PARENTAL DUTY.
A Mr. Maltman Barrie, a member of the established Church of Scotland, recently in an English publication, denounces the claim of any parent to impart religious training and creedal teaching to his children. He admits it is the duty of a parent to provide for the physical and mental welfare of his child, and that such duty is rightfully enforced by laws; here, however, the law stops, and the religious training of the child is left altogether in the hands of the parent. The parent proceeds to impose his own religious creed upon the child, and thus interposes the greatest obstacle in the path of the child when it becomes a searcher after religious truth.

GOOD MANNERS.
It is hardly necessary to express the opinion that if the ghosts of our ancestors were to walk the earth today they would be shocked in many ways. If we shall judge the progress of the world by the manners of its people, it is not very apparent that we are even holding our own. Time was when good breeding was considered of some consequence in the world, and the manners of a person, in public and private, was indicative of his breeding. Perhaps in the matter of manners would the "shades" of our fathers and mothers receive the greatest shock.

LIAR.
In the not very remote past if one man desired to insult another sufficiently to engage him in combat it was only necessary for him to apply the term of "liar." To be called a liar was to have your veracity assailed, and no gentleman would submit to such an insult—we refer to past generations. It is different today. Moreover, the word "liar" seems not to mean what it used to.

Additional Local.
There will be communion service at Plymouth at 3 o'clock.
J. E. Johnson of Wrenn was in Corvallis yesterday after a supply of bladder twins.
Miss Frances Belknap arrived home Wednesday from a visit with Prof. and Mrs. McElfresh, in Salem.
Mrs. M. P. Barnett reached home Wednesday evening after a two month's visit with Baker City relatives.
H. C. Witham sold a magnificent span of horses a couple of days ago, for which he received the fancy price of $500.

Trust to Nature.
A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes.

necessary to admit a man or woman into good society one hundred years from now? It looks as though social customs would so change that a century hence "liar" would be an acceptable term of endearment.

After all creedal teaching is safer than no authoritative instruction. We cannot believe that children carefully taught to believe the creed of the Roman Catholic, the Presbyterian or the Methodist parent are likely to become Holy Rollers.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Headrick arrived home the first of the week from an outing in Alesia.
Miss Frances Belknap arrived home Wednesday from a visit with Prof. and Mrs. McElfresh, in Salem.
Mrs. M. P. Barnett reached home Wednesday evening after a two month's visit with Baker City relatives.

Work was resumed yesterday on the new office that the Willamette Valley Company is building in this city for their agent, Guy Clark. Operations had been delayed for some time, but the work will now be rushed to completion.

Congregational church: Sunday school at 10; worship and sermon at 11; Christian Endeavor at 7; vesper and sermon at 8. Morning sermon, "A Study of Facts—The Face of the Christ." Evening sermon, "The Great and Lasting Need of This World."

The Columbia Vitograph Co., with its fine $3,000 Edison machines, will give, at the Corvallis Opera House this, Friday evening, an exhibition of moving pictures depicting the great San Francisco disaster. The manager assures the public that the exhibition is first-class in every detail, and far superior to anything in this line seen here in the past.

These are dull days over at the county court house as well as elsewhere about town. People are apparently too busy to file deeds, make their wills, sue their neighbors for slander or do much of anything else to make times busy for the officials. About the only item to be secured Wednesday under the big clock was the issuing of a hunter's license to J. A. Archibald. This makes 104 licenses of the sort issued in 1906.

A Seattle dispatch of Tuesday says: Prosecuting Attorney Macintosh this morning gave out the statement that he would insist on Esther Mitchell and Mrs. Maud Creffield being brought to trial for the murder of George Mitchell. Mr. Macintosh will oppose any attempt to call a commission to examine into the mental condition of the women, but admits that he cannot prevent it under the law. The prosecuting attorney holds, however, that under a ruling of the State Supreme Court the result of the commission will be no bar to a criminal prosecution.

FIRED AT RANDOM.
"Holly Rolier" is the name of a candy offered for sale by local dealers. It is doubtless a seductive confection.

Corvallis is afflicted with too many men who sit in the shade and wonder what the future of the town will be.
Corvallis had a "cleaning-up day," but the odoriferous distinctiveness of some spots suggests that the work was not well done.

It took just two weeks for Bryan's mouth to talk its owner out of the "conservative class," into which he had been placed by some deluded "safe and sane" democrats.
In view of the means adopted by tipplers to get "family disturbance" in a prohibition town, a placard reading, "No packages delivered to minors," is suggested for display in express offices.

Statistics show that it costs the old-established churches about $200 to convert a $2 man with a soul no larger than a pea. And then to think this measly "brand snatched from the burning" is quite likely to backslide!
Russell Sage's widow planted the "dear departed" in a chilled steel, burglar-proof coffin costing $22,000. If "Uncle Russ" could hear down there of that expenditure his ghost would come back and haunt his relief as a punishment for such reckless extravagance.

The decision declaring unconstitutional the law exempting $300 in personal property from taxation falls heavily on the poor, it is announced. Can anyone recall a time in any country when the poor did not bear the burden of more than their just share of the taxes?
What has become of the good, old-fashioned girl who thought it wrong to use slang, blushed rosy when paid a deserved compliment, talked in a well-modulated voice, and avoided the public spotlight as a pestilence? It would be refreshing to meet one of her kind again.

The democratic wheel has been given another whirl and this time the finger points to Willie Hearst as the presidential nominee. Poor old democracy! It's a choice of two men only—one a discredited and repudiated jawbreaker, the other a mountebank who smirks and bows to the public from the reflected light of hired brains.

LETTER LIST.
The following letters remain uncalled for in the Corvallis postoffice, for the week ending July 12, 1906:
Kelsey Deal, 2; Joseph Hull, Mrs. J. P. Moore, Jim Moore, Chas. McFarland, Miss Eva Tolbert, 2; J. E. Wilson, Zimmerman, blacksmith.
B. W. JOHNSON, P. M.

Twenty-year Battle.
"I was a loser in a twenty-year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which turned the tide, by curing both, until not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds, 25c at Allen & Woodward's, druggists.

The Smile
That won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S.—Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not been sick a day since." Sold by Graham & Wortham.

Only 82 Years Old.
"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by Allen & Woodward, druggists. Price 50c.

A Hard Lot
Of troubles to contend with spring from a torpid liver and blockaded bowels, unless you awaken them to their proper action with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the pleasant and most effective cure for Constipation. They prevent Appendicitis and tone up the system. Sold at Allen & Woodward's drug store.

Abraham Lincoln
Was a man who, against all odds, attained the highest honor that a man could get in the United States. Ballard's Horehound Syrup has attained a place, never equalled by any other like remedy. It is a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Influenza and all Pulmonary diseases. Every mother should keep supplied with this wonderful cough medicine. Sold by Graham & Wortham.

In like manner Kenneth Melzer, of Vanceborough, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery.
