

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Born, Monday, to Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, of this city, a daughter.

George Schneider, of Eugene, has been a Corvallis visitor this week.

Miss Olive Thompson went to Newport Monday for a visit of indefinite length.

E. D. Skaggs and daughter, of Box, were visitors in Corvallis the first of the week.

Clare Hollenberg, of OAC, was confined at home several days this week with illness.

Lost—Monday, somewhere in Corvallis, a pair of glasses in case. Finder please leave at this office.

Mrs. Roy Avery, of Portland, has returned home, after a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Pernot, in this city.

Miss Madge Baldwin resumed her position at Kline's, Tuesday, after a week's illness with measles.

A new sidewalk has just been constructed along the west side of the Jacobs property, on Fourth street.

Mrs. Harry Green was to arrive yesterday from Mill City, for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jennie Greer.

Clarence Hartley left Wednesday for his home in Portland, after a few days, visit with Corvallis relatives.

Mrs. J. P. Logan, of Kings Valley, was the guest this week of her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Horning, in this city.

Bert Lacey has purchased six lots in block 16, Avery and Wells addition, from Mrs. Snyder. The deal was made by Robinson, Stevenson & Co.

Ben Elgin, who has spent the winter in Corvallis attending the OAC, left Tuesday, for Wenatchee, Wash., to accept a position in a drug store.

Miss Pauline Kline arrived from Portland Monday night where she was called by the illness of her little nephew.

The street sprinkler has changed hands the past few days. John Ingle purchased it of West Newton who has operated the business for some time.

Thomas Taylor and Mr. Claunch, of Lobster Valley, were in town Wednesday and purchased a cream separator, the first to be taken to their section.

A marriage license was issued Saturday to A. H. Holmes and Miss Laura E. Saffley, both of Fairmount precinct. The wedding took place Sunday at Fairmount.

A very attractive concert program is to be rendered by the young Presbyterians in their church, May 16. Ticket sale beginning immediately.

Among former Corvallisites this the Macabee excursion in this city Sunday were noticed Misses Mabel Sheasgreen, and Minnie Woldt, Paul Cauthorn, Otto Woldt and Ernest Sheasgreen.

A ten-acre tract of land near the Woodcock dairy was sold this week by Mr. Andrews to M. Sprague. The sale was negotiated by Amber and Watters and the price paid was $3,000.

The Woodmen excursion to Salem and return, Sunday, promises to be liberally patronized. The steamer Pomona will carry the crowd, leaving Corvallis at 6 a. m. and leaving Salem on the return at 3 p. m. The round trip fare is $1.

Mrs. A. J. Hall, who went to Albion, Wash., recently in the hope of benefiting her health, is considerably improved by the change and it is hoped that she will soon be fully restored to health. She is at the home of her son, Dr. J. F. Hall.

The pastor's subject for next Sunday morning at the M. E. church is "The Ministry of the Task." Evening subject, "The Christian in Politics." A short prelude on the "Smiths and Creffields of Society" will be given in the evening.

Indications point to a large attendance on the senior-rhododendron excursion to Newport a week from next Saturday, May 19th. It appears that everybody and his neighbor is planning to go, and enjoy six hours on the beach. The band will be on board. Fare $1.50 as usual.

The Coffee Club celebrates the 23rd anniversary of its organization on the 28th., and preparations are already being made to fittingly observe the event. The ladies will entertain their friends during the afternoon of that day, a program and refreshments being the features. In the evening a shirt waist party will be given, dancing to be the amusement.

E. J. Garrow was a Salem visitor Tuesday.

George Plaster, the barber, was a Salem visitor this week.

O. J. Blackledge was a Portland business visitor Tuesday.

W. D. DeVarney, of Portland, was a Corvallis visitor Wednesday.

A force of men were busily engaged Tuesday in cleaning Main street. A passer-by mealy suggested that the city election was drawing near.

Among those from a distance who attended the republican rally in this city Tuesday night were Joseph and Lewis Edwards of Bellefontain and James Pfouts, of Monroe.

There is a smart old man over in Kings Valley. He is John Miller, eighty-three years of age, and for most of those years a resident of Benton county. Despite his advanced age, Mr. Miller has this spring done 50 acres of slashing, and he did it about as quickly as any young man could have done it.

Mrs. Helen D. Harford, lecturer and organizer for the National Woman's Suffrage Association, was to deliver an address at the court house last night after the Gazette press hour. Mrs. Harford is a noted speaker on the subject of woman's suffrage, and her address was no doubt up to her usual standard.

The Epworth League is to give an ice cream social at Simpson's chapel on Friday night, May 18th. Ice cream and cake will be served for 10 cents, and the public is invited. Simpson's chapel is a few miles south west of Monroe, and in a neighborhood of cordial people, which is assurance that all who attend will enjoy the occasion.

Articles of incorporation were filed at the clerk's office Monday by the Corvallis Meat Company. The incorporators are J. C. Hammel, E. R. Bryson and George F. Brown, and the capital of the firm is quoted at $5,000. This is the Lilly meat market, which changed hands a few days ago, and Carl Porter, it is stated, is to operate the shop for the new owners.

Miss Emma Thompson has sold a lot belonging to her at Nye Creek, to Charles Walker. Things are reported as booming over at Newport, much property changing hands and the price of property has advanced very materially since last year. Inability to secure lumber has retarded the building movement considerably, but there are new sidewalks everywhere, and the place generally is on the boom, with prospects of a larger summer traffic than ever before.

Miss Agnes Wilson is again about 33,000 votes in the lead, in the 11th, district of the Oregonian popularity contest, and her friends confidently believe that she will secure the coveted honor, which is a free trip to the Yellowstone National Park. The contest closes June 1st, and one young lady from Corvallis, La Grande or Hood River will go on the journey. Renew your subscription a couple of years in advance, vote the free coupons in your paper, and help send the Corvallis candidate to see the sights of Yellowstone.

A traveling man asserted Tuesday that grain sacks are going to be worth ten cents each before harvest is over this year, and says that it will be hard to get them at that price. He bases his statement on the fact that the supply was largely destroyed in San Francisco, and that the material which is manufactured abroad cannot now be gotten to the United States and made into sacks in time for the harvest, especially in California, where the grain harvest comes in July. It is affirmed that even second hand grain sacks will be in demand, and all having them should not destroy a single one.

It is probable that a musical recital will be given in this city sometime during the present month by Mrs. Alice B. Marshall, who is an ex-pupil of Prof. Stewart, and who is highly recommended as an artist by Clarence B. Eddy and others. Mrs. Marshall holds a medal which was awarded her at the St. Louis exposition, a diploma received at the World's fair at Chicago, and diplomas from several leading conservatories of music. Mrs. Marshall is the wife of Rev. Marshall, ex-pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Rock Island, Illinois, now in Oregon for his health. At present, Rev. Marshall is pastor of the Oak Grove church. The recital will occur at the M. E. church and will be a treat rarely afforded Corvallis music lovers. Further particulars will appear later.

To Assist Mitchell.

Throughout the states of Oregon and Washington there is an intense feeling of sympathy for and endorsement of the action of George Mitchell in slaying Edmund Creffield. Mr. Mitchell is a poor young man and he needs financial assistance. Many of our prominent citizens are taking the initiative and are contributing.

"The Gazette" will receive contributions and receipt for the same.

Help the boy in his trouble.

THE HORSE SHOW.

Every Farmer Should Lend a Hand.

The horse show committee has again settled itself in the collar for the last pull that is to bring off the show June 1st and 2nd. A hold-up committee was interviewing our business men last week on the subject of expenses, with results which showed that notwithstanding the fact that the San Francisco contributions were barely off their hands, they were, nevertheless, ready to assist a meritorious home enterprise when necessary.

A pamphlet containing the premium list and regulations is in the hands of the printer and five hundred copies of the same will be mailed in a few days. At the present high prices, no exhibition ought to attract more attention than a show of good horses, and of these notwithstanding the constant drain toward the cities, Benton and adjoining counties still have enough to make a magnificent exhibit if they are brought together. In the stallion class Corvallis is favored with an especially fine lot of animals this spring. The roadsters would be hard to beat in any prize ring, and all the prominent draft breeds are represented by unusually fine specimens of their class.

A great deal of interest in the show will doubtless center around the black percheron stallions brought here by T. K. Fawcett—one of which has been sold to a company of farmers. Both are fine animals and the competition of their colts in the show will make a very pretty contest. Mr. Fawcett offers a special prize of $10.00 for the best colt from his horse Potache, $5.00 for the second best, and an additional prize of $10.00 for the best suckling draft colt of any breed.

Fanion, the other black percheron has the advantage of having colts a year older than those of Potache. It is from this older crop of Fanion colts that the Whitaker and Sol King colts came and there are several others in the country that promise to give either of the above named colts a hard run for first money.

Premiums will be offered in both draft and roadsters classes for the best brood mare, to be shown with two colts, quality of both mare and colts to be considered. Here is a chance for another close contest. Doubtless the favorite in the draft class at the present time is the Whitaker mare—the mother of the noted Fanion colt. This is an animal of medium size but as a brood mare she has proven a wonder. C. G. Davis has a 1,500 pound mare from the old Hector horse that can show a Cannock Oak two years old that weighs close to 1,100, a Fanion yearling between 900 and 1,000 pounds and a good suckling colt. George Cooper has another Hector mare that would show well in this class. She is larger than either the Davis or Whitaker mare and has raised some magnificent colts. If enough of these remain in the country to render her eligible for entry she will be a hard competitor.

A. R. Locke has a brood mare that will be close to the first money, when the premiums are awarded. In fact there are enough fine horses in Benton county alone to fill every class, and make a splendid show if the owners will take the trouble to exhibit them.

This is a farmers' show, and the farmers' opportunity. Bring in your good horses and colts. Advertise them. Let us see what you have. Don't hesitate on account of the trouble of putting them in "show condition." A month in a good pasture at this season of the year will put any young animal in good enough condition, besides it is the intention to have judges who will attach little or no importance to fat in judging the qualities of a horse.

In an article on the necessity of breeding better horses in Oregon the Oregonian recently stated "Corvallis, in instituting its annual horse show, is doing a service to the state. Object lessons discount talk, spoken or printed."

Additional Local.

The Eclectic Business University, Albany, Oregon, will hold its Third Annual Commencement exercises, May 18th, at 8 p. m. At this time a very fine program will be rendered. The graduates from Corvallis are Pheobe Lamberson, Lulu Rice, Bessie Kate Caldwell, Mary Delmore, and Grace Lowell. The full program will appear in the next issue of the Gazette. Corvallis people are cordially invited to be present. Prof. I. E. Richardson speaks very highly of the work done by the Corvallis Business College students, and says the outlook for the next year is very bright. He is already planning for the next year's work. Miss Emma Yoder will be retained as principal of the Corvallis business college for next year. The students speak most highly of her work.

The Measurements Of RALSTON HEALTH SHOES are Right

The laws that govern foot-structure are applied to the making of all Ralston Health Shoes. Every part of a Ralston is in proper proportion to every other part.

That means Ralston Health Shoes don't distort or vary the natural, structural lines of the foot to achieve style. They are the most stylish shoes on the market, yet they never depart from the hygienic principle of nature-proportions. Ralstons will feel like home to your feet. They fit the feet at the start--no need of breaking in.
