

If you have 125 loads of manure to spread and you are going to plant 25 acres of corn or wheat have a 25 acre meadow we will tell you how you can increase the value of your crop this year from $4,00 to $8.00 per acre or more than enough to pay for a spreader. We issue a 48-page book entitled "Practical Experience With Barnyard Manures," which explains the whole situation.

Our Plan is not a theory. It is an actual fact, backed up by actual experiments extending over a period of 18 years. To give you an idea of what this book contains, we show results of experi-ments made with various crops where 5 loads of manure were spread per acre by the old method. and 5 loads by the new method, on corn ground. The latter shows a gain of $4.80 per acre. On another field and in another state, it shows a gain of $5.60 per acre, and on a clover and timothy meadow, a gain of $8.00 per acre.

This Book will be sent free to anyone writing us. It is worth $100.00 to you, but it won't cost you a cent. If it doesn't do you any good, it won't do you any harm. Write us now and let us mail you a cent.

beater while loading; prevents choking of beater and throwing out a bunch when starting and acts as wind shield when spreading. It has a graduating lever and can be regulated while in motion to spread thick or thin, 3 to 25 loads per acre.

Light Draft because the load is nearly equally strong, regardless of co.t. It is made for the man beater while load in four sizes, 35, 50.

Guarantee Should any part break, wear out or get out of order withir one year we replace free of charge. Send for free catalog, showing latest improvements. It tells how to apply manure to secure best results.

Spreads all kinds of manure, straw stack bottoms and commercial fertilizer regardless of their condition. Spreads as much tin a day as 15 men can by hand. Spreads as much tin a day as 15 men can by hand. Spreads the largest load in 2 to 4 minutes. Makes the same amount of manure 200 three times as fi.r and produce better results; makes all manure fine and immediately available for plant life.

Non-Bunchable Rake forms a hopper, holds all hard chunks in contact with beater until thoroughly pulverized.

Endless Apron is one continuous apron, (not a 2 apron) therefore always re idy to load. You don't have to drive a certain distance to pull it back into position after each load or wind it back by hand; it is a great advantage in making long thanks.

There is no Gearing about our Endless Apron to break and cause trouble, it is always up out of the way of obstructions as it does not extend below axle. Spreads evenly from start to finish and cleans out perfectly clean.

Hood and End Gate keeps manure away from beater while loading; prevents choking of beater and throwing out a bunch when starting and acts as wind shield when spreading. It has a gradualing laver and can be regulated while in mostion to spread thick or thin, 3 to 25 loads per of charge. Send for free catalog, showing latest improvements. It tells how to apply manure to improvements.

Write just these words on a postal card or in a letter—"Send me your book 'Practical Experience with Barnyard Manures' and catalogue No.1758" They will be mailed to you free. Do it now before you haul your manure or prepare for any crop. Smith Manufacturing Co., 162 Harrison St., Chicago

Lincoln's Youth Early Manhood

By WARD HILL LAMON, His Friend, Intimate and Bodyguard

"The next day was speaking at Berlin. He went from my house with Dr. Barnett, the man that had asked me who this man Lincoln was. I told him that he was a candidate for the legislature. He laughed and said, 'Can't the party raise no better material than that?' I said, 'Go tomorrow and hear all before you pronounce judgment. When he came back I said, 'Doctor, what say you now? 'Why, sir,' said he, 'he is a perfect take in. He knows more than all of them put together."

Lincoln got 1,376 votes, Dawson 1.370, Carpenter 1,170, Stuart 1,164. Lincoln was at last duly elected a representative by a very flattering majority and began to look about for the pecuniary means necessary to maintain his new dignity. In this extremity he had recourse to an old friend named

ing for Offutt, a stranger came into the store and soon disclosed the fact that his name was Smoot. Abe was behind the counter at the moment; but, hearing the name, he sprang over and introduced himself. Abe had often heard of Smoot, and Smoot had often heard of Abe. They had been as anxious to

"After he was elected to the legisla. play thing for boys. ture," says Mr. Smoot, "he came to my house one day in company with Hugh Armstrong. Says he, 'Smoot, did you vote for me?' I told him I did. 'Well,' says he, 'you must loan me money to make a decent appearance in the legislature. I then loaned him $200, which he returned to me according to promite Col. I. A. Manning and Miss Er-

The interval between the election and his departure for the seat of government was employed by Mr. Lincoln partly in reading, partly in writing.

Community of Freethinkers. The community in which he lived was pre-eminently a community of freethinkers in matters of religion, and it was then no secret, nor has it been a secret since, that Mr. Lincoln agreed with the majority of his associates in denying to the Bible the authority of divine revelation. It was his honest belief, a belief which it was no reproach to hold at New Salem, Anno Domini 1834, and one which he never thought of concealing. It was no distinction, either good or bad, no honor and no shame. But he had made himself thoroughly familiar with the writings of Paine and Volney-the "Ruins" by one burg. and "The Age of Reason" by the other. His mind was full of the subject, and he felt an itching to write. He did It was probably merely an extended essay, but it is ambitiously spoken of as "a book" by himself and by the persons who were made acquainted with its contents. In this work he intended to demonstrate-

"Secondly, that Jesus was not the Son of God." script to the store of Mr. Samuel Hill, where it was read and discussed. Hill was himself an unbeliever, but his son considered this book "infamous." It is 6th. more than probable that Hill, being a warm personal friend of Lincoln, feared that the publication of the essay would some day interfere with the political advancement of his favorite. At all events, he snatched it out of his hand and thrust it into the fire, from which not a shred escaped.
