MARRIED ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Cupid Busy in Spite of Stormy Weather—Hammel-Ireland.

Christmas day, at high noon, the marriage of Miss Bessie Ireland to Merrill D. Hammel was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ireland in this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wigmore, of Eugene, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the interested parties.

The bride, who is an attractive girl with a pleasing personality; made a pretty picture in a gown of white silk. Her bouquet was white carnations. The rooms were prettily decorated with fir boughs and cut flowers. Many handsome and useful presents were received. Following congratulations a tempting dinner was served by the bride's mother, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Hammel went to Monmouth where they will spend a few days with relatives. They will reside on the Hammel hop yard on the island above town.

The bride is one of Corvallis' most popular girls and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hammel, formerly of Hotel Corvallis. A host of friends join in good wishes for the happy couple.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hammel of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ireland of Portland; Mrs. C. M. Tetherow, of Monmouth; Dr. O. D. Ireland of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ireland; Miss Blanch Hammel of Albany and Miss Alena Nellen of Salem.

SETS THE TRIBUNE RIGHT

Scadding Changes Opinions of Easterners About Oregon.

The Right Reverend Charles Scadding, Bishop of Oregon, is doing marvelous work throughout the East in presenting the resources of the Beaver State. Reports of his illustrated lectures come from various sections and newspapers everywhere have given Oregon an immense amount of complimentary prominence as a result of the bishop's work. His best effort is a letter just printed in the New York Tribune and reads as follows:

"Sir: Having just seen a copy of your issue of Sunday, December 8, containing an article on 'A Bishop With No Fixed Abode,' I desire to correct a false impression which some paragraphs may convey.

"You present a very spectacular picture of Mr. Paddock, the new bishop of Eastern Oregon, but it is imaginary and based on ignorance of the conditions of which the new bishop is to become a part. Eastern Oregon is not like the wildest wilds of Wyoming. It is neither populated by foreign immigrants, who form the 'tenement problem' of our great cities, nor by cow boys who carry bowie knives in their teeth and six-shooters in their hip pockets. It is rapidly settling with sturdy, stalwart American citizens, who have the courage to leave the East and Middle West and come to a state which has the greatest undeveloped resources in the Union.

"The r-llicking, drinking, shoot-on-sight cowboy exists only in Bowery melodrama. His place has been taken very largely by the college graduate, who now works a ranch on scientific principles.

"The new bishop will not be required to dress like a cowboy, but will need his evening clothes and most immaculate linen in his wardrobe, for he will find men as well dressed and women as well gowned as most of the men and women with whom he is accustomed to associate. The bishop will find a far lower average of vice and sin and crime in his new diocese than in New York. Oregon stands third among the states for the small number of illiterate persons in proportion to population, while New York ranks forty-third.

"Twenty-thousand homeseekers came into Oregon during the past few months, for the most part a fine class of young people attracted by the equable and salubrious climate, the fertile soil and the fact that profits this year on Oregon apples was $600 an acre and on cherries $500 an acre and on prunes $200 an acre, and by many similar facts.

"The problem for the bishops and clergy today is not that which is supposed to belong to a 'wild and woolly West,' but the problem of trying to make a Christian religion and good citizenship keep pace with the remarkable commercial developments. I believe Oregon is today the strategic field for the church and now is the psychological moment to advance."

Moses-Wood Wedding.

Eugene won from Corvallis in a game of matrimony on Christmas day, when Leonard Moses of that city, was married to Miss Mabel Wood, one of Corvallis' most popular girls, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wood. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock by Rev. H. L. Pratt of the United Evangelical church. The wedding march was played by James Chambers and the wedding couple, unattended, stood under a large white bell during the ceremony. The bride was beautiful in a simple costume of cream silk, with veil, and carried a shower of bouquet white chrysanthemums. The rooms were prettily decorated with evergreens and mistletoe, and about 35 guests joined in the festivities and partook of the sumptuous breakfast that followed congratulations. The young people received many elegant presents.

At 1:30 Mr. and Mrs. Moses departed for Portland to spend their honeymoon, after which they will take up their residence in Eugene.

The bride is widely and favorably known in Corvallis where she has grown to lovely young womanhood, while the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moses, formerly of Philomath and later of Corvallis, is equally well known and respected in this locality.

The GAZETTE joins a large circle of friends in good wishes and congratulations.

"Why Girls Leave Home."

A play with a wholesome moral will be presented at the Opera House on December 31. It is clean, interesting and instructive. Its scenes are laid in a lively city adjacent to New York. Unusual as it may seem there are no slum scenes, no uncalled for profanity, no gun plays, or impossible climaxes in "Why Girls Leave Home," but on the contrary a wholesome narrative of the happenings in the house of a respectable family and involving especially the events in the life of an innocent girl who thinks the companionship of glitter and glare not at all unnecessary to the enjoyment of life. The subject is handled with great delicacy and reverence by the author, who has made the play one of the most powerful factors in the work of national reform.

Reserve seat sale opens Saturday morning. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents.

Notice.

The giving of Premium Dishes will be discontinued on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, December 21st, 23rd and 24th, owing to the extra holiday rush. J. M. NOLAN & SON. 103-5

CUPID VICTORIOUS.

Two More Popular Young People United Tuesday.

Cupid scored another decisive victory in Corvallis, Tuesday, when at the home of Mrs. Mary Barber her niece, Miss Sadie Dixon, was united in marriage to John Edward Coleman of Portland.

Promptly at 11 o'clock Miss Edith Casteel took her place at the piano and as the melody of Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the room, the young couple, unattended, entered the parlor, and standing under a beautiful white floral bell were united by Rev. A. W. Monosmith with the impressive ring ceremony of the Congregational church.

The bride made a lovely picture in a beautiful costume of white net over white silk, with veil fastened with real orange blossoms.

Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, and after congratulations a delicious wedding dinner was served by Misses Edith, Casteel and Mabel Huff. Many beautiful and useful presents were received by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman left on the 1:20 train for Portland, where they will be at home after January 5th at 694, Upshur street.

The bride is a former OAC student, has resided for the past ten years in Corvallis and for the past five years has been the popular book keeper at R. H. Huston's hardware store. She has been a faithful worker in the Congregational church and in the various lodges to which she belonged, and while all regret to lose her they join in wishing her all possible happiness in her new home. The groom is a Lian county boy and a young man of good character and manly worth. He is employed on the street cars in the metropolis.

Christmas Greetings.

This is the season of good cheer. The season of the holly and the mistletoe,—the time for bright faces and generous impulses—for gladsome greetings—a time for noble resolves to be born—a time for old animosities to die—a time when the benevolent side of one's nature should eclipse the sordid side—a time when the thoughts should be turned toward home—a time when the usurping claims of business should be ignored. A time when the child with its golden curls, the man with the silvered locks, alike cry "Glory to God in the Highest, peace on earth, good will to men."

These words have been chanted by all Christian nations since the infant Jesus slept in the rude manger in Bethlehem. The organs in the grand cathedrals have pealed forth these words and the hearts of the worshippers have been filled with adoration; those treading the flowerless paths of poverty echo the praises. The poor mother in the hovel as she bends over the smouldering embers upon the desolate hearth, and weeps over the empty stockings of her neglected children—even she hears these strains in the distance, and her plaintive voice, so full of want, joins in the chorus, "Glory to God in the Highest." Perhaps this mother is thinking of the Christmas days in her girlhood when plenty crowned the board, and these memories may be feeding her hungry heart. Theologians may cavil over the date and origin of this day, but we will hold fast to our Christmas.—Ex.

"Why Girls Leave Home."

The most important question in thousands of American homes is, Why Girls Leave Home. The answer will be given at the Opera House on December 31. It is strictly moral and free from sensationalism; a play with a wholesome influence. This is the first western touring of the play and the presenting company is said to be an exceptionally clever one.

Buried Monday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jesse Brown occurred Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the residence south of Corvallis. The services were conducted by Rev. D. H. Leech of the Methodist church and the remains were conveyed to the Mt. View cemetery for interment.

Deceased was in girlhood Miss Effie Modie. She was born in Yodoway county, Missouri, February 25, 1850, and was aged at the time of her death 57 years and 10 months. She moved with her parents to Oregon in 1852, and was married in Benton county to Jesse Brown, January 25, 1865, and resided in this section of Oregon continuously until her demise.

The surviving members of the family are the husband and seven children as follows: Walter A. Brown of Chicago, Milton Brown of San Francisco; Mrs. Hugh McFadden, of Junction City and Frank, Dolly, Ida and Adelia Brown who are still at home. The bereaved have the sympathy of all in the loss of a kind and faithful wife and mother.
