

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Fred Follet of Alesia was in Corvallis Friday on business.

Will Keady of Portland was a visitor with relatives in Corvallis last week.

John A. Carter, the jovial merchant of Wellisade, was a Corvallis visitor Friday.

Richard Kiger and family arrived home Friday from their outing at Newport.

Miss Abbie Wright of Portland paid a visit to Corvallis relatives and friends last week.

Rev. E. F. Green and family were guests Friday at the W. C. Hawthorne home at Oakville.

Con Gerhard and family arrived home Sunday from their outing in the mountains west of Monroe.

Asa Alexander and family and Miss Louise Irwin leave tomorrow for Newport for a two weeks' outing.

Claude Swann, the crack pole-vaulter of OAC, returned Saturday from a visit with Forest Grove relatives.

Will Schoel left Corvallis a few days ago to accept a position with the General Electric Company of Portland.

Misses Eva Starr and Thia Johnson arrived home Sunday from their visit at Nye Creek. They report an enjoyable outing.

A hunter's license was issued Saturday at the clerk's office, to George B. Keady, the genial head of the OAC printing office.

Mrs. B. A. Cathey arrived home Saturday from the East. Miss Marie stayed over Sunday in Portland with relatives, reaching home yesterday.

Miss Mary Jones of this city has accepted a position as teacher in the primary department of the Siverton public school for the coming year.

Lee Kennedy of Portland was in Corvallis Saturday en route to Newport, where he will play in the Summit band, furnishing music at the seaside.

Philip Gearhart, president of this year's graduating class at OAC, is expected from Astoria tomorrow. He will spend his vacation in this part of the state.

Ray and Mrs. Handsaker left Saturday for a few days' visit with relatives in Eugene. They are to return the middle of this week.

Miss Nellie McPherson of Wasco, Eastern Oregon, and Miss Gertrude Davis of San Francisco, arrived Friday evening for a two weeks' visit with Miss Francis Belknap.

While unloading hay in his barn west of town, one day last week, J. E. Aldrich fell from the wagon, wrenching his back so severely that he has not been able to work since.

S. B. Bane had the misfortune last week to lose his fine thoroughbred driving mare. The animal was a valuable one and a fine driver, and the loss is certainly regrettable.

"If you want to know how it seems to hug another man's wife, be at the depot Wednesday," is the message that a Portland girl sent last week to apprise her father in Corvallis that she was married. It is safe to say he went.

Grant Elgin and family came home from the bay, Friday, after a few days' outing. Grant stated that it was too cold for comfort over there, but he certainly had a change when he reached Corvallis, as Friday was a scorcher here.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walker of Independence were in Corvallis, Friday, en route to Newport for a vacation outing. Mr. Walker, familiarly known as "Sidney" in Corvallis, was formerly an OAC student, and probably the best drummer that has ever been a member of an OAC band.

A four horse team belonging to Charles Troxell ran away early Friday forenoon. They were attached to the gear of a wagon, and were in front of the Morris blacksmith shop when something gave them a fright and they bolted. They ran west to court house street and thence south, being stopped at the Bier corner. Aside from a few breakages no damage resulted.

Prof. I. E. Richardson of Albany was a Corvallis business visitor Saturday. He states the Corvallis Business College will open September 17th and there is already an outlook for an opening enrollment of 15, which will mean an attendance of 25 or more soon after school begins. Prof. Richardson goes to Portland in a couple of weeks to establish a clerical office, through which all graduates from his school will be provided with positions as soon as they are ready to begin work.

W. N. Townsend of Kings Valley was in Corvallis, Saturday, on business.

Mrs. T. D. Campbell returned a few days ago from her vacation at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Clum Read leave tomorrow or Thursday for a sojourn at Newport.

Darwin Nash of Nashville was in Corvallis, Friday, on a business and pleasure trip.

Miss Etta Hale of Brownsville is the guest for two weeks of her aunt, Mrs. Taylor Porter.

O. J. Blackledge, the furniture dealer, went to Portland, Saturday, on a brief business trip.

Miss Alice McNeil left Saturday for her home at Gervais after a visit with Mrs. Taylor Porter in this city.

Melvin Young arrived Friday from Portland for a visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. J. Johnson.

Mrs. S. N. Wilkins will return this week from a visit with relatives at Hood River, The Dalles and Portland.

Waldo Finn, an OAC student, passed through Corvallis Friday en route from Newport to his home at McCoy.

Mike Bauer and family, John Bauer, and Miss Fugate of Month-mouth, left Saturday for a month's outing at Yachats.

Lewis Hollenberg and F. O. Gray are expected home the last of his week from a business trip to Sterling, California.

Gifford Nash and Prof. Hurdman of Portland were in Corvallis the last of the week, en route to the mountains for an outing.

Mrs. Henderson Murphy and daughter, Mrs. Dickerman arrived home the last of the week from a two weeks' visit at the Bay.

Prof. Chester Proebstel and family moved Friday into the O. J. Blackledge house on Ninth street, recently vacated by W. H. Robinson and family.

E. C. Ogg, wife and sons are expected to arrive today from Newton Iowa, to join O. J. Blackledge and family and Mr. and Mrs. Tedrow in a camping trip at Yachats.

Rev. G. H. Fesse came out from Alesia a-wheel Saturday morning to occupy the pulpit at the M. E. church Sunday morning. The family is in camp in Alesia valley.

Prof. Carrol Cummings is expected home this week from Southern Oregon where he, with his family has been visiting relatives. Mrs. Cummings and little son remain for a longer visit.

Charles Woodruff and wife moved Friday into their new residence just purchased of C. C. Huff. Mr. Huff and family have moved into the residence immediately south of Mrs. Sarah Canthorn's dwelling.

While working at the new residence of Prof. Crawford, Saturday morning, Milt Millhollen ran a chisel almost through the fleshy part of his thumb. The injury is quite severe and will disable him for several days at least.

Mrs. W. C. Baick, who was in Corvallis last winter, writes from Silver Lake, her home, to a friend in this city regarding the crop conditions in Lake county. She states that rye there is at least six feet high and a fine yield, and that alfalfa is a splendid crop. Haying began there on the 15th.

Lee Beach and family were in Corvallis Thursday and Friday, leaving Saturday for the bay for their vacation. Mr. Beach was formerly postmaster in Corvallis, but for many years past has been an employe of the Northern Pacific company at Portland, first at the union depot, but now in the general office of the company. Many old friends were pleased to meet these old-time Corvallisites.

A Corvallis crowd that attended the social at McFarland chapel Thursday evening report a splendid time, a large attendance and plenty of good things to eat. Those who went were: Misses Iva and Berthilde Barclay, Lillian Ranney, Eunice Taylor, Essie Adams, Agnes Wilson and Myrtle Moore; Messrs. Nash Taylor, Harold Woodcock, Sam Hartsock, Harry Auld, Kester Coffee, Ralph Pruett and Merrill Hammel.

The job of re-plastering and re-painting the Gerhard book store and Morgan job printing office has been completed, and Saturday Miss Mae Gerhard finished her task of cleaning up the store and replacing the thousand and one books and small articles on the shelves. As Miss Mae has gone through this ordeal alone, shouldering the heavy work and all the worry, she certainly has earned a vacation or a gold medal.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Huston went to Newport Saturday, returning on Sunday night's excursion.

Corvallis was treated to a genuine "down East" thunder shower Saturday morning. But little rain fell, however, and except that the balance of the day was very cool and pleasant, the effects of the shower were scarcely noticeable.

S. L. Shedd was down town yesterday for the first time since his hard stroke of paralysis. He is cheerful and seems to think that he is getting along nicely.

A couple that attracted considerable attention at the C. & E. depot when they boarded the train for Newport, Thursday, was Mr. and Mrs. John Rickard, probably the oldest couple that has left Corvallis for an outing, this year. They are the parents of Peter Rickard, and must be close to 80 years old. As they awaited the train with almost childish eagerness, those looking on silently hoped that the outing at Newport might be a happy one for the venerable pair.

Agricultural College.

There is a feeling through the state of Oregon that the Agricultural College should be developed more along the line of the original intention. The colleges of letters and arts are very well, but the experiment farm and agricultural subjects should receive the greater attention. Dr. Withycombe and his staff have been doing the best in their power, with means at hand but have been handicapped because the agricultural end of the institution has been made the side issue instead of the main.

To this view the OAC needs improvements on the farm, a new dairy barn, improved apparatus and better specimens of improved cattle quite as much as new dormitories or assembly halls or the like. With the needs of the dairy industry, the work of the Agricultural College is of practical worth. There is every reason why the agricultural districts should be closer to the college. Acquaintance has come through the work of the institutes.

Dr. Withycombe's valuable work in the way of forage plants has done much for agricultural Oregon. Through correspondence information of value along any line of farm business is available. That the main idea of the Agricultural College may not be subordinated to something else should be the aim of its management.—Albany Herald.

Milton Morgan launched a fine canoe on the Willanette a few days ago and now enjoys a paddle when so disposed. The canoe was made by J. F. Tyler, of this city, and it is a credit to that gentleman's skill as a boat builder. Mr. Tyler is considering the matter of building a boat house at this place and keeping boats for rent, also building them to order. The canoe which he has just built for Mr. Morgan is constructed on what is known as the Brooks' model and is similar to the celebrated Peterborough canoe. Within a short time, Mr. Morgan and his brother, Otto, expect to make a ten days' row down the Willamette and Columbia river as far as the mouth of the latter river.

ONE FOR FOUR.

Getting Mail Over at Newport. Some Things That Happen.

Getting the mail at Newport sounds easy, but it isn't. Neither is it easy to locate one's friends, nor wear any sort of headgear when the wind blows, nor yet to catch one's hat as it is tossed about on the billows of the deep, just out of reach.

Some of these things are described by a party in from the coast yesterday. When the boat comes in the people line up for a block and await their turn at the postoffice window. One person can only ask for mail for four at one time, and everyone goes the limit before he moves on. It takes from two to two and a half hours to get one's mail after it is distributed, unless one heads the line.

Last Saturday night 155 passengers came in on the boat, and long after nightfall men and boys were walking the streets in search of rooms, as every place is full. On Sunday 285 passengers went in and a large number came out that evening.

D. P. Johnson returned Sunday from a several weeks' stay at Newport.

Hugh Penland, of the class of 1900, OAC, came out from the coast Sunday night and went on to Albany, where he took the midnight train for San Francisco. He is to accept a position with a physician in that city at $200 per month until January 1st, after which he takes a half interest in the business. Mr. Penland has completed a course in a medical college in the east since leaving OAC. His wife and child remain at Newport for six weeks, after which they join him in Frisco.

Twenty-year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty-year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which turned the tide, by curing both, until not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at Allen & Woodward's, druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed in plain English on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you enclose same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking.

If you suffer from periodic headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomen, weak back, have disagreeable and weak- ing, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One laxative; two or three a cathartic.
