MAY BE DETRIMENTAL.

When the people of Oregon secured the initiative and referendum laws it was generally believed that a wonderful thing had been accomplished and that there was a means for the people—the very common, every day class of mortal who particularly needs and desires helping laws—to secure such legislation as seemed most helpful.

Too many people think potatoes or peanuts may be raised by legislation. The referendum may be a splendid means of protecting the state against the basest extravagance, but it is decidedly weak in spots, to our way of thinking. With the referendum staring them in the face men who are in charge and responsible for public works of any nature must of necessity be afraid to engage in the performance of their sworn duties for fear this act will be invoked. No matter how great the necessity for haste in the work of the public it is liable to a hold-up at any time.

It is a comparatively easy matter to secure signatures enough on any public matter to invoke the referendum. It is seldom that any matter of legislation is wholly acceptable to all the people and there are always, as said before, enough to hold up the work. It may possess qualities for good, but may become a power for evil.

TEDDY VS. CORPORATIONS.

Between now and the next presidential election many things are possible and it is hardly wise to make predictions. Still, bearing certain conditions in mind and considering them logically it is impossible to go far wrong on some matters. Will Roosevelt run again for the presidency? Here is a question the answer to which depends wholly upon conditions at the time nominations are in order.

President Roosevelt announced when elected to the office a couple of years ago that under no circumstances would he again become a candidate for the presidency in 1908. Did he mean it?

Certainly, at the time and possibly yet—but it looks as though matters of public reform would, in the Roosevelt mind, render it imperative that some one in harmony with the president's views be nominated and elected his successor.

Here is the matter in a nutshell: If Roosevelt cannot feel assured of successfully electing his choice of men to succeed him he will likely accept a second elective term as president. Notwithstanding his announcement to the contrary Roosevelt will feel justified in this course so strong are his convictions of what is necessary for the welfare of the republic.

In standing for what he believes best for the people the nation contains no stronger man than Roosevelt. As conditions now are it is the people versus corporate power. The people have Roosevelt and the corporations have money. It looks like a fight to a finish between the two—the people and the corporations. So strong does the fight bid fair to become that political party affiliations are likely to be forgotten during the coming presidential election.

Strange as it may appear to some, Roosevelt is generally idolized in the South, the home of democracy. A prominent southerner has proclaimed Roosevelt the greatest president the nation ever had. The power of the president is something wonderful. To the people he owes his power. No man can become greater in politics than his constituents make him. The people trust him implicitly, hence his power.

Additional Local.

William Eade, representing the Pacific Paper Company of Portland, was a pleasant visitor in Corvallis, Saturday. Mr. Eade takes the place made vacant by Mr. Tobin, who recently quit the road to become a real estate man in the metropolis.

The Christian church baseball nine, composed of young boys who are members of the "boys' club" of that church, went to Albany early Saturday morning, where in the afternoon they played a game of ball with a team of that city. They made the trip by private conveyance and were accompanied by Rev. Handsaker. The score in the game was 18 to 3 in favor of Albany.

Pacific College won the debate for the championship of the Collegiate Debating League of Oregon last night from Albany College. The debate was held in Newberg. The question for debate was, "Resolved, That the United States Should Own and Operate the Railroads." Pacific College upheld the affirmative of the question and Albany College the negative. Albany's debaters were Everett Jones, Will Steels and Grover Birtchett—Saturday's Herald.

Corvallis Whiteside's dray team took a quiet trot up Main street, Saturday, on its own account, but no damage, save a broken strap, resulted.

Zierolf keeps all kinds of clove and grass seed for sale. 22

Word was received in this city, yesterday, that Tom Donald of Albany had taken carbonic acid and was in a dying condition. He is an uncle of Mrs. Grier of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt of near Philomath are going into the turkey business on a large scale this year. They have 14 turkey hens sitting on 280 eggs at present, beside which there are from 18 to 20 eggs per day for market purposes. This is a business that pays well and it should receive more attention in this section of Oregon.

A very large crowd attended the reception given at the armory, Saturday evening, in honor of the Y. W. C. A. delegates and visitors to the convention. Everything possible had been done to make the occasion pleasant and enjoyable and it is safe to say everyone present will long remember the affair. The usual features were enjoyed, and very pretty OAC souvenirs were presented each guest.

Miss Constance McCorkle of Portland city secretary of the Y. W. C. A., occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church, Sunday morning, and gave a highly interesting address on the work of that organization in the city. Miss McCorkle is a pleasing speaker and her practical, helpful and inspiring address was very much enjoyed by a large audience. Miss Bessie Cornelius of Salem gave two vocal solos that were much appreciated by the congregation.

"In the Domain of the Turk" was the subject of a splendid address to women at the First Methodist church, Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The speaker was Miss Francis Gage, state secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who spent five years in Turkey and is thoroughly familiar with the country which she discussed. After painting numerous work pictures most skillfully, descriptive of her first visit to Turkey and the beauties of Constantinople as the traveler lands, just as the city is bathed in the glorious sun's line of a perfect morning, Miss Gage depicted the horrors of a Turkish-Armenian massacre that occurred during her sojourn in the Turkish empire, and related many other interesting experiences which befall her while in the interior. A large audience of women and girls listened to the address, which was both interesting and elevating in character. The Fernian quartette sang a number which was very much enjoyed.

LOST—A white and yellow dog, Llewellyn setter, named Prince. When last seen was wearing a wide leather collar. Reward. WALTER H. KLINE.

"Billy" Emery, of Vancouver, and G. Lester Paul, of Portland, arrived yesterday for a visit with friends and relatives.

Kills Catarrh Germs.

Stomach dosing cannot kill these germs; a direct local treatment is absolutely necessary, and for this purpose nothing else equals Hyomei.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit Hyomei reaches the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, giving immediate relief and effecting a permanent cure in the worst cases of catarrh.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, and Graham & Wells give a guarantee with every outfit that the treatment will cost nothing unless it cures.

Good Judgment

Is the essential characteristic of men and women. Invaluable to good business and necessary to good housewives. A woman shows good judgment when she buys White Cream Vermifuge for her baby. The best worm medicine ever offered to mothers. Many, indeed, are the sensible mothers, who write expressing their gratitude for the good health of their children, which they owe to the use of White's Cream Vermifuge. Sold by Graham & Wortham.

Just Because

Your cough is only in your throat and does not trouble you now, don't think that it needs no attention. When it has not had much of a start is the time to check it. The slightest cough easily leads to Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption. A bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. The price puts it within reach of all. Sold by Graham & Wortham.
