FIGHT CORRUPTION.

there is more or less corruption. Sometimes the evidence is glaringly apparent, again all evidence is cunningly concealed. Corruption may be of a public or private nature, but it seems to be vigorously adhered to by men of all climes. No man alive today will ever see the time when he jects of discussion today among can safely declare that there is all classes of business men, tor all no corruption in his community. There may be none, but he will not be able to prove it. From and before the time of Jesus Christ there has been evil doing, graft or thievery, whichever you prefer to call it, corruption, betraval, assassination, and what not? Christ himself was betrayed for a little paltry silver.

public imposition in the West for lumber piled up in the yards at many years is that now being waged in San Francisco by Francis Heney, the noted prosecutor, States, the mill men are now seagainst Ruef, the most daring curing an average of only three and cunning boss that ever commanded an army of cohorts in trict. The sawmills in Dallas that municipality. Just at present, so soon after the great earthquake calamity, if ever in the lumber a day, and the cars furhistory of the Queen City of the nished will move less than 20 West, San Francisco is in need of per cent of this output. The men true of heart and courage and of upright and honorable principles. She is threatened by "boss rule," for "boodle only," at the hands of unscrupulous Abe lev mills in Dallas are seriously Ruef and so outraged have the handicapped by reason of the batter class of citizens become lack of transportation facilities. that it is a wonder that Ruef has not been done bodily harm ere ty feel that they are not receiving this. As it is Mr. Heney has the rogue, Ruef, in court and may he receive justice-that is all any honest man could ask.

It is the duty of every honorable man to assist in maintaining is intentional, or whether it so moral discipline in his own com- happens on account of location, munity; it is a duty which should they do not know, but the fact not be shirked; it should be the remains that such discrimination first to receive attention. It is the duty of the papers to stand for what promises the "greatest good for the greatest number." Crime, evil-doing, graft, and all it is probable that they will carry of those things, sti matize their their fight for justice into the perpetrators and brand them in next Oregon Legislature. It is the eyes of their fellows as rogues. The scoundrel at heart is never safe, for he is ever fearful of exposure. If a man has a dirty past it is only a matter of time when the light shall be turned upon him and all his dark secrets revealed. The newspapers must furnish the light, but must first be absolutely certain of their ground. It is an old saying that "murder will out"-it might be said of a man who so conducts himself that he is driven forth from his community to return no more that "a bird cannot fly so far that its tail (tale) will not follow it."

In all probability in our next issue it will fall to our lot to chronicle some of the pranks of Hallow'eeners. An indulgence in harmless jokes, even if practical, will generally be accepted by the sufferers with a fair amount of grace, but it is carrying the fun too far that raises the wind. 'Fun is fun, and we hope the boys enjoy it in great measure, but also hope that they use some judgment in the matter. When it comes to changing houses and lots on people while they slumber, it naturally makes them angry.

Attended His Funeral.

One of the largest funerals held in that locality in years was that of the late W. Frank Miller which occurred Friday at Summit. Many Corvallis relatives and members of the Order of Elks

Is Becoming Serious.

The car shortage is becoming one of the most important subare affected by the conditions and business of all kinds is interfered with because of the peculiar paralysis that results from the inability to secure transportation. That neighboring counties are in the same trouble is shown by the story put out by the Dallas Observer, which says:

"The car situation in Polk county is assuming a serious The most notable fight against aspect. With millions of feet of Dallas and Falls City, and with orders for shipments piling in from all parts of the United cars per day for the entire disand Falls City are cutting, on a safe estimate, 300,000 feet of Falls City Lumber Company has nearly 3,000,000 feet awaiting shipment, the Oberer-Meyer m 1 is practically at a standstill, and the Johnson and Willamette Val-
