ANARCHY'S PRIESTESS.

It would seem to a thinking and reasoning person that while it is right and proper to grant independence and liberty to all that there is a continued increase in the ranks of those who abuse such privileges. They fail utterly to appreciate what this government affords them.

There are comparatively few home-grown anarchists in the United States and this should be a source of pride to every good citizen of the land. But anarchy is a foreign import and the ranks are swelled from foreign lands. The great majority of our anarchists are imported, as are the greater numbers of those agitators who are identified with strikes. The mass of these undesirable creatures had either to keep within the laws of their own countries or flee the land. They were so lawless as to choose the latter alternative, and it seems that invariably they succeeded in reaching the United States.

Many of these are murderers at heart—anarchists, if you please, for to be an anarchist of average standing requires the possessing of the quality to do murder. Professed anarchists have their "dens" in nearly every large city in the United States today. The authorities are aware of this, and yet it is allowed. The arch-priestess of all this is Emma Goldman, whose every utterance is opposed to law and order, to all the elements that go to make good government. She is a woman—too bad. It is a pity that there were not a third sex for such creatures, as she will ever prove a thorn in the flesh of every good man and woman.

She came to this country something like a quarter century ago and at once began the task, to the greatest of her talents and ability, of disrupting our government. She has always appeared as the champion of all acts of violence and disorder. She has been preaching her anarchistic doctrines in Portland during the past week and in the course of one of her harangues, said:

In what respect has the organized Government of this country contributed to the welfare and peace of its people? Investigate the annals of the labor troubles of this country and you will find that in every instance, in all controversies between labor and capital, organized authority and government have been opposed to the interests of the laborer and the producer. This fact was demonstrated in the labor troubles in Colorado, when the militia was called to enforce the orders of the authorities. The same condition has been more recently witnessed in the labor troubles in San Francisco, where the striking street car men asked for a few more cents a day pay and a few minutes shorter workday, concessions which all laboring men are entitled to ask. In the trial that is now in progress in Boise, the accused men are promised a "fair" trial, but that trial will only be as fair as the government and the capitalist may choose to give, unless the virtue of a conscience-awakened manhood of the laboring men of the country asserts itself and prevents another such a crime as was committed in Chicago in 1887.

It seems about time for the government to re-enact the closing scenes "of such crimes as were committed in Chicago in 1887."

Mr. Beadek leaves the university, Friday for good, as from Corvallis, where the ball team plays OAC, Saturday, he will go to east. His work has been very satisfactory here this year, he having put out one of the finest football and baseball teams that Oregon has ever had. The varsity baseball team will play two more games before closing the season. One will be at Chemawa, Friday morning, with the Indians and the other Friday afternoon with the Salem high school at Salem. Oregon expects, of course, to win both games. Saturday she plays OAC at Corvallis. "Dad" Clark will again be in the game, having recovered from a case of mumps.—Guard.

SHEDD-WIMBERLY WEDDING.

Celebrated in Corvallis Tuesday Noon.

The brightest of sunshine, the most glorious of June days, a profusion of fragrant blossoms, and a large company of distinguished guests awaiting a bridal couple were features at the Presbyterian church at high noon, Tuesday.

As Miss E-sie Bell finished singing an appropriate solo the wedding march pealed forth, Miss Pearl Horner presiding at the organ, and Prof. Horner and E. E. Wilson, the ushers, followed by the bridegroom, Prof. Soion Shedd, and Dr. J. R. N. Bell, advanced up the aisle. Following them were two winsome flower girls, little Misses Esther Hays and Helen Smith, and immediately behind them the bride, Mrs. Jeanette Bell-Wimberly on the arm of her brother, Lloyd Bell. At the altar Dr. Bell and Prof. Shedd separated, making space between the bride as she neared the chancel rail. In a very impressive ceremony Rev. Bell then united the happy couple, and the bride and groom left the church and retired to the Bell home, next door. Dr. Bell then extended to the guests an invitation to repair to his residence, where, in a lavishly re-decorated dining room tables were arranged with exquisite taste and a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

Prof. Horner presided as toastmaster and toasts were responded to by Prof. Horner, E. E. Wilson, Dr. Cathey and Dr. Bell, the bride and groom responding in a happy manner. During the social hour at the residence two vocal solos were pleasingly rendered by Miss Lulu Spangler.

The bride's dress was very beautiful, being of cream colored material hand embroidered, and brought from Manila as a gift. Her bouquet was white roses. The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bell and is a lady of rare excellence of character and attainments. The groom is professor of geology in the Pullman, Wash., college and is held in the highest esteem. The invited guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson, Independence; Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Butler, Independence; Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Cathey, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Callahan, Prof. and Mrs. J. B. Horner, Mrs. Thomas Cauthorn, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Mrs. Lewis Wilson, E. E. Wilson, Miss Lulu Spangler, Bertha Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Skipton, Miss Bertha Shedd, Shedd; E. W. Shedd, Shedd; Mrs. C. S. Shedd, Shedd; D. A. McCracken, Seattle; Mrs. C. A. Johns, Baker City; Mrs. King, Albany; Mrs. Thomas Burke, Baker City; Miss Maud Laube, Baker City; Miss A. Baird, Portland; Miss Maud Moore, Baker City; Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Wilkins, J. Hirschberg, Independence; Mesdames E. Taylor and Minnie Lee, Misses Pearl and Vera Horner, Helen Smith, Esther Hays, Iva Magness, Iva Lee.

Was a Success.

The opera house presented a beautiful appearance all day Wednesday and Wednesday evening, the occasion being the annual rose show of the Presbyterian ladies.

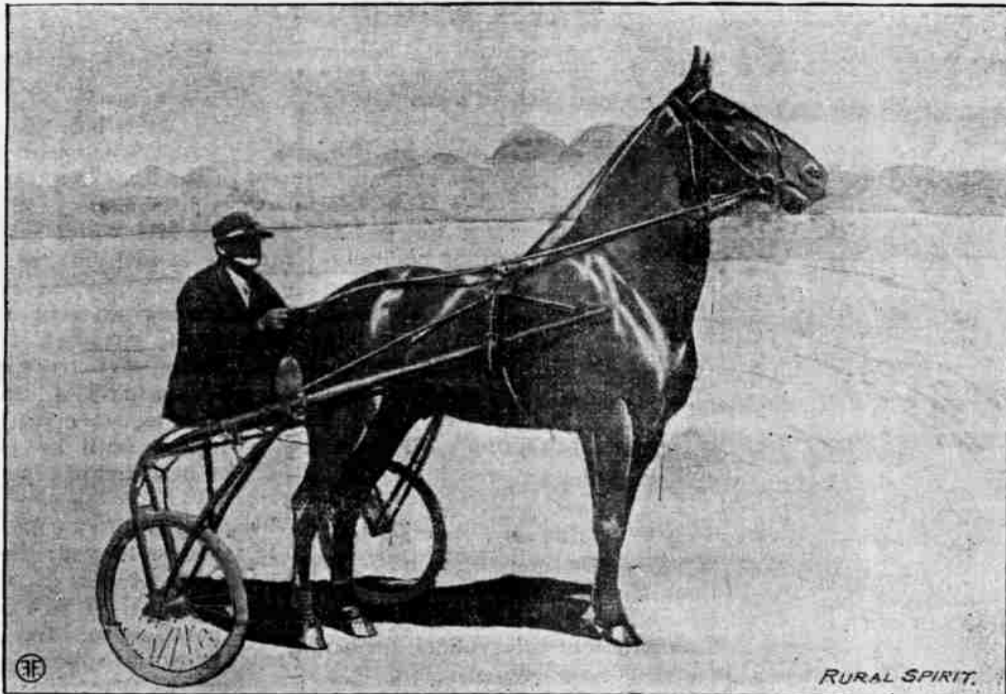

At the evening entertainment the stage was lavishly decorated with roses and was artistically arranged to represent a garden, the idea of a tea party in a rural nook being carried out.

The program was almost entirely of a musical character, those participating with solos and in the choruses being Mrs. Harold Woodcock, Arthur Bouquet, George, Collie and Marie Cathey, Janet Blackledge, Blanche Hammel and Ed Pratt. Miss Lena Tartar gave a recitation that was well received.

The awards in the rose show were announced by Rev. Bell and were as follows:

Class 1—Finest specimen roses, not less than eight named varieties, first prize, $2.50, Mrs. Rose Selling; 2nd, $1.50, Mrs. Tedrow. Class 2.—Most artistically ar-
