It is, and has been for years, a matter of almost daily occurrence to read of race wars in the South. Such a state of affairs still exists south of the Mason and Dixon line, and now and then north of it.

The idea that "all men are created equal" seems to have other business headquarters, lences. It is to be 278 feet long and 103 been so generously diffused by those in authority shortly after the close of the civil war that it extended to the negro. A greater mistake was never made by the government. Many private individuals made matters worse by attempting not only to place the unlettered and untutored negro on a footing with the white race but in some instances treated him as a superior. The result of governmental misconception of the characteristics and natural limitations of the negro at the close of the war are glaringly apparent now and we are reaping the whirlwind.

Charles F. Adams, in the May Century, gives the result of his observations made during a trip through the Soudan, tho home of the African negro. Here, Mr. Adams says, the negro is at his best, but he is wholly lacking in thus keeping up the demand for ambition and instincts of selfdevelopment. He is "nigger" there as here.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alco-holic beverages, or by too close confine-ment to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain tain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleaning and invigorating tain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have
