What is said to be the worst epidemic of sickness since 1880 is being experienced in Pittsburg and physicians estimate that thousands of persons are prostrated by pneumonia, typhoid fever and especially the grippe. Throughout the city probably every home is affected in some manner and scarcity of employees in the large office buildings is seriously felt. The Pittsburg Railway Company is having difficulty in manning its cars on account of the conductor's and motor-men being laid up with grippe. City Physician Booth says the present epidemic of grippe exceeds in scope and severity all but that of 1889 and may yet break that record. He believes the germs may have originated far from here. In 1889 the malady's start was traced back through Europe to Asia and finally located in Hongkong, China.—Telegram.

The following table, taken from the records of the Registrar's office, shows that the students of the University of Oregon come from practically every county in the State. There are now in attendance in the departments at Eugene, exclusive of music, 400 students. That they are not from the homes of the rich is shown by the fact that nearly 70 of them are either wholly or partially earning their own way. Most of them are registered from the smaller cities of the state that support good high schools. The following counties are represented: Baker, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Gilliam, Grant, Josephine, Jackson, Klamath, Lane, Linn, Marion, Morrow, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wasco, Washington, Wheeler, Yamhill.

In addition to the lectures and practical demonstrations to be given by the various members of the faculty at OAC during the coming short course, arrangements have been made for several lectures by prominent men and women who are known throughout the state for their ability on the lecture platform. Among these are the following: Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, who will deliver several addresses; M. O. Lowndale, La Fayette, on January 7th; Mrs. Austin T. Buxton, Forest Grove, January 13th; W. J. Bailey, 15th; Hon. W. K. Newell, 9th; E. H. Shepard, Hood River; Ferd Groner, Hillsboro, 8th; J. R. Shepard, Salem, 13th; E. T. Judd, 16th; A. H. Orson, Grants Pass, 11th; H. M. Williamson, 10th; A. H. Lea, Portland, date not settled.

The evil of the treating habit is little understood by those who are total abstainers. To those who frequent clubs and bar-rooms the treating scene is familiar. A half dozen friends meet and one suggests a drink in which all join. They sit at the bar a few moments to talk and a second member of the group proposes another drink. Then each of the others feels the desire to show his spirit of hospitality and no one of the crowd will take the chance of giving offense by declining to drink. Thus six glasses of liquor are consumed each where one, at the most, would have sufficed if each had paid for his own drink. More than that, but for the treating habit it is likely that the first drink would not have been proposed. There would be little drunkenness in the world if men drank only because they want the liquor and not because they are asked to join in a "social" glass.—Oregonian.

Jack London.

On his way around the world for the Woman's Home Companion Jack London visited the lepers of Molokai on the island of Hawaii.

"Leprosy is not so contagious as is imagined," writes Mr. London in the January Woman's Home Companion. "I went for a week's visit to the Settlement, and I took my wife along—all of which would have not happened had we had any apprehension of contracting the disease. Nor did we wear long, gauntleted gloves and keep apart from the lepers. On the contrary, we mingled freely with them, and before we left knew scores of them by sight and name. The precautions of simple cleanliness seem to be all that is necessary. On returning to their own houses, after having been among and handling lepers, the non-lepers, such as the physicians and the superintendent, merely wash their faces and hands with mildly antiseptic soap and change their coats".

WEDDED WEDNESDAY.

Another Couple United on New Years Day—Whiteside-Hall.

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was the marriage of Miss Stella A. Hall to William D. Whiteside at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hall, on college hill, Wednesday afternoon.

Promptly at five o'clock the bridal party took their places under a wedding bell suspended from an arch of evergreen and the impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. D. H. Leech of the M. E. church.

The bride wore a beautiful and becoming costume of cream lansdown, carried orange blossoms and roses and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Whaley. The groom in conventional black was attended by George Whaley. The wedding march was played by Mrs. M. M. Long.

The house was artistically decorated with evergreens and blooming potted plants. Immediately following the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside are popular and highly respected young people and will make their home on their farm near Corvallis. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, and have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

The guests were: Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Leech, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hall, Mr. S. Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. George Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, George, Sam and Charlie Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Blackledge, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Swann, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Long and daughter, Golda, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Long, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Ed West and son, Don, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Piper, Misses Violet, Georgia and Bessie Herbert and Winnifred Gates, and Mr. Fred Cooper.

HORSEWHIPPED HIS DAUGHTER

Has Been in Jail Since—Corvallis Has Peculiar Excitement.

George H. _____ has been "doing time" in the Benton county jail since Tuesday forenoon when he had a preliminary hearing before Judge Holgate and was held for the next term of the circuit court under $200 bail, failing to supply which he was lodged in jail.

His offense is assault upon the person of his three daughters, who are all young women.

According to the story it seems that Harmon called his daughters to get up, Tuesday morning, saying that unless they were downstairs in ten minutes he "would be up there." The girls arose hurriedly and began to dress but before they were ready to go down their father entered their room and began slashing at them right and left with a buggy whip. Not satisfied with raising welts on their shoulders that stood out like whip cords for hours afterwards, he attacked his eldest daughter with his fists, beating her about the head until her face was disfigured and her hearing impaired.

The girls appealed to Police Wells for protection and Harmon was at once arrested, as above stated.

The family came here from the East some months ago and are located in the Abbott house on Fourth street. The daughters state that the mother died in the East about a year ago. One girl received a horsewhipping from her father last summer and the marks are still to be seen on her shoulders and back. The case has caused considerable comment and indignation in Corvallis and the outcome of the affair will be awaited with more than ordinary interest.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Coming.

Stetson's Great Double Spectacular production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is booked for next Monday night at the Opera House. This grand old drama has been mercilessly butchered by the "fly-by-night" companies in the past. It is a marvel that it has not long before this lost its power of attracting theatregoers, which is quite often the case with most plays and even so with productions other than Stetson's, but the public has learned to know that Stetson's is always reliable, that it alone has lifted "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from mediocrity to mastery. In short, it is the only company presenting this time-honored drama with capital enough to provide sufficient scenery, people and railroad equipment to place it among the best entertainments before the public. Stetson is the only one presenting the drama as a first-class show should be envisioned and equipped. And no more enjoyable entertainment will be seen in the local house than this one. Over fifty people are used in the production and with its artistic mingling of mirth, melody and pathos, all classes of amusement seekers are entertained. Specialties galore, wonderful mechanical effects, new costumes, a splendid orchestra, a large pack of Siberian bloodhounds, pretty little Shetland ponies, meek-eyed donkeys, mild and tricky, are in evidence at every performance. The street performance is said to eclipse anything ever given by a theatrical company and contains a scene of processional novelties that will delight every boy and girl and make even nature pause to contemplate.

Notice.

Our store will be closed all day Friday, January 3rd, to arrange stock for our Great-Red Tag Sale.
