Callahan's Sidewalk.

It is not often that a little strip of new sidewalk sets an entire town agog with gossip, but such has been the case in Corvallis since Tuesday morning.

Sometime ago the city council passed an ordinance establishing the boundaries of a "concrete sidewalk district," which ordinance made it unlawful to build any but concrete walks within said district, or to even repair board walks. Down in front of the new skating rink there was an old walk hardly in keeping with the appearance of the new rink, observing which Peter Callahan, who owns the lots on which the rink stands, began Monday to have built a new board walk along the north side of the lots. Mr. Callahan was immediately notified by Chief Line to suspend operations as it was a violation of the concrete walk ordinance, and Mr. Callahan called in his men and apparently decided to abide by the law. Between that time and eight o'clock next morning, however, the sidewalk was all laid and is still in place. When and by whom the work was done no one knows, but it was built, law or no law.

Just what the outcome of the case will be is uncertain, but it seems likely that the matter will now rest until the next meeting of the council. The final act in the play will be awaited with more than passing interest in Corvallis, as on its adjustment hangs the question of whether or not Corvallis makes laws to be enforced or only for the sake of appearances.

Quotes the Senator.

While Senator A. J. Johnson will not admit it in so many words, he will endeavor to have his slaughtered good roads bill passed over the veto of Governor Chamberlain when the legislature convenes in 1909.

"It's a long way ahead," remarked the senator, who is in Portland on business, "and remember there are 60 members in the house, even though the senate should favor refusing to sustain the veto.

"Since the Governor vetoed the bill there has been much complaint in the Willamette Valley, at his action. There is a pressing need for good roads and this measure would have been of great benefit in helping the state have good highways, since it would have extended state aid, the state paying one-third the cost of improvement. Governor Chamberlain himself said that this was the best system. He made the statement in Corvallis before the meeting of the legislature."

"What do you suppose induced the Governor to veto the bill?" "Politics and a desire to make a grandstand play," replied the senator.—Tuesday's Telegram.

"THE KING OF TRAMPS."

To be Given at the Opera House
Next Tuesday Night.

"The King of Tramps," a Yankee Doodle comedy, in four big laughing acts which comes to the opera house, Tuesday March 25, contains more actual wit, more innocent mischief, and good singing and dancing than is to be found in the average so-called musical comedy.

The play is a feast of pulse-quickening thrills and side-splitting merriment, what it lacks in literary avoidupois it more than makes up in slam-bang activity and primitive fun. Ten specialties are introduced during the action of the play. Reserve seat sale opens Saturday morning, popular prices 25, 50 and 75 cents. The company carry their own band and orchestra.

Phenomenon at Hood River.

Something that is considered most remarkable by fruit growers here, says a dispatch from Hood River, is the discovery that apples which have been allowed to lie on the ground all winter have not been injured by the cold weather during the past months and are practically as good as the day they dropped from the trees. The apples are seconds, and, owing to the fact that they were slightly bruised by contact with the ground, they were not considered fit for shipment. They were left to lie until the snow came, which covered them up and acted as natural cold storage. In the middle valley the snow is just commencing to disappear and the fruit during the past few days has become exposed to view. Visitors from the city and also abroad have brought many of them to town, where they are being exhibited as curiosities. Growers account for the phenomenon by the fact that there was no frost in the ground.

Dowie's Sermon.

The late Alexander Dowie wrote his own funeral sermon about six weeks before his death. This sermon has just been given out for publication and the final paragraphs are full of a spirit that is hardly in keeping with the command, "Love thine enemies," for the fallen high priest says:

"I shall return and with ruthless hands shall I exterminate the vipers and the dogs of hell that now hold the high places in the City of Zion. They dreamed and in the grossness of their dreams they thought they had prevailed over the first apostle. And now, priests and elders of Zion, I shall return and strike ye down.

"I shall return in another form brighter and more beautiful and 10,000 times more terrible, to cut ye off in the midst of your sins and to win back Zion for the truth and for them that held to the word and did no evil."

Resolutions.

From Alpha Rebekah Lodge No. 34, The passing away of a good woman is not sadness, nor is it death when the beauty of her good works live after her.

After a career of loving deeds, of noble and loving self-sacrifice, of Christian fortitude, at the noontide of life our dear sister, Nora D. Lafferty on the 23rd of February, 1907, entered into rest.

It is said to think that a life so good and beneficent, so bright and cheerful, diffusing in its pathway the rays of perennial sunshine, the very best spirit of kindly sympathy and gladness, should ever close.

"There is no death but angel forms
Walk o'er the earth with silent tread
They bear our best loved thing away
And then we call them dead.
But ever near us though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread—
For all the boundless universe is life—
There are no dead.

Resolved, That in the passing of Sister Lafferty, Alpha Lodge has lost one of its most worthy members.

Resolved, That this lodge desires to express its deep sympathy with our Brother Lafferty and all the bereaved family of the deceased, and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to our sister's brother; also published in the local papers.

OAC Baseball Nine.

Out at OAC every evening there is a bunch of about 28 young "huskies" at hard practice, each one trying his prettiest to win a position on the OAC baseball nine that will this season represent the college in this line of sport. Heretofore there has been no regular team at the institution but Prof. F. C. McReynolds has been engaged as coach for this year and it is the intention to put out an aggregation that will be able to keep up the reputation of the college from the beginning to the end of the season. Coach McReynolds states that he has an abundance of excellent material from which to select a nine, and that all who are practicing are making an excellent showing in the various positions.

New suits are expected to arrive soon. They will be maroon, with orange Jerseys and hose, and the OAC monogram on the sweaters. These will certainly be very attractive and will stimulate an interest and a pride in the sport on the part of the players.

While the first team has not been officially announced, it is understood that the personnel and positions will be as follows: Todd, pitcher; Wolfe, catcher; center field, Moore, short stop, Murray; right field, "Dagan" Rooper; left field, Bilyeu; 1st base, Beatty; 2nd base, Swann; 3rd base, Jones.

Among others who are making a record at pitching are Rooper and Brague, and there is other good material for several other positions, which makes the final selection for first team honors a matter of some doubt as yet even to Coach McReynolds.

Received Their Medals.

The cross country run has become an annual event among the OAC sports, and it requires men of remarkable endurance to successfully compete for prizes or to make even a fair showing in the race. A four mile run over hill and level, means a terrible strain on the man performing the stunt and that it has been done in a little more than 27 minutes out at OAC, shows that there is good material in the bunch of fellows that won out in the recent event.

The winners by classes in the first run were: Senior class, Spires; Jun'or, DeVolt; Sophomore, Totten; Freshman, Cross.

These became not only class representatives but candidates for honors in the final run which was pulled off a week ago. In the final event DeVolt won first place and Cross second, and Tuesday morning in chapel Prof. Berchold in an appropriate speech presented the gold medals to the two winners. The medals are very pretty and bear the words, "OAC Cross Country," together with name, date and the class of which the winner is a member.

The young men may well be proud of their hard-earned trophies.

Is a Success.

Fred Stump is one OAC graduate who is making a success of farming. He is operating a big place in Polk county and deals extensively in high grade stock. An item concerning him appears in the "Independence Westside."

"Fred Stump reports numerous sales of pure-bred stock from the Fincrest farm this spring which includes Lincoln and Cotswold sheep and Berkshire hogs. The farm now has about 200 acres seeded down to clover and work is to be continued along that line until several hundred acres more are seeded. Very good returns have been secured from the clover seed crop which taken in connection with the production of the pure-bred animals on the farm and other sources of revenue makes the operation of the farm fairly profitable. While Fincrest farm is a large one, Mr. Stump is an advocate of smaller farms, he believing that with intelligent effort put forth in diversified farming on smaller tracts, the returns can be made as profitable as on larger farms and at the same time with much less worry and trouble to the owner."

Have Ambition.

Ambitions rule the world and control human destinies.

Know a man's ambition and you know his life.

Some men have ambition to do things. Then the world hears of an Alexander, a Caesar, a Napoleon, a Grant or a Roosevelt, says a writer. With men of this stamp ambition is a postilion, driving hard spurs of necessity into the foremost horse that draws the chariot of progress. Other men there are whose only ambition is to do nothing not even "sit by the fire and spin." When such men die the world says, and says truly: "Good riddance; there goes nobody."

Men who have ambition to do nothing are found everywhere. They are the curse of society, the drag of business and the dregs in the cup of life.

Just the other day Willie Dolness was discharged from his position by his employer. In extenuation of himself Willie said to his employer: "Why do you discharge me? I ain't done nothing." "Yes," said the employer, "that is just the reason I discharge you, because you haven't done anything."

Years ago a young man wrote to Henry Ward Beecher, asking him to find an easy position for him, as he wanted to come to the city, and Mr. Beecher is said to have replied: "My dear boy, there is only one easy place and that is in the grave." Yet there are many men who are in search of the "soft snap," content to forever sit down doing nothing, being nothing, living idle, aimless, doleful lives.

Such men as these are forgetful of the fact that wealth without use of that position, and leisure unearned are the very things that take away the zest of life, fill the mind of man with unutterable bitterness and mad jealousies that inflame the passions and incite to the performance of the worst of deeds.

Nothing comes from nothing is the old law of life. It needs to be emphasized again and again. Every great creation of art, every masterpiece in literature, every victory for the right and truth has been won at the price of hard and continuous labor.

Proposals for Wood.

Meets Not Arranged.

The Stanford University track team will meet the U. of O. men in Eugene May 3rd, according to present arrangements. Oregon is to pay the expenses of the California team, which will be about $500. If the Eugene business men will close their establishments for the event.

The Oregon track team managers are having some difficulty in arranging dates, and only one meet is reported to have been settled—that with Columbia University, April 13th.

No date had been arranged with OAC up to a few days ago and no report of such an arrangement has been made, although it is generally understood that the meet will take place in Corvallis sometime during May.

Whether the "Big Four"—Willamette, Pacific, U. of O. and CAC—a state affair held at Salem, will ever be run is another unsettled question at U. of O. A meet with Pullman is expected to take place, but again this is undecided.
