

(4)

ie Kind You Have Always Rought, and way has been n use for over 30 years, nas borne the agenature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. hart Tlitcher. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children-Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea-The Mother's Friend.

But a sudden light gleamed in the or doing, but he lay there staring at notary's eyes.

"Wait, messieurs!" he cried. "A moment, but a moment. Ah, I remember it now. It was the link which was wanting and you have supplied it-Holladay, a millionaire of America, his wife, Mme. Alix. She did not live in woman went slowly to the window and the villa then, messieurs. Oh, no. She was very poor, a nurse; anything to the ceiling with clinched teeth. At last Royce bent and laid his ear against his breast.

"It is no use," he said. "He is dead." I looked to see them wince under the blow, but they did not. The younger stood there sobbing quietly; the other's face lit up with a positive blaze of joy.

ter and 'L but' for the one anxiety of her not marrying. He met her and proposed marriage. He was ver good he asked no dowry, and, besides, my daughter was twenty-five years oldpast her first youth. But she attracted him, and they were married. He took her back to Paris, where he had a little theater, a hall of the dance, but he grew worse again and came back here. It was then that he found out that I had another daughter, whom I had given to a rich American. I was ver' poor, monsieur," she added piteously. "Yes, madame, I know," I said, touched by her emotion."

"So he wrote to friends in Amerique and made questions about M. Holladay. He learned-oh, he learned that he was ver' rich; what you call a man of millions-and that his daughter-my daughter, monsieur - was living still. From that moment he was like a man possessed. At once he formed his plan, building I know not what hopes upon it. He drilled us for two years in speaking the English; he took us for six months to Londres that we might better learn. Day after day we took our lessons there, always and always English. Cecile learned ver' well, monsieur, but I not so well, as you can see. I was too old. Then at last we reached New York, and my daughter-this one -was sent to see M. Holladay, while I was directed that I write to Celesteto Mile. Holladay. She came that ver' afternoon," she continued, "and I told her that it was I who was her mother. He was with me and displayed to her the papers of adoption. She could not seum Bureaus throughout the 30th but be convinced.. He talked to her as an angel-oh, he could seem one when he chose; he told her that I was in poverty; he made her to weep, which was what he desired. She promised to bring us money. She was ver' good. My heart went out to her. Then, just as she had arisen to start homeward, in Cecile came, crying, sobbing, stained with blood."

She shuddered and clasped her hands before her eyes.

"But you have said it was not murder, madame," I said to the younger woman.

"Nor was it!" she cried. "Let me tell you, monsieur. I reached the great building, which my husband had already pointed out to me. I went up in the lift; I entered the office, but saw no one. I went on through an open door and saw an old man sitting at a desk. I inquired if Mr Holladay was there. The old man glanced at me and bowed toward another door. I saw it was a private office and entered it. The door swung shut behind me. There was another old man sitting at a desk, sharpening a pencil."

"'Is it you, Frances?' he asked. "'No,' I said, stepping before him. 'It is her sister, M. Holladay!'

"He stared up at me with such a look of dismay and anger on his face that was fairly frightened; then, in the same instant, before I could draw breath, before I could say another

The Kenorpa Trio.

Extract from letter of Rev. Whitcomb Brougher, Pastor, Vonte Temple, Portlaud, Or.

class. Miss Lytle with her last tour years has been a good eautiful, cultivated voice, has a one. most charming personality, which wins her instant favor wherever she is heard. Miss Shea has a rich sympathetic voice which is very effective in solo several years, he coming from the same work. Mrs. Sylvia W. McGuire town in the East, I recommend him as a thorough and first-class veterinary and is a reader of unusual ability. She is especially fine in her ren- I have seen him cure when other vets' very successful in that line of work. dering of the Southern darkey had given up hope, and have seen him dialect, and thoroughly convulses operate on very difficult cases with the her audience with laughter with best results, and I sincerely say to the ner quaint and characteristic people of Corvallis and surrounding stories. She has had considerable country that he is one of the best in his xperience in entertaining, as she line.

has booked frequently with Lycountry." As a whole, the Kenorpa Trio presents a concert and entertainment which will please the most exacting audience. I take pleasure in commend ng them to all who may desire to secure a good entertainment company." At the Congregational church April 10.

Oregon's Attorney_General.

Wednesday, Attorney-General A. W. Crawford visited ing Statement No. 1, just the same Corvallis in the interest of his whether they want to or not. candidacy before the coming primaries for re-nomination for the office he now holds, should his republican brethren see fit to support him. Beyond doubt he farm near Parker and moved to Lebanon will receive their endorsement as some two years ago, has become tired of he has practically little opposition. city life and is now moving back to his During the past four years he farm. has filled the office most efficiently. He has made a good officer Wednesday, to Mr. Horst for ten cents and in recognition of his services per pound. He had in the neigheorand worth it is quite evident that the usual custom of showing appreciation of the same will be

Additional Local.

electric light company of Albany, helping to build the new line to Corvallis. Rev. T. F. Jones, who for three Drury Hodges is talking of leaving weeks has ably conducted the M. E. revival meeting, is to preach his Wells and moving to Albany to reside. last sermon Sunday evening after J. B. Leatherman is cleaning up and adhered to in Mr. Crawford's case by republicans at the coming primary election.

So far the duties of the attorney-general have kept him in "For an evening's concert and his office so closely that he has entertainment, the Kenorpa Trio not been enabled to make a cancannot be surpassed by anything wass in his own behalf and the its kind. The talent and little trip up here was the only onlity of the artists who com- one made by that gentleman to ose it, are such that they can date. As it was he could p esent a program which includes only remain in Corvallis a few artety in the numbers rendered, hours when obliged by pressure and their selections, are without of business to hurry back to exception, those of the highest Salem. His record during the Recommends Dr. Jackson.

Having known Dr. E. E. Jackson for COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

OAK GROVE.

Ben McElhiney is building a flying

Robert Jones left Monday morning

Mr. Sam McElmurry, who left his Barney Cady sold his 1905 hop crop,

Bob Jones has moved to Albany and Grant McElbiney is working for the will occupy the John Join residence in hood of twenty thousand pounds.

Elken's addition to Albany.

with his family and household goode.

he will hereafter be a citizen of Albany.

A. G. HANES,

Salem, Or., R. 8

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS:

Fifteen words or less, 25 cts for three successive insertions,! or 50 cts per month; for all up to and including ten additional words, 1/2 cent a word for each insertion.

For all advertisements over 25 words, 1 ct per word for the first insertion, and 1/2 ct per word for each additional insertion. Nothing inserted for less than 25 cents.

Lodge, society and church notices, other than strictly news matter, will be charged for.

FOR SALE

WHITE SIDE OATS FOR SEFI INquire of William Cress, Cornal's. 27-9"

BALED HAY FOR SALE INQUIRE P. O. box 344. or Ind. 'phone 429. Corvallis, Oregon.

ETCH AND CLOVER HAY, FINE White Seed Oats, also one good Mam-mouth Bronze Tom. T. A. Logsdon Corvallis, Or. phone 55, Mt Vew. 21t

ATTORNEYS

F. YATES, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office up stafrs in Zierolf Building. Only set of abstracts in Benton County

. R. BRYSON ATTORNEY AT LAW. Office in Post Office Building, Corvalis, Oregon.

WANTED

WANTED 500 SUBSCRIBERS TO THE GAZETTE and Weekly Oregonian at $2.55per year.

BANKING.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF Corvallis, Oregon, transacts a general. conservative banking business. Loans money on approved security. Drafts bought and cold and money transferred to the principal cities of the United States, Europe and foreign countries.

Veterinary Surgeon

DR. E. E. JACKSON, V. S., WINEGAR & Snow livery barn. Give him a call. Phones, Ind., 328; Residence, 389 or Reliabered Bell phone.

PHYSICIANS

B. A. OATHEY, M. D., PHYSICIAN and Surgeon. Rooms 14, Bank Building. Office Hours: 10 to I2 a. m , 2 to 4 p. m. Residence : cor. 5th and Adams Sta. Telephone at office and res-Corvallis, Oregon. idence.

MARBLE SHOP.

MARBLE AND GRANITE MONU-

make a little money. Her husband, who was a fisherman, was drowned and left her to take care of the children as best she could."

He had got down another book and was running his fingers rapidly down the page, his finger all a-tremble with excitement. Suddenly he stopped with a little cry of triumph.

"Here it is, messieurs!' See!"

Under the date of June 10, 1876, was an entry of which this is the English:

Holladay, Hiram W., and Elizabeth, his wife, of the city of New York, United States of America; from Celeste Alix, widow of Auguste Alix, her daughter Celeste, aged five months. All claim surrendered in consideration of the payment of 25,000 francs.

Mr. Royce caught up the book and glanced at the back. It was the "Record of Adoptions."

CHAPTER XVIII.

N a moment we were hurrying along the street in the direction the notary had pointed out to us. Martigny had need of haste. My head was in a 'my eyes as I looked at them. whirl. So Frances Holladay was not really the daughter of the dead millionaire! The thought compelled a complete readjustment of my point of view.

We had reached the beach again, and we turned along it in the direction of the cliffs. Far ahead I saw a man hurrying in the same direction, I could guess at what agony and danger to himself. The path began to ascend, and we panted up it to the grassy down which seemed to stretch for miles and miles to the northward. Right before us was a little wood, in the midst of which I caught a glimpse of a farmhouse.

We ran toward it, through a gate and up the path to the door. It was closed, but we heard from within a man's excited voice, a resonant voice which I knew well. I tried the door. It yielded, and we stepped into the hall. The voice came from the room at the right. It was no time for hesitation. We sprang to the door and entered.

Martigny was standing in the middle of the floor, fairly foaming at the mouth, shrieking out commands and imprecations at two women who cowered in the farther corner. The elder one I knew at a glance; the youngermy heart leaped as I looked at herwas it Miss Holladay? No, yet strangely like.

He saw their startled eyes turn past him to us and swung sharply round. For an instant he stood poised like a serpent about to strike; then I saw his eyes fix in a frightful stare, his face turned livid, and with a strangled cry he fell back and down. Together we lifted him to the low window sent, pursuers and pursued alike, loosened his collar, chafed his bands, bathed his temples, did everything we could think

"So," she exclaimed in that low, vibrant voice I so well remembered-"so he is dead!"

Royce gazed at her a moment in astonishment. "Mme. Alix," he said at last, "you know our errand."

She bowed her head. "I know it, monsieur," she answered.

"But for him there would have been no such errand. As it is, I will help you all I can. Cecile," she called to the woman at the window, "go and bring your sister to these gentlemen."

The younger woman dried her eyes and left the room.

Celeste came in slowly, listlessly. It gave me a shock to see the pallor of her face. Then she glanced up and saw Royce standing there. She drew in her breath with a quick gasp, a great wave of color swept over her cheeks and brow, a great light sprang into her eyes.

"Oh, John!" she cried and swayed toward him.

He had her in his arms, against his was already out of sight, and we heart, and the glad tears sprang to

"And I have come to take you away, my love," he was saying.

"Oh, yes; take me away," she sobbed. She stopped, her eyes on the window seat, where "the other" lay, and the color died out of her cheeks again.

"He, at least, has paid the penalty," said Royce.

She was sobbing helplessly upon his shoulder, but as the moments passed she grew more calm and at last stood upright from him. The younger woman had come back into the room and was watching her curiously.

"Come, let us go," said the girl. But Royce held back.

"There has been a crime committed," he said slowly. "We must see that it is punished."

"A crime? Oh, yes; but I forgive them, dear."

"The crime against yourself you may forgive, but there was another crimemurder"-

"There was no murder!" burst in 'ecile Alix. "I swear it to yeu, mon-Fieur. Do you understand?"

i saw Miss Holladay wince at the other's voice, and Royce saw it too.

"I must get her to the inn," he said. Stay and get the story, Lester. Then we'll decide what it is best to do." He led her away, out of the house and down the path, not once looking back. I watched them till the trees hid them, and then turned to the women.

"Now," I said, "I shall be happy to hear the story."

"It was that man yonder who was the cause of it all," began the mother, clasping her hands tightly in her lap to keep them still. "Four years ago he came from Paris here to spend the summer-he was ver ill-his heart. We had been living happily, my daugh-

He fell back and down.

word, his face grew purple, monsieur, and he fell forward on his desk, on his hand, on the knife which was clasped in it. I tried to check the blood, but could not, it poured forth in such a stream. I knew not what to do. I was distracted, and in a frenzy I left the place and hurried to our lodgings. That is the truth, monsieur; believe me." "I do believe you," I said.

"It was then," went on her mother, that that man yonder had another inspiration. Before it had been onlywhat you call-blackmail-a few thou- parture tomorrow and all wish her sands, perhaps a pension. Now it was something more. He was playing for a greater stake. I do not know all that he planned. He found Celeste suspected of having killed her father. He must get her released at any cost, so he wrote a note"-

"Yes!" I cried. "Yes, of course; I see. Miss Holladay under arrest was beyond his reach."

"Yes," she nodded. "so he wrote a note. Oh, you should have seen him in those days! He was like some furious wild beast. But after she was set free Celeste did not come to us as she had promise. We saw that she suspected us, that she wish to have nothing more to do with us. So Victor commanded that I write another letter, imploring her, offering to explain." She stopped a moment to control herself. "Ah. when I think of it! She came, mon-

(To be Continued.)

Have your printing done at the Gazette office. We give you quick service and save you money.

Amity. The meeting is to con- moving out on his frait farm. tinue, however and Rev. Elayer, of Independence, has been engaged to conduct the services next week. He is a forcible speaker and will which he returns to his home at no doubt attract the public. United Evangelical church next Sunday. Rally Day This is the last Sunday of the conference year and the presence of every member is much desired. Sunday school at ten a. m., preaching at eleven. The reception of members will be a special feature of this service Afternoon fellowship meeting at three. Christian Endeavor at 6:30 ing subj-ct "The Joy of Triumph." Evening subject, "Heart Power." This is the pastor's last Sunday in to meet every member if possible as tongue.

some matters of interest are to be presented.

children will start East for the old home at West Point, Nebraska, where she will visit a few months during which time her husband will investigate conditions in California. Mr. Herse departed for Eureka, California, during the first of the week. Many friends will sincerely regret Mrs. Herse's dea pleasant visit and future prosperity.

Subject of sermon at Christian church Sunday morning, "The Call of the will locate it near the Wyatt place. Christ." Evening, "The Fall and Redemption of Man."

Judge C. A. Shelbrede, of Coos county, was in Corvallis yesterday in the interests of his candidancy for republican nomination for governor. Whoever wins, by it somebody else, the Judge will support Congregational church, Sunday schoat ten o'clock, worship and sermon 11:00 Junior Endeavor 3:00, Senior Endeavor 6:30. Music according to the standard of this church will be rendered at each service. There will be services at Ply-

The San Francisco Chronicle, speaking of Mr. Warde says, Frederick Warde building some new feuc e preparatory to Willard Cauthorn has let the contract ot building his new residence at Wells to Report Snell, of Albany.

Say boy, what do you think of statement No. 1.

Antone Luther was a Corvallis caller Tuesday.

> W. L. Cauthorn returned to his home in Wells, Thursday. He has been laid up the most of the winter with rheuma tism, but is able to be around again. Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson spent Sugday with friends in Albany.

The former Mrs. Yerkes seems to be and evening service at 7:30. Morn- having about as much trouble breaking in her young husband as a farmer has in breaking in a young colt. The size of a man's mouth is no indithe church year and he would like cation of the working capacity of his Old maids unturally wonder if bachelors will be as selfish and sting, Tomorrow Mrs. Otto Herse and in Heaven as they are on earth.

> The life of the average woman is divided into two long dreams. In girlhood she dreams of the happy little cottage home she will have when she becomes a wife, and atter she becomes a wife she dreams of the happy home she had when she was a girl.

School District No. 43, better known as Cloverdale, has petitioned the county school board for a division of the dis-They intend building a good house and

"otice to Creditors.

Notice is here by given that the undersigned as been duly appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Bentou County, administrator of the estate of Henry County, administrator of the estate of Henry Holroyd, deceased. All persons having claims against said est ute are hereby required to present the same it the office of J. F. Yates. properly verified us by law required, at Cor-vallis, Gregon, within six months from the date hereof.

Dated this 13th day of February, 1906. W. S. McFadden Administrator of the Estate of Henry Hol royd, deceased.

Is the Moon Inhabited.

Science has proven that the moon has not for human beings, who have a hard has added to his laurels one which pro- time on this earth of ours; especially claims him beyond a doubt a Shakes- those who don't know that Electric Bitpearean recitalist of the most agreeable aria, Chills and fever, Jaundice, Dyspeptype. Last evening he held spellbound sia, Dizziness, Torpid Liver, Kidney for nearly two and one half hours a vast Complaint, General Deability and female Colcy's Kidney Cure and biaster cight 13.

ments; curbing made to order; cleaning and reparing done neatly : save agent's commission. Shep North Main St., Frank Vanhoosen, Prop. 92th

House Decorating.

FOR PAINTING AND PAPERING SEE W. E. Paul, Ind. 488

A Lucky Postmistress.

Is Mrs. Alexander, of Carv, Me., who has found Dr. Kings New Life Piles to be the best remedy she over tried for keeping the stomach, Liver and Bowels in perfect order. You'll agree with herif you try these painless purifiers that in-fuse new life. Guaranteed by Allen &-Woodward druggists. Price 25c.

Soon to Come Up.

Senator Fulton expects soon tobe forced into a struggle in the Senate, against the repeal of the Timber and Stone act. It has been reported that the Committee on Public Lands, and champions of this rolicy intend to get the bill to a vote if possible trict on account of the old house being this session. Senator Fulton to small to accommodate the pupile. has gathered data showing the unappropriated land in Oregon to be about 20,000,000 acres, a considerable portion of which is timber, and he is also ready to prove to the senate that most Oregon timber land when at a moderate altitude, is susceptible of more profitable uses than forestry.

His figures show that if the government allows the state only 10 per cent of the funds derived from timber sales and keeps all of the range leasing charge, some form possible on that satellite; but Oregon will profit only at the rate of 2 or 3 cents an acre per year. With the support that is expected from Washington, also heavily timbered west of the Cascades, the Oregon senator hopes to have the domain of his. state kept open to private entry and development.

them. He is an affable gentleman.

mouth at 3:00 o'clock,