Miss Florence Kohn of Portland arrived Tuesday and is a guest at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. M. Jacobs.

Subject of sermon at M. E. church, Sunday morning, "A Forward Command." At 8 p. m., "A Heroic Band."

W. H. Smith of Kings Valley made final proof on his homestead, this week, before County Clerk Vincent. The witnesses were H. T. Maxfield and F. J. Chambers.

Ike Porter and daughter of Bellefontaine were in Corvallis Tuesday to meet little Miss Porter of Portland, a 12-year old granddaughter who came to spend the summer.

The task of plastering the Gerhard book store is now on. Mr. Barker is the workman. The plastering was cracked and broken while the building was being moved to the new location.

Mrs. Iva Bartholomew of Wisconsin and Mrs. R. A. Tindall of Seio are in this city visiting relatives. The former is a cousin and the latter a grandmother of Miss Daisy Brown.

Dealers state that there is a scarcity of tents this summer, owing to the thousands that were shipped to San Francisco to provide shelter for the homeless refugees. Even in the large cities the supply of ready-made tents is insufficient to meet the demand, and local residents who own canvas are in luck.

J. J. Flett was Tuesday appointed by the county court administrator of the estate of Mrs. Ann Compton, deceased. The property is valued at $4,200 and James Flett is the only child. There is, however, a grandchild somewhere in California, address unknown, who will come in for a share of the estate.

Rev. Marshall will fill the pulpit at the M. E. church Sunday, both morning and evening, in the absence of Rev. Fees, who left Tuesday for a several weeks' vacation in Alesia. There will be services every Sunday at the Methodist church, at the regular hours, either by the pastor or a visiting pastor, and the public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Looney of Monroe were in Corvallis this week, and while here they leased the residence on Third street just vacated by Mrs. Downer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Looney will occupy the premises the first of September. They expect to keep a lodging house, having been in the hotel business at Monroe for a long time.

The order of Washingtons had a social time at their lodge room Tuesday night, ice cream and cake being served at the conclusion of the installation ceremonies. The new officers are: President, Norton Adams; Past President, W. H. Dilly; Vice, Mrs. Nancy Chipman; Sec'y, O. A. Tozier; treasurer, C. W. Levee; chap., J. W. Iogle; escort, Effie Kiger; ass't escort, Will Whiteside; sentinel, Bert Peters; guard, Bert Newton.

Daniel M. Ross, Jr., of Box, Lincoln county, and Miss Daisy Mabel Miller of Kings Valley were married at the court house by T. T. Vincent at nine o'clock Wednesday morning. Only the necessary witnesses were present. The young people will reside at Box. The bride is the youngest daughter of "Uncle" John Miller, a well-known farmer of Benton, and the groom is a respectable young rancher of Lincoln.

Miss Nita Conn of Albany is the guest for a week of Miss Helen Houston.

Grover Headrick and wife left Wednesday for a ten days' outing in Alesia valley.

H. M. Finley and daughter, Ada, of Irish Bend, visited friends in Corvallis, Wednesday.

The missionary societies of the United Evangelical church are to hold a missionary meeting tonight at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Hurd.

Mrs. S. N. Wilkins left yesterday for a visit with her son, Harold, in Portland, and with her father in The Dalles. She will be absent about two weeks.

While hauling hay Tuesday for Walter Taylor, W. W. Ashby had his load upset, throwing him violently to the ground. His ankle was so badly bruised that he is confined to his bed.

Mrs. Bert Hollister reached home a few days ago from a seven weeks' visit with relatives in the East. She had a delightful trip but says she is glad to get home, as "there is no place like Oregon."

Rev. C. T. Hurd and family expect to leave Tuesday for the bay to be absent until about the first of September. The pulpit at the United Evangelical church will, however, be supplied regularly.

Clarence Wilson's family expect to leave the last of this week for Oregon City to reside. Mr. Wilson is already in that city in the employ of Mr. Heistand, formerly of this city, who operates a laundry there.

Mrs. B. A. Cathey and daughter, Miss Marie, are to leave Sioux City, Iowa, next Monday on the return trip to their home in this city. They have been visiting relatives in Missouri and Illinois for two months.

Rev. E. F. Green arrived home Monday from a visit in Southern Oregon. Among other places he visited the Ashland Chautauqua, and states that there was a larger attendance than usual and a very fine meeting.

Jack Milne has secured a new lease on the S. L. Kline building which he now occupies. The lease is for a period that will justify Jack in making repairs and fitting his place in an inviting shape. Repairs have commenced and fixtures have been ordered from Portland.

The Junior Endeavor society of the Congregational church held its annual picnic Wednesday afternoon in Avery's Grove. The parents of the children and Mrs. A. E. Wilkins, the popular superintendent of the Junior society, were managers of the affair, which proved very enjoyable for all.

Henry Gerhard, Thomas Whitehorn and William Broders expect to leave within a few days for a trip by wagon south along the coast to the California line. Mr. Broders will likely quit the party at Coos Bay and return home, but the others will continue the journey and expect to be out for a couple of months. No finer trip of the kind can be conceived.

Nearly all of S. L. Kline's San Francisco household effects are now stored in this city and constitute a lot of house furnishings of great value. Mr. Kline's residence in the bay city was greatly damaged by the earthquake of three months ago, but is undergoing thorough repairs. It has been leased for a term of years and Mr. Kline will now make Corvallis his permanent home. In speaking of the conditions in San Francisco our townsman says that ten years hence visitors in San Francisco will see evidences of the havoc wrought by the earthquake and fire of May 18, 1906.

The plan for the building that the Taylor heirs are to erect on the location now occupied by the old Taylor meat market, are to be completed this week and work will begin as soon after as possible. The Taylors have just paid $500 for a half-interest in the Whitehorn wall that abuts on the site of the new building, and the late James Taylor owned a half interest in the F. L. Miller wall, on the other side. Consequently there will be less work in putting up the new structure as these walls will be utilized. The proposed building will be 23x100 feet, two stories high, and will be a decided improvement on that side of Main street.

Mrs. Amelia Schubert is visiting relatives at Monroe and enjoying a ten days' vacation.

Rumor says that a wedding is to occur not so many months hence, in which a prominent Corvallis young lady will wear the veil and an Eastern Oregon young man will pay for the minister's services. Now guess.

Windmills are a drug in the market in Corvallis, these days, since sparkling mountain water has become a part of the equipment of so many households. Many windmill owners are offering their mill at a ridiculously low figure, and even then there are no buyers.

Miss Agnes Wilson is to reach home today from the Oregonian free trip to the Yellowstone Park in Wooming. In a letter from her Wednesday Miss Wilson stated that at the Park she met Mrs. Bessie Barker-Harrison, an old-time student at OAC, and a cousin of Miss Ethel Linville. On the evening the letter was written the contest girls were given a grand ball at one of the Park hotels, and at dinner that evening there were 200 guests, showing that there are plenty of Americans who appreciate the famous natural resort. Wednesday the contest party was to reach Boise City, Idaho, where they were to take in the sights, being guests at one of the fine hotels of that city. The party reached Portland at 7:15 this morning.
