PRETTY WEDDING.

At Peoria—Popular Young People Wed.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lamar at Peoria was the scene of a pretty wedding, Thursday evening, when the latter's sister, Miss Clara Ridenour, was united in marriage to Roscoe Carmichael of Harlan, Lincoln county.

With Miss Nellie Carmichael, sister of the groom, at the piano, the young couple entered the parlor and took a position under a floral bell, where they were united with the ring ceremony, "for better or for worse" by Rev. J. B. Ellison, in the presence of about 25 relatives and friends. The bridesmaid was Miss Lucile Berry, who was prettily attired in pink silk bastiste and carried a bouquet of sweet peas, and Charles Cator was best man.

The bride made a very pretty picture in a dainty costume of white silk and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ridenour and a popular young woman who has many friends. The groom is a young man of worth and is well and favorably known.

After congratulations the company enjoyed a social hour during which light refreshments were served. Many handsome and useful presents were received.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael left Friday for a trip to Newport. They will take up their residence at Harlan, where they are followed by the good wishes of many friends.

Athletics at Willamette.

Although the attention of athletic circles is at present directed to the great college game and track and field events are in the future, Willamette University, through Trainer Roy Heater, is gathering recruits for the coming track season. Trainer Heater says Willamette will be able to put out a much better track squad than it has for some seasons past.

Willamette has practically been given the assurance that two men who performed for McMinnville last season will don the "cardinal and the gold." They are Williams and Roberts and are excellent men, especially Roberts, who is considered to be up in the Dan Kelly class. Bill Pemberton, a former Pacific man, and Gray, an old Willamette athlete and captain of McMinnville track team several seasons past, may enter the university this year. Cummins, who ran in the sprints last spring, will be back. Rumr spread it that Lounsbury, Willamette's all-round athlete, would enter the Knoxville University of Tennessee this fall, but the management here announces that he has given notice that he will return to defend the honor of "Old Willamette." Lounsbury is a pole vaulter and broad jumper. Forbes and Shanks, both good distant men, will return to the varsity this year, while many other recruits are in evidence and make an encouraging showing for the track so early in the school year.—Oregonian.

Should Keep Sheep.

Every farmer, with time to give them attention, should keep a few sheep, says the Agriculturist. There is no other domestic animal that will give such large returns for the money, outlay and the care required. The sheep is invaluable as a weed destroyer, and the yearly increase and annual "clip" makes the sheep one of the farm's most reliable resources. Every farmer could maintain a flock of from 20 to 100 with very little expense and much profit. The "best kind" is largely a matter of fancy. Every year the sheep enter more largely into the production of food in the United States. Good mutton is scarce and the indications are that sheep prices will continue to soar for some time, at least. Every farmer or feeder who has handled sheep in the past four or five years, has had good profit for his pains. Decide what kind of sheep you will raise and then start your flock.

Special Attraction September 25.

On next Wednesday night we are to have the opportunity of witnessing the Lewis and Lake Musical Comedy Company and their famous dancing chorus headed by Miss Marjorie Lake.

The class of entertainment offered by this organization is on the style of Weber & Field—so much in vogue in New York. Plots are entirely done away with their place being taken with catchy up-to-date songs, glittering dance effects, and bright dialogue of the clever principals composing the company. Seats are now selling.

THE WHOLE TRUTH.

Most Editors Too Charitable to Print All—Kansas Editor is Not.

People who are given to abusing the newspaper for what it prints or omits to print, as the case may be, should take a hint from an article published in a Kansas paper, and be thankful that the editor does not always tell the whole truth or go into details concerning certain affairs. Frequently the editor is tempted to "tell things" as he sees them, but charity forbids. Then, in turn, let the reader refrain from abusing the paper.

This Kansas editor, in describing an entertainment in his town says:

It was, with one or two exceptions, the rottenest thing of the kind ever seen in Atchison. The singing of Miss Rildea Farlinson was something awful, sounding most of the time like a pig squealing for something to eat. Miss Farlinson is the victim of politeness. Her friends pretend to enjoy her singing in private whereas they are bored. They spurred her on to make herself extremely ridiculous last night, and did her great harm by not giving her a hint as to the truth.

The Landerson sisters played a duet on the piano for 15 minutes by the watch. It was simply awful, but the audience thought it would not be polite not to applaud, and brought on a second act, which lasted ten minutes. The sisters were probably ruined for good housekeepers by this misapplied kindness of the audience. Falson Iterson, a youth who should be put to work sang one of those maudlin popular songs about Sadie going away from home because her father would not keep her supplied with street car tickets. Falson loafed around with the girls too much, and he will never amount to anything. The violin solo by Miss Ancherly was too bad for description, and the accompaniment was no better.

The recitations by Annie Chanter and Alice Pointen were the same old thing, on the same old subjects. Yet both were applauded and their minds turned from the right channel of housework and dishwashing. It was an unfortunate and painful affair throughout, and no good can come of it."

THE SCHEDULE.

And Other Interesting Facts About OAC Football.

OAC's Football Schedule:
October 12—Columbia Athletic Club of The Dalles at Corvallis.

October 19—Willamette at Corvallis.

October 26—Whitworth college of Tacoma at Corvallis.

November 2—Pacific at Corvallis.

November 9—University of Oregon at Eugene.

November 16—Open.

November 22—No game.

November 28—St. Vincent's college at Los Angeles.

With such a coach as F. S. Norcross, picked by "Hurry Up" Yost as the greatest quarterback ever produced in the middle west, entering upon his new second year at Oregon Agricultural college, and an array of football talent seldom seen in a northwest college, prospects at Corvallis are good for a winning eleven, declares the Sunday Journal.

Nearly all of the men who held Oregon and Washington down to a scoreless 60 minutes last season will be seen on the field this fall and they will be re-enforced by at least three or four men who made splendid records two and three years ago.

General Manager Greenhaw, who has spent the summer at his home in Portland, believes that OAC will place on the gridiron this year one of the strongest teams that has ever donned Corvallis mole skins. Greenhaw is enthusiastic over the chances of his team and does not anticipate unusual trouble with his opponents. True, his schedule does not contain such teams as Idaho, Washington state college, or the University of Washington, but the "Aggies" will try conclusions with their time-honored enemy, the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Washington, "U," Idaho and Washington state were the recipients of challenges from the Corvallis manager, but so far no game has been arranged with any of the three. For three years the "Aggies" have journeyed north to Seattle, and on two of these occasions administered severe drubbings. Last season a no-score game was played. Repeated efforts to get the Washington "U" to Corvallis for a game have failed, and the scant courtesy shown by the sound players has not increased their favor with the OAC players.

Coach Norcross' men will play their Thanksgiving game in Southern California this year, which, by the way, may be the only big exhibition of the American game played in that state. Stanford and the University of California are still substituting Rugby for the great college game. The game ought to be a drawing card in the absence of the annual contest of the two largest institutions.

Happy Social Event.

Mrs. B. A. Cathey was hostess, and Mrs. H. D. Schudder honor guest at a delightful reception given at the former's home Thursday afternoon. Always a successful and charming hostess, Mrs. Cathey added greatly to her honors on this occasion, the event proving one of the most truly enjoyable and successful of the present autumn.

The spacious rooms of the Cathey home were profusely decorated with sweet brier, clematis, autumn leaves and roses, the effect being exceedingly artistic and beautiful.

During the afternoon Miss Lulu Spangler gave two vocal solos in her pleasing style, and Misses Marie and Evelyn Cathey sang two duets that were much enjoyed. Very dainty refreshments were served, and the hours were spent in social conversation.

Those invited were: Mesdames, Schudder, Kerr, Dryden, W. P. Ireland, Fesse, Russel, Andrews Harper, J. Allen, Monosmith, A. J. Johnson, Horner, J. R. N. Bell, Cox, M. E. Lee, M. S. "A $10,000 Beauty" Sept. 25.

A special attraction at the opera house on next Wednesday night, will be the attractive and sparkling musical comedy "A $10,000 Beauty," that has made such a hit in every city in which it has appeared. The company is a well balanced one, and the play is full of exceedingly funny scenes and situations, supplemented with popular musical numbers by an excellent trained chorus, all of which combine to make the production a veritable whirlwind of melody and fun. The company which is composed of twenty-six people, has been playing musical stock in Denver, Spokane and Seattle, during the summer months, and were on their way to San Francisco, when a sudden change of route left them with a few nights open, one of which is to be played here.
