A copy of "The Courier," the State Normal students' college magazine, has been received by the Gazette. It is a new, well printed little paper and the contents prove that the Monmouth Normal has its share of literary talent.

J. C. Lowe, the well known independent telephone man, had his Christmas cheer marred by the sad news that his mother was lying at the point of death, in Oklahoma. Mr. Lowe left on the next train for that place, and it is sincerely hoped that upon his arrival he will find his mother on the road to recovery.

Charley Carrs, the man who beat old Tom the champion, recently, was released from the Benton county jail Monday, his bond having been reduced from $1000 to $500. William Vidito and James Flett are his bondsmen. Old Tom has recovered and is again employed, opening oysters at the Wiley lunch counter.

Christmas weddings were numerous in Benton county this year, if one may judge by the number of licenses issued at the office of Clerk Vincent Monday. Those who applied for such papers were, Dana Claire Roseman of Lane county and Martha E. Porter, of Benton; Robert J. Morris of Seattle and Ivez V. Quakenbush, a new-comer to Benton; and John H. Stowe and Carrie E. Mays, both of Alsea.

Miss Adelaide Greffoz, a former Corvallis girl now in Paris, writes to friends in this city that she and her father will not locate permanently in Paris, but will make their home in Vienna. Miss Greffoz states that she was not sea sick a day on the voyage across the Atlantic and is being shown many places of interest in Paris, by her father, who has resided there for many years.

Just how seriously Roseburg is affected by the coal shortage throughout the west is indicated by the statement of local railroad men that there is only enough coal in the S. P. bunkers here to run all trains for three days. It is said that the company contemplates taking off the freight trains and the newly established passenger train until the shortage is relieved. This would permit of the two old passenger trains being operated for at least ten days more. Three carloads of coal were shipped from Portland to Roseburg Friday, but this is only enough for few days' consumption, and no one can say when any more will arrive. The big oil tank is also almost empty.—Review.

Miss E. ... been on his sick list this week.

Mrs. Charles Davis of Philomath was the guest this week of relatives in Corvallis.

W. J. Edwards, who recently purchased the Artie Starr residence in Jobs's addition, is spending two weeks in Eugene with relatives. His family is with him.

The three year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Hadley of Portia died this week. The mother was formerly Miss Iva Seely of this city, and Mrs. Seely went to Portland to be present at the funeral.

Mr. Pomeroy and family, recent arrivals in Benton county from near Nebraska, are to go to the Benton county lumber company mill today, where they will locate. Mr. Pomeroy will be employed in the mill.

Miss Grace Huff is to arrive home Sunday from Medford, where she spent the holidays with friends. She will be accompanied by George von der Hellen who will visit in this vicinity for several days.

James Lewis and Ed Buchanan have this week purchased the north 117 acres of the Samuel Whiteside farm west of Corvallis. The land is unimproved and the price paid is said to have been $70 per acre.

Those who attended the Christmas exercises at Bellefontain Monday evening report a very large crowd and an exceedingly enjoyable time. The program included dialogues, recitations, songs, and music by a double quartette. The tree was beautiful and heavily laden with gifts and the air was vibrant with the sounds of Christmas time.

There is always an "afterwards" to every event, and the Christmas "afterwards" is now at hand. Where the show window last week held a rich and varied assortment of wares and knick knacks, there is now only a much-picked-over lot of odds and ends, and an air of fatigue is noticed on the faces of clerks and employers in all establishments, while the streets have resumed their wanted appearance of calm, and the hum of commonplace business is heard on every hand.

Mrs. John F. Allen went to Portland yesterday for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. G. M. Mulkey and Miss Eva Miller, of Summit are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Miner.

Miss Bessie Yates left Wednesday for her home in Vancouver, after a few days' visit with Corvallis friends. In her honor Miss Lura Flett gave a delightful party at the Flett home Tuesday evening. A graphophone furnished music for the dancing, and there was a Christmas tree on which were "sails" for each guest. Much merriment was thus afforded and the evening was one of great pleasure for all present. About 20 guests enjoyed the event.

Santa Claus is married. The even occurred at Monroe Christmas eve, and the bride was "Old Mother Goose" of nursery fame. All the family of the latter was present, including Jackie Horner, eating his Christmas pie, the girl who had "rings on her fingers and bells on her toes," and all the other well-known "Mother Goose" children. As each youngster was presented to Santa, their new stepfather, the old gentleman hunted in his sleigh and brought forth a present to correspond with the character represented. The affair was the Christmas eve entertainment given at Monroe, and it is said the features were the most unique ever introduced on a similar occasion in Benton. A large crowd was present and a fine time is reported.

Corvallis Has Train Wreck.

Eight S. P. cars loaded with lumber are lying in the field of William Knotts just north of this city, smashed to kindling, and R. M. Gilbert, the well known bridge carpenter is suffering with painful injuries sustained in the wreck, which occurred at 4:10 Wednesday afternoon.

The engine was just crossing a trestle near the Knotts place when the car just back of the engine jumped the track, dragging several others off with it. The engine and caboose crossed safely and are still on the track. Eight loaded cars and one empty were derailed and the eight cars of lumber are piled up in the creek and in the field, smashed to pieces.

A crew of men went to the scene immediately and it was expected to have the wreckage cleared away by noon yesterday.

R. M. Gilbert was on the train and his shoulder and back were severely sprained, besides which he was considerably bruised and shaken up.

Just what caused the cars to jump the track is not known, but the trestle gave way and fell after the engine had crossed.

Christmas Wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cooper in North Albany, Mr. Rodney LeBold of Yamhill county and Miss Pearl Cooper of Benton county, Oregon, were united in marriage by Paul E. Johnston, Justice of the peace for Fairmount precinct, on Christmas day.

The affair while quiet, was none the less pretty. The bride and groom stood under an arch made of fern and Oregon grape decorated with flowers, and over their heads hung a large bunch of mistletoe.

After congratulations the company retired to the dining room where the table was loaded with good things to eat, and partook of a bountiful dinner.

After spending the holidays here with relatives and friends, Mr and Mrs. Lebold will leave for their home near McMinnville, Oregon, where he has a farm.

Married Yesterday.

The marriage of County Judge E. Woodward and Miss S. Catherine McKinney was celebrated at 11 a. m. yesterday at home of the bride's mother in Jobs addition. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Castle of Philomath in the presence of only a small company of relatives. Judge and Mrs. Woodward departed on the next train for Portland for a honeymoon trip.

Both are highly respected in Corvallis, and many friends join in congratulations and good wishes.
