Fairly favorable weather has prevailed this week, after the heavy rain of Sunday and Sunday night, but at the fair the race track was not in a condition as a result of the downpour, although the attendance has apparently not suffered from the clouds and threatening aspect overhead.

The funeral of the late Miss Lillian Glass occurred from the family residence at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon and interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Death was the result of paralysis and congestion of the brain. Deceased was born in Benton county on the same place where death overtook her at the age of 47 years, one month and nine days. She was a graduate of OAC, had been a teacher for many years and was a respected lady of the community. Two brothers, Frank Glass of Redmond, Eastern Oregon, and Robert Glass of Corvallis, survive.

Work is being hurried as rapidly as possible on the Kline store and one of these fine days Corvallis will see one of the swellest establishments in the Valley open its doors in the new building.

The mud was scraped off the cross walks of Main street, Tuesday morning, and would have been hauled away had teams been available for the work but there were none to be had. With about ten drays in Corvallis and all busy almost day and night, with every teamster employed and every man at work, times are anything but dull in this burg.

A beggar struck town the first of the week and plied his trade industriously for several hours. He visited a local barber shop and in tendering payment for a hair cut disclosed a purse containing probably $25. Chief Wells obligingly escorted him to the S. P. depot where he took the blind baggage for parts unknown.

A lost boy, four years of age created some excitement and kept Chief of Police Wells busy for some hours, Monday. The little fellow was Wayne Darby, residing in the western part of town. After making numerous calls at business houses on Main street the lad was found by Chief Wells at the S. P. depot and returned to his home.

The salmon season is now at its height at Yaquina, and reports received from there are to the effect that the greatest sport of the year is being enjoyed by the fishermen. Large catches are reported, and those fishing with troll lines are having some of the greatest sport of the north Pacific coast. Large catches are reported among those fishing with the gill nets, and each morning the boats return to the anchorage laden with a heavy load of silverside salmon. The annual run at Yaquina is becoming a watched-for event and large parties put off their vacation season to a late period so as to be enabled to engage in this, one of the most fascinating and exciting of sports.

Mrs. Byron Hunter went to Portland, Wednesday, to accompany her mother, Mrs. Briggs, home. The latter has been in a hospital there for many weeks.

Tuesday night at sundown the Jews the world over began the observation of what is known as Yom Kippur or Day of Atonement, which is considered the most holy and most solemn day in the Hebrew calendar, and is observed for a period of 24 hours, ending Wednesday evening at sundown. Yom Kippur is distinguished as a day devoted entirely to making atonement for sins toward God and man and sanctifying and elevating the moral nature to God. It is also a day on which is declared the domination of the spirit over the body by abstinence from all earthly enjoyments, including eating and drinking. The mind is occupied exclusively with holy thoughts. It is also a day of reconciliation for those who have been estranged. One of the principles of the day is that one who refuses reconciliation with his fellow man cannot hope for God's forgiveness.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchanan went to Salem, yesterday, to see the sights at the fair.

The last will and testament of the late Judge J. B. Waldo was yesterday admitted to probate in the Marion county court. According to the petition filed the property belonging to the estate and located in Marion county is valued at about $33,000, all of which is bequeathed to the deceased's daughter, Edith Waldo, with the exception of the sum of $5,000, which is to be paid to the deceased's sister, Mary P. Logan, within five years from the time of his death. Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, wife of the deceased, is named in the will as executrix and is to serve without bonds. W. H. H. Darby, G. W. Eoff and D. J. Slier were appointed by the court to appraise the estate.—Salem Statesman.

The Oak Creek Lumber Company has established a yard in Wilkins' Addition, and has on hand for sale a complete stock of rough and dressed lumber. Merle Moore is in charge of the yard and will be pleased to fill your bills. 54tf

The following from an exchange is all too true: Hurrying to make up lost time is responsible for more wrecks, human and otherwise, in this life than any other one thing. Here is a disaster at Canaan station, N. H., caused by the Quebec express dashing at full speed into a freight, all because the express was trying to make up for lost time. Result, 24 dead. The world is hurry mad.

A New York dispatch says: "Forrest Smithson of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland, Saturday won the 120-yard hurdle handicap at the meeting of the New York Athletic Club. Smithson was the scratch man, Ralph Rose, of the Olympic Club, of San Francisco, broke the world's record by throwing the 8-pound shot, which was held by Martin Sheridan. Rose excelled Sheridan's record by six feet. Smithson also took second place in the 220-yard dash.

The citizens of any prosperous town are always public spirited and united. Stand together, work for the interests of the whole town. Always stand ready to do your part. Don't grumble and spend your time in prophesying failures, but help to make every enterprise a success, be it great or small. Be energetic and enterprising and your example will be imitated.—Ex.

Earl Heckat won second place in this, the second district, of the Portland Journal's educational contest that for two or three months has been in progress throughout the state. While the exact amount of his cash prize is not known as yet, it is supposed to be about $30, besides which he secures a one year scholarship in Dallas college. He will go to Dallas the first of the week to enter school. The young man made a splendid fight throughout the contest, and being too young to enter OAC the opportunity to attend Dallas college for a year will be of inestimable value to him. Corvallis is proud of young people who have ambition and perseverance and Mr. Heckat has the hearty congratulations of many friends.

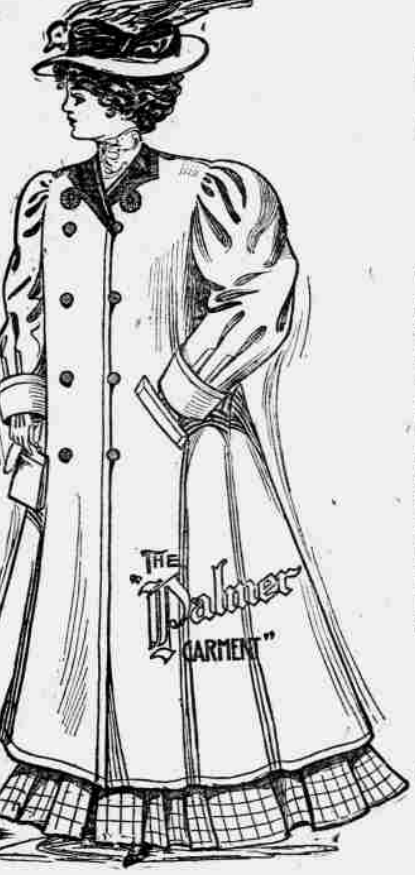

Carl Porter and family are moving to Albany this week where Mr. Porter will accept employment in a butcher shop. He is an old time Corvallis "butcher boy" and will undoubtedly meet with success wherever he goes, as he is both competent and reliable.

Jobs addition residents are now provided with adequate fire protection. Tuesday a hose cart was taken out and installed in the new fire house that was built recently, and 650 feet of hose has also been furnished. This gives residents of that part of town ample means for fighting any ordinary fire, as there are numerous hydrants in that locality and a fire company with a good enrollment.

Henry Wortham, Adam Graber, and H. L. Winkley departed Wednesday for the Alsea country for a week's hunting trip. There is no doubt that all the elk in that section will be either killed or frightened off the face of the earth by this formidable trio.
