

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Born, Thursday, to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mangas, a son.

M. M. Long spent Sunday with a friend in McMouth.

Fred Strake of Alesia was a Corvallis business visitor Friday.

Clarence Whitehead was the Sunday guest of a friend near Dallas.

Supt. Danman left Saturday for a two weeks' outing in Alesia valley.

Harold Woodcock arrived home Friday night from a ten day's visit in Portland.

Wade Malone, the Alesia merchant, was a business visitor in Corvallis Saturday.

Justice Boles of Philomath was among those who paid Corvallis a friendly visit Friday.

William Newman, a well-to-do farmer of Irish Bend, was a visitor in Corvallis Saturday.

Miss Margaret Herron of Irish Bend was the guest of Corvallis friends the last of the week.

Richard Turner and daughter expected to leave yesterday for a visit with Eastern Oregon relatives.

Fred Clark expects to leave this week to join his wife in Baker City and to visit relatives in various parts of Eastern Oregon.

A. L. Stevenson and wife moved the last of the week into their newly purchased home just west of the Dr. Pernot residence.

Hugh Baldwin of Winlock, Wash., a prominent mill man in his section, was in Corvallis Saturday, the guest of his cousin, Harley Hall.

Mrs. Clarence Albin of Philomath expected to return to her home in Philomath yesterday, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Burnap.

A new house is nearing completion on the O. L. Davis farm west of town. It is a neat, modern structure and adds much to the appearance of the farm.

M. M. Long sold a carload of last year's baled hay, Friday. The purchaser was Ira Bodine, and the car was shipped to the coast after being loaded at Philomath.

At the Christian church Friday night a reception was given to the new members. Ice cream was served and a good crowd of church people enjoyed the event.

Chas. S. Seeley was in Corvallis, Friday, and made final proof on his homestead in Alesia. His witnesses were Willis Vidito, Thomas Vidito, Thos. J. Carns and Virgil Vidito.

Henry Howell, a former Corvallis boy and a graduate of OAC, was in Corvallis Friday, having arrived from Portland where he took the civil service examination. He left on the afternoon train for his home in Toledo.

The lemon famine, mentioned elsewhere in these columns, brought the price of lemons up to 10 cents a glass at local counters. Drummers inform dealers that by the last of this week it will be impossible to secure lemons at all.

Mrs. O. W. Beckwith and daughter Cora left Saturday for Portland for a two weeks' stay. Mrs. Beckwith is a delegate to the Grand lodge, Degree of Honor, which meets in that city the 17th, 18th and 19th, and Miss Cora is to visit friends.

Frank Bullis has been awarded the contract for carrying the mail between Corvallis and Philomath, and made his first trip yesterday. The service is seven days per week, and conforms with the arrival of early trains between Albany and Corvallis.

There was a lemon famine in Corvallis the past few days. They could not be had by local dealers, as the supply in Portland was insufficient to meet the demand. The condition is attributed to the scarcity of lemons this year and to the increased demand due to the extremely hot weather.

It is already apparent that rent houses will be in greater demand in Corvallis this fall than ever before and at a higher rate of rent. There are few houses in town now that are not spoken for, and indications point to a greater demand than in previous years, although all houses are filled each autumn.

The druggists who had been in attendance at the annual pharmaceutical convention over at Newport last week were in Corvallis at the noon hour, Friday. It was the intention of Prof. McKellips to banquet them Friday evening at Hotel Corvallis, but they were in a hurry to get back to their places of business and did not stay over.

Mrs. Frank Isabel returned home Friday from a two weeks' outing at Newport.

Tom Reader and Robert Pfouts of Bellefontaine were in Corvallis, Friday, on business.

Mrs. Kate Tiedeman-Hewitt of Portland has been the guest for several days of her aunt, Mrs. Phillip Phile.

Levi Wooster was overcome by the heat Friday to the extent of being unable to work, and his day was operated by A. Kyle.

Jesse Simpson of Monmouth was an over-Sunday visitor at the W. P. Ireland home in this city.

Mrs. T. K. Fawcett and children arrived home Saturday from a two weeks' outing at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Kline arrived home yesterday morning from an extended business visit in San Francisco.

Miss Mabel Baker left Saturday for her home in Albany, after a several weeks' visit with her cousin, Miss Mabel Wood, in this city.

Miss Linnie Small and her uncle, Garret Long, returned home Friday from a visit in Linn county, thirty miles from Corvallis, with relatives.

J. H. Leiper, field secretary of the Sabbath Association, left Friday for McMinnville, after spending several days in Corvallis looking after work in his field.

John C. Ball made final proof before Clerk T. T. Vincent, Friday, on his homestead. The witnesses were Ernest Sapp, Thomas Taylor and G. S. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heckart gave a delightful lawn party Friday to a number of young friends. The usual features were enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

Before Clerk Vincent, Friday, Johan Strok made final proof on his Alesia homestead. The witnesses were G. T. Vernon, T. J. Phillips, M. J. Vernon and D. M. Carns.

The Gazette was misinformed relative to the city marble works being operated by Archibald and Vanhoosen, as Frank Vanhoosen is sole proprietor of the establishment.

Miss Stella Myers arrived home the last of the week from a two weeks' visit with relatives at McMinnville. The young lady resides near Bruce, in Southern Benton.

Mrs. Du Moulin moved Saturday from the place she has been occupying across the river, to her recently purchased residence, the "Bill" Francisco property in north Corvallis.

Marion Watkins, a mail carrier of Portland, who has been at his home near Philomath nursing an attack of measles, was in Corvallis, Friday, enroute to Portland to resume his duties.

Mrs. J. Fred Yates left Saturday for an outing of several weeks at Cascadia. She was joined yesterday by her sister, Mrs. W. A. Wells, and later Mrs. Walter Wiles will be a member of the camp.

About one hundred members of the Epworth and Junior Leagues of the M. E. church enjoyed the social given them at the church Friday evening by Rev. and Mrs. Feesee. A very happy time is reported.

David Junkin has returned home from a trip through Eastern Oregon. He resides a few miles east of Corvallis. In the country visited by him, Mr. Junkin states that the hot winds are ruining the crops, and that the damage will be great.

Miss Etta Wrenn, a teacher of The Dalles, arrived Friday night and is a guest of Miss Helen Holgate. Miss Wrenn is a daughter of John Wrenn, a Benton county pioneer, who resided, in years gone by, a mile or two south of Corvallis. Of a family of twelve children, eleven are still living.

Mr. Stubbiefield of Burns, Eastern Oregon, arrived in Corvallis the last of the week with 50 head of bunchgrass horses. He was located on the flat with the band, one of which he sold to a resident for $125. Mr. Stubbiefield expected to go on to Dallas, Saturday, where he had secured pasture for the horses.

W. G. Emery finished experting the books in the sheriff's office Saturday noon. With the use of the new adding machine, the task was accomplished in three and a half days, and during this time the books of County Superintendent Denman were also gone over. One column of figures 30 feet long and another column 40 feet long were added by the machine in a few hours last week and after checking and rechecking the long list the books and column lacked but 62 cents of balancing, Sheriff Burnett having paid 62 cents too much to the county. The task of experting the other books is now in progress over at the court house.

A letter from Frank Hubler and Cash Bryant, who left Corvallis a couple of weeks ago, states that they are now working with a combined harvester about 45 miles from Co-fax, Was.. They state they have a sixty-days' job at $3 per day and board.

THEY ARE APPOINTED.

Librarians for Benton County Schools—Who They Are.

Under the Library law passed at the last session of the legislature, Snp't Denman has appointed the following librarians of the several school districts of the county:

R. N. Williamson, H. Seifert, M. Rodgers, T. B. Williamson, C. R. Ballard, W. A. Schmidt, Lee Steppow, A. R. Locke, W. A. Buchanan, C. Wilde, E. E. Switzer, A. A. Newton, Walter Kisor, A. M. Gray, J. O. Wilson, W. H. Boles, J. M. Gilman, J. A. Tadlock, Geo. Winters, Jno. Whiteker, A. Buchanan, H. C. Herron Wm. Brian, C. Tracer, C. Trenholm T. J. Childs, M. H. Whitby, A. M. Bailey, J. S. Goviter, B. C. Wyatt, Storm Stronts, S. N. Warfield, W. H. Hammerly, Oliver Peacock, Jos. Bryant, Thos. Taylor, W. R. Read, O. S. Buntin, D. Ross Barclay, Max Winkler, D. J. Hood, J. P. Anderson H. H. Pament, Henry Harhm, H. J. Reese, Jas. Watson, H. G. Hastings, C. P. Willis, W. P. Hash, C. G. Davis, H. Horton, Emma Gellatly, I. T. Houston, Jas. Franklin, S. Bowen.

Improving Stage.

Theatre-goers will be surprised on visiting the opera house when this building is opened to the public on the appearance of the first attraction next fall. Frank Groves, manager of the opera house, is spending quite a bit of money in having new scenery painted.

The main drop curtain will prove a revelation. All remember the old curtain, which was good—the new one is far finer and more attractive. J. M. Deeds, of Eugene, painted the old curtain two or three years ago and he is the artist at present engaged. The new drop curtain is completed and the scene represented is Mt. Rainier from Lost Lake—it is beautiful and a silent testimonial to the ability of Mr. Deeds.

In addition to the above-mentioned curtain Mr. Deeds will paint the grand draperies and tormentors. He expects to complete the task by the last of the week. In this connection it is proper to state that Mr. Groves will book only first-class attractions for the coming season. Nearly all his bookings will be eastern talent.

Old Order Rescinded.

Heretofore an order of the county court has been in force to the effect that all claims of Benton county road supervisors must be published in a newspaper for three consecutive issues of said paper before the court would allow the claim. This was done in order that residents of the various districts might report discrepancies in the claims of the supervisors should any exist.

The new court, considering the fact that the various supervisors are under bonds and make oath to their claims, and that the matter of publishing said claims is an additional and unnecessary expense to the county, have rescinded the old order and hereafter will assume the responsibility of paying these claims as per law required. An order to this effect was made at the last meeting of the county court.

Additional Local.

Tom Graham left yesterday for the coast to join his parents in camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Headrick expect to go to Alesia tomorrow for a brief outing.

Bob Vidito and family left Sunday for Cascadia, where they will enjoy a three weeks' outing.
