ROOSEVELT TO WIN.

It now begins to look like a battle-royal between Roosevelt and the great corporation interests of the country. It is alleged that there is a conspiracy on foot under the supervision of the Rockefeller-Harriman-Hearst combination to defeat the furtherance of what is generally known as "Rooseveltian" principles and policies.

In fact, the allegation is made that a fund of $5,000,000 has been pledged to defeat any man whom President Roosevelt might endorse as his successor. In the meantime beyond doubt everything possible will be done by this combination to block such legislation as may be a hindrance to the consummation of certain undertakings as are not sanctioned by Roosevelt and the masses. In this task the alleged conspirators will undertake to mould public sentiment against Roosevelt and his party. Just at this time they could conceive no greater task.

While not always approving the president's acts the public never distrusts his motives; that his objects are worthy and his aims for the public good the vast majority of his fellows will agree. That he is a man for the people cannot be denied, and his policy for attempting the regulation of railroad and corporation interests is a matter very close to the public heart. Such being the case the majority will side with Roosevelt and will stick closer than a wax plaster in the struggle between him and those pledged to down his policies.

It looks as though the effect of the fight made against Roosevelt or any man he might select as his successor in the presidential chair, democrat or republican, might drive Roosevelt into the acceptance of another term at the White House. And the more corporation and railroad interests fight him the greater the certainty of his re-election. Should Roosevelt again run for the presidency he will be a good man to back. It is also a safe prediction that he got none the worst of it in public opinion where there may be a clash between the president and the cunning triumvirate, Rockefeller, Harriman and Hearst.

Great are all things Oregon! Whatever we set out to do we always play first "fiddle" before we're done with it. To us belongs the credit of the greatest "true" fish story this year. A sturgeon got stuck on a Snake river shoal and was hooked. Small wonder the sturgeon got stuck as it weighed 560 pounds. A few of these fellows in a fish-basket would represent a good day's catch.

Up at Hood River the school boys are said to have killed a skunk in school. Probably the varmint followed Mary there, a la'lamby. At any rate it lost its life for following a dangerous precedent—there is no school in session at the present time, as the house is being fumigated and the boys are enjoying large doses of the open-air cure.

Old Landmark to be Razed.

The old building on Main street just vacated by the J. B. Marvin restaurant is one of the oldest in Corvallis and no one seems to know just when it was built nor who built it. It has been used mostly as a saloon, among the proprietors who have been in business behind its doors being Cushman, Baker, Cooke, Hanson & Taylor, Davidson and Tommy Whitehorn. Away back in 1884 a shooting affray occurred there in which Nick Baeson was shot by Hugh McTimmons, and the affair is often recalled by old timers to the present day. Baeson was a butcher and McTimmons was a bartender. John Meninger and a gambler named Sid Moore also had minor parts in the play. Baeson was not seriously wounded, but McTimmons got a year in the pen for the shooting.

These, and many other incidents of by gone days are discussed about the streets as the workmen begin tearing away this old landmark in order to make room for a modern brick building. A part of the building will be moved back towards the alley for use as a wood shed and the remainder will be razed.

Meanwhile the old structure that stood next door is now on north Main street, in front of the Beach warehouse, stuck fast in the mud and waiting for the sun to appear and dry the streets so that the moving can proceed. It goes, as previously stated, to a location near the saw mill, to be used as a dwelling.

CONFERENCE NOTES.

Facts of Interest to Many—What Was Done.

The second day's session of the United Evangelical conference held here Friday was called to order by Bishop Heil, and Presiding Elder M. J. Ballantyne led the devotional services. The board of trustees of Dallas college sent their report to conference. Among other recommendations was that of a new member to the faculty and a canvas of the conference in behalf of the endowment.

Rev. H. L. Pratt was re-elected presiding elder and stationed on Dallas district.

Rev. F. A. Phelps was received into the conference.

Rev. J. C. Hoover of the Portland Memorial Evangelical Association church conducted the devotional services at the afternoon session.

Bishop Heil delivered a lecture on "Personal Experience as an Element to Work."

Dr. Charles A. Mock, president of Dallas college, then read his report. It showed a marked attendance and interest in the college work. Improvements in the college buildings and dormitories have been made and a new piano has been added to the music studio during the past year.

A fraternal delegation from the Evangelical association then brought greetings from their conference through Rev. H. O. Henderson of Portland.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell of the Presbyterian church and Rev. A. W. Monosmith of the Congregational church were introduced to conference.

Rev. B. S. Hughes of Irrigon preached Friday night.

The next conference session will be held in Dallas the first Thursday in April.

Survey is Completed.

Will Newport have a railroad? It certainly begins to look that way for a Newport writer says in the Reporter:

"The surveying party under the direction of the chief surveyor, S. L. Miller, completed the survey from Seaside to Newport Thursday, March 28th. The whole distance from Seaside to Newport is 116 miles. The party was in the bill for about three months. The last stake was set on the bluff above the Ocean House. The survey ran along the high bluff north of Nye Creek and crossed the creek at the bath house. Andrew Porter who carried the transit said the route was practical for a railroad but it would be costly to build it; said that along the Tillamook coast was the worst he ever saw for logs and brush, but he said the views both on land and sea was grand beyond description. But the road once built would be traveled by all tourists who enjoy the scenic beauties of nature. The party by orders from headquarters was disbanded and departed for their homes Saturday morning as happy as clams at high tide after ter being in the mountains for three months. But the most fortunate thing of all was of the eighteen men who composed the party not a single accident occurred and none of them got sick.

He is Dead.

The death of Woods Jackson occurred at the Occidental hotel at an early hour Friday morning, after an illness of a number of weeks, and because of long continued ill health the end was not unexpected by relatives and friends.

The funeral occurred from the residence of E. D. Jackson, a son, in this city at one o'clock Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. and interment was in the Locke cemetery.

Woods Jackson was born in Illinois June 14, 1830. He came to Oregon from that state in 1852 and was married to Rebekah Vile December 25, 1853. With his wife he settled on a donation claim near Sulphur Spring and in 1863 removed to a farm near Parker station. In November 1892 Mr. and Mrs. Jackson came to Corvallis, and Mrs. Jackson died in 1893.

Mr. Jackson has ever since made his home in this city. He has suffered greatly from rheumatism and for a long time before his last illness had been obliged to go about on crutches.

The immediate survivors are three sons, Isaac, Eugene and E. D. Jackson of Benton county; and two daughters, Mrs. Neathammer of Sheridan, and Mrs. Nancy Bates of Pomeroy, Wash.

Splendid Concerts Given.

Sweeter singing has never been heard in Corvallis than that of the Dixie Jubilee Singers who filled an engagement at the opera house, Saturday night, under the auspices of the college Y. M. C. A. The program was varied and each number received prolonged and stormy applause from the large audience present, many times a second and third encore being responded to by these talented vocalists.

Whether the selections were solemn and impressive or frivolous and gay, the interpretation and rendition were always perfect, while the melody of the voices held the audience spellbound from start to finish of the song.

The male quartette attended services at the First Methodist church, Sunday morning, assisting in the choir and giving two individual numbers.

In the evening the entire Jubilee company gave a sacred concert at the same church, and there has never before been such a crowd in the building as assembled there that night. The church annex was thrown open and every inch of standing room in the edifice was filled.

In sacred song, the Jubilee singers not only please the ear, but they touch and thrill the heart, their music being indescribably sweet. At the close of the program the performers were given an ovation, a hundred or more persons crowding forward to speak a word of praise. A silver offering was taken for them, which amounted to $39.20.

Most of the members of the company are college graduates. Mr. Johnson, one of the leading members, gave a brief but interesting address Sunday evening, concerning the splendid work done in an educational way among the colored people of the South by the M. E. church and other christian denominations.

Present Day Activity.

Do not stop to kiss your wife—

Hurry!
There's a car! Drop fork and knife, Hurry!
When you go to get your lunch, Push and struggle with the bunch, Anything will do to munch, Hurry!
If you wish to catch a train, Hurry!
One may never come again, Hurry!
If you are a second late, And you find they've shut the gate, Climb the fence—but never wait, Hurry!
Now remember life is brief, Hurry!
Even though you come to grief Hurry!
Save a minute, time is cash, Grab your hat and make a dash, Don't care if you come to smash, Hurry! —Ex.

The various church services, Sunday, were unusually interesting, as the pulpits were supplied by visiting clergymen from the Evangelical conference. At the First Methodist church Dr. Mock, of Dallas College, gave a splendid address in the morning.

A colony of 100 Dunkard families are located on a 33,000 acre tract of land near Ashland. They are building a $5,000 church and will erect a bank. Growing of sugar beets will be one of their industries. These are the things that count for development in Oregon — Ex.

The cold rains of Friday and Saturday interrupted farming operations and many of the farmers spent the day in town, making a busy, bustling day for merchants and business people in general.

A startling statement comes from Seattle in a dispatch as follows: "Children under 14 years of age have committed half the burglaries and thefts in Seattle during the past six months according to Chief of Police Wapenstein. Judge Frater, of the juvenile court, has declared that he will break up all the gangs of boy criminals now in the city."

COMMON SENSE

Lead most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily giving in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to every body. Dr. Pierce, being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulae, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, tripe-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-over-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

This morning the sons of three prominent families were taken before the juvenile court charged with burglary. Chief Wapenstein asserts that the mothers of the children are responsible for their criminal tendencies, and that the police are unable to cope with the situation. The theft of jewelry, dresses, and a number of similar articles from the residence of Mrs. E. S. Lewis was confessed this morning by Katie King, aged 13, Lillian Struhm aged 12. The girls will be tried in the juvenile court.

Good Judgment

Just Because

Your cough is only in your throat and does not trouble you now, don't think that it needs no attention. When it has not had much of a start is the time to check it. The slightest cough easily leads to Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption. A bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. The price puts it within reach of all. Sold by Graham & Wortham.
