

The subscription price of the GAZETTE for several years has been, and remains, $2 per annum, or 25 per cent. discount if paid in advance. This paper will be continued until all arrearages are paid.

SOCIAL WOLVES.

Johann G. Most, the anarchist leader, is dead. It may seem a hard thing to say, but in truth it is just as well for humanity's sake that Herr Most is no more. It were better had he never lived. The above might with propriety be said of Emma Goldman, woman though she is.

Johann Most in life was a dangerous man. He was outspoken for anarchy first, last and all time. All his energy was devoted not to the upbuilding of the best institutions of our government, nor to the betterment of society, nor of man mentally, morally or physically—his mission was to tear down, destroy. He was an advocate of the match and sword. The same of Emma Goldman.

This country did not suit Herr Most—then why did he not leave it? He did not have to remain here and not one person in a thousand desired him to continue within our borders. 'Tis strange that people such as the above are permitted to gain a foothold in this country, when they are known to be a disturber whence they came. We are proud of our boasted freedom, but when it comes to allowing men and women such as Johann Most and Emma Goldman to run at large the thought is uppermost that we are too free with our liberty. Two much liberty for such characters is a dangerous thing for our great commonwealth.

And yet it seems from all accounts that there are 10,000 Most sympathizers banded together within the United States! This seems incredible when we consider that this is the greatest country in the world—one would think that more appreciation would be showed for the blessings enjoyed.

FOREST RESERVES.

Congress seems to grow more earnest in the purpose of holding close hand on any great work of the nation, and not delegating absolute and unqualified control to executive officers. When Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, brings up for consideration his bill to place forest reserves under greater direct congressional control, and take back again the power of creating such, it seems assured of greater support than was thought probable some time ago.

If the Heyburn bill does not secure a place before Congress, giving Western interests an opportunity for voicing the feeling there on this subject, it is quite certain that some other bill will be introduced. Senator Fulton, of Oregon, has been endeavoring to get an expression of the senate on this question, especially regarding the creation of more reserves. The experience of some of the stock interests of the state in so far being unable to convince the reserve management of the right of Oregon men to the range in this state, has been one feature of management that has created much discussion.

In the creation of Oregon reserves, the necessity of appealing from some of the bureau officials to the President in person, with the consequent trouble and delay of this prolix procedure, and the positive statement made by many persons affected that land is now embraced within reserves which would be valuable for agriculture and horticulture, emphasizes the necessity of giving the people where reserves are created more of a voice in the work. It is held by many that this cannot be unless the power of creating reserves is left with congress, in which body there is a marked tendency to defer local questions to the delegations affected.

Lane County Forests.

That all Oregon land now embraced within forest reserves which is more valuable for other than timber purposes, may be opened to private ownership and development, Senator Fulton has inaugurated a movement to have presented to the Interior Department authentic statements of the people contiguous and most interested. The Senator began with Lane county, which, from reports, seemed to offer a striking example of the evil. Judge Chrisman, of Lane, says at least 50,000 acres of land within the boundaries of his county and not embraced in the forest reserves, is amenable to agriculture, horticulture and livestock raising.

This statement by one who is in position to be informed has been taken as the basis for action. Senator Fulton seeks the signed statement of all citizens of Lane county who are informed on the subject, and when gathered, if these bear out the report, will present them to the forestry bureau as reason why such lands should be reopened to private ownership. It seems apparent that the government's experts often differ with local residents regarding the real value of forest lands for various purposes. As these experts are not always familiar with local conditions, and the residents of the community who are accustomed to build homes in forests should be, a full expression of sentiment and judgement by the practical man is sought.

If land is found most valuable for its timber, the Senator says he will not be a party to any effort to throw it open, if the reserves are held to reasonable bounds. After getting at the bottom of existing conditions in Lane county, it will be the purpose to take up other counties affected by the reserves; until all agricultural land has been climated.

In the past the agents of the forestry bureau have traveled over withdrawn areas, sounding local sentiment, but complaint has been made that some of these agents were over-zealous in the reserve work, and instead of reflecting local sentiment as to the value of every part of the withdrawal for various purposes, were eager champions of making the reserve as large as possible. The work now undertaken is to put in organized form local thought on the values of limited sections of the reserve, and finally determine what may be developed otherwise.

Many Tourists.

Phil A. Gordon, Pacific Coast agent for Piedmont Air Line, with headquarters at San Francisco, says that there are fully 70,000 tourists in California, and that at least half would find their way Eastward through Oregon.

"A majority of the travelers purchase one-way tickets, and this leaves them free to choose any route they desire going home," said Mr. Gordon. "In California they are learning much of Oregon, and as they will be starting home when Spring is fairly on no more fitting finale to the trip could be planned than a journey through Oregon.

"Here you have innumerable attractions for tourists, and of a particular character not found elsewhere. So far as the home-seeker and colonist are concerned the diversified resources of the Beaver State other inducements for permanent locations not excelled in the United States.

"This volume of travel is not to be thought of lightly. Even though a small percentage of the strangers do not remain in the state, the money they are spending in their travels is a tidy sum, and will add thousands to the general revenue brought by the railroads. Oregon is entering on a period that gives promise of being among the most prosperous, if not the leader, in her history."

Have your job printing done at the Gazette office.

Circuit Court Docket.

Mary E Coon, T M Coon et al plaintiff versus A L Coon, defendant suit for sale real property.

Thos. Whitehorn, J W Ingle et al plaintiff versus W G Emery, P Ave y et al injunction. Laura Burr plaintiff versus Agnes C McElroy and J C McElroy defendants; for confirmation of sale.

Catherine Boehringer, plaintiff versus Oregon & California Railroad Company, The Farmers Loan & Trust Co, corporations, defendants; suit.

The State of Oregon, plaintiff, versus Chas M Cline, Merwin McMaignes, Jack Milne and John Doe whose true name is unknown, defendants; appeal from J P Court.

The State of Oregon, plaintiff, versus Chas M Kline, and Jack Milne, defendants; appeal from J P Court.

The State of Oregon, plaintiff, versus Chas M Kline, Merwin McMaignes, and C C Geer, defendants; appeal from J P Court.

James L Lewis, plaintiff, versus Spencer Bicknell, defendant; action for damages.

Plutarch Lewis, plaintiff, versus Almada Lewis, defendant; suit divorce.

The State of Oregon, plaintiff, versus Carl Presley, defendant; Recog.

Cecil I Turner, plaintiff, versus Bert Turner, defendant; suit divorce.

Albert Kemp, plaintiff, versus Martha A Kemp, defendant; suit divorce.

R V Moore, plaintiff, versus M May Moore, defendant; suit divorce.

R E Fawver, plaintiff, versus John W Fawver, defendant; suit divorce.

Nettie Carden, plaintiff, versus Everett Carden, defendant; suit divorce.

Amy A Humiston, plaintiff, versus Curtis Stimpson and Lettie Stimpson, defendants; suit.

Geo W Parker, plaintiff, versus W H James defendant; action for damages.

Mehala Stewart, John Stewart, Lafayette Stewart and Melissa McMehon, plaintiffs, versus Henrietta Randall, defendants; suit to set aside deed.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

OAK GROVE.

Lee Brown, of Soap Creek was doing business in Albany, Monday.

Politicians are all in favor of good roads and low taxes, "Oh, consistency thou art a jewel."

When a man marries a woman for her money, he generally earns all he gets.

Many Wells people were present at the 2 o'clock service at Oak Grove, Sunday.

The ball given at the Artisan hall at Wells last Saturday night was well attended.

Grant McElhinney, the Oak Grove trader, sold his furs the other day and

IT DRAWS HARD

On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is untrained, and we wonder how some of the women of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation.

They will cry with tears in their eyes, when they mention the subject at all, "it is a terrible pull," that with pain, weakness and weariness they are "almost dragged out."

Many, in this condition, resort to alcohol, the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory—the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, which has the wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, given without charge.

"I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the many ills that women suffer with." writes Miss Gertrude Mitchell (President, Young Ladies' Christian Endeavor Society), 29 Columbia street, E. Detroit, Mich. "After many years of suffering and pain, I took your medicine, and in a short time began to feel stronger, became more regular and didn't have the bearing-down pains which had been my lot for so long. Shall never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice. I have no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities, now the richest man in Fairmount precinct.

Many of our people attended a call meeting held in Albany last Saturday to consider the advisability of building and equipping a cannery and evaporating plant to be built in that city the coming summer. Many of our orchardists and gardeners are taking stock in the new enterprise.

W. D. Prettyman, proprietor of the Oak Grove poultry farm, is beginning to get his incubators in working order for the spring work. He raised about 1,000 chicks by artificial means last year, but doesn't aim to go into the business so heavy the coming summer.

Frosty weather is not pleasant for the average valley man. Mild, breezy weather with occasional showers suits him better. Hail, gentle spring, eternal mildness come.

A McMinnville man, according to the News Reporter, laid an egg on its table that measured 6 1/2 x 8 3/8 inches.—Wonder if that is our Oak Grove man poked away off down there?

Art Beamis has accepted a position in with the Albany Brewing company and began work Monday.

Joseph Hecker was here the fore part of the week gathering up some sheep to take down to his Soap Creek farm. He has quite a lot of weth which makes excellent pasture at this time of the year, when pastures are short.

Mrs. N. D. Richardson, of St. Louis, is spending a few days visiting her old friend, Mrs. W. H. Holman, after spending some time in Southern California.

The funeral of the 11-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Luther was held at the farm home, Sunday at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Donnell officiating.

The revival meeting that has been running for the past three weeks is still under headway and will continue at least a week longer. Rev. Jamison, of Jefferson, will assist the pastor for a few days.

BELLEFOUNTAIN.

A Harlin was in town this week for a cream separator shipped from the East.

Walter Poole, of Monroe, bought two fine registered Jersey heifers from Linn county.

J. M. Nolan & Son's 3 days Special introductory sale of "Peerless" Muslin underwear, March 26, 27, 28.

The Mallory Cravenette Hat

A Rain-proof Fur Felt Hat

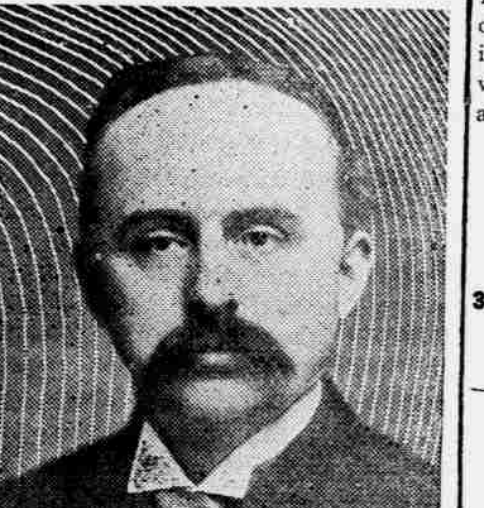

Can be worn every day—Or it may be considered a part of the rainy-day outfit.

Body and trimming have been treated with the celebrated Priestly Cravenette process.

Rain will not spot, streak or fade it. Made in all the new shapes and colors of the famous MALLORY line in both derby and soft styles.

Three grades—$3, $3.50 and $4.

Sold exclusively by J. M. Nolan & Son

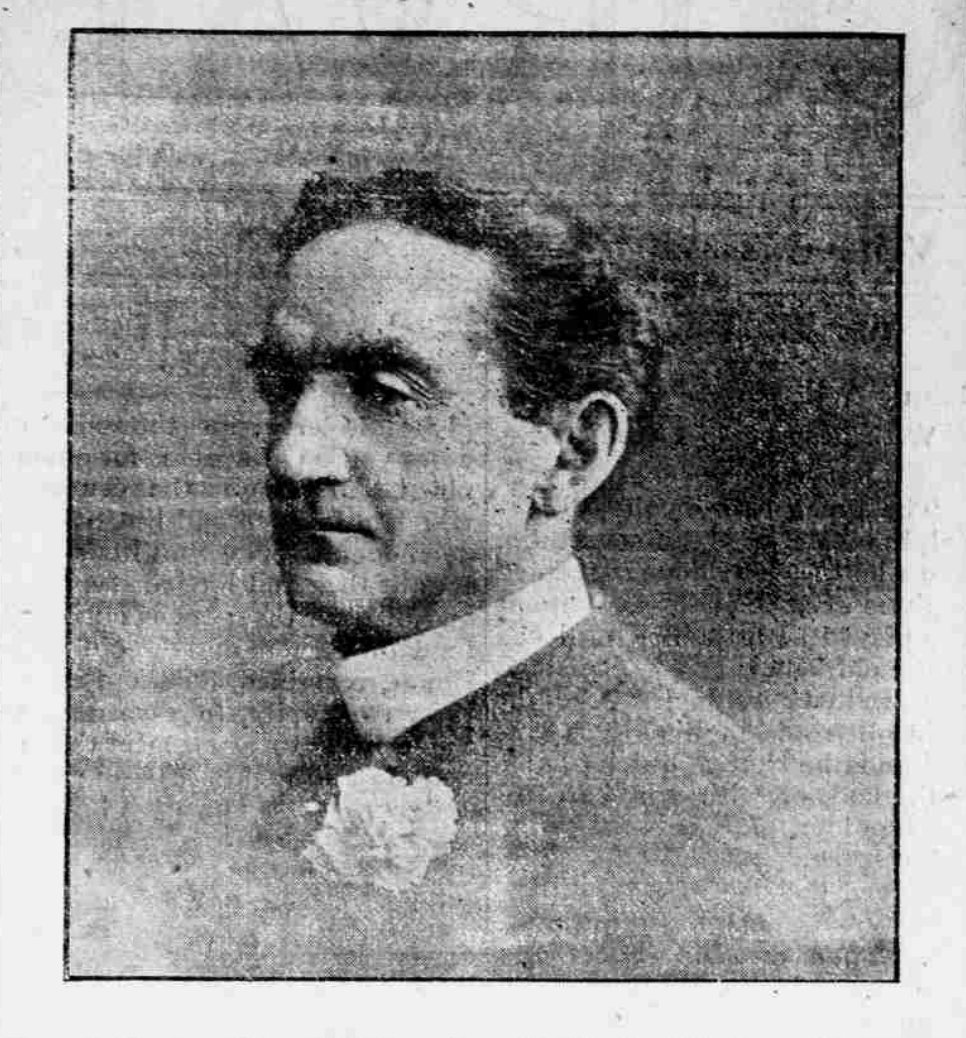

WILLIS S. DUNIWAY Candidate for State Printer

At Republican Primary, April 20, 1906

"I hereby pledge the people of Oregon a great reduction in the enormous cost of the office, if elected, and I declare upon my honor that I shall seek neither to perpetuate old abuses of the office nor engage in new schemes to loot the treasury."

JONATHAN BOURNE, Jr.

Republican Candidate for United States Senator. CHAMPION OF STATEMENT ONE.

Jonathan Bourne, Jr., candidate before the Republican primaries for the nomination of United States Senator in Congress, for the long term commencing March 4, 1907, was born in New Bedford, Mass., February 23, 1855; was a member of the class of 1877 at Harvard University; came to Portland May 16, 1878; was a Republican member of the Oregon Legislature in the session of 1885 and the extra session of 1886; was one of Oregon's delegates to the Republican National Convention of 1888 and Oregon's member of the Republican National Committee from 1888 to 1892, and a delegate to the Republican National Convention of 1892; and was elected as a Mitchell Republican to the Oregon Legislature in 1896.

Mr. Bourne has been more prominently identified with the development of the mineral resources of Oregon than any other man in the state, having expended in the last 20 years over $1,000,000 of his own money in the acquisition and development of Oregon mines.

While Mr. Bourne has had his residence and main office at Portland since 1878, he has had another office at New Bedford, Mass., and has carried on the business of his father's estate since 1889, which makes him familiar with many of the large interests and leading men in the East. These qualifications, in conjunction with his tremendous energy, originality, executive ability and experience in business and political affairs pre-eminently qualify him for making an able and influential Senator for the state of Oregon.

Mr. Bourne has always favored extending the direct power of the people over their government as far as possible. He was one of the leading spirits in the Initiative and Referendum movement from 1896 until it was approved by the voters at the June election in 1902. In 1904 he was a member of the executive committee of the Direct Primary Nominations League, and holds the same position with the People's Power League at this time. In all these movements he has been one of the few to guarantee the necessary expenses of preparing and proposing their measures to the people.

He says that the choice of United States Senator should be by direct vote of the people, and that the Legislature should be compelled to elect the man the people select. To accomplish this result, he is championing Statement No. 1 of the primary election law as the only method by which public opinion may be crystallized and made effective upon the Legislature.

In his petition for nomination he says: "If I am nominated and elected I will, during my term of office, favor:

- Republican Politics. Amending National Constitution for People's Election of United States Senators. Publicity Political Campaign Expenses. National Control of Corporations in Interstate Commerce. Rigid Exclusion of Asiatic Coolie Labor; Good Wages Make Good Citizens. Legal Limitation Labor Hours for Safety on Railroads. Parcels Post, Including Rural Delivery. Pure Food Laws. Liberal Appropriations for Panama Canal, Coast Defenses, River and Harbor Improvements, Including Columbia and Willamette Rivers, Coos, Yaquina and Other Oregon Harbors, Celilo Canal, Government Canal at Oregon City. Fair Share of Irrigation Fund for Oregon. Loyal Support of Successful Candidates. Rigid Enforcement of Statement One. Roosevelt for Second Elective Term.

I desire the following statement be printed after my name on the nominating ballot:

I WILL SUPPORT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S DETERMINATION THAT JUSTICE BE DONE ALL MEN."

RUGS

WOVEN TO ORDER From old ingrain or brussels carpets or chenille curtains, any shape. From 12 inches to 11 feet wide, and as long as wanted. First-class workmanship and prompt service are guaranteed.

I PAY THE FREIGHT Write today for further particulars.

A. L. FERRINGTON 320, E. 1st St. ALBANY, ORE.

Invaluable for Rheumatism.

I have been suffering for the past few years with a severe attack of rheumatism and found that Ballard's Snow Liniment was the only thing that gave satisfaction and tended to alleviate my pains. March 24, '02, John C. Degnan, Kinsman, Ills. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Graham & Wortham.

Cured Consumption. Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Graham & Wortham.

Subscribe for the Gazette. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right