

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

C. H. Burggraf of Albany was a business visitor in Corvallis, Tuesday.

Miss Grace Jolly of Philomath was a Corvallis visitor one day this week.

Laurence Graham went to Portland, Wednesday, on a brief business visit.

Prof. Bradley and Postmaster B. W. Johnson have been Portland business visitors this week.

Mrs. Speed Bevans of Wrenn has been a guest since Tuesday at the Freeman Bevans home in this city.

Charley Hall of Portland, a commercial traveler, looked after business for his firm in this city, Tuesday.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson and little daughter, Wanda, are to return today from a few days' visit with relatives at Scio.

Montie Thorpe, who has been in Portland and Eastern Oregon, is at the home of his parents in this city for a visit of indefinite length.

Miss Pearl Persinger has just returned from Portland to be at the bedside of her mother who is ill at the family home at Bellefontaine.

Colonel E. Hofer, editor of the Daily Capital Journal at Salem, is to address the OAC student body in Assembly next Wednesday morning.

John Young is rapidly recovering from the injuries he sustained last week in a cave-in of dirt while working in a sewer ditch. He still carries his arm in a sling.

The framework is up and work is progressing on an addition that is being built to the steam laundry. When completed the new room will be valuable as an office and sorting room.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt have moved from their ranch home to Philomath, where they will hereafter reside. Their children have been quite ill since the last of the week.

Mrs. Tom L. Armstrong and two sons of Chicago arrived Tuesday and are guests for an indefinite period of General and Mrs. T. J. Thorpe in this city. The lady is a niece of Mrs. Thorpe.

Contractor Snook and family left Tuesday night for their home in Salem. They have resided in Corvallis a year, during which time Mr. Snook has built Waldo Hall, the new dormitory for girls.

Mrs. Sarah Stewart and her daughter, Miss Nouns, arrived home the first of the week from an extended stay in Portland. The daughter, who has been very ill, is slightly improved in health.

Will the gentleman who took by mistake the dark grey cravenette from the "Hoffman House," Eugene, on evening of football game kindly return to W. J. Giddings, 237 E. 6th St., Albany.

In spite of the rain which began during Tuesday night, the sewer work is going on at a rapid rate and the "diggers" are now in the road in the rear of Allen's drug store and the First National bank.

Next Sunday will be communion day at the M. E. church, South. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the morning sermon. Subject of morning sermon, "Cost and Value of our Redemption;" evening topic, "Our Refuge."

L. C. Brown of Niles, Michigan, coast secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, was in Corvallis, Wednesday, looking after business in his line and trying to arrange for a delegation from OAC to attend an interstate oratorical contest at Albany this evening.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell threw his hat in the Willamette river the other day, having pledged himself to do so if OAC won the big game of football at Eugene, Saturday. Dr. Bell never does things by halves, and he has since declared that if OAC wins the next game with U. of O. he will jump into the river—if the game occurs during warm weather. There is no doubt that when he does this he will make a "splash" that will be heard near and far.

Mark Weatherford, Harold Wilkins, Warren Foreythe and Mr. Stone, all popular students and last year graduates of OAC, who are now attending school at Ann Arbor, Michigan, were remembered by their old college mates when the OAC team defeated U. of O. In reply to the telegram sent them, telling of the victory, came the following wire: "Your telegram causes superabundant, exuberant 'felicitation.' Good work; good old team." The dispatch has caused much amusement among the boys, who are duly appreciative of the keen interest of the "old men" now in Michigan.

D. B. Taylor of Independence has been looking after business in Corvallis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker returned the first of the week from a few days' visit in Eugene.

Dr. and Mrs. McLouth of Michigan are guests of their daughter, Mrs. A. B. Cordley, and their son, Prof. McLouth, of OAC.

Mrs. J. S. Baker of Eugene is a guest at the home of her brother, William Baker, in this city. She will remain indefinitely.

W. C. Metcalf has just returned from a week's visit to his farm in Yamhill county, where he has been looking after his fall work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hurlburt left Tuesday for Junction City where Mr. Hurlburt will assume charge of the Kaupisch cream station.

Rev. H. L. Pratt, pastor of the United Evangelical church, returns the last of this week from a trip to Portland and will occupy his pulpit Sunday morning and evening.

The Southern Pacific agent has notified S. L. Kline, president of the Merchants' Association of Corvallis, that he will accept Clearing House Certificates in payment for freight charges.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Johnson and Prof. and Mrs. McKelips of Corvallis were guests of Prof. and Mrs. DeCou during the day, Saturday. Mr. Johnson is postmaster at that place.—Eugene Register.

Mr. Gove and family have moved this week into the Prather house which they recently purchased. They have been occupying a part of the Blakeslee house, together with the Johnson family.

Miss Eugenia Shelby returned the first of this week from an extended vacation visit in Portland and elsewhere, and on the 15th again assumes charge of the Wells Fargo express office in this city.

At the college chapel tonight, Prof. F. W. Orr of Pacific University gives a dramatic recital, assisted by Miss Cornelia Baker of Portland, musical artist. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. James Withycombe left Tuesday morning for Jefferson, where he began the first of a series of farmers' institutes. Wednesday, he was scheduled for a meeting at Aumsville and yesterday was to hold one at Liberty.

The members of the Epworth League of the M. E. church held a business meeting and social in the church basement, Wednesday evening, a large crowd of young people being present. A program and a jolly time were features enjoyed by all.

The new orchestral piano for the Corvallis skating rink arrived the fore part of this week and was installed Tuesday. The music is very similar to that of a military band, and the enterprise of Messrs. McFarland and Luper in securing such an attraction for their rink is to be commended.

Claude Swann left Tuesday for Seattle to begin his work as coach of the Alaska-Yukon Brotherhood basketball team, preparatory to the long tour of the United States. "Swannie" expects to be gone five months and his friends and college mates in Corvallis certainly wish him success and good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hewitt of Stockton, California, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Herron of Snohomish, Wash., are expected to arrive tomorrow to attend the Barclay family reunion Sunday, and the marriage of Miss Gertrude Barclay of Irish Bend to Stanley Darl Herbert, which occurs Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Heckart of Eugene are also to be present.

Mrs. Jessie Pettit Flint brought to the Gazette office this week a small branch from a blackberry bush, on which were 47 berries, about half of them ripe and the others just turning red. When it is remembered that the middle of November is here, this story becomes eloquent, telling as it does of the mild, delightful climate of the Willamette Valley, of which Corvallis is the "core."

The "Barometer" managers and editor are to be congratulated upon their energy and enthusiasm in getting out, on Monday evening, a splendid, special issue of the Barometer, giving a complete account of the big football game at Eugene, Saturday, together with many interesting items "on the side" as to who went from the OAC faculty, comments on the loyalty of Eugene, and pictures of five OAC and five U. of O. star players, besides a picture of Fullback Wolfe, whose placekick won the game, and another of Gordon Moores, captain of the U. of O. team. This issue of the "Barometer" deserves special praise and will no doubt be valued as a souvenir by every student at OAC.

Mrs. Nellie Porter Thompson of Monroe has been a Corvallis visitor this week.

Warren Hartley came out from Newport the first of the week on a brief business trip.

Regular services at the Congregational church, Sunday morning and evening. Everyone welcome.

A. E. Lewis and family moved Wednesday into a dwelling near the Jim Flett house, on Fifth street.

Miss Margaret Herron returned to her home at Irish Bend, Wednesday, after a visit of several days with Miss Mary Southerland and other friends.

Rev. J. C. Nicholson, a prominent man in the Methodist work, will preach at the M. E. church in this city both morning and evening, Sunday. The public is invited.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Congregational church was pleasantly entertained at the home of the president, Mrs. A. W. Monro-Smith, Wednesday afternoon. An interesting program was rendered, the general subject being "The Geography and Customs of China." Dainty refreshments were served and the afternoon was enjoyably spent by the large number of ladies present.

The subordinate lodge of Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs of Corvallis held a joint meeting Tuesday evening in their hall, being honored by a visit from Grand Master Richard Scott of Milwaukee. There was a program, a banquet, toasts and responses, and a fine address by the guest of honor. About twenty visiting Odd Fellows were present, their presence adding much to the enjoyment of the evening. A splendid time was had by all.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vidito, who was in a very critical condition Sunday and was reported to have diphtheria, is dead. The ailment proved to be an obstruction in the throat and the little one was so nearly strangled that an immediate operation was necessary. A silver tube was introduced into the throat and the child at once revived. Tuesday lung trouble developed and the little girl died at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. Arrangements for the funeral had not been made up to noon yesterday. The parents have the sympathy of the community.

"The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" was in Corvallis, Monday evening, and appeared before a large and appreciative crowd of admirers. This pleasing Southern play was another of Manager Groves' choice attractions for his play house this season, and the audience seemed well satisfied. The love story of the beautiful daughter of the gallant old Southern gentleman is played by a very fair company, save that the negro dialect of the two colored players is very poor, and therefore does not meet the expectations of the audience. The costumes and scenery were good and the four leading characters were well sustained.

New assortment delicious candies, at Howell's. 91-4

Money cannot help business by the "absent treatment."—Ex.

Pyrography wood and leather for burning at Graham & Wells. 93-4

S. S. Woods of Fremont, Iowa, a brother of J. W. Woods of this city, is here on a visit. He was a member of Company F., 4th Iowa Cavalry. He will spend the winter here.

A full line of Palmer's Perfumes at Graham & Wells. 93-4

Preaching at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning and evening, by the pastor, Rev. J. R. N. Bell. Morning topic, "A Lesson in Biology;" evening topic, "A Lesson in Geography." Students and teachers especially invited to hear the discussion of these two subjects. All made welcome.

Fresh Yaquina Bay oysters every Saturday, at Thatcher & Johnson's grocery. 86if

Many of the players who helped to popularize W. E. Nankville's famous melodramatic treat, "Human Hearts," upon the occasion of its former visits, will be seen with the company when it comes to the opera house next Wednesday night. In the cast as Tom Logan, will be found Lincoln J. Plummer, who was with the Jessie Shirley Company, when that popular attraction visited Corvallis.

Fresh, home-made candies, all kinds, at Howell's Candy Kitchen. 91-4

One of the most unique windows dressed in honor of the football game, Saturday, was decorated by the Overton paint store. In the foreground was the regulation gridiron, but with the victory on the Eugene side of the field. But when this result was learned the Oregon warriors—peanut men—were knocked down and a skull labeled "U. of O." with a lemon in its mouth, placed just back of the gridiron. A label close by said: "Thou shalt rise again." By winning the game Saturday, OAC won the state championship.—Eugene Guard.

Judge E. Woodward left yesterday morning for Portland, where he will attend the Good Roads Convention now in session. He returns tomorrow.

The Methodist ladies will serve chicken pie dinner in the church basement Saturday, beginning at 5 o'clock p. m. Price 30 cents. Special music, good time for all. Everybody welcome. 93-4

With the taking over of the management of the Corvallis & Eastern railroad by the Southern Pacific railroad, has come the rumor that the west side Southern Pacific train, now running from Portland to Corvallis, will continue its run over the Corvallis & Eastern route to Yaquina, says the Herald. For years this change in the schedule has been the subject of talk and now that the C. & E. is in the hands of the Southern Pacific, it is probable the change will be made.

Do not purchase cemetery work of any kind without first investigating White Bronze. Perry Eddy of Hoskins will furnish information. 92-5

In answer to a question about the opening up of their mills, George Kelly, manager of the Booth-Kelly company, said: "I haven't the least idea when we are going to open, how many hours a day we will work, or what wages we will pay. All reports along these lines from the outside are simply guess work. There will be nothing definite along these lines until we get ready to make an announcement and I cannot tell when that will be, although I hope it will be soon."—Register.

In order to clean up lumber yard before starting his mill, Sam H. Moore will sell rough lumber at $12 and shiplap at $13 per thousand feet. Phone No. 575. Corner 13th and Harrison streets. 92-5

The suggestion of prominent men of Benton, Linn and Lincoln counties that a district fair should be worked up is a long step towards advancing the agricultural and horticultural interests of this section and one that will bring thousands of dollars to the Willamette Valley, says the Herald. The thing for the three counties to do now is to take right hold of the matter and get together and exchange views and ideas and formulate some sort of an organization. It is not a day too soon to begin plans for the holding of such a fair next fall either in this or one of the other counties mentioned. The sooner started the better.

There is to be a happy family reunion at the home of Mrs. Mary Barclay at Irish Bend, Sunday. It is the first time in many years that so many members of this home circle have been together and it is safe to say the day will be one of great pleasure and happiness for all. The Barclays are among the most substantial and highly respected families of Benton county and a family which everyone holds in esteem. Those who are to be present Sunday are: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hewitt of Stockton, California; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Herron of Snohomish, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Heckart of Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Herron, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Herron, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Herron, Mrs. Mary Barclay, Ross and Gertrude Barclay.

W. P. Lafferty had a peculiar experience while at work on his place across the river a few days ago. After his arrival there he discovered that he had forgotten his watch, which is a valuable timepiece, and also a pair of small scissors that he has carried in his vest pocket for years and values highly. He felt a little vexed at his own absent-mindedness in leaving at home these pocket pieces, but went on at his work. He was cutting and burning brush and placed his coat on a tree limb, later on tossing his vest onto a little bush nearby. It was some distance from the fire and as he was slashing some distance away he did not see the sparks drop onto the vest. When he went after the latter garment it was burned to a crisp. He is glad now that he was absent-minded that morning.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT.

Science has now Found the True Way to Cure Indigestion.

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.

But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heart-burn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion, will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by Mi-o-na before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that Graham & Wells give with every 50-cent box of Mi-o-na, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows their confidence in the treatment.

WE HAVE CONFIDENCE WE ACCEPT CHECKS

Sleep Under a "Maish"

The New Comfort

Luxuriously Warm.....Very Light

Sleep under a "Maish" once—and you will wonder how you ever endured the depressing weight of ordinary comforts

You wouldn't believe a comfort could make such a difference in your night's rest. Ordinary comforts are heavy, but not warm, because their filling is a compact mass—a good conductor that the heat of the body goes right through.

Maish Laminated Cotton Down Comforts

are luxuriously warm and wonderfully light. The filling of the "Maish" is a continuous soft, fluffy layer, full of tiny air-cells,—non-conductors that keep the body warmth in.

For the filling of the Maish the longest fibres of the finest snow-white cotton are selected. By the Maish Laminating Process these special long fibres are separated, crossed and inter-laced into a supple, downy layer.

We want to show you this beautiful filling.

We want you to know the absolute restfulness under a Maish Comfort.

In Assembly, Wednesday morning, several interesting addresses were given and much interest manifested. Dr. J. R. N. Bell gave an address on "Grit, Go and Gumption;" Dr. Kerr congratulated the football team on its victory and the students collectively on their conduct while in Eugene on this occasion; Prof. Lake talked about the Y. M. C. A. student building and gave a statement concerning the prospects and conditions of the enterprise; Prof. Briedwell spoke of the dramatic entertainment that occurs tonight in college chapel; Mr. Brown, of the Interstate Prohibition Association, made an address relating to his work, and Student Calloway talked about the "Junior Annual." It was a lively meeting, abounding in good spirit and enthusiasm along the various lines.
