GREAT STOCK COUNTRY.

Even at this day and age the resources of Oregon are not half guessed, to say nothing of their discovery and development.

Twenty years ago things were vastly different in Oregon in many ways from what they are today.

Twenty years ago no attention was paid to dairying. There were no creameries in the valley.

Nor are our resources confined to fruit and dairying alone. The poultry business is becoming one of magnitude and the Oregon hen is becoming more numerous.

But with the soil in this valley so highly productive as it is and the climate so mild we may safely term this the greatest natural country for stock in the world.

The length of this piece of land is about 500 feet, and one swarth cut through it lengthwise gives two hayrack wagon loads—all that two good horses can draw.

For Sale.

All kinds of rough lumber at mill on P. A. Kline's ranch, west of town; also slab wood in 4 ft. length.

S. H. Moore, Corvallis.

Philadelphian Banquet.

Sixty-five young men and women attended one of the really "swell" affairs of the season at Hotel Corvallis Friday evening.

The menu was as follows: Yaquina bay oysters, consommé, puree of fowl a La Reine, shrimp salad en mayoniase, baked salmon Maitre D'Hotel, fried spring chicken a La Marvland.

A. K. Berman presided as toastmaster, and the following toasts were responded to:

"Woman." The fairest work of the Great Author. The edition is large and no man should be without a copy. S. L. Bennett.

"Man." A creature with many virtues, when he is not a bore. Isabelle Mallett. "Our Friendships." May our injuries be written in sand; our virtues in marble. R. A. McCully. "Be Happy." May every day bring more happiness than yesterday.

MORE RAILROAD TALK.

Extension of C. & E. to Summit of Cascades.

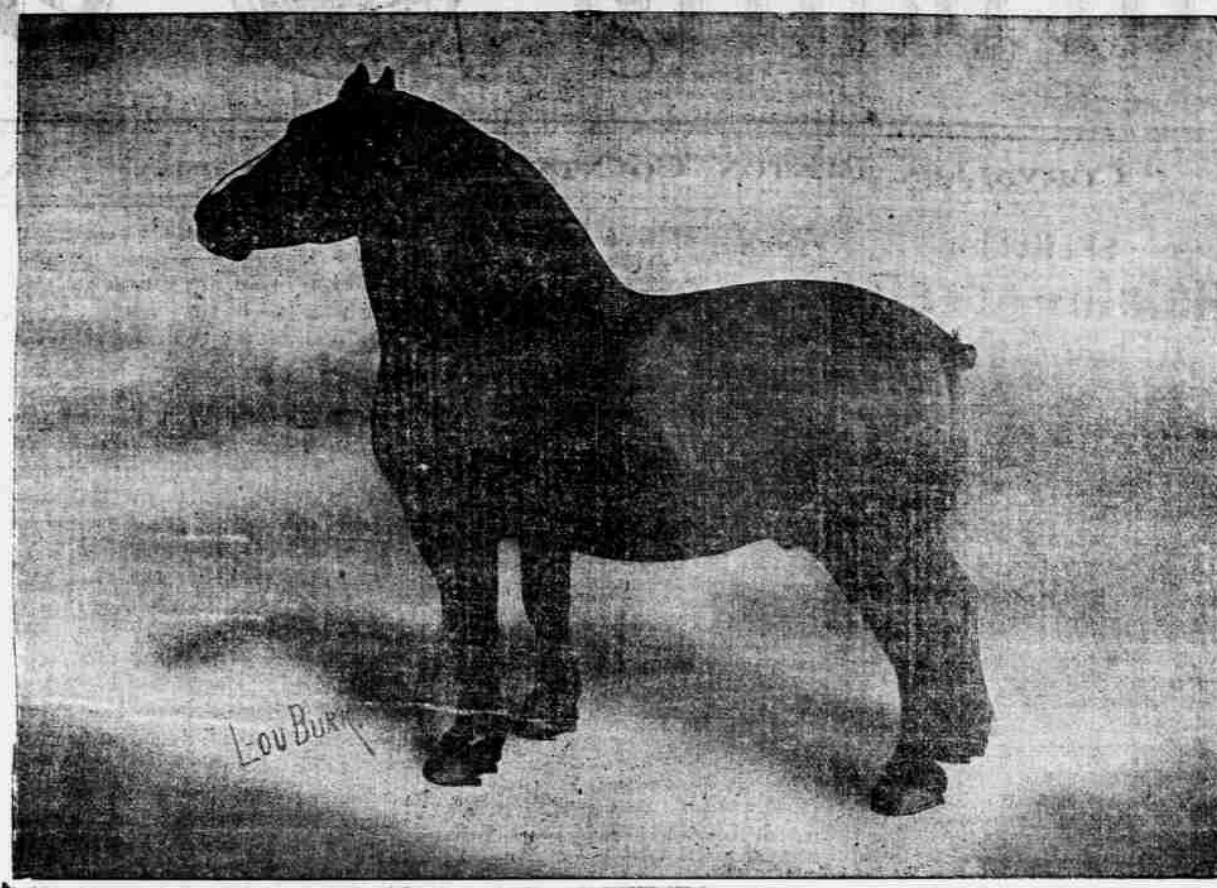

There is discussion now of the extension of the C. & E. railroad for a distance of 25 miles, to the summit of the Cascades, which it is declared would be an easy undertaking and one of great benefit to the section that would be traversed by the proposed road.

A good portion of the desired Corvallis & Eastern extension is surveyed and many miles are graded. It would be a comparatively easy undertaking to renovate the road bed and lay the rails.

The residents of Eastern Oregon propose to establish a road leading to the terminal of the railroad as extended, and through the use of heavy freight wagons convey their products to this point and thence have them carried to the markets by rail.

The lands of Eastern Oregon are just beginning to come into prominence, and with the development of that section a business will be built up that will demand consideration of the transportation companies of the state.

About 60 Silver Cups, suitably engraved, are to be awarded as first prizes and an equal number of other awards for second and third prizes respectively.

Additional Local.

E. B. Horning was an Albany visitor, yesterday.

John Ryalls of Albany was a Corvallis visitor, Saturday. He is the father of Mrs. Isaac Jackson.

Mrs. W. D. Barclay of Monroe spent Sunday in Corvallis with her daughter, Miss Iva, the popular milliner.

Mrs. B. von Reel of Alesia was in Corvallis, yesterday, and left on the afternoon train for Kokomo, Indiana, to remain indefinitely.

Miss Grace Nichols has just closed a successful term of school and has returned to her home in this city. She has been teaching a school south of Philomath.

Miss Phosha Lamberson, a former Corvallis girl and a graduate of the local business college, is on a visit to relatives and friends. She is employed as stenographer for a firm at Dallas.

The Bellefontaine band furnished music at the Ridder's picnic, Saturday, and on the return gave several numbers on Corvallis streets, Saturday evening, which were enjoyed by quite a crowd.

Mrs. Webley Edwards left yesterday for Hood River to attend the State Grange. She will be accompanied home by her husband, who has been on his ranch at Mayville, Eastern Oregon, since February.

Congressman W. C. Hawley will deliver the oration in this city on July 4th. We are to be congratulated on good fortune on this account. Grove A. Peterson will read the Declaration of Independence.

Miss Lillian Rannoy returned Sunday from La Grande, where she had been to attend the Rebekah grand lodge. Misses Pauline Kline and E. La Jacobs, who accompanied her, stopped in Portland to visit relatives.

Mrs. J. E. Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Maud Hendrickson, of Walla Walla arrived Sunday to remain indefinitely for the benefit of the latter's health. For a time they will be with the former's father, S. H. Horton.

Six hundred and seventy-six persons went on the Senior excursion, Saturday, and on the return the train had to be taken up the incline at Summit in two sections, the two engines being unable to make the trip up at one pull.

Wanted on subscription at the Gazette office.

J. R. Horning of Klamath Falls arrived Sunday on a brief visit to his brother, E. B. Horning, and left yesterday for his home. He had been on a several days' visit to Portland relatives previous to coming to Corvallis.

T. H. Williams, one of the proprietors of the Strong saw mill, who has been very ill, is now convalescent and getting along nicely. His son and family are to arrive in the early part of June from Texas, to remain, and the family will occupy the Strong residence which they have purchased.

The funeral of Ed McCradie takes place at the Methodist church this afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Feese. The remains are expected to arrive from Portland at noon. The young man was killed in a fall from a house. He had been married but two months. He is a relative of Samuel Mills of this city.

Fred Porter arrived home from Portland, Saturday, to remain for a few days' rest and visit. For many months he has been in the employ of a Portland electrical firm, but during the past two months he was sent to Butte, Montana, to do some special work. Fred is very capable and his capabilities are winning him recognition.

The many friends of Miss Minnie Wilson, who is now in New York City, will be pleased to learn that she has accepted a position in a hospital. She is to be engaged in the pathological department of the ladies' infirmary, but whether as a nurse or in scientific pursuits is not learned. She will enter upon her new duties June 1.

Word comes from Bellefontaine that the members of the ninth and tenth grades of that school have successfully passed their examinations. In the ninth grade the graduates are Roy Waltz and Ivan Rickard, and in the tenth, Carrol Edwards, Edith Buckingham, Floyd and Greeta Bristow, George Buckingham and Lewis Bayne.

Gene M. Simpson has over 250 little china pheasants already hatched, on his place in the western part of town, and it is a busy time for Gene, as the little birds are difficult to raise unless one knows his business. There is such a demand for these birds that fanciers get almost any price they ask for them, as other states are desirous of stocking their domains with the beauties.

THE BOGUS PRINCE.

Will be Here Wednesday Night. —See Him.

This entertaining musical comedy which comes to the opera house May 29th, is a very merry affair, and one of the hits of the season. A large chorus of singing and dancing girls insures an unusually clever entertainment.

The music is delightfully catchy, the humor laugh provoking, and the singing of both principals and chorus above the average. The costuming and scenery are in keeping with the production. Seats now selling.
