

AND PERSONS

Mrs. H. E. Hodes left Friday for a week's visit in Portland.

Walter Taylor left Saturday to spend a week at Newport.

Mrs. J. B. Smith and Miss Grace visited Independence friends the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kaupisch returned a few days ago from their outing at the coast.

W. L. Read, residing north of Corvallis, is quite ill with what is thought to be typhoid fever.

Clarence Lurwell of Junction City was a Corvallis visitor the latter part of the week, on business.

Mrs. L. McReynolds left Saturday with her children for Portland to join Mr. McReynolds and reside.

Mrs. Montgomery was seriously ill Saturday, at the family home, but is improving.

John Senger and family returned yesterday from Brownsville, where they went Saturday with the remains of their late son.

Mrs. W. P. Ireland and daughter, Miss Bessie, were guests the last of the week of Salem relatives.

New steps are being built at the west side entrance to the old public school building which is being repainted.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold King were guests over Sunday at the home of Dr. B. A. Cathey and family.

Dr. B. A. Cathey and family left Saturday morning for Cascade, to remain several weeks. Dr. Cathey returns in about ten days.

Ed King came out from the Yachtaats the last of the week and went on to Portland, his home. He is an old OAC student.

Mrs. Neil Newhouse and daughter, Miss Lulu, returned the last of the week from their vacation at Newport.

Mrs. Mechlin, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is now able to be up, and the prospects are favorable for recovery.

Mrs. Carroll Cummings and little son, Truman, returned home Friday evening from an extended visit with relatives in Douglas county.

O. J. Blackledge and family expect to start from Yachtaats today on the return trip to Corvallis. Mr. and Mrs. Ogg and sons of Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. Tedrow are also in the party.

J. Fred Yates accompanied by his sister, Miss Mina Yates, and Miss Fullerton returned yesterday from an over Sunday visit at Cascade, where Mrs. Yates is spending the summer.

The relatives of the late Andrew Hart wish to express, through the Gazette, their appreciation of and sincere thanks for the kindnesses shown them by friends and neighbors in their recent bereavement.

Mrs. M. Fieser and family arrived the last of the week from Union, to reside. Mr. Fieser has been in this city for some time, being the butter-maker for the Seely, Arnold & Oreson ice and butter factory.

Misses Pearl and Vera Horner returned Saturday from an all-summer outing at Newport. Their grandmother, Mrs. Skipton, accompanied them home. The return of Prof. and Mrs. J. B. Horner from Europe is expected about September 10th.

There is probability of a decided change in the Moses drygoods establishments of both Corvallis and Philomath in the very near future. It is stated that Jesse Moses is to become sole owner of the Philomath house and that Victor Moses will be the proprietor of the local store. The change, according to report, is to be made on the first of the coming month.

The remains of the late Clark Mundy were taken to Portland Friday morning for interment in Multnomah cemetery. Those who went in the funeral party were Mrs. E. E. Mundy, son and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Farmer and daughter, Miss Mabel. A large number of friends accompanied the remains to the C. & E. depot, as a final token of respect for the departed.

There was excitement out at Philomath for a time Thursday morning. It seems that Ira Kisor and others had been intoxicated and City Marshall A. E. Taylor made an attempt to arrest Kisor. There was a mix-up and Kisor drew a knife and slashed the officer in the hand. He was disarmed, however, but immediately made his escape and has not since been seen or heard of. The charges against him are of a serious nature, and if caught he is likely to find that resisting an officer is not so trifling a matter as it might seem.

Eimer Taylor, of Box, spent Sunday with Corvallis relatives.

Miss Midge Baldwin returned Sunday from her week's vacation at Newport.

R. C. Wills and family moved Friday into their recently purchased property on Third street.

Lewis Hollenberg returned Friday evening from a business trip to Portland.

Sherman Chappell has accepted a position at Fisher's mill until college opens.

Miles Belden, of this year's class, OAC, is now a successful assayer with a Baker City company.

Misses Mabel Hubler and Pearl Newton returned Friday from a three weeks' stay at Newport.

Marion Wilkes, of this year's class, OAC, is now assayer for the Oregon Security company at Bohemia.

New fire escapes have arrived for use at the Occidental, when the latter shall have been repaired, according to present plans.

Mrs. Reuben Kiger and daughter, and Mrs. C. C. Huff and daughter arrived home a few days ago from their vacation at Newport.

Fred Ross and Cyrus McCormick, graduates of OAC in this year's class, are now employed at the Washoe smelter, Anaconda, Montana, and are doing well.

Claud Gatch, national bank examiner, was in Corvallis, Friday, looking after business in that line. He spent Sunday with his family at the coast.

John Kiger and family and Walter Weils and mother, are expected some the middle of this week from their hunting and fishing trip to Lobster.

H. W. Kaupisch, manager of the Corvallis Creamery, passed down to the Alsea bay Sunday. He leased the Bay View creamery and will take charge immediately.—Lincoln Leader.

The Starr confectionery store has been greatly improved in appearance by the addition of a new linoleum to the front room. This is now one of the neatest and most attractive little stores in town.

A traveling sign painter has been in town several days doing business in his line. Many humorous and artistic signs now displayed in show windows about town attest his ability.

The first crop of peaches in the John Kiger orchard will not be ready to gather until the last of this month and the price will probably be $1.50 per bushel. Picking began last year on the 24th but the crop is a little later this year.

Prof. Raymond gave another of his pleasant practice dances at Fisher's hall Friday evening. The music was furnished by Prof. Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wicks, and everyone present had an enjoyable time.

Mrs. W. S. McFadden entertained a few friends Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Clara Erwin of Portland, who is visiting friends here. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent and dainty refreshments were served.

The task of tearing down the Hogg house, on college hill, is to begin immediately, to make room for the new woman's building. R. C. Wills has the contract for tearing down the building, and it is understood that he will utilize the lumber in putting up a new house on lots that he owns near the college grounds.

Hop-picking season will be here shortly and the indications are that pickers will be a little scarce. This is an opinion held by a few and events may prove that they are plentiful. Never in the past has there been an insufficiency of help for gathering the crop. After harvesting this crop prunes will occupy the board.

There will be a gathering of all the deputy game wardens of the Willamette Valley, Friday, August 31st, at Salem, to arrange for having the Valley thoroughly patrolled during the month of September. After such a meeting as this, it will not be safe for hunters to attempt any "funny business" with forbidden fruit unless they are willing to put up the price in a fine.

One of the largest and probably the best farm houses in northern Benton has just been completed on the L. L. Brooks ranch. The workmen were Charles McHenry, contractor, Ed Felton, mason, and Mr. Butolph, painter, and all of the work is of the best. The house contains 13 rooms, with 10-foot ceilings, below and 9-foot ceilings above. There are 25000 feet of lumber in the structure, which replaces the residence that burned a few months ago.

Mrs. H. E. Hodes went to Portland, Friday, to visit with friends for a week or ten days.

Dayton Bros., eye specialists, Hotel Corvallis, Thursday, Aug. 23. Examination free. 69

Ed Crawford is up from Salem spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Crawford.

Mr. Bullis' new residence is rapidly nearing completion in the western part of town, and is a slightly structure.

Frank Hall arrived home the last of the week from Portland, where he has been employed during the summer.

Misses Agnes Wilson and Edna Groves, and Frank Groves, spent Sunday at the George Horning home, near Peoria.

Harold Wilkins returned Sunday from his vacation at Newport and departed yesterday for Portland to remain until college opens.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Murphy returned Friday from Independence, where they had been to look after their 70-acre hopyard.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Price of Portland have been Corvallis business visitors the past few days, looking after their property interests.

Joseph Bryant is just able to be up and to walk about with assistance, after being bedfast ten days as the result of a fall from a load of hay.

Ola Johnson and family left yesterday for Greeley, Colorado to remain. They had been in Corvallis about a year, occupying the Wuestfeldt cottage.

Henderson Murphy, A. L. Stevenson and Willard Ireland left yesterday for Eastern Oregon to locate desert claims. They make the trip by wagon, and will head for a point 80 miles south of Prineville. They expect to be back in two weeks.

Sheriff Burnett, Commissioner George W. Smith and Ed Smith returned Saturday from their hunting trip in the Alsea country. The party succeeded in killing four deer and two bear, which was all they could have hoped for. They were very liberal with their venison on their return home and we are among those returning thanks.

Mrs. Ed Thrasher left Sunday for Ajax, Eastern Oregon. She went in response to a telegram conveying the information that her father, Andrew Palmer, was not expected to live. The gentleman is nearly 80 years of age. For many years he was a resident of this county and at one time was a partner of Robert Buchanan.

Raymond Henkle went to Portland yesterday and after spending a day or two in the metropolis will proceed to his home in San Jose, California, where he is engaged in the drug business. Raymond has been as far north as Victoria, B. C., during his vacation. He is the youngest son of G. W. Henkle of this city.

The train from Yaquina now reaches Corvallis at 10:30; it leaves Corvallis at 11:00, reaching Albany at 11:30. On the return it will reach Corvallis at 12:50 and will leave for Yaquina at 1:10. The train that has been leaving Corvallis for Albany at 12:40 will now leave here at 1:30. It will arrive in Albany at 2:10. On the return it will reach Corvallis at 4:30, instead of 3:30, as heretofore. The morning and evening trains run at the same hours as usual. The Portland train now reaches Corvallis at 11:15 and leaves at 1:20. These are the figures of the new schedule, as nearly correct as can be obtained until the time-card is issued.

Ed Andrews arrived home Sunday evening from near Eugene, where he passed the last two weeks on his father-in-law's farm.

Recent sales by Ambler & Watters are as follows: Johnson Porter to F. A. Smith 160 acres three miles south of Corvallis, $8,800; M. Wilhelm to G. F. Wilcox of Ohio, 120 acres 4 miles south of Monroe; $3,000; S. H. Moore to George Sebrell of Alsea, house and three lots, Jobs Add, $700.

There was an alarm of fire at 12:30 Sunday night and the department hurried to the A. M. Witham home on railroad street, where the trouble was located. It seems that a lamp exploded, setting the bedroom carpet on fire, and the bedroom and parlor furniture was consumed before the flames were brought under control. The wall paper was ruined and altogether the damage will amount to quite an item, although an estimate of the loss could not be arrived at by the family yesterday.
