

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. M. M. Davis was a Portland visitor Friday, on business.

S. L. Henderson returned Friday from a business trip to Seattle.

Clarence Hartley, of Portland, is in the city this week, visiting relatives.

Claud Starr arrived yesterday from The Dalles, on a visit to relatives.

Phillip Gearhart and Miss Nellie Marvin spent Sunday with friends in Tangent.

Walter Wells, of Portland, spent Sunday and Monday with relatives in Coryallis.

Tommy Bilyeu, a former Corvallis boy, was in Corvallis Sunday and Monday.

"Cart" Toxel came home from the Bay Saturday, to cast his ballot in this city.

Horace Lilly came up from McMinnville, Sunday, to take part in the Benton election.

Mrs. J. F. Yates is to entertain this evening for her young men boarders and their lady friends.

Misses Bessie and Rae Smith, of Salem, were the guests of Corvallis friends from Friday until Sunday.

Miss Carrie Nichols, a former Corvallis girl, is visiting in this city with friends. She resides in Portland.

Louis Fischer was over from Silverton a couple of days last week. He says business is good with the milling business in Silverton.

The Order of Washingtons had a fine time at their hall last night, with initiation of candidates, a banquet and a good time in general.

The regular meeting night of the Corvallis Fire Department has been changed from the first Monday to the last Tuesday of each month.

H. A. Hirschaw, traveling freight agent for the Southern Pacific Company, paid Corvallis a visit a few days ago in the interest of his company.

W. H. Robinson and family are to leave in about three weeks for Dakota, their old home, to remain. During their residence in this city the Robinsons have made many sincere friends, who regret the departure of this estimable family.

One of the finest bunch of animals seen at the horse show were three broodmares, accompanied by their colts, from the Gellatly ranch. Robert Gellatly had charge of the bunch and while the animals were not separate prizewinners, they presented a fine appearance as a group.

Mrs. Ira Bodine was expected home yesterday from a three months' visit with Eastern relatives. Mrs. Bodine was on the way to Corvallis when the washout occurred between Pendleton and Baker City, and she was sent around through Sacramento, which prolonged the journey considerably.

The republican rally at the court house Saturday night was largely attended and good spirit prevailed. Most of the republican candidates were present and spoke, the principal speaker being Frank Motter, of Portland. The Summit band furnished music, which added to the enthusiasm of the occasion.

Interest is lively in the musical cantata "On Shore and Sea" to be given at the opera house Thursday evening by the vocal department of OAC. The cast includes many of the best known soloists in the city, and the entire scheme and arrangement of the play is different from anything given in this city in recent years. Tickets will be on sale at Graham & Wortham's drug store, an admission of 15 cents being charged in order to defray expenses.

At the opera house Saturday evening another large class of public school graduates received diplomas and stepped out into the world of action. "Not to the top, but climbing" was their motto, which signified that they were not content with present achievements, but would press on to the higher colleges and universities. The scene at the opera house was one of beauty and brightness, an abundance of June blossoms adding color and fragrance. Speeches were made by Superintendent Denman, and Prof. Holmes offered a few remarks in closing. Superintendent Denman presented the diplomas to both the 8th and 9th grade graduates. Music by the orchestra was a feature, and the entire occasion was enjoyable, the largest crowd being present that has ever attended a public school commencement in this city. Each pupil who appeared on the program did credit to himself and to the teachers who had trained him.

Mrs. Carl Hodes has been seriously ill for several days.

Miss Eda Jacobs arrived home Friday from an extended visit in Portland.

Clarence Ireland arrived home Saturday from a business trip to Portland.

Hugh McFadden left a day or two ago for California to remain indefinitely.

John Coffee of Monroe, was a Corvallis visitor Friday, and took in the horse show.

Mrs. W. H. Hogan and daughter, of Albany, visited Corvallis relatives the last of the week.

The J. W. Ingle residence is being given a fresh coat of paint, A. E. Lewis being the artist.

Matt Wilhelm, of Monroe, was among those who attended the horse show in this city, Friday.

Marion Hayden returned to Corvallis, Friday, from Portland, and left Sunday for his home in Aisea.

Mrs. Susan Starr came in from Bellefontaine, Saturday, and will remain for the present in this city.

The Corvallis band went to Albany Saturday afternoon, where they played for the big rally that evening.

The Junior League of the M. E. church held a picnic in Avery's grove Saturday and everyone had a jolly time.

Sam Eddy, of Blodgett, was a Corvallis visitor Saturday. Sam formerly clerked in the Horning grocery in this city, and many friends were glad to see him again.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis H. Stovall, of Grants Pass are to arrive tomorrow for a visit with Corvallis friends and Benton relatives. They will remain until about the 20th.

J. E. Banton, of Aisea, leaves immediately for London, Oregon, where he has purchased a store and will engage in the merchantile business. Mr. Banton has leased his place in Aisea.

Mrs. A. D. Morrison arrived Friday from Carlton, to spend several months at the home of her father, W. S. Linnville. Dr. Morrison has gone East, to take a post graduate course in a medical college.

Bicyclists should take warning and keep off the sidewalks. The time for riding on the walks expired June 1st. Friday a complaint was lodged with Chief Lane by Bryant Young for the arrest of Rey. Green, who had forgotten the fact that the time had expired.

The members of the Amicitian literary society of OAC gave a picnic Saturday, their guests being the young ladies of the Sorosis society. The crowd went out beyond Philomath, the trip being on a hayrack, and to say that everyone had a good time is putting it mildly.

Another pipe organ recital is to be given by Prof. Taillandier at college chapel June 11th, at 8:30. He will be assisted by pupils of the eleccionary department and the price of admission will be only 25 cents. It is probable that many who failed to attend the former recital will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to attend this one.

Rehearsals are going on regularly for the musical drama "On Shore and Sea" that is to be given Thursday evening at the opera house by the vocal department of OAC, directed by Mrs. Green.

The entertainment is out of the ordinary and will, judging from the cast, be of unusual excellence. Everyone, it appears, is planning to attend it.

The "Rose Carnival" given Thursday and Friday nights by the Presbyterian ladies at the opera house attracted immense crowds and the affair was in every respect a success. "Aunt Jerusha's Quilting Party," given the first evening, is said to have been exceedingly funny and those who made up the cast won general praise for their acting. The chicken pie dinner given Friday noon was largely patronized, and up to Saturday night the proceeds of the carnival amounted to $226.25, with some money yet outstanding.

The Pierian and Jeffersonian literary society members, of OAC, went to the Bellefontaine picnic Saturday, and it is safe to say that no crowd had a better time. There were two hay racks, one trailing behind the other, and six horses to haul the load, over sixty being in the party. An amusement indulged in on the way to the picnic, was throwing water on people in passing vehicles, a huge can of water being taken for the purpose. In one or two instances people were drenched in passing the hay rack aggregation, a fact enjoyed by the latter but caused the victims less enjoyment.

BEGINS THURSDAY.

The OAC Commencement Program of Events.

Commencement week at the Oregon Agricultural college is always an important and eventful time in this little city, and during that period there is both sadness and gladness in the very atmosphere.

With commencement and graduation, the seniors who for years have been a part of the town and a very large factor in all social affairs, bid farewell to old friends and old class mates and separate never again to be the same part in the same scene again. On the other hand, the highest aspirations have become a reality, and they are naturally happy over the victory won. A this time, too, many former students return to renew old friendships, and thus, throughout the week, there is bustle and merriment, and afterwards the summer calm.

Beginning at the opera house, the week's events will be as follows:

Thursday, June 7, 8:30 p. m. at the opera house, Department of Vocal Music, "On Shore and Sea," a dramatic cantata.

Saturday, June 9, 8:30 p. m., chapel, debate, Pierian and Jeffersonian societies for the cup.

Sunday, June 10, 10:45 a. m., Armory, Baccalaureate sermon, Rt. Rev. Frederick W. Keator, D. D., Bishop of Olympia.

Monday, June 11, 2:30 p. m., Armory, Physical Culture drill. 8:30 p. m., Chapel, Organ recital with Elocutionary exercises.

Tuesday June 12—Class Day—10:00 a. m., campus, parade and skirmish drill, cadet regiment. 2:00 p. m., campus, class day exercises. 3:30 p. m., athletic field, Faculty-Senior baseball game. 8:30 p. m., opera house, Senior entertainment.

Wednesday, June 13, 10:00 a. m. at Armory, graduating exercises. Address by Rev. William G. Elliot, Jr., of Portland, Oregon. 2:00 p. m., chapel, meeting of the alumni.

Death of Con Sullivan.

Con Sullivan, who for many years was a resident of Corvallis, died at his home in Albany Saturday morning. The following biography is taken from the Albany Herald.

Cornelius Sullivan, one of the best known men in Albany, superintendent of the Corvallis & Eastern railroad and known as one of the best railroad men in his line in the Pacific northwest, died suddenly at about 3 o'clock Saturday morning of heart trouble after an illness of but a few hours. Deceased had been ailing somewhat for the past year, but recently he was much improved and attended to the duties of his position regularly. On Friday he was on the east end of the line, returning in the evening. Later he was at the station and walked downtown apparently in his usual health, and he remarked that he felt well. He retired early, but during the night complained of pain, and his stepson, Charles Fox, waited on him and brought remedies asked for. After that he fell asleep, but during the early morning hours a noise from his room brought Mrs. Sullivan to his side when he was found lying over the foot of the bed in a dying condition. Dr. W. H. Davis was hastily called, but was unable to do anything for Mr. Sullivan who breathed his last about the time the physician arrived.

Mrs. Sullivan's sons, Clyde Fox, station agent at Yaquina, and Louis Fox agent at Toledo, arrived on the noon train yesterday, and Mr. Sullivan's nephew, Harry Trinwith, a railroad official of Eureka, is expected to reach here on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased leaves a widow and small son, three step-sons and one step-daughter to mourn his sad and untimely death.

Mr. Sullivan was a native of Ireland and came to the United States when but a youth about 36 years ago. He early began railroading, working on several roads in Iowa. Later he came to the coast, rising rapidly in railroad work, and in 1889 he came to this Valley and became foreman of a work train on the Oregon Pacific, now the C. & E., when that line was built to Albany. He soon became roadmaster, and in 1894, when Edwin Stone became manager of the road, Mr. Sullivan was appointed superintendent, which position he filled from that time until his death. He was noted as one of the best railroad builders in the west, very popular with his subordinates and the general public, a good citizen and husband. Mr. Sullivan leaves a large estate in this city and county and considerable property in other counties in the state. Among his possessions are the Albany street car line and the telephone line between Yaquina and Newport, the first line built in Lincoln county.

Mr. Sullivan was a Mason, a Knight Templar and an Elk. The funeral will probably be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, one of the orders having charge, and interment will either be in this city or in Mount Angel.

The railroad men about the C. & E. station and offices were shocked when they heard of the superintendent's death yesterday and they mourned him as one near and dear to them, all of them expressing their deep sense of loss. The engines were dressed in mourning and the coaches of the bay train on arrival here at noon were found to be decorated with long streamers of black crepe, the crew having secured the material and placed it on the cars at Corvallis.
