. You can rely on reasonable prices. CORVALLIS GAZETTE

The Gazette for Job Work.