ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.

Series of Great Meetings Promised Corvallis.

Word was received last Monday from State President Rockwood, of Portland, that the biennial State Christian Endeavor convention which was to have been held in Eugene next week, could not be held there on account of so many cases of typhoid fever. He asked if it would be possible for Corvallis to have it held here. A meeting of the executive committee of the Federation of Christian Endeavor was called for Monday night at which time it was decided to invite the convention to this city. While the time is short in which to prepare for so great a convention, it is long enough to make it a great success if Endeavorers and citizens will all work to make this one of the best conventions ever held in the state. Much enthusiasm is manifest and we have no fear that Corvallis will, as usual, prove an hospitable host.

It is expected that about 200 delegates will have to be entertained during the convention. Let us open our hearts and homes and give them a royal welcome.

Special music of various kinds will be interspersed throughout the program. Mrs. Green is chairman of the music committee. If she asks you to sing don't say "no."

Through the courtesy of the officers of the Methodist Episcopal church, special meetings by them have been postponed, and they have kindly offered the use of their building for the evening sessions. The management have accepted their kind offer and will hold their Thursday and Friday evening sessions in that church.

The meetings during the day—Friday and Saturday, will be held in the Presbyterian church.

Saturday evening the reception will be held in the Armory, as also will the Sunday evening service.

Further announcements will be made concerning the Y. M. and Y. W. meetings.

The decoration committee met Tuesday evening and went to work in earnest. They report much interest by the business men in the matter of decorating their places of business.

Rev. C. T. Hurd, who was arranging for special services in the near future, has postponed same on account of the convention.

First session Thursday evening, February 22—last session, Sunday evening, February 25.

State President Rockwood wishes the people of Corvallis to know how greatly he appreciates the courtesy of the people in inviting the convention on the short notice given by them.

The Epworth League have joined heart and hand with the Endeavorers and are determined that the 1906 convention shall be a success. They have members on each of the above committees.

That all may attend the convention the faculty of OAC have decided not to have school on Friday, the 23rd.

meeting of the new company, one night there was about one hundred dollars in gold coin paid into the treasury. The treasurer not being present, Prof. Mack was made the custodian of the cash. Without the least fear of being "held up" he quietly walked the money in his pocket and walked home. Just as he was to retire for the night he discovered that there was nothing left in the pocket but a hole. After a vain endeavor to sleep, at the first break of day he retraced his steps and picked up the coin where it had dribbled along the road the night before. The last ten dollars he fished out of a small mud hole that he had forced in the darkness.

And a long pull describes the pathway of a woman afflicted with female weakness unless she is under the care of a doctor who has had successful experience in the treatment of such cases or else has found the right remedy which can be safely used independently of the doctor.

Forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that women were being grossly maltreated—mainly through ignorance and carelessness, and he determined to devote himself to study and research till he found the real cause of their suffering and a proper remedy for it.

He found it, and dug from Nature's Laboratory, the earth, Nature's remedies for woman's weaknesses and ailments. He found in Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root, the required ingredients.

The remedial virtues of these he extracted, combined and preserved by his own peculiar non-alcoholic, glyceric processes, and the compound is now known to the world over, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"The wearing of corsets too tight seemed to have brought on an abdominal pressure, weakening the ligaments and resulting in displacement, which troubled me until I was not fit to walk, and at times could hardly stand," writes Mrs. Beverly Sitgreaves, of 124 Taylor St., San Francisco, Cal. "A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before the first bottle was used I felt much better. Improvement went steadily on, and within four months I was like a new and well woman once more. I am now perfectly well and strong, and extremely grateful to you for your blessed remedy—a boon to sick women."

TYPHOID CAN BE AVOIDED.

Water Supply Is Whole Secret of Staying Off Disease—Blame the Health Board.

Typhoid is an unnecessary evil, it is like bad government; civil indifference is responsible for one as for the other. As a matter of individual warning there is little to say, says McClure's Magazine. Find out where your water comes from, and, unless the community guards the general health by furnishing a pure drinking supply, guard your own by boiling the water. Don't allow open vaults or sewage accessible to flies to exist near where you live. There's a board of health in your town; if it's worthless there's a law regarding nuisances that isn't. Go to your doctor promptly, "on suspicion," if you have any reason to suppose that you have contracted the disease. It is no ailment to parley with. If you know of a case that the attending physician has reported privately but not to the health department, report it yourself. He won't like that, but it will be good for him. You pay taxes to get good water and to have the laws enforced; one of the best preventives against typhoid is the "pernicious municipal activity" which gets what it pays for. After all, the question as to whether your city chooses to have typhoid fever at great expense like Cleveland and Chicago, or to avoid it at less expense, like Lorain and Lawrence, is largely a matter of intelligent working citizenship.

GINSENG

Information Relating to the Richest Product of the Soil

Prof. Howard, of the Missouri State Agricultural College, says: "I advise American farmers to cultivate Ginseng. Big profits are realized. It is easily grown." A bulletin by the Pennsylvania State College says: "The supply of native Ginseng Root is rapidly diminishing and the price per pound is correspondingly increasing, while the constant demand for the drug in China stands as a guarantee of a steady market for Ginseng in the future." American Consul General Wildman at Hong Kong writes: "There will be little difficulty in disposing of this coast of all the Ginseng that is grown in America."

Ginseng is a staple on the market the same as corn, wheat and cotton. The present market price varies from $5.00 to $8.00 per pound, while the cost of production is less than $1.50. There is room in one's garden to grow several hundred dollars worth each year. The plant can be grown throughout the United States and Canada in any soil or climate that will grow ordinary garden vegetables. There are two planting seasons, spring and fall.

We are buyers and exporters of the dried product, and grow roots and seeds for planting purposes. Let us show you how to make money growing Ginseng. You can get a practical start in the business for a small outlay and soon have a nice income. Send two-cent stamp today for our illustrated literature telling all about it. Write at once; you may not see this ad again.
