COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

OAK GROVE.
Died, at the country home in Fairmount, Dec. 30, 1905, Mrs. Chester Skeels, aged about 70 years. Mrs. Skeels has spent 30 odd years in Benton county and was loved and respected by all. She was a life long member of the M. E. church and a devoted christian woman. She was buried at North Palestine cemetery New Year's day at 2 p. m.

Saturday morning James Johnston turned his nice driving mare out in the lot so as to give her some exercise; she got to running and slipped and fell, her head striking on a small stump, knocking out one of her eyes and otherwise injuring her.

Clyde and Elmer Williams have spent the holidays at home. They returned to Corvallis the first of the year to take up their studies at OAC.

The Fir Grove debating society is reported to be in a flourishing condition, and is presided over by George Price. The house is too small to hold the large congregation of people who assemble from time to time to hear the great questions discussed pro and con. Last Saturday evening the subject for debate was, "Revolved, that football is more degrading than prize fighting."

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coughill, of Albany, took Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Williamson.

Elmer Goff is the happy owner of a new graphophone and now does his own talking.

Mrs. Bachelor arrived at Albany Saturday. She is from Missouri and is accompanied by her brother, Mr. Wilson, from the same state. They will make their home for the present with Mr. Glenn, who resides near Palestine. Her husband has been out here for sometime and is well pleased with the country.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Voss, of Albany, spent Christmas with their sons, Henry and Charlie, at the old homestead.

Saturday while Mr. Raber was in Albany, he left his team just a moment to step into a store and when he came back she team was gone and the first thing he heard was the team thundering across the big steel bridge at break-neck speed. The team was caught later with but little damage done.

Paul Johnson surprised his wife by getting her a brand new organ for a Xmas present.

Wm Johnson, of Salem, came up Saturday to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Wentz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mayberry left Saturday for Kings Valley, where they go to spend a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward.

Majr Dodson was calling on Oak Grove friends during the week. He returned to OAC and took up his studies at the beginning of the new year.

D. N. Williamson and family of Oak Creek, Linn county, spent several days here this week visiting relatives.

Onas Brown passed through this part Thursday with 125 head of stock sheep, which he purchased of Lee Brown, of Soap Creek. He was taking them to his farm near Brownsville. He paid $4.40 per head.

BEAVER CREEK.
The heavy rains of the last few days have again put the fields in good plowing condition.

Duke Gray, wife and children, are visiting at the home of George Bethers, at Toledo.

A surprise party was held at the home of the Gates brothers last Monday night. A good time was reported by all.

Mrs. Mercer is reported to be about the same as usual.

Bert Castor, of Independence, passed up the creek one day last week enroute for the Gove saw mills.

An Alder tree fell across the telephone line, running to the saw mills and suspended traffic for a short time.

Sherman Gleason has returned after a few days' visit with relatives and friends.

John Daniel, Henry Starr and Charles Armstrong were Corvallis visitors one day last week.

BELLFOUNTAIN.
Miss Leach, of Linn county, has been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Ingram.

A number of OAC students have been with their home folks during the last week.

W. C. Belknap's young folks return to Salem today. They are attending the Willamette University.

Prof. Mack's sister and parents, of Stayton, spent the holidays at the home of their son and brother.

Mrs. J. H. Edwards has been quite sick for several days.

New Year night there was a surprise party at the home of H. T. Bristow. About thirty young people report a general good time.

Rev. Beery, of Monmouth, occupied the pulpit last Sunday morning and evening.

Interest in the proposed electric car line the last few days has been overshadowed by telephone talk. An agreement between the Bellefontaine telephone company and a new company, called the Green Peak telephone company, has been effected and a central will be established here with a trunk line to Corvallis. About 40 new phones will be put in as soon as lines can be constructed.

Irwin Waggoner, of Portland, spent last week with his sister, Mrs. G. R. Hall, Jr.

J. W. Walters returned last week from Alnira, Lane county, where he has been doing an extensive logging business.

Winter grain looks fairly well; stock are for the most part in good condition.

S. A. Sharp sold a barn full of hay to Lyles Brothers. They will feed it to young cattle.

Railroad Lands for Lease.
Lands of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, in Oregon, will be leased for the year 1906, subject to sale. Owners of farms and ranches adjoining railroad lands should file their applications not later than February 1, 1906, after which date applications from others will also be considered.

How to Avoid Pneumonia.
We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop, of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." Sold by Graham & Wortham.

It was authoritatively reported on the streets yesterday that the city council had failed to make the tax levy for the City of Corvallis for the coming year. According to a law passed a year ago, the levy for Corvallis for the year of 1906 should have been made prior to January 1. There is considerable query as to what steps will be taken by the council at the regular monthly meeting next Monday evening. It is averred that the city cannot legally proceed to collect taxes this year. If such is the case, the situation is a hard one.

Didn't Look Like Himself.
An old lady looked a trifle dissatisfied as she went out from the auditorium at the Sydney, Ia., Chautauqua, where she had just heard Mr. and Mrs. Elias Day give their entertainment. Every other member of the laughing, pushing crowd was telling some one else what feature of the entertainment had been most to his taste. But she wasn't; she looked almost glum.

A member of the committee caught sight of her. A face like that after seeing the Days! That would never do.

"What is the matter? Didn't you enjoy the entertainment?" he asked.

"Oh, yes, I liked it—some of it. I was just a little bit disappointed, though. You see, I heard of Mr. Day, when he was here five years ago, and I've wanted to see him ever since. And he was good when he just came out and talked; he was real natural then. But when he painted himself up and put on those wigs and things—why, I couldn't even recognize him; he didn't look a bit like himself." These people are to appear in Corvallis, Jan. 12.

Short Course Topics.
The following topics will be discussed Monday, as a starter for the Farmers' Short Course: 9:00-9:50—Plants; their Importance on the Farm, Prof. E. R. Lake. 9:50-10:40—Insects and Fungi; What are they? Prof. A. B. Coffey. 10:40-11:30—Propagation of Stocks for Grafting, Prof. Geo. Coote. 1:30-2:20—The Soil, Prof. Jas. Withycombe. 2:20-3:10—Bacterial Diseases of Domestic Animals, Prof. E. F. Pernot. 3:10-4:00—Chemical Elements, Prof. A. L. Kinsely.

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting.
