WERE DISAPPOINTED.

In New York City and Chicago —Oregon Girls Abroad.

The two parties of Oregon girls that have been touring the East as guests respectively of the Telegram and Pacific Northwest, have frankly expressed their disappointment, and one might say disgust, with certain people and cities of the East. In these parties are two Corvallis girls—Miss Nora Miller with the Telegram party, and Miss Alda Metcalf with the Pacific Northwest or Philip S. Bates party.
The Oregonian quotes the remarks of Miss Metcalf in regard to New York men thus:
"The New York men are the rudest I ever have seen. In the street cars the men bury their heads in the papers and let the women stand up. You never see that in Oregon."

"What impresses me most in the East," said Miss Metcalf, "is the artificiality of the women.
Why, they all appeared amazed at me whenever I expressed a frank opinion. Gracious, I'd hate to be so afraid of myself." All the girls said they were disappointed at the Jamestown Exposition, but that Washington equalled all their hopes.

A Chicago dispatch of the 5th in the same paper said of the party's visit to that city:

"The 17 bright eyed and keenwitted Oregon girls who are touring the country departed tonight for Minneapolis where they will be formally greeted at the Stock Exchange tomorrow, Governor Johnson making the welcoming speech.

In return for their criticism of Chicago's unlovely skyline and forbidding streets the Oregonians today applied some salve to Chicago's wounded feelings by assuring us that our women were more human than those of New York, and that the men here were more polite and behaved more like the men of their own state than any specimens they had seen in the East.

It was a busy day. The party chartered a "rubber-neck," automobile and toured Lincoln Park, the Zoo, and paraded through the great shopping center.
Shortly thereafter they hastened back on foot to the shopping center and "pried themselves loose" from considerable money in exchange for dry goods. They wheedled policemen to snip souvenir buttons from their uniforms; declined to pay any attention to our lake shipping as they are familiar with great ocean boats, but commented rather sharply upon the rough streets.

South Water street, the great market center, interested them very much, but they declined a visit to the stock yards. The mansion of Mrs. Potter Palmer evoked mild praise, but Chicago's chief claim to their pleasant remembrance is the politeness of the men, who gave them seats in the cars and did not blow cigarette smoke in their faces, as the New York men did.

At the Sherman house, which was their headquarters while honoring this city with a visit, the bellboys, elevator men, guards, and all the other uniformed employees tonight admitted that they had parted company with all their buttons, which had gone into the Oregonian souvenir collection.

A Real German Wedding.

One of the finest weddings of the season was at the home of Mr. Anton Atkins on the Albany and Corvallis road in Lyon county, when their daughter Mrs. Martha Hinkle became the wife of Mr. Mattis Noack of Aurora, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. C. J.
Beyerlein of the German Lutheran church of Albany.

The impressive ceremony took place at 2:30 last Wednesday afternoon. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Heeszel and Miss Anna Leder of Corvallis. The groom was attended by Fred Strake of Corvallis. The ceremony was performed in the German language.

The most tempting dinner was served out doors on a beautifully decorated table. About 80 guests were present. After the dinner the evening was spent in dancing. The wedding gifts were many and useful as well as beautiful.

Noack is a prosperous hop grower of Aurora and an influential citizen. The bride has a wide circle of friends in Corvallis where she has lived for a year. They will be at home near Aurora June 9, and a host of friends join with the best wishes for a long and successful life.

Among those present were:
Mr. and Mrs. John C. Taumen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haflich, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tuax, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs.
Ernest Turner, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Bowles, Mr. and Mrs.
Chas. Mausolf, Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ruiner, Mr. and Mrs. Haeszel, Mr. and Mrs. Goas, Mr. Adam Rader and Mr. Mike Haflich.

For Jamestown Team.

A dispatch from Eugene to the Portland Journal says:

The University of Oregon track team has five candidates for the team which will go to the Jamestown exposition and these men will make anyone else go some to beat them out of their positions.

They are McKinney, the big shot-putter, discus-thrower and hammer man; Zacharias, the crack hammer man, who is second only to McKinney in discus and shot, and Hug who threw so close to Zacharias in the hammer throw and usually beats him in the shot. The next man is Moore, the crack hurdler and sprinter. If a team of any completeness is taken he should be included. Kelly of course is the fifth and around him as a nucleus the team will be built.

Whether all the men go will depend upon the number taken, for if a complete team is taken they can hardly be left out. The most doubt seems to hang around Moore and Hug. Moore, however, tied the world's record in the low hurdles on a curved track and that will help his chances materially.

Still Another Success.

Ripening fruit by electricity is one of the latest achievements of science, says an exchange. The experiment was tried by an English electrical expert, who found that he could reproduce the effects of the tropical sun's rays without difficulty. The ripening experiments have been tried for the most part with bananas.
When bunches of green fruit arrive in England they are put up in an air tight case made entirely of glass. Inside this case is supplied with a number of electric lights which can be turned on and off in any number at will.
It has been discovered the bananas ripen according to the amount of rays shed on them.
The expert has now made tests so that he can now ripen bananas any time he wants them by regulating the lights.

It is erroneously believed by those who have never been in banana raising lands that there the fruit is allowed to ripen on the tree. This is not the case.
Bananas are picked green and hung up to ripen just as they are treated in the north.

Those who have not been assassinated by Harry Orchard will please hold up their hands for half a minute while we count 'em.—Ex.

TO MAKE FINE SHOWING.

At State Fair—OAC Preparing for Display.

Professor E. R. Lake of the Oregon Agricultural college was in Salem a few days ago looking over the state fair grounds and making the final arrangements for the exhibit to be made by the college at the fair this fall. Not only is the college to make one of the finest exhibits on the grounds, but plans are being talked of for the erection of an agricultural college pavilion for permanent headquarters of the college at the Oregon state fair.

Connected with the exhibit of the Oregon Agricultural college will be the display of the state experiment station at Union, which has called for 500 feet of wall space.

To the lovers of horse flesh the coming to the state fair of the McLaughlin Bros., of St. Paul, Minnesota, the well known horse breeders, who exhibited at the Lewis and Clark fair, will be hailed with joy.

There is a great demand for camping space at "Tozierville" and during the visit of "Mayor Albert" Tozier to Norfolk, Virginia, where he is attending the National Editorial Association, Secretary Frank Welch is being flooded with reservations for space. All the space along the main way, extending between the depot grounds and the main entrance gates on both sides, has been reserved, and the back lots are being taken up with more than common alacrity. Two new cottages have been built and more will be erected.

At a recent meeting of the board of agriculture it was decided to have a uniform admission fee of 50 cents for men and women, but the latter will be admitted free to the grandstand.

Delightful "Shower."

The handsome home of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Pernot was a scene of merriment Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Pernot and Mrs. Frederick Berchtold gave a "shower" in honor of Miss Grace Huff, whose marriage to George Von der Hellen occurs on the 19th.

The rooms were converted into vibrant "rose bowers" by the exquisite arrangement and lavish use of these choice blossoms, and the occasion was replete with happiness and good cheer. A brief program was rendered that included vocal solos by Misses: Lulu Spangler, Gertrude Mc-Bee, and Blanche Jeffreys of Portland; instrumental solo, Miss Lillian Ranney, readings Miss Lena Tartar and Miss Olive Mal-low.

The guests were invited to the dining room where punch was served, each guest giving a toast as she drank the health of the bride-elect. Dainty refreshments were served later. The guests were; Mesdames Frederic Berchtold, John Fulton, J. Fred Yates, Vance Taylor; Misses:

ney, Carrie Danneman, Lena

THEY GRADUATED.

Pretty Scene at Corvallis Opera House Thursday Night.

Two or three wagon loads of choice flowers made into exquisite bouquets and piled upon tables and stage, a large company of bright young students in gala attire and a room filled to overflowing with interested friends and relatives of the young graduates, made up a scene of unusual brilliancy at the opera house Thursday night.

The occasion was the graduation exercises of the 8th and 9th grades of the Corvallis public schools, and the program was one of interest from start to fin-

There was a pleasant social affair at the home of Prof. and Mrs. A. L.
Kniesly, Thursday night. The occasion was a "50c" party and the with LaFrance roses, artistically arranged. Light refreshments were served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirspatrick and Jack Stuart, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Prof. and Mrs.

G. A. Corvill, Prof. and Mrs. C. M.

Mortified and chagrined because
